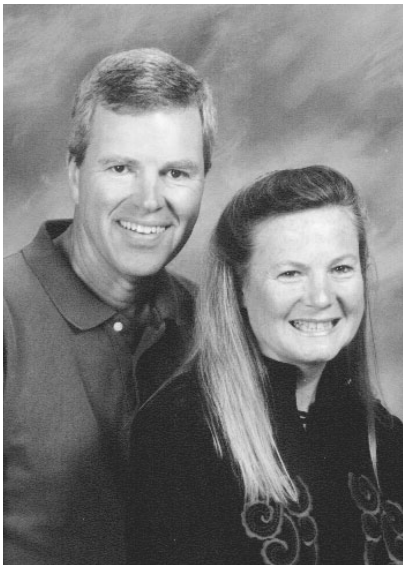
Nineteenth Annual Session

California-Pacific Annual Conference

of the United Methodist Church
Redlands, California
June 17-22, 2003

Conference Theme



Beloved Community,

As we prepare for the Annual Conference Sessions, we are still a nation at war. Throughout the year we have prayed for peace and witnessed for peace, yet it eludes us still. The people of the Cal-Pac Conference are a mission minded people and a peace loving people.

Since last we gathered our folk have traveled on burned church project assistance in the southern U.S., to medical missions in Vietnam and Mexico, to evangelism projects in Russia and South Africa, to Nigeria for hope for the children of Africa, to Greece and Turkey studying the missionary journey of the Apostle Paul, and many other places around the world. We have planted peace poles and shared the love of Christ with people near and far. We continue to pray for peace.

At sessions this year we will elect delegates to the 2004 General and Jurisdictional Conferences. We will consider petitions and resolutions, worship, study, learn, debate, and fellowship with one another.

In the midst of the world's uncertainty we affirm our faith that "if anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation: everything old has passed away; see, everything has become new." (2 Cor 5:17) WE will risk opening windows of opportunity. We believe God is calling us to make disciples and create a world where abundant life is possible for all God's children. Let's keep at it, dear friends.

See you in Redlands,

Mary Ann Swenson

Mary Ann Swenson, Resident Bishop

Mary Ann Swenson was born in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. She was raised and educated in Jackson, Mississippi and active at the Capitol Street Methodist Church. As a teenager she was recipient of a Danforth Foundation Award. Active in Girl Scouting she attended an international Roundup in Vermont and Quest for Quality in New York. At Provine High School she was involved in journalism as assistant editor of her school newspaper and leader in the school forensics society.

A graduate of Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi she attended on a debating scholarship, was active in speech and theater, and majored in religion receiving her bachelor of arts degree and being named among Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. During her college years she volunteered at Bethlehem Center in Jackson, participated in the Southeast Jurisdiction workshop on the Church's ministry in leisure and recreation. She was also chaplain of Kappa Delta sorority and active in several honorary fraternities as well. In 1994 she was honored with Doctor of Divinity at Millsaps College and named as a Distinguished Alumna from the School of Theology at Claremont.

In 1968 she married Jeff Swenson of Elma, Washington. From 1969 to 1972 she was employed as Director of Youth Ministry at Mason United Methodist Church in Tacoma, Washington. During these years in Tacoma, Jeff, served in the Navy in Vietnam.

Ms. Swenson began her seminary training in 1972 at the School of Theology at Claremont, California on a Virginia Laskey scholarship for women pursuing theological education. In 1973 she was ordained deacon and ordained elder in 1976 by Bishop Wilbur Choy, of the Seattle Area. She received her Doctor of Ministry degree from School of Theology at Claremont in 1975.

Her pastoral ministry began at the Claremont United Methodist Church, California, where she served as Associate Pastor from 1973-74, followed by pastor of Orchards United Methodist Church in Vancouver, Washington (1974-1983). In 1983 she was appointed Superintendent of the Puget Sound District of the Pacific Northwest Annual Conference until 1989 when she was appointed senior pastor of First United Methodist Church, Wenatchee, Washington.

In 1992 Bishop Swenson was elected to the Episcopacy at the Western Jurisdictional Conference in Las Vegas, Nevada. She was assigned (1992 to 2000) to the Denver Area, presiding over the Rocky Mountain and the Yellowstone Annual Conferences. She was assigned to the Los Angeles Area in 2000, presiding over the California-Pacific Annual Conference and the Korean Mission of the Western Jurisdictional Conference.

She has served on several General agencies of the Church in various capacities including President of the General Board of Discipleship (1996-2000) and the General Council on Finance and Administration, chairing the Legislative committee. She has served since 1988 as a Trustee of St. Paul School of Theology in Kansas City, Missouri, and Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colorado (1992-2000).

Bishop Swenson has emerged as an outspoken leader in the denomination and in her communities, calling for a redefinition of the purpose of the church in a rapidly changing world. She continues to pursue the dream of leading the church to become a more inclusive community, justice seeking and more perfect in love of God and neighbor. She seeks a world transformed by God's grace.

On their 25th wedding anniversary, the Swensons received a tandem bicycle. Since that time they have become avid riders, completing a California Coast tour in 1994, an Oregon coast tour in 1995, Washington State tour in 1996, and riding across the United States in the summer of 1998 from the Pacific Ocean to the Atlantic covering 4,059 miles in 58 days. As her schedule permits, she rides from home to the office on her bicycle.

CALIFORNIA-PACIFIC ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Established In 1985

SESSION AND BOUNDARIES

This is the nineteenth Annual Conference Session of the California-Pacific Annual Conference, created out of the Pacific and Southwest Annual Conference. This session marks the 36th conference session since the creation of the United Methodist Church from the union of The Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church in 1968; the 65th session since the merger of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Protestant Methodist Church in 1939; the 128th session since the organization of the Southern California Conference in 1876, and the 153rd session since the organization of the Pacific Conference in 1851, the oldest of the merging Annual Conferences.

The boundaries of the California-Pacific Annual Conference: Counties of Imperial, Inyo, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara (excluding the town of New Cuyama), Ventura, in Kern only that portion described as the Antelope Valley to the base of the Tehachapi Mountains and that portion extending easterly from the Sierra Nevada Mountains, and excluding the cities bordering the Colorado River, namely: Blythe, Needles and Fort Yuma. The entire State of Hawaii, the Territory of Guam and other territories of the United States in the Pacific Region.

Conference Nominating Committee, P.O. Box 6006, Pasadena, California, 91102

(1) REPORT OF THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Membership on Annual Conference Boards and Agencies is listed below as prepared by the Conference Nominating Committee(CNC) including those which the Annual Conference elects or confirms, or for which the CNC has the responsibility for compliance monitoring as conferred by Rule IV.C.2.b. Wesley Foundation Boards, Camp Advisory Boards, emerging committees and others of this nature are not included in this report but are subject to the Conference Rules.
All persons newly elected at this Conference shall take office as of July 1, 2001 except as provided for by the Discipline or found in the current Journal. Addresses of persons listed will be found in the Lay or Clergy Directories. With each Committee name you will find a brief reference to membership rules as found in the appropriate sections of the Discipline and/or Journal.

Legends

The general format first describes the position; then the person's name, followed by tenure/ethnicity/district. Youth (under 18) and young adults (18 through 35) are defined according to ¶263.2-3: "Y" and "YA" will appear with names if the CNC has a birth date on record (age reference date is 7/1/01). Where known, offices held are shown after the individual's name.

They were Elected.

Introduction of Candidates for Election as Associate Members and Ordination as Deacons
Myron Wingfield introduced the candidates to be ordained in Associate Membership, Sinaipa Langi and Thanh Van Le, and Manako Melino Siketi Kemoe'atu who was received into Associate Membership in 2001.
They were Elected.

Diane Rehfield moved the approval of Patricia Buchanan Hedges as a deacon in probationary membership.
She was approved.

Candidates for Election as Commissioned Probationary Members
Myron Wingfield introduced the following persons for commissioning as elders in probationary membership: Lee A. Carlile, Allison Paige Eaves, Garth C. Gilliam, Eugene Euyjoon Han, Daisy Sau-Lai Ho, David Christopher Palmer, Bradley Paul Resare, Yuji Sato, Leh-Chuo H. Ting, Malyong Yi, Adrienne M. Zackery.
They were approved.

Courtesy Ordination
Bishop Swenson recognized Andre Feijo from Brazil who will receive courtesy ordination as an elder by our Annual Conference.

Benediction
Earl Kernahan offered a prayer at 12:12 P.M.

Tuesday, June 17, 2003

10:15 A.M.

Call to Order
Bishop Swenson called the Clergy Session back to order at 1:35 P.M.

Examination of Clergy
Tom Choi introduced Bishop Swenson who asked each District Superintendent and Clergy from each district to stand and hold each other accountable. With few exceptions all were found to be living out God's call.

Election of Committee on Investigation and Administrative Review Committee
Bishop Swenson called for the approval of members of the Committee on Investigation and Administrative Review Committee.
They were approved.

Candidates for Ordained Ministry
Walt Dilg introduced the Enneagram retreat and recommended this retreat to all clergy. The Enneagram will be required for all new probationary members. He then lifted up 181 names of Candidates who have been certified to explore their call to Ordained Ministry. The committee has moved to a three-tier system of psychological testing to further help the candidates on their paths to Ordained Ministry.

Question 20
Terry Van Hook moved the passage of Question 20.
It was approved.

Question 21
Terry Van Hook moved the passage of Question 21.
It was approved.

Question 43
David Richardson moved the recognition of the elder's orders of Ma Lap Nguyen which enables him to serve as a local pastor in Vietnam under the supervision of the United Methodist Church.
It was approved.

Question 25
Clergy serving under appointment in this Annual Conference while retaining their denominational affiliation were presented for approval.
They were approved.

Question 26
Tom Choi recommended the approval of Affiliate Members.
They were approved.

Question 82
Tom Choi moved that clergy serving in less than full time appointments be approved.
They were approved.

Question 54
David Richardson moved that clergy on leave of absence be approved.
They were approved.

Question 54D
David Richardson moved for terminating leave of absence for two clergy persons.
This recommendation was approved.

Question 55A, C
David Richardson moved approval of clergy who have been granted family leave, and have been discontinued from leave.
They were approved.

Question 56
David Richardson moved approval of those clergy requesting sabbatical leave.
It was approved.

Question 57
David Richardson moved approval of those clergy persons who have requested incapacity leave.
It was approved.

Question 46
David Richardson moved the discontinuance of four probationary members.
It was approved.

Question 50B & C
David Richardson moved the approval of withdrawal from the ministerial office by 3 persons and the termination of membership for 3 persons who withdrew under complaint.
It was approved.

Question 51 & 47
David Richardson reported on the suspension of 2 persons under the provisions of ¶ 359.1c, ¶ 2704.2b, or ¶ 2711.3b. David recognized those who have been previously granted honorable location. David offered prayer for those named in these sections.

Point of Personal Privilege
Ken Heflin, representing the Board of Pensions, rose to speak on behalf of Larry Wayman whose service record needed to be corrected to grant him 1 additional year of service for the appointment year 1977-78. Ken moved that Larry's service record be adjusted for this period of service.
It was approved.

Point of Personal Privilege

Irwin Trotter asked for clarification on the church's action to recognize the orders of Ma Lap Nguyen. The Board explained that given the political climate in Vietnam, Ma Lap Nguyen can serve more safely in Vietnam as a local pastor under the auspices of the UMC than under Christian Missionary Alliance which is his denomination.

Prayers
Samuel Chow offered a prayer.
Tom Choi asked for a moment of silence for those who have died. Bishop Mary Ann Swenson offered a prayer.

Report from Order of Deacons
Jan Kishpaugh reported that the Order of Deacons continues to advocate for all deacons, to meet regularly for mutual support, and to interpret the appropriate procedures for both appointing and terminating appointments, as well as building understanding of the varied ministries of the deacon.

Report from Order of Elders
John Farley offered a story about his mentor and ministry. Bishop Swenson offered words in favor of Wesleyan class meetings for the Order of Elders: "We need to live out a visionary idea for "being church together." She strongly expressed a desire that all clergy be a part of a small group and mentioned that John Farley and Martha Rowlett were willing to help with this program.

Point of Personal Privilege
Lee Truman asked if something more can be done for the Order of Elders with regards to pastors with problems or problem pastors. He said that we need to make resources more available to those who are struggling in their ministry.

Motion
Tom Griffith submitted a list of four questions for the Annual Conference concerning the clergy. "Questions for which declaratory decisions are requested from the Judicial Council." He asked that these questions be put before the Conference.

1. Since 1) the Disciplinary reason for administrative complaints, "...inability to perform ministerial duties," (¶359.1d[2]), and the Disciplinary reason for involuntary leave of absence initiated by the District Superintendents, "(clergy who) are unable to...perform their ministerial duties," (¶352.1), are substantially coterminous; and 2) decisions on whether a clergy shall be placed on involuntary leave of absence and processing of administrative complaints are both handled by the Board of Ordained Ministry (Judicial Council Memorandum 950, ¶359.3); does this mean that a written request by the District Superintendents to place a clergy on involuntary leave of absence constitutes a written complaint, as defined in ¶359.1a? If so, must there be a period of formal supervision, as defined in ¶359.1b, initiated before the administrative complaint may be referred to the Board of Ordained Ministry? If so, which committee of the Board of Ordained Ministry should process this complaint? The executive committee (Judicial Council Memorandum 950) or "a committee of the board that deals with matters of conference relations (other than the executive committee)"? And should whichever committee of the board processes the complaint have the full range of remedial actions detailed in ¶359.3a available to it when such a complaint or request is received?

2. ¶359.1b states, "the person against whom the complaint was made may choose another person to accompany him/her with the right to voice." Provisions for Fair Process in Administrative Hearings (¶359.2c) and for Fair Process in Judicial Proceedings (¶2701.3) both allow the respondent the "right to be accompanied by a clergyperson in full connection to any hearing, in accordance with the appropriate disciplinary provisions. The clergyperson accompanying the respondent shall have the right to voice (or advocacy)." These provisions imply that the respondent may choose the clergyperson who may appear with him/her. ¶2706.2 specifically states that a respondent is entitled to select the clergyperson in full connection to serve as respondents counsel. Does all of this imply that the respondent may choose his/her advocate/counsel, and also choose to change whom his/her advocate/counsel may be at any stage in the complaint/investigation proceedings (up to the commencement of a trial), on the respondents own motion; as long as a clergyperson who once served as respondent's advocate/counsel and was replaced by another remains bound by the disciplinary provisions for confidentiality in the hearings in which s/he participated [Judicial Council Decision 751]?

3. The provision for Fair Process in Administrative Hearings (¶359.2) specifically "commences upon referral of a matter as an administrative complaint." The provisions for Fair Process in Judicial Proceedings (¶2701) specifically "commence upon referral of a matter as a judicial complaint...." Both provisions guarantee "the respondent shall have access to all records relied upon in the determination of the outcome of the (appropriate) process." (¶359.2e, ¶2701.6) When a complaint ("a written and signed statement claiming misconduct or unsatisfactory performance of ministerial duties" [¶359.1a]) is received by the bishop or a district superintendent, there is no provision guaranteeing a respondent a right to access to all records until the matter passes through the Supervisory Response. (¶359.1b). However, Judicial Council Decision 830 affirms that Fair Process is a constitutional right as well as a disciplinary right. ¶359.1a specifically states "The person filing the complaint and the clergyperson shall be informed by the district superintendent or bishop of the process for filing the complaint and its purpose." Therefore, does a respondent have a right to receive and keep, at the very least, a written copy of the complaint against him/her, copy(s) of supporting documents submitted with the complaint, and sufficient other detail to allow the respondent to prepare a response (¶359.2b), at the commencement of the supervisory response?

4. It is clear that a Local Pastor has no guarantee of an appointment, and that a license for pastoral ministry "shall remain valid only so long as the appointment continues...." (¶341.3) In the fourth restrictive rule to the Constitution of The United Methodist Church, at ¶18, all clergy and lay members of the church (including Local Pastors) are granted the privilege of a right to trial if accused of a chargeable offense. This constitutional right is acknowledged at ¶¶2702.1, 2703.2, 2704.2, 2706.2c and 2713. If a person serving under appointment as a local pastor receives a notice in writing, from his/her bishop or district superintendent, informing him/her that s/he is being discontinued from that appointment and that his/her license for pastoral ministry is being discontinued for the stated reason that said local pastor is accused of violating specifically one or more cited chargeable offense(s) (¶2702.1), does that local pastor have a right to the supervisory process (¶359.1) and, if this results in a judicial complaint, the right to trial? Or does the termination of the appointment end the local pastor's right to a trial?

It was approved.

Health Care and Insurance.
It was moved that lay members of the Health Benefits Task Force be given right of admission and voice.
It was approved.

David Richardson set context for the report from Board of Pensions by stating that the Annual Conference has before it some creative thinking related to the health care costs of retirees. He suggested that it was necessary to find a way together rather than have the retirees bear the load of healthcare and pensions. He expressed the hope that we continue to conference together to work out a fair and just solution.

Conference Board of Pensions
Bud Wrisley called out "Don't shoot the messenger." He offered two different plans to put before the Conference: 45/55 Plan and 20/80 Plan. And he reminded the session that tomorrow afternoon there will be a one hour presentation. Also, on Thursday morning, we will have 1 ½ hours for a legislative session. On Friday morning, there will be questions and debate on the floor. The time of comment followed. Clergy members expressed feelings and opinions about the proposals.

Announcement
Bishop Swenson invited clergy to participate in the Bishop's Convocation in September, 2003.

Presentation
Marilyn Huntington presented the Bishop with a shirt from the board of laity.

Benediction
Debbie Gara closed the session with prayer. The session adjourned at 4:37 p.m.

John Valles, Superintendent of the Riverside district, expresses thanks to the Conference's many workers such as video crew, registration workers, and sound technicians. He realizes that so many things are done by volunteers. These worker's efforts are recognized and commended. Valles mentioned request for volunteers and donations.

Bishop's Address
In her introduction Bishop Swenson requested that we truly be in covenant with the common concerns that draw us together. Unless our leadership can be church for one another then we cannot create church locally. Being church is our business. We must be mindful that all of us are spiritual leaders to serve this community and the community of disciples in the world. Here at this Conference we have votes to make and legislation to pass. But we are called to be spiritual leaders in a hurried world.

If we are only church for one another then for what? It is not good enough for us to be a Christian community here; we must be the Christian community out there in the world. I say this in order to say to all of you I trust you each have a sense of your call to ministry. I believe you are here because God has placed in you a unique calling to be the church whether pastor, lay leader, or usher. I have been praying over this time that we will have together this week.

I have read your letters and heard your concerns about the retirees' benefits that will be a topic for this Conference. These concerns will not eclipse the needs of our world. We have greater concerns for God's children who are needy, hungry, and hurting. We have high rates of murders in our nation, our cities, and among our youth. This is a call for the witness of the church.

Therefore, I want to set another bar a standard for evidence of our being church as we go about our business. This is the minimum. Good enough is not good enough. The bar should be set so that everything we consider should address the test of spiritual wholeness. Whenever you are in doubt, recall the face of the poorest one you have ever met and ask yourself is the step that you contemplate going to of any use to one so low. Here you will find your doubt and your self melting away. This is our benchmark for being the church in the world. With this hope, I look forward to our time together this year.

Legislative Sections
Amy Fatemi brought instructions for the legislative sections. Amy introduced Molly Vetter who is her understudy.

Motion to Suspend the 24-hour Rule
Arlene Dempster moved to suspend the 24-hour rules so that the resolutions distributed this evening can be considered in the legislative session tomorrow.
Motion was approved.

The congregation responded as each name was read again: "Present with the Lord."

WORSHIP
Wednesday, June 18, 2003
9:30 P.M.

Bishop Vashti McKenzie, the first bishop of the African Methodist Episcopalian Church, preached. The offering was for Arson Church Rebuild Team Fund.

PLENARY 2
Wednesday, June 18, 2003
11:00AM

Opening Music
Ronald Griffen, Conference Song Leader, accompanied with the Conference Praise Band, led members of the Conference in music as preparation for the plenary.

Call to Order
Bishop Mary Ann Swenson called the plenary to order at 11:14 A.M..

Orders of the Day
Bob Isip commented on the abundance of the lilies and bats in the congregation. There will be no legislative sessions tomorrow morning, only Dialogue Groups.

Orders of the Day were presented by Bob Isip.
They were approved.

Congregational Development Video – "A New Ministry Moment"
The video was shown challenging the congregation to imagine the growth of new congregations if funds and resources were put into this ministry.

Ballot Explanations
David Burgeson, Head Teller, referred to the Preliminary Report for instructions on electing the delegates for General and Jurisdictional Conferences. He urged the Conference to have their badges visible as ushers are instructed only to pass out ballots to those with green and yellow badges.

Bishop Swenson read from the discipline noting those who are allowed to vote. Only those who hold full member status are allowed to vote. Those who were elected in the clergy session to be ordained full members this year are NOT allowed to vote since the ordination is held on Saturday night. They may be allowed to vote on Sunday.

David Burgeson noted that #45, Mary Elizabeth Moore, needs to be included on the ballot. Her name was left off from the printed form. #34, Emma Moore-Kochlacs, is nominated only for Jurisdictional Conference.

David Burgeson moved that among the write-in nominees, only those who receive more than 25 nominations will be added to the second ballot.
It was approved.

David Burgeson explained that only those who receive 50% + 1 nominations will be elected on the first ballot.

Bishop Swenson clarified that diaconal ministers with red badges are lay members of the Annual Conference and are allowed to vote for the lay delegates.

Ballot #1
Bishop Swenson led the Conference in a moment of silence and in prayer before the ballots were cast.

Connectional Ministries
A video on the ethnic ministry commission was shown. They are called to be bridge builders in working with the ethnic groups and congregational development.

Marilyn Huntington shared that the Montana Logging and Ballet will be performing at the benefit concert. She encouraged everyone to attend

Commission on the Status and Role of Women
Kathleen R. Johnson introduced a video on the Status and Role of Women. The video noted that issues such as sexual harassment continue to be a problem. The California-Pacific Conference continues to be a leader in embracing women as clergy and spiritual leaders.

Motion
Richard Bentley moved that the results of the first General and Jurisdictional ballots be reported to the plenary session down to five votes. In subsequent General and Jurisdictional ballots, the results be reported to the plenary session down to fifteen votes.
It was approved.

Peace Poles
Bishop Swenson commented on the planting of peace poles. On Thursday morning at 6:30am, there will be prayer walk for peace and justice. This has been declared a decade of peace and non-violence. She requested that we visit the Peace with Justice booth and join our prayers with the prayer basket in the booth.

Prayer
Bishop Swenson lifted up the family of Kay Darling, spouse of Caswell Darling, who passed away on Tuesday night.
General Commission on Religion and Race
Kathy Thomas-Sano She expressed gratitude for being back again. She brought greetings to the Annual Conference from the General Commission on Religion and Race.

Benediction
Teresa Santillana prayed in Spanish and English. The session adjourned at 12:17 P.M.

PLENARY 3

Wednesday, June 18, 2003

1:30 P.M.

Opening Music
Ronald Griffen, Conference Song Leader, accompanied with the Conference Praise Band, led members of the Conference in music as preparation for the plenary.

Call to Order
Bishop Swenson called the session to order 1:37 P.M.

Orders of the Day
Bob Isip presented the Orders of the Day.

Motion
Preston Price moved to remove all issues relating to the Health Insurance from the Orders of the Day. Preston explained that the issue is bigger than just the retired clergy of this Conference but a larger issue. He suggested that the Conference needs to look at this problem from a more global perspective -to see the gestalt.

David Richardson moved to table the motion to remove the Health Insurance issues to later in the day, so that information may still be presented.
The motion was tabled.

The Orders of the Day were approved.

Courtesies
Karin Ellis introduced Phil Doolittle of the University of Redlands.

Greetings from the University of Redlands
Phil Doolittle greeted the Conference with a welcome address. He noted the various renovations occurring at this University, including the organ, the Christ window, and a new science building. Much of the renovations are made in preparation for the university's centennial in 2007.

Congregational Development Video – "A New Ministry Moment"
A video was shown titled "Celebrate This New Ministries Moment." It challenged the Conference to imagine what it would be like if the Conference grew at the same rate as the population of the various regions as well as the various affinity groups.

Results of Ballot #1
Keith Hwang reported on the results of the ballot:
Laity: No one was elected; Clergy: No one was elected.
Ballot #2
David Burgeson reminded the clergy that Mary Elizabeth Moore needs to be added to the nominee list as #45.
Ballot #2 was taken.

Lay Leader's Report
Gaunnie Hardin Dixon presented the members of the Board of Laity. A video was shown displaying the various activities that Gaunnie along with the Bishop and various members of the Conference participated in this past year.

The Bishop commended the Board of Laity for their commitment and involvement in the various ministries around the world.

Committee on Episcopacy
Rosemary Davis referred to page 21 of the Preliminary Report for her report. She thanked the Bishop Swenson for the incredible work that she does. Rosemary Davis presented the Bishop with a gift.

Recognition of Bishop's Secretary
Rosemary Davis recognized Cathy Wilson for the work she does in the office of the Bishop.

Recognition of Assistant to the Bishop
Eric Smith reported on the responsibilities of the Assistant to the Bishop. He gave an introduction to Rev. Gary Michael Keene, the Assistant to the Bishop. Eric Smith also gave a word of prayer for the work of Rev. Keene. Rev. Keene spoke on the importance of partnership in working with this Conference and Bishop Swenson. He expressed gladness to be back in the Conference to do the work of ministry.

Board of Pensions
Bud Wrisley opened the presentation by thanking the Bishop for scheduling the Conference the week after Father's Day. He explained that the presentation of the Board of Pension will be broken down into three sections: a historical perspective, a summary of the work done by the Task Force, and the explanations of the proposed changes.

Historical Perspective
Dan Gara gave a historical perspective to the Health Insurance issue. Dan noted that this issue affects every quadrant of our nation. Dan reported that upon surveying a third of all Annual Conferences, only two conferences still provide full 100% coverage.

In 1996, the retiree health insurance cost $718,000. In 2001, the cost increased to $1,158,887. In 2002, the cost was $1,532,640. There was a 15% increase in one year. The CFA became increasingly concerned and at that time a task force was created to report on this issue.

Dan Gara reported that in funding the increase, apportionments were increased by 15%. The Conference also used $500,000 from the Conference Endowment Fund to help cover the increase. The Conference, however, still faced a $287,747 deficit.

Raised apportionments for Pensions area by 30.39% in 2003. Remaining $300,000 from the Conference Endowment Fund will be used in 2003 and 2004. We need to generate approximately $1.1 million from Retired/Active clergy or increase apportionments by $1.28 million or 9.9%.

A Task Force on Funding Post-retirement Medical Benefits was created to deal with this issue. Bud, Judy and David accepted this challenge to deal with this issue. Dan Gara commended these folks for their courage.

Health Care Task Force:
Judy Cobb shared with the Conference what the Task Force has done. The Task Force surveyed various health insurance providers on the cost of coverage and the ones that provided proposals were 50% - 200% higher than Pacific Care.

The first recommendations presented to CFA were in October, 2002. Factors requiring a change in recommendation include increased HIP costs, decreased funds from endowment fund, and low apportionment collections. The Task Force met 12 times in 15 months. An actuarial study showed a funding requirement of $46,000,000. Additional research was completed that examined what other employers are doing, participant age comparisons, and identifications of most costly coverage items. They checked with other Conference action regarding the HIP issue.

Rising Health Care cost effect:
- There is no magic way of solving this issue. It effects the entire nation.
- Continue to provide access to health care plan
- Acknowledge there are different interpretations of the "promise" – whether access to coverage will be provided or the cost.
- Financing the cost should be fair for the largest possible number of retirees and churches.
- Close wide disparity between Conference HIP and general practice.
- Sensitivity to those who have been covered but are not eligible.
- Heath insurance cost can't be controlled by Conference.

The Task Force has chosen to propose two ways to finance the cost – increase co-pays and sharing in premium cost.

Other alternatives

1. Leave all rules as is. Unacceptable apportionment increase of $1.3 million or 9.9% increase in Conference budget.
2. Ask each retirees pay the same amount. Some would be asked to pay more than their actual premium const
3. Seek other sources of funding. Already reduced to permanently restrict levels. Not available for this purpose. Will not provide the level of funding required. Would need to raise 25 million dollars for 2004 and 50 million for future needs. This Conference has not demonstrated the ability to raise such funds.
4. Make changes for future retirees only
5. Use a years of service formula. Because the majority of retirees have more than 35 years this would have been ineffective. The cost saving would not be significant enough.
6. Give all retirees money to buy insurance (a specific amount) Currently the Board provides health insurance to only about 60% of retirees. If this alternative is chosen, the Board would have to make such payments to 100% of retirees.
7. Pay premiums base on need. Not realistic as validation of financial information would be virtually impossible.
8. Delete the drug benefit from this plan. Possibly the most important part of the coverage. Significantly reduced value.
9. Review and revise current HIP rules. Current proposal revises eligibility and subsidy.

The Task Force and board of pensions has much to be done. Active clergy participation in their premium costs does not effect apportionments. There has been a lot of response from the church in spirited discussion.

Since active clergy health insurance is provided by the local church, clergy participation would not affect apportionments, the Task Force is focusing on the retired clergy because its task was to control increase in apportionments.

Judy Cobb encouraged all those who have voiced their opinion to join the taskforce in their efforts to solve this problem.. Even if solving this problem means that we can no longer whine.

Board of Pensions Proposals

Bud Wrisley then walked the Conference through the different proposals on the floor. He stated that either we need to reduce benefits or need to find a way to pay for the coverage. The first plan was the 55% plan (on blue paper). The next plan was 80/20 plan (on tan paper). Bud Wrisley said to strike out lines 61-63, as Steve Harbison, California-Pacific chancellor felt the judiciary committee would say that these lines were not allowable legally. The important difference in the 80/20 plan is that it calls for voluntary contributions to be given to a designated fund set up to pay for insurance coverage.

Clergy serving in Hawaii have a different problem.. There is no HMO plan to cover prescription drugs. Therefore, in Hawaii the HMO cost is lower, but the out of pocket expense is much greater. The new plan offers to reimburse 100% of the insurance to the Hawaii retirees since they have to pay for prescription drugs.

3% Proposal

Active clergy are asked to voluntarily give 3% of their salary including any housing allowance over $1,500. Retired clergy are to asked give 3% of their pensions.

On Friday, the Conference will be asked to adopt the policy statement on page 3 of the 80/20 proposal. This also encourages churches to contribute 3% to the retiree fund.

Bud Wrisley estimated that doing nothing for another year but increasing apportionments would produce an additional $200,000 to cover the costs, leaving a further deficit over $1 million.

Motion
Fred Coots moved to direct the Board of Pensions to prepare a plan for personal visits within the bounds of the Annual Conference to all those currently enrolled in the health benefit insurance program in the coming year. First, priority to be given to the bedfast, the homebound, the widows and orphans. Findings from these visits to be reported back to the 2004 Conference.

George Crisp asked Fred Coots how financially we will be able to survey those affected by in the motion. Fred responded that there is no financial plan but it is necessary to know what affect the changes will have on those who need the coverage the most. He also emphasized that he motion specified "within the bounds" and ought to be able to be accomplished with little cost.
The motion was approved.

Break

Call to Order
Bishop Swenson called the plenary back to order.

Rules Committee
Arlene Dempster reported that during that past year, the committee looked into what rules needed to rewritten.

They have decided to group the rules to make them easier to find and follow. In terms of the meaning and interpretation of the rules, she noted that that was the Conference's job.

Bob Stimmel noted that the committee focused on structuring and regrouping the rules rather than rewriting the rules. There are some editorial changes that still need to be made. There are other actions that will be taken this week regarding the health insurance issues and reimbursements of travels. All changes will be decided on by action from the Conference.

Commission on Equitable Compensation
George Zettler gave a short overview of the work of the commission. They have worked with the Bishop to reduce the 1 million dollars of compensation present on our payrolls. They have realized that there are many congregations which need to be combined and discontinued, which will also allow for property to be sold. He thanked the committee, announced completion of his responsibilities, and said, "Adios."

Conference Leadership Team/Transition Team
Bishop Swenson thanked the team for their hard work. Frank Wulf said that effective organizations know who they are and what their purpose is. "Keeping the main thing the main thing." As United Methodists, it is ", under the lordship of Jesus Christ." The Conference explored what it means for a church to make disciples of Jesus Christ in its individual cultures and contexts. The result was a "calling statement" for the Annual Conference. he led the Conference in the unison reading of the calling statement. They came up with three different tasks: 1. Build Bridges 2. Develop New Leadership 3. Plant new ministries.

The team was created in 2000 to keep the Conference on task and "keep the main thing the main thing." They identified four issues that the Conference is going to have to deal with over the last few years: "How we share our common wealth" chaired by David Richardson; "How language groups interact with one another" chaired by John Fanestil; "Enhancing connections between local churches and Annual Conference" chaired by Steve Ayers; and "Growing membership throughout the Conference" chaired by Frank Wulf.

Frank Wulf reported on the purpose of the Leadership Team. The main thing for the United Methodist Church is to make disciples of Jesus Christ. The Leadership Team has strived to make this the main thing of the Conference.
The Conference was invited to read together the theme of this Annual Conference " Following the Example of Jesus Christ, Bridging the Barriers that divide us, Drawing strength from one another Through the power of the Holy Spirit, We, the California-Pacific Annual Conference, Covenant with God to cultivate, in partnership with Local churches, New Ministries and new disciples, New leadership and new life, For such a time as this." Main goals: Build bridges; Nurture fruitful ministry; select leadership. Leadership team was established in 2000 to keep the Conference in doing its best.

David Richardson reported on the leadership taskforce which will work with the CFA, the cabinet, Equitable Compenstation, campus ministries, district strategies and the health care taskforce. Issues of the resource allocation are:

1. Total study of the apportionment;
2. Different between benefits or entitlement of our retirees
3. Conference staff and the whole structure
4. Congregational developments
5. Clergy assignments; appointments for smaller churches

Goal is the long term plan for use of resource. Providing adequate health for our retired clergy yet be sensitive to our budget.

John Fanestil shared a story of how sharing of the love and the ministry also require getting together to work on the hard stuff, such as balancing the budget and working out difficult issues. He invited the Conference to work with the leadership team in working on these issues.

The leadership team invites the Conference to:

- Converse in Christ and let go of suspicion
- Pray and care for one another
- Gain distance from personal investments
- Allow ourselves to be led by the Holy Spirit.

Motion
Larry Wayman, from the Board of Church and Society, moved that the leadership team include conversation and partnering with the Board of Church and Society to develop and understanding of sharing common wealth in helping with the General Rule and Social Principles; such a partnering structure to be developed through the work of the office of Keith Hwang. It was supported.

Connectional Ministries Video
Ken Ellis introduced a video on a recent trip to Nigeria.

Council on Disability Ministries
Keith Hwang introduced a video by the Council on Disability Ministries. The video gave testimonies of various members of our Conference with disability. Information was given on how persons may participate in the ministry for people with disabilities. "Accessibility is more than a ramp."

Board of Global Ministries
Brian Kent introduced a video from the Board of Global Ministries. The video was on a recent trip to a missionary church in Vladivostok, Russia. The video covered various mission projects in Russia.

BENEFIT CONCERT
Wednesday, June 18, 2003
7:30 P.M.

Montana Logging and Ballet Company entertained the Conference. The proceeds from the concert will help two new start-up congregations.

PLENARY 4
Thursday, June 19, 2003
10:30 A.M.

Call to Order
Bishop Swenson called Plenary 4 to order at 10:32AM.

Personal Privilege
Jean Kiskadden and Odis Fentry shared that today is "Juneteenth", the day that news of the emancipation of the slaves reached Texas - nearly 2 years after President Lincoln signed the document.

Bishop Swenson asked Karin Ellis to display to the Conference the sign "Christ We Are a New Creation". As a part of our gift giving Karin has prepared a beautiful piece with this verse on an artistically designed card.

Orders of the Day
Bob Isip shared his reflections from last night's Benefit Concert.
Bob Isip asked the Orders of the Day to be scrolled on video. Bishop Swenson asked the Conference for approval.
The Orders of the Day were approved.

Congregational Development Video
A silent video was shown of the various new ministries throughout our Conference, ranging from language ministries, to vibrant youth programs, to older churches beginning anew.

Report on Ballot #3
Laity: Gaunnie Hardin Dixon, JoAnn Fukumoto, Eva Thai were elected; Clergy: David Richardson was Elected.

Ballot #4
Ballot # 4 was taken.

Connectional Ministries Videos
Marilynn Huntington shared her gratitude to all those in the Conference with the vision to continue to make disciples of Christ. She explained that the videos shown by the Connectional Ministries during Conference are available for people to take back to their churches.

Introduction of Conference Connectional Ministries Staff
Marilynn introduced the staff members of Connectional Ministries who work so hard to do the work needed to support the Conference. She reported that the staff are being deployed to the districts to consult and teach directly with the churches. They have already been deployed two times this year and will be deployed two more times this year, in September and November. She thanked the Conference for the support and invited suggestions on what the Connectional Ministries can do for individual churches.

Board of Evangelism
Mark Feldmeir presented evangelism awards for churches in three categories with exceptional growth.

> 50-149 members – Four churches were recognized – Ewa Beach UMC in Hawaii, Pacific Islanders UMC in Honolulu, Korean Central UMC in Los Angeles, St. Mark's UMC in Anaheim.
> 150-499 members – Four churches were recognized – Valley Korean UMC in Granada Hills, Los Feliz Korean in Los Angeles, Bell Memorial UMC in Rowland Heights, Glendale Korean UMC in Glendale.
> 500+ members – Four churches were recognized – Holman UMC in Los Angeles, who have received 721 members, Wilshire UMC in Los Angeles which is a multi-cultural church, Murrieta UMC, Lancaster UMC, and Foothills UMC in La Mesa.

Bishop Swenson noted that there are people all over the world who are hungry for the word of Christ. She commended Mark and all those who are doing the work of evangelism and discipleship, and said "This is what it's all about!"

Mark Feldmeir also recognized the team who put the statistics together to make presenting these awards possible. A video from the Conference Board of Evangelism was shown. The video showed clips and testimonies from the various ministries awarded today.

Adult and Family Ministry
A video from the Board of Adult and Family Ministry was shown. The video explained the ministry of the board and its structure. Among the many ministries, the board worked hard to set up a single parent ministry including a camp. Clips from the "Sing the Song of Life" conference were shown. Other ministries include Older Adult Ministry, Sexuality Education Committee, Marriage and Family Ministry.

Western Jurisdiction Korean Mission Video Won Kie Kim introduced a video that showed the history of the immigration of Koreans to America and the establishment of the first Korean church outside of Korea, Christ UMC in Honolulu. There are now thirty Korean UMC mission congregations throughout the Western Jurisdiction. The second generation goal of the Korean Mission is to expand throughout the Western Jurisdiction. Clips of newly formed Korean ministries, developing congregations, nurturing congregations, and those attain self-sufficiency were shown. It announced the next Korean Leadership seminar on September 2-5, 2003 at the Asilomar Conference Center in Pacific Grove, CA.

Won Kie Kim expressed his gratitude to the Conference for its support of Korean ministries. He noted three churches - El Segundo UMC and Walteria UMC in Torrance for opening their doors to Korean ministries, and Kam Nam UMC for its work.

Chartering of Kam Nam UMC
Bishop Swenson presented the pastor of Kam Nam UMC with its charter certificate. Won Kie Kim noted the many achievements of Kam Nam UMC, including its recent purchase of property and growth in worship attendance.

Shared Mission Focus on Young People
"I Dream a Church..." video was shown. Clips of active ministries reaching out and serving young people were shown. Testimonies from several young people were given. The video encouraged reaching out and opening up to the next generation. idreamachurch.com was identified as a website designed to include young people in church and to strengthen connections between older and younger members.

Laity - Becky Haase was elected; Clergy - Philip Amerson and Patricia Farris were elected.
Ballot #5
Ballot #5 was taken.

Communications Commission
Charles Cappleman reported on the Commission's activities. Bishop Swenson announced that this is the first time that this Conference is being broadcast worldwide over the Internet at www.cal-pac.org. A video report was presented "Telling God's Story." The Media Center houses a video library and has produced a video catalog available to local churches. The Commission has also been working to install Video conferencing systems. Communications Director Larry Hygh promoted a FREE workshop on how to use the Internet to spread the message and Bishop Swenson encouraged everyone to "keep telling the story."

Congregational Loan Committee
Gwen Jones Lurvey brought the report from the Congregational Loan Committee. "This committee is in the business of the church building business." Monies are available for renovation projects, new buildings or buying property through the Jubilee Fund.

Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministries
A video was shown featuring Dr. James E. Lyons President of Cal-State Dominguez Hills. Dr. Lyons is a United Methodist. He spoke on two issues: Access and Future Workforce. Our future leaders, teachers will come from a variety of persons. We therefore must make the doors of opportunity open to people of color, those with disabilities, and minorities. Bishop Swenson reported that ecumenical ministries on campuses have grown.

Christian Education
"Vitalize Christian Education" video included its focus on being theologically sound, empowering, transforming, educationally sound, and age appropriate. Training sessions are available to local churches. Bishop Swenson promoted the "Journey to Jesus" workshop coming soon.

Clergy Mates Council
Clergy Mate Luncheon, Retirement Celebration, and Conversations are available during the Conference. Spring and fall retreats are available for clergy mates for spiritual renewal, companionship, and "fabulous" speakers.

HIV/AIDS Committee
A Powerpoint presentation was shown. Ed Hansen expressed special thanks for the offering on Tuesday night for AIDS in Africa. Three Strength for the Journey retreats are planned. Gifts to support scholarships for these camps may be put in red envelopes today.

Sexual Ethics Taskforce
R. Preston Price, Eva Thai and Lynn Jackson delivered the Taskforce's presentation. The Taskforce has gathered various resources and developed a number of recommendations: 1) Sexual Ethics 101; 2) Local Church Response Team; 3) many ways to disseminate information; 4) Place for laity to report misconduct that is not clergy; 5) 800 number for reporting. A CD full of resources was sent to churches and ministries in the Conference in December, 2003. Progress report taken by show of hands of churches with a sexual harassment policy, churches with a child abuse prevention policy, and churches that screen workers with children and youth . It showed that we made progress!

Examples of difficult personal sexual ethics situations were read. There are high insurance costs, Conference funds are at risk, there is the cost of counseling and hours of Conference staff/professional hours must be compensated. Voices of pain persist. A day-long gathering was spent with recommendations which include a Sexual Ethics workshop for lay and clergy, creation of local church response teams, many ways to disseminate information of how to report misconduct, provide a person in place for laity to report misconduct not clergy, etc.

Council on Finance and Administration

Budget Presentation
George R. Crisp delivered the Budget Presentation.
Page 26-29 include a report by CFA. Last year 10.3 million dollars was received as apportioned giving. This was 82.6% of asked giving and reflects an overall decline in giving. There are 107 churches which made significant progress towards the 100% goal. Last year 25 churches paid 10% or less. 15 churches paid less than 10% and of those 10 paid no apportionments. All churches asked to make regular monthly payments.

Note of caution to each pastor – review the Table II Report for accuracy before submitting it. This year 133 churches have paid at least 5/12 of their annual apportionment and CFA hopes they will continue to lead the way. Several churches are making strides to increase their giving.

Jubilee Fund Report
Foundation Activity – 7.5 million dollar balance.

Expenses total $1,595,233.20.	Fund Balance $5,951,781.
Grants subtotal $5.4 million	Total Funds Distributed: $504,442.62
Cash Balance as of 12-31-02 -$5,810	Total funds available for 7% distribution in 2003 - $5,438,610.07

$190,351 available to local churches and same amount in grants

CFA voted to keep same pay out plan that is in place they will review this payout schedule in 2005.

Concern from CFA perspective – 2001 very concerned about the rise in healthcare to retired clergy and spouses. At 2001 Annual Conference, request to form a task force. Resolution 79 submitted by CFA to direct actions by Board of Pensions. Proposed changes in health care plan not appear to be sufficient to solve deficit problem. Meeting with CFA, Pensions, Leadership Team, and Task Force. CFA members appreciate the work of Task Force and Board of Pensions.

There is no easy or painless answer to solve the crisis facing our Conference and country.

The Leadership Team and Board of Pensions will be submitting a revised budget.

CFA continues to have great confidence in Dan Gara and recognized Dan and his support staff for their professional skill, grace, and good humor. Dan introduced his staff with special recognition to Josie Reeves who will be retiring after 33 years of service.

Bishop Swenson shared the story of her mother giving her tithe each month until she died and that if all of us tithed, the church could do so much.

Benediction
Chief Lauolefiso Ali'ifua gave the benediction.

Adjournment
The plenary session adjourned at 3:44 P.M.

Healing and New Ministries Worship Service

Thursday, June 19, 2003

Deacons and Diaconal Ministers
Diane Rehfield reported on Deacons and Diaconal Ministers. Body reminded of history of Diaconal ministries. Reminded also that the order of Deacon was instituted in 1996. No Diaconal ministers will be consecrated this year. There are four Diaconal ministers serving in our Conference. Barbara Tomblin is transferring into our Conference from New Jersey. MJ Buist has requested another year of leave of absence.

Diane Rehfield moved acceptance of another year on Leave of Absence for MJ Buist.
It was approved.

Diane Rehfield was recognized as the Chair-elect of the Board of Ordained Ministry. She will chair the Board after the 2004 session of Annual Conference.

Judicial Council Questions 1 – 4
Tom Griffith moved to send Questions 1 – 4 to the Judicial Council for consideration.

1. Since 1) the Disciplinary reason for administrative complaints, "...inability to perform ministerial duties," (¶359.1d[2]), and the Disciplinary reason for involuntary leave of absence initiated by the District Superintendents, "(clergy who) are unable to...perform their ministerial duties," (¶352.1), are substantially coterminous; and 2) decisions on whether a clergy shall be placed on involuntary leave of absence and processing of administrative complaints are both handled by the Board of Ordained Ministry (Judicial Council Memorandum 950, ¶359.3); does this mean that a written request by the District Superintendents to place a clergy on involuntary leave of absence constitutes a written complaint, as defined in ¶359.1a? If so, must there be a period of formal supervision, as defined in ¶359.1b, initiated before the administrative complaint may be referred to the Board of Ordained Ministry? If so, which committee of the Board of Ordained Ministry should process this complaint? The executive committee (Judicial Council Memorandum 950) or "a committee of the board that deals with matters of conference relations (other than the executive committee)"? And should whichever committee of the board processes the complaint have the full range of remedial actions detailed in ¶359.3a available to it when such a complaint or request is received?

2. ¶359.1b states, "the person against whom the complaint was made may choose another person to accompany him/her with the right to voice." Provisions for Fair Process in Administrative Hearings (¶359.2c) and for Fair Process in Judicial Proceedings (¶2701.3) both allow the respondent the "right to be accompanied by a clergyperson in full connection to any hearing, in accordance with the appropriate disciplinary provisions. The clergyperson accompanying the respondent shall have the right to voice (or advocacy)." These provisions imply that the respondent may choose the clergyperson who may appear with him/her. ¶2706.2 specifically states that a respondent is entitled to select the clergyperson in full connection to serve as respondents counsel. Does all of this imply that the respondent may choose his/her advocate/counsel, and also choose to change whom his/her advocate/counsel may be at any stage in the complaint/investigation proceedings (up to the commencement of a trial), on the respondents own motion; as long as a clergyperson who once served as respondent's advocate/counsel and was replaced by another remains bound by the disciplinary provisions for confidentiality in the hearings in which s/he participated [Judicial Council Decision 751]?

3. The provision for Fair Process in Administrative Hearings (¶359.2) specifically "commences upon referral of a matter as an administrative complaint." The provisions for Fair Process in Judicial Proceedings (¶2701) specifically "commence upon referral of a matter as a judicial complaint...." Both provisions guarantee "the respondent shall have access to all records relied upon in the determination of the outcome of the (appropriate) process." (¶359.2e, ¶2701.6) When a complaint ("a written and signed statement claiming misconduct or unsatisfactory performance of ministerial duties" [¶359.1a]) is received by the bishop or a district superintendent, there is no provision guaranteeing a respondent a right to access to all records until the matter passes through the Supervisory Response. (¶359.1b). However, Judicial Council Decision 830 affirms that Fair Process is a constitutional right as well as a disciplinary right. ¶359.1a specifically states "The person filing the complaint and the clergyperson shall be informed by the district superintendent or bishop of the process for filing the complaint and its purpose." Therefore, does a respondent have a right to receive and keep, at the very least, a written copy of the complaint against him/her, copy(s) of supporting documents submitted with the complaint, and sufficient other detail to allow the respondent to prepare a response (¶359.2b), at the commencement of the supervisory response?

4. It is clear that a Local Pastor has no guarantee of an appointment, and that a license for pastoral ministry "shall remain valid only so long as the appointment continues...." (¶341.3) In the fourth restrictive rule to the Constitution of The United Methodist Church, at ¶18, all clergy and lay members of the church (including Local Pastors) are granted the privilege of a right to trial if accused of a chargeable offense. This constitutional right is acknowledged at ¶¶2702.1, 2703.2, 2704.2, 2706.2c and 2713. If a person serving under appointment as a local pastor receives a notice in writing, from his/her bishop or district superintendent, informing him/her that s/he is being discontinued from that appointment and that his/her license for pastoral ministry is being discontinued for the stated reason that said local pastor is accused of violating specifically one or more cited chargeable offense(s) (¶2702.1), does that local pastor have a right to the supervisory process (¶359.1) and, if this results in a judicial complaint, the right to trial? Or does the termination of the appointment end the local pastor's right to a trial?

It was approved.

Deadline
September 1st is the deadline for applications to the Board of Ordained Ministry.

Conference Comprehensive Plan
Craig Brown was introduced as the chairperson elect. The Book of Discipline requires us to have a comprehensive plan. Each conference is free to structure its own plan to focus its work. This will focus resources in a single direction. The paper distributed is 1/3 of our Conference plan.

Life cycle report is an eight page document. Each district is detailed on one page.. This is not the plan, but is indicative of what the plan is supposed to be. District representatives were given the responsibility to report on giving, mission support, membership growth and apportionments. What we see is a composite of the data received from churches. The plan helps the district understand the churches in their area and where they are. People matter. We see in the report where churches are experiencing change and transition; or might need merging or discontinuance. The report also suggests which churches should continue in ministry and those that should not.

The Comprehensive Plan calls for the district committee to use the demographic information that is available to help churches grow.

Craig encouraged churches to embrace a BHAG – Big Hairy Audacious Goal. Our BHAG is to take in more members this year than we loose.

Nelson Castorillo informed members of Conference regarding the situation of the Light of the Valley Church which, though no longer a part of our Conference, needs to be part of the report.

Vote Proposed for Health Insurance Plan for California-Pacific Conference
Bud Wrisley introduced the Conference Leadership Team. John Fanestil told Mike Scioscia's story about playing at Giants field. He suggested we needed the pause in this discussion to "reload the fireworks". This is a multi-layer problem because it is a national crisis, a denominational crisis, a crisis in our use of resources as a Conference, a crisis for the next 3-5 years, and a crisis in next year's budget.

The Leadership Team's Proposal was meant to address a 3-5 year time frame. Our focus this year is mid-range cost and retired clergy health. The solution that has been developed is designed to avoid division within the Conference.
The Annual Conference is expecting a 1.3 million deficit if there are no contributions from retired and active clergy and a 3.7 reduction of apportionments. Suggestion made to receive contributions from all sources. $50 per person, per month for retired clergy, spouses and dependents to raise $500,000. Additional cost for those under 65 years old or choosing to participate in PPP plan. 1% of salary/pension solicited from all active clergy and from those retired clergy not participating in Conference pension plan to raise $150,000. These contributions will be encouraged but are voluntary. It was suggested that churches forgo 3.7 drop in apportionment to raise approximately $400,000. A special offering would be taken to raise at least $100,000. Total projected revenue $1,150,000. Jubilee Grants may be delayed to cover a gap. A $50,000 relief fund would be established as a safety net for clergy who are severely affected by the proposed change.

The Leadership Team's proposal will not solve the budget problem over the long term. The proposal does address the immediate problem for 2003-2004. This tests the covenant we all have with each other in our Conference and denomination through Jesus Christ.

The committee is suggesting a "potluck" solution of contributions from all parties to cover a present need. Our obligation to sacrifice for one another cannot be mandated by human law but only by the God's law. Christ has called us to bear one another's burdens.

Request for a Special Offering
Krista McVey, asked that we take a special offering. The Bishop said that one will be taken later.

Clergy Basketball Game
Grant Hagiya announced that half of the funds raised by the clergy basketball game will be put toward the healthcare deficit.

PLENARY 7
Friday, June 20, 2003
1:30 P.M.

Call to Order
Bishop Swenson called the Plenary to order at 1:36 P.M.

Congregational Development Video
A video indicated that our California-Pacific Conference is the most diverse conference in the nation. Imagine what can be if we can follow our vision of building bridges and start building many ethic ministries. Up to now, only about 3% of the Conference budget was given to developing new congregations and ministries. Imagine what would happen if we gave just 7% of our budget to this ministry. 7% would be $745,000 to building new ministries. Instead only $365,000 is allocated to funding Congregational Development.

Orders of the Day
Bishop Swenson noted the effectiveness of the videos and encouraged members of the Conference to take back copies of the videos to the congregations.

Bob Isip told the Conference to ignore the Orders of the Day for Plenary 7 as recorded in the Preliminary Reports. The revised Orders of the Day were posted on the screen. Much of today's afternoon session will devote to the issue of the Health Insurance for the Retired Clergy. He moved the Orders of the Day.
It was approved.

Motion
Phil Amerson expressed his gratitude for embracing him as he entered into this Conference. He noted the diversity of the Conference and that 60% of this year's ordinands are of the minority group. Therefore, he expressed concern as he noted the diversity in the delegation does not do justice to the diversity of the Conference. He expressed that he would like to be the first clergy alternative to the General Conference instead of a primary delegate, so that a minority member may be represented in the delegation. The Bishop indicated that for now, it would be best to first take the vote and then have the Conference decide whether to allow the change.

Ballot #7
The clergy and laity cast their ballots. A clip of last night's basketball game was shown on the screen. It was emphasized that the clergy are voting for five choices in addition to those already elected. Guannie Dixon declared the clergy ballots closed.

Ehwa Girl's Highschool Choir

In celebration of the centennial of the Korean church in America. The Ehwa's High School Choir gave musical tribute to God's glory. These women, who graduated from Ewha Girl's Highschool, are now living in the greater Los Angeles area. Bishop Swenson invited Soomee Kim a member of the General Secretariat of the General Commission of the Status and Role of Women and a graduate of the school to introduce the group.

Soomee Kim gave a brief history of the mission that began the Ehwa High School. She noted that Mrs. Scranton from the United Methodist Women's Society took note of the need for education for women and planted the seed to starting the school. She asked the Conference to welcome the choir and invited the choir to sing for the Conference.

Bishop's Task Force on Children and Poverty
Kathy Cooper-Ledesma and Rosemary Davis presented the report. Rosemary reported that 2 quadrennials ago we were challenged to do something in our churches about children and poverty. Many churches have responded. A video was shown that pictured children in various ministries around the Annual Conference.

Bishop Jaime Vásquez from the Conference in Mexico came forward to present the Distinguished Service Award to Ariel and Mary Zambrano.

Chuck Mabry noted that many of our youth have gone down to Mexico in building their churches. He hopes that in the future the youth from Mexico will also come to our Conference to build our new churches as an act of the Joint Commission.

Bishop Mary Ann Swenson asked Bishop Jordan to step in and preside over the rest of the afternoon session.

Vote on Proposed Health Insurance Plan of the California-Pacific Conference
Bishop Jordan called the Health Insurance Taskforce to present ths reports.

Recommendation #4
Richard Bolin of La Canada UMC proposed a substitute motion that the Conference rules regarding retiree health insurance remain unchanged in the coming year, and that the leadership team in consultation with CFA bring back appropriate adjustments to the other amendments before us to the plenary session on Saturday.

Bishop Jordan noted that according to the parliamentary procedure indicates that the current motion is not a substitute motion but a speech against the proposal. Therefore, the motion is out of order.

Bud Wrisley noted an amendment to the proposal: "The Bishop and the cabinet may recommend to the Board of Pensions that the 10 year rule be waived for greater effectiveness in the general itinerancy and recruitment in the California-Pacific Annual Conference." Richard Bentley proposed an amendment to Recommendation #4. Richard Bentley asked the Task Force for help in the language. The Task Force indicated that the amendment will be accepted.

Floyd McKeithen moved to amend Recommendation #4 by exempting retirees who retired before 1982. The taskforce agreed to accept the amendment.

Liz Roark moved to change on page 3, line 1a to have the retired clergy on HMO pay 1% of their monthly income, and 1b to have the retired on HIP pay 1% of their monthly income.
It was NOT approved.

Arlene Dempster moved to call the previous question on the amendment.
It was approved .

The amendment was approved.

Sandy Richards moved to amend Recommendation #4. To change line 55 item 4, and pg 3 line items to read: "The Cabinet and the Bishop may recommend to the Board of Pensions that a divorced clergy spouse may be allowed to continue to be eligible for Conference HIP subsidy."
It was approved.

Bob Isip moved to end plenary at 5:30 P.M.
It was approved.

Bill Steele moved to amend Recommendation #4 by having the Conference pay the entire premium for surviving spouses for the next 18 months.
It was NOT approved.

Phil Amerson moved the previous question on Recommendation #4.
It was approved.

Recomendation #4 was approved.

Recomendation #1
Becky Haase moved to remove recomendation #1 from the table.
It was approved.

Charlene Zuill moved the Orders of the Day to end the Health Insurance issues by 4:55 P.M.
It was approved.

Paul Baker moved to call for the previous question.
It was approved.

Recommendation # 1 was approved.

Recomendation # 2
Cherrye Cunningham presented amendment #2. She recommended that the wording on Recommendation #2 be changed. The voluntary contribution by the active clergy shall be confidential. Replace 1st sentence in part 1 with "a voluntary confidential monthly contribution from all active clergy of 1% of their monthly salary (understood to be the sum of the base salary and of that portion of any housing/furnishing allowance exceeding $1,500 per month)."

Miriam Stump moved to amend Recommendation #2 so that active clergy be asked to pay from their own income $50 per month to equalize what is expected of retired clergy."
It was NOT approved.

Recommendation # 2 was approved.

Rick Uhls moved that we suspend the rules and consider Recommendations 3 & 5 at the same time.
It was approved.

Richard Bentley made a point of order that we have not moved Recommendations 3 or 5.
Bishop Jordan ruled that Rick Uhls' motion was Out of Order.
Bishop Jordan announced that Recommendations 3 & 5 will be considered at a latter time.

CHARMS Offering
California-Hawaii Association for Retired Ministers and Spouses requested that a special offering be taken for the Health Benefits Assistance Fund.

Cokesbury Presentation
In the past 53 years, the UM Publishing house has contributed more than $40 million to the clergy Pension Program. Keith Clark presented a check $14,881.63 to Bishop Jordan who turned the check over to Dan Gara, Conference Treasurer.

Connectional Ministries Video
Jim Conn introduced a video by the Los Angeles Urban Foundation. The video told the story of the ministry of the Urban Foundation. The ministry has supported children of all ethnicities. The program seeks to expand its program to youths and the elderly. The Urban Foundation provides after school programs for kids, including tutoring and arts & craft. It also seeks to help the homeless community. It also provides job training. The video was about real people helping real people.

Report on Ballot #7
Keith Hwang reported on the results of ballot #7.
Laity: Ken Ellis was Elected; Clergy: Thomas Choi was Elected.

Motion

Keith Hwang moved to change Thomas Choi to the fifth elected position for General Conference and place Phil Amerson as the first delegate position for Jurisdictional Conference and as the first alternate to General Conference.

It was approved.

Claremont School of Theology
Phil Amerson introduced a video on the School of Theology. He indicated that the school is here to serve the Conference and the people. He passionately urged the Conference to support the school in that as this Conference is dealing with financial issues of the active and retired clergy, there are students graduating from seminary with enormous debt, even though a promise was made from the General Conference that tuition for UM candidates would be provided.

Presentation of Amended Budget
George Crisp moved to change line 92 on recommendation #2 in the Preliminary Report to $6,106,410. The Budget will be voted on tomorrow.

8:30 A.M.

Call to Order
Bishop Mary Ann Swenson called the session to order at 8:37 A.M..

Orders of the Day
Bob Isip moved the Orders of the Day.
They were approved.

Congregational Development Video
New Ministries Moment – Covenant with God is to cultivate new ministries. This year $365,000 is designated to new ministries. Asked us to imagine if our church grew as the population in the areas grew. Where is it that God is calling us. The windows of opportunities are there.

Motion
Ben Ellis moved to suspend the rules to increase the number of alternates from 2 to 5.
It was approved.

Motion
Ben Ellis moved to have clergy and laity elect their remaining delegates and their 5 alternates by the highest number of votes received in the Ballot #9.
It was NOT approved.

Ballot # 8

Ballot # 8 was taken.

United Methodist Women
Lory Neser asked all United Methodist Women to stand in the audience and be recognized. In 1869 six women gathered together as an opportunity to help others and raised enough to send 2 women to India. One hundred years ago, five women in this Conference worked to start a hospital which is the current hospital in Arcadia. The current goal of the UMW is to raise $100,000 for the maternal Child Health Care Unit of the hospital. A CD is available for purchase on the quad. Proceeds from the sale of this CD will benefit the Child Health Care Unit. A video was shown sharing the mission of "how to live in mission to others."

Conference Council on Young Adults
Matt McPhee and Doug Dickson presented the Conference Council on Young Adults report.
This year they held the first Young Adult Conference. One of their biggest events was a trip to Mexico where the group build a house for a family. A Winter Retreat with 50 participants was one of the best events.

Young adults who helped organized activities were recognized: Rachel Allen, Garth Gillian and Doug Dixon. A larger working team is being developed to organize programs for young adults. Young adults have been sharing the good news that God is there. In their generation, over 50% have not been in a church. On college campuses, thoughts on the church and God ranged from hostility mixed in with the love of Jesus. These young adults are going out with the help of their local churches and the Conference to share the love of Christ. The U.S. is the fifth largest mission field in the world. There are more unchurched people in the world after four other places. Doug requested that churches think about supporting these youth.

Conference Council on Youth Ministries
Tricia Hamilton, Conference Youth Coordinator, introduced Miracle McClain, Chair of CCYM. Some events included the Junior High Convention, Young People's Convention with 600 participants, and Hawaii YPC with 160 youth. Youth scholarships were also shared. She thanked the United Methodist Credit Union, Tricia Hamilton, Garth Gilliam, and members of CCYM. Tricia Hamilton will continue as chair for the coming year.
Garth Gilliam introduced some of the graduates of the Youth Worker Academy, a year-long study of ministry and the church.

Bishop Swenson celebrated the work of Garth Gilliam and the Academy for their ministry to youth. Garth Gilliam recognized several youth coordinators for their service. He also recognized Matt McPhee and his gift of inclusivity resulting in a more diverse group of youth. Rachel Allen was recognized for her work. Both Matt and Rachel will be going to seminary.

Connectional Ministries Videos
Marilyn Huntington introduced a series of videos from World Methodist Council, VIM, and Churches United in Christ,

Conference Communications Committee
Charles Cappelton expressed concern that Circuit West is not being received by the local churches and requested that each church send via e-mail at lhygh@cal-pac.org. the top five leaders in the church. He also would like to know which churches have secretaries who are comfortable with the computer and e-mail.

Commission on Archives and History
Robert Fitch requested that each church have a local historian. The Fourth Annual Local Church History Seminar will be held on September 9. Having served on the Commission for 8 years, Robert will now become "history" at the end of this term.

Robert Fitch introduced Lee Greenwalt. Lee shared that the Historical Society is not just books and papers but also objects and artifacts.

Benediction
Alex Vegara of Kapolei Mission of Hawaii gave the Benediction.

Adjournment
Session Adjourned at 10:05 A.M..

Nominations
The Committee of Nominations expressed gratitude to Ben Ellis who has served on the Committee as chair for many years. Ben Ellis will be going off the Committee.

Ben Ellis presented the report listing members to the various committee and commissions. He reminded everyone to fill in the Talent Bank form and turn them in by the end of Conference. Ben Ellis moved to pass the report as amended.
Ben Ellis informed that updates are done by the each committee. The various committees must report back to the Nominating Committee those who are no longer on the committee. It was urged that each committee do so.

There was a question as to the length of time persons serve on committees. Ben Ellis noted that most serve a maximum of two 4 year terms. However, because of the transitioning, some were asked to stay on longer.

Ben Ellis moved the question to approve the Nominations Report.
It was approved.

Bishop Swenson read a caring statement by Rev. Bob Shuler.
Let gratitude be our attitude in response to God as a gift of the church. We are called to give God witness in the church. We have chosen the Wesleyan windows. From all those we hear from this week, let us assume the best of intentions. Remain friends following debates. Pray throughout the week for God's will and the will of others.

Amy moved adoption of Resolution # 107 as amended.
It was approved.

Resolution # 111
Amy moved adoption of Resolution # 111.
It was approved.

Resolution # 112
It was approved.

Religion and Race
Elwood Hain noted that this is his last year serving on the Commission. Al Gorsline will be replacing him. Elwood responded to a letter received to the commission last year. The letter inquired why there has never been a black woman appointed as a District Superintendent. The commission did research as to why there were no black woman ever appointed. They met with the Black Methodist for Church Renewal and Bishop Swenson and many others.

Elwood reported that the factual information of the letter was correct. However, the fact there was no black woman ever appointed as a district superintendent was not due to any discrimination nor the lack of qualified candidates. The Commission discovered that black women were almost always on the final list for DS. Some had declined the offer and others were not selected simply due to other criteria.

Therefore, the conclusion of the investigation showed:
There was no discrimination.
The process is sound and fair.
The process was designed to be effective.
There was no need to develop a special program in response to the letter.

Elwood noted that that is all good news, except for the initial point that there are no black woman as a district superintendents. He noted that commission is actively looking into whether the district superintendent position might not be attractive to women of color.

Recognition of District Superintendents and Family
Bishop Swenson asked all the District Superintendents to come on stage and stand before the Conference. They and their families were introduced. The extended cabinet were also asked to come on stage and be recognized.

Personal Privilege:
Lee Carlile asked that the Conference show its gratitude for the ushers who have the job of passing out loads of paper. She also specially recognized Bill Woolsey who has been at this Conference for 35 consecutive years as a clergy member and as an usher.

Connectional Ministries Videos
A video from Connectional Ministries was shown on the screen. The video showed the ministries of Gaum UMC and Saipan UMC.

Sessions Committee
John Valles noted that the University of Redlands was thankful for our presence during this Conference.

2002 Motion Regarding the Future Annual Conference Session
Bob Isip presented two options regarding changing the agenda of future Annual Conferences.

Option 1 is to have a festival of ministries where people may select which “booth” to attend on Saturday.
Option 2 requires that every ministry and committee needs to make a video to manage time.

Bob Isip moved to adopt Option 1.
Bob noted that next year that we will have the election for Episcopal nominee. Also, the Bishop has final say as to the dates of Annual Conference.

Option 1
It was NOT apporved.

Paula Ferris proposed Option 3 to move that the Thurs-Sun option be accepted and scheduled. Details to be determined in consultation with Bishop, Agenda, Connectional Ministries, and other concerned groups and agencies.
It was approved.

Evaluation
John Valles urged everyone to fill out the evaluations.

Personal Privilege
Sharon Rhodes-Wickett Suggested way of celebrating John Wesley's 300 birthday. She read from ¶ 103 in our Social Discipline and urged everyone to look at their church budget for secretarial and custodial staff and investigate the wages of those who are in service for the Conference and report back to the team by September 1st, 2003.

Cabinet Matters
Cheol Kwak thanked the Conference for supporting the work of the cabinet. He indicated the work in birthing new congregations and chartering of others.

Conference Council on Korean Ministries
A video from the Council on Korean Ministry was shown.

Conference Matters
June 17-21, 2004 will be the dates of next year's Annual Conference. The business of the Annual Conference is worship, fellowship and to be church with one another as a family.

Prayer Concerns
The government has closed the American Embassy in Kenya, and asked all Americans leave the country. Prayers are asked for our missionaries in Kenya.

Presentation of Delegates
The delegates to the General and Jurisdictional Conference were presented on stage.
The Bishop indicated that the group chosen truly does represent our Conference.

Appreciation for Volunteers
Bishop asked all those involved in the Conference were asked to stand, including all the committees, the video crew, those who worked on agenda, legislative, UM Daily, ushers, and everyone else.

Recognition
The Bishop was recognized and applauded.

Benediction
David Tinoco was asked to pray the benediction.

Closing Worship Service
Sunday, June 22, 2003
7:30 P.M.

Bishop Mary Ann Swenson preached. The offering was for the Volunteers in Mission Fund. Appointments were read during the worship service.

JUDICIAL COUNCIL DECISION - Fall 2002
MEMORANDUM NO. 950

IN Re: Request from the California-Pacific Annual Conference for a Declaratory Decision on Whether it Is Allowable for Bishops and District Superintendents to Be Voting Participants in a Hearing Requested by a Clergy Member Recommended for Involuntary Leave as Described in ¶ 352.1 of the 2000 Discipline.

On June 18, 2002, the clergy session of the California-Pacific Annual Conference approved a request for a declaratory decision as follows:

> Under provisions of ¶ 2610, on the question under the constitutional separation of powers doctrine and several Judicial Council decisions, is it allowable for the Bishop and District Superintendents to be voting participants in a hearing requested by a clergy person recommended for involuntary leave of absence as described in ¶ 352.1b?

The Judicial Council has jurisdiction under ¶ 2610.2(j) of the 2000 Discipline.

The issues at hand are clearly related to those found in Decisions 689, 830, and 917. The key issues present are based on separation of powers and fair process. The separation of powers issue is dealt with in Decision 689 as follows:

> …[S]eparation of authority and decision-making is integral to the United Methodist Constitution and law. While the boundaries can become hazy in any particular situation, the preservation of the separation of powers must be observed.

Decision 830 states, "Fair process is a constitutional as well as a disciplinary right… ."

Decision 917 deals with the need to protect clergy from having the bishop or district superintendents involved from participating in the deliberations and voting on a variety of administrative processes. The district superintendent acts as a representative of the cabinet and as an extension of the episcopal authority. Consequently, for the bishop or the district superintendents to have presence, voice, or vote violates the separation of powers doctrine as well as fair process. This may be clearly reasoned by analogy from Decision 917 that involves involuntary discontinuation of probationary membership, involuntary retirement, and administrative complaints. Involuntary leave of absence, is identical to the issues addressed in Decision 917. The bishop and district superintendents shall not participate as voting members in a hearing under the provisions of ¶ 352.1b concerning involuntary leave of absence and may not remain in the hearing room either prior to the hearing or after the hearing has been concluded but prior to the issuance of a decision by the executive committee of the board of ordained ministry.

Digest

Bishops and district superintendents shall not participate as voting members in a hearing under the provisions of ¶ 352.1b concerning involuntary leave of absence and may not remain in the hearing room either prior to the hearing or after the hearing has been concluded but prior to the issuance of a decision by the executive committee of the conference board of ordained ministry. To do so would violate fair process as established in ¶ 359.2.

October 26, 2002

Concurring Opinion

We join in this concurring opinion to state that we believe the Judicial Council has jurisdiction in this case for the same reasons as expressed in the concurring opinion in Decision 940. The 2002 clergy session of the California Pacific Annual Conference requested a declaratory decision from the Judicial Council on whether it is allowable for bishops and district superintendents to be voting participants in a hearing requested by a clergy member recommended for involuntary leave of absence as described in ¶ 352.1 b) of the 2000 Discipline. For the reasons expressed in the concurring opinion in Decision 940, the Judicial Council has jurisdiction in this matter under ¶ 2610.2(j) of the 2000 Discipline.

Keith Boyette
C. Rex Bevins
John G. Corry
James W. Holsinger

Dissenting Opinion

The Judicial Council does not have jurisdiction to make a decision under Par. 2610 of the 2000 Discipline when the request comes from the clergy session only. Par. 605.6 does not give the clergy session the authority to act on behalf of the annual conference except on "[q]uestions relating to matters of ordination, character and conference relations of clergy...." A request for a declaratory decision must be acted on by the entire annual conference in open session.

The Council on Finance and Administration
California-Pacific Annual Conference
of the United Methodist Church

Independent Auditors' Report

We have audited the statement of financial position of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church (the Conference) as of December 31, 2002, and the related statement of support and revenues, expenses and other changes in net assets, and the related statement of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Conference management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Conference at December 31, 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule listed as supplemental information in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements of the Conference. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31,2002

(1) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation/Accounting

The financial statements of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church (Conference) include the accounts of funds that provide programs and support services to, and on behalf of, the member churches of the Conference. These programs and supporting services are considered Conference activities by the "Book of Discipline." The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis.

Financial statement presentation follows the recommendations of the Financial Accounting Standards Board in its Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations. Under SFAS No. 117, the Conference is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles includes the use of estimates that affect the financial statements. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fund Groupings

To ensure observance of limitations and restrictions placed on the use of resources available to the Conference, the accounts are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. This is the procedure by which resources for various purposes are classified for accounting and reporting purposes into funds established according to their nature and purpose. Separate accounts are maintained for each fund; however, in the accompanying financial statements, funds that have similar characteristics have been grouped. Accordingly, all financial transactions have been recorded and reported by fund group.

The assets, liabilities and net assets of the Conference are reported in self-balancing fund groups as follows:

- Operating Funds, which are available for the various Conference programs and support services, including unrestricted and Board-designated amounts. For financial statement purposes interfund balances comprising $2,689,585 of receivables/payables have been eliminated.

OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
December 31,2002

- Fixed Assets Funds, which include land, buildings, furniture and equipment that are acquired or constructed.

- Endowment Funds, which are restricted for specific conference programs and support.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Conference maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Conference has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Conference believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Conference considers cash and all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less from when purchased as cash and cash equivalents.

Investments

Investments are stated at fair value (the value at which financial instruments could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced liquidation sale.)

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets which range from three to forty years.

The Conference records restricted contributions for the acquisition of fixed assets in conformity with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 116, Accounting for Contributions Received and Made. Specifically, revenues are recognized as received, and contributions that have time or use restrictions are classified as temporarily restricted net assets when received and reclassified to unrestricted net assets upon fulfillment of the restriction.

Restricted and Unrestricted Revenue and Support

Contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions.

CALIFORNIA-PACIFIC ANNUAL CONFERENCE
OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
December 31,2002

All donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported as net assets released from restrictions.

Income Taxes

The Conference is a California nonprofit, tax-exempt organization under the provisions of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and the corresponding provisions of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes is required.

(2) Receivables:

Notes due from Member Churches:

The notes due from member churches are generally collateralized by trust deeds on real property and bear interest at rates ranging from 2% to 7.5%. At December 31, 2002, the allowance for uncollectible notes is $52,685.

Contribution from Remainder Trusts:

The Conference is a beneficiary of certain estates. The corpus of the estates will not be received until certain time restrictions have been met. A receivable has been recorded for the Conference's proportionate share of the fair value of the corpus.

(3) Investments

Investments at December 31, 2002 consist of the following:

	Fair Value
Money market accounts with interest at market rates	$ 2,731,311
Investments held by the Foundation	9,056,460

(4) Certificates of Participation

At December 31, 2002, the Conference has an investment in certificates of participation of the United Methodist Development Fund (UMDF). The UMDF is an incorporated, nonprofit organization related to the National Division of the Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church. Certificates of participation in the amount of $700,878 provide for a rate of interest equal to the rate UMDF pays on its Flexible Investment Notes.

OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
December 31,2002

The interest rate at December 31, 2002 was 2%. Although certificates are normally repaid upon demand, the UMDF has the option of requiring six months prior written notice and may repay the certificates over a five-year period. The UMDF may redeem the certificates at a 2-1/2% premium by giving six months prior written notice.

(5) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment at December 31, 2002 consist of the following:

Land	$	1,212,741
Buildings		7,874,363
Furniture and fixtures		1,394,468
		10,481,572
Less accumulated depreciation		(6,281,885)
	$	4,199,687

(6) Related Party Transactions

At December 31, 2002, related party receivables consist primarily of amounts due from the General Level Agencies of the United Methodist Church and the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation (the Foundation).

Related party transactions with the General Level Agencies of The United Methodist Church consist of apportionment distributions and maintenance of various deposit accounts administered by the General Board of Pensions.

Related party transactions with the Foundation generally consist of reimbursements by the Foundation for certain Conference payroll and administrative costs aggregating approximately $245,909 in 2002.

Due from related parties at December 31, 2002 consists of the following:

2008-2012	314,754
2013-2018	308,463
Total Principal [(1)]	$ 829,687

[(1)] Interest not included due to rate being variable.

(8) Pension Plans

As discussed below, at December 31, 2002, there are two pension plans in existence for the ministers of the Conference.

Since January 1, 1982, ministers of the Conference have been covered by the Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP), which is administered by the General Board of Pension of the United Methodist Church. This plan, a multi-employer defined contribution plan, was adopted by the 1980 General Conference of The United Methodist Church and replaced the Ministers' Reserve Pension Fund (MRPF), a multi-employer defined benefit plan.

In connection with the MRPF, pension expense represents payment for prior service as determined by the consulting actuaries of the General Board of Pensions based on an actuarial valuation as of December 31, 2002. Pension expense for the year ended December 31, 2002 was $0. Information from the General Board of Pensions is not presently available to disclose the Conference's share of accumulated plan benefits, net assets available, or the unfunded liability at December 31, 2002.

OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
December 31,2002

Since January 1, 1982, under the MPP, individual churches remit 12.0% of each minister's salary directly to the General Board of Pensions up to the denominational average compensation. These remittances are placed in the respective minister's pension account. The Conference submits 4.4% of the same contribution base as above which is placed in a pooled account to provide disability and death benefits plus a pension buildup for ministers who are below the denominational average compensation, in order that all ministers receive a pension contribution equal to 12.0% of the denominational average compensation. In 2002, the Conference contributed $929,077 to the above pension plans.

All lay employees of the Conference can join the Cumulative Pension Benefit Fund of the General Board of Pensions, a defined contribution plan. The Conference's contribution requirement under this plan is 9% of the applicable employees' compensation.

The Conference Board of Pensions also administers a group health insurance plan available to member clergy and Conference employees and their families. As reflected in the accompanying financial statements, the Conference Board of Pensions receives premium payments from these parties and then submits payment to the applicable insurance agency. The Conference also administers a general liability insurance plan for member churches through the Conference Board of Trustees.

(9) Post-Employment Health Care Benefits

In addition to providing pension benefits, the Conference administers and provides health care benefits to all clergy retirees, surviving clergy spouses, and retired lay Employees. The Conference contributes the cost of monthly health insurance coverage. The cost of retiree health care benefits is recognized as an expense as premiums are paid. For 2002 the cost of this benefit was $1,532,640.

(10) Line of Credit

The Conference has an agreement with a bank for a line of credit with a maximum of $1,000,000 and an interest rate of one-half percent over the bank's reference rate. As of December 31, 2002 the line of credit is unused.

California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation

Independent Auditors' Report

We have audited the statement of financial position of the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation as of December 31, 2002, the related statement of revenues, expenses and other changes in net assets, and the related statement of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation at December 31, 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements of the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule of changes in amounts held for others for the year ended December 31, 2002, listed as supplemental information in the table of contents, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

CALIFORNIA-PACIFIC UNITED METHODIST FOUNDATION
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31,2002

(1) Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation/Accounting

The financial statements include the accounts of the Operating Fund, Endowment Fund and certain Other Trust Funds. These funds have common administration through a legal entity incorporated as the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation (the Foundation). The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Financial statement presentation follows the recommendations of the Financial Accounting Standards Board in its Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations. Under SFAS No. 117, the Foundation is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets.

Fund Groupings

The accounts of the Foundation are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. This is the procedure by which resources for various purposes are classified for accounting and reporting purposes into funds established according to their nature and purpose. Separate accounts are maintained for each fund; however, in the accompanying financial statements, funds that have similar characteristics have been grouped. Accordingly, all financial transactions have been recorded and reported by fund group.

The assets, liabilities and net assets of the Foundation are reported in three self-balancing fund groups as follows:

- The Operating Fund is used to account for all resources available for support of operations.

- The Endowment Fund is used to account for funds which generally require the principal to be invested and income to be used for the benefit of the projects selected by the Foundation.

- The Other Trust Funds include charitable remainder trusts and bequests. The charitable remainder trusts provide for the payment of lifetime distributions to the grantors or other designated beneficiaries. Upon the death of a lifetime beneficiary, the trusts provide for the distribution of assets to a designated remainder person. The bequests provide for a beneficial interest to charitable organizations and/or individuals at the grantor's death. In addition, Other Trust Funds include funds held and invested for certain member churches and church related agencies, the California Pacific Annual Conference and other parties.

December 31,2002

Interfund receivable and payable balances result primarily from allocations and reimbursements of general and administrative expenses. These expenses are paid by the Foundation's Operating Fund and are allocated to the Endowment Fund and Other Trust Funds as approved by the Foundation's Board of Directors. For the year ended December 31, 2002, administrative expenses allocated by the Operating Fund to other funds amounted to $596,356.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Foundation maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Foundation has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Foundation believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk for cash and cash equivalents. At December 31, 2002, the Foundation's bank account balance was $76,877; however, due to checks outstanding at that date, the actual cash balance was $7,195. In addition, the Foundation's third-party investment custodian holds uninvested cash of $1,184,222 at December 31, 2002, in a money market sweep account pending investment or distribution. The money market sweep account is considered to be a cash equivalent.

Restricted and Unrestricted Revenue and Support

Contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions.

All donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported as net assets released from restrictions.

Real Property

Real property is recorded at the fair market value at the date of donation. At December 31, 2002, real property in the amount of $50,022 is subject to a life tenancy agreement between the Foundation and the donor.

Office Equipment

Office equipment is carried at cost. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of seven years for the assets. At December 31, 2002, the office equipment, which has a total cost of $24,448, has accumulated depreciation of $12,367.

December 31,2002

Income Taxes

The Foundation has tax-exempt status under the provisions of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and the corresponding provisions of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. Income taxes on fund distributions are the responsibility of the beneficiaries. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes is required.

(2) Marketable Securities

Marketable securities are carried at fair value. Marketable securities at December 31, 2002 consist of the following:

	Operating Fund	Endowment Fund	Other Trust Funds	Total All Funds
Marketable equity securities	$ 369,436	$ 85,860	$ 20,887,011	$21,342,307
U.S. Government and Corporate debt securities	169,993	39,508	9,610,957	9,820,458
	$ 539,429	$ 125,368	$ 30,497,968	$31,162,765

Individual trust funds participate in a common equity investment pool (the Pool) by contributing their marketable securities or cash and receiving an ownership interest in the Pool. The ownership interest in the Pool is based upon the ratio of fair value of the individual fund's securities to the total fair value of the Pool which is used to allocate future activity and is recalculated each time a contribution or withdrawal is made. The Pool and its marketable equity securities are currently managed by outside investment counselors and the securities are held by a third-party custodian.

The change in value, increase (decrease) of fair value, on marketable securities for the year ended December 31, 2002 consists of the following:

Marketable equity securities	$ (4,595,358)
U.S. Government securities and Corporate debt securities	236,030
	$ (4,359,328)

The increase (decrease) in value on marketable securities for the year ended December 31, 2002 is reported as follows:

CALIFORNIA-PACIFIC UNITED METHODIST FOUNDATION

Operating Fund	$	(75,460)
Endowment Fund		(17,538)
Other Trust Funds (related to amounts held for others)		(4,266,330)
	$	(4,359,328)

(3) Related Party Transactions

At December 31, 2002, related party transactions included reimbursements to the Conference for payroll and administrative costs of $245,909.

The Bishop of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church is Chairperson of the Board of Directors of the Foundation.

(4) Pension Plans

All employees of the Foundation can join the Cumulative Pension Benefit Fund of the General Board of Pensions, a defined contribution plan. The Foundation contribution requirement under this plan is 9% and 6% of the applicable employees' compensation. During the year, the Foundation contributed $12,800 to the plan.

The Board of Pensions also administers a group health insurance plan available to Foundation employees and their families. The Conference Board of Pensions receives premium payments from these parties, $24,001 for Foundation employees during 2002, and then submits payment to the applicable insurance agency. The Foundation also participates in the Conference administered general liability insurance plan for the Conference Board of Trustees.

REPORTS to ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Edited by Gail Messner

Adult and Family Ministry Council

The calendar year 2002 saw the Adult and Family Ministry Council putting into full force the concept of "Bridging Barriers and Drawing Strength From One Another." At the beginning of the year and even earlier, plans had been made to further empower the various ministries of this Council. As the year progressed those assigned to one ministry jumped in to help those in another ministry and so it went. The Rev. Mary Kay Will seemed to be the Council's "all around person." In charge of the Sexuality Education Committee, she stepped up to help Rene Markley and her group in Single Adult Ministry with their annual empowering conference "Festival-In-The-Hills" which was held in May. Labor Day weekend saw the Rev. Ms. Will working with Jerry Rhodes and the Single Parent Ministry. And so it went throughout the entire year. Barriers between ministries which may seem to exist when reading descriptions of the ministries in text, were torn asunder and Council members and ministry team members drew strength from one another, and pressed on carrying out these ministries, and in so doing, empowered local churches to start, revitalize, and/or reinforce their respective ministries. The following summaries of each ministry illustrate the vitalness and vitality of this "all team" approach.

Single Adult Ministry: Going from a pain-centered ministry, often divorce recovery or grief counseling over the death of a spouse, to a growth-centered ministry (personal growth, spiritual growth, social, emotional, financial, etc., growth) is a big challenge. Undaunted, Rene Markley and the Single Adult Ministry Team note that more than 40% of the entire adult population is single; and according to the Department of Health and Human Services, singles comprise the majority of the adult population in the major metropolitan areas. Also, a majority of the population who don't attend church are single. Believing that if we are serious about evangelism and church growth, we must learn how to effectively minister to that group, Rene attended several leadership-training conferences for Single Adult Ministries, which were held in different areas of the country. Using the information learned at these conferences, the Single Adult Ministry Team planned conferences, called Festivals, for Single Adults in the California-Pacific Annual Conference. The first two Festivals for Single Adults, held in Carlsbad in 2001 and in Thousand Oaks in 2002, were very successful both in the number of single adults who attended and in the content presented by the nationally known single adult ministry leaders who led the breakout sessions and keynote presentations. The single adults who attended the events left feeling renewed and inspired to minister to other single adults in their local churches and their communities. The third Festival for Single Adults is planned for March 2003 in San Clemente. Combining fellowship, personal and spiritual growth, and leadership training at a Conference-wide event for single adults has turned out to be a successful model which helps local churches start ministries or improve ministries to this very diverse portion of our population. Information learned at the national conferences was shared at Annual Conference in 2002 during a workshop conducted by Rene titled "The Cutting Edge of Church Growth: Single Adult Ministries," and again at the Pasadena District How-To Workshops in January of this year. Plans are continuing to encourage individuals to receive leadership training at the national conferences and to hold and provide such training at Conference-wide "Festivals for Single Adults" in order to promote people development and not just program management, as an effective model for "growth-based" or "growth-centered" ministries for single adults at the church level. It must be noted that Rene Markley and Peggy Hallock attended the United Methodist Single Adult Leaders (UMSAL) Conference in July 2002, where Rene was elected Western Jurisdictional Representative to UMSAL, and Peggy was elected UMSAL's Treasurer.

Sexuality Education Committee: Many barriers exist between secular human sexuality and human sexuality in a Christ-like context. Bridging these concept barriers and often, generational barriers, is one of the goals of the Sexuality Education Committee which oversees the training and certification of leaders for the Conference's sexuality education program. Currently there are eight certified leaders in the Conference who offer seminars for local churches at three age levels B older elementary, younger youth (junior high/middle school) and older youth (high school). Training of new leaders and continued renewal of the Committee is an ongoing process. Individuals with an interest and commitment are potential members. No expertise in the field is needed, although that would be an additional enhancement to the work carried out by the Committee. Throughout 2002 seminars continued to be scheduled at all three age levels, with seminars occurring regularly in five of our Districts. Most seminars are at the younger youth age level. Many churches are finding it difficult to get enough senior high youth to commit to take the training in order to hold the seminar at that age level. The Sexuality Education Committee continues to encourage more churches to offer the older elementary seminars because children are encountering sexual education material at school and through various media at a younger and younger age. It is important that the church becomes a part of the picture for children just beginning to discover their sexuality. The Committee keeps exploring ways to market seminars both to churches who have never had a seminar, and to those who might make the move from occasional seminars to regular seminars or who might add an additional age level. Such marketing includes an article annually in the Christian Education supplement to the Circuit West. In-service training is provided through continuing education workshops for certified leaders and committee members. Additionally the California-Pacific Annual Conference's Sexuality Education Committee continues to support the Desert Southwest Annual Conference in establishing and expanding their program in sexuality education. In March of this year a training session for the Desert Southwest Annual Conference was held in Phoenix, Arizona and was led by our Conference's Sexuality Education Committee. New videos continue to be researched and added to the Conference's Media Center in an attempt to update curriculum. Updating curriculum especially in the area of videos is a challenging task because many available videos are designed for secular classrooms and are too long for our purposes. Shorter videos are sought which reflect the Committee's approach to sexuality and fit within curricular needs.

Older Adult Ministry: Leadership in this ministry is headed by the Conference's Older Adult Ministry Coordinator, Jean Carr, who attended the fourth Interfaith Conference on Spirituality and Aging held in February 2002 at The New Life Community Church in Artesia. The keynote speakers were Willie Au and Eric Law, both of whom also led workshops on celebrating aging. Global Aging and the United Methodist Church was the theme of the Second World Assembly on Aging held in April 2002, in Madrid, Spain. From this Assembly came a resource kit and seminar modules, which are available as study guides for local groups. The Older Adult Ministry Team encourages local churches to become informed about critical issues that can be adopted for education and action. Such issues include Health Care, Elder Abuse, Age Discrimination, and Care-giving. During the 2002 Annual Conference, Rodene Gosselin presented a workshop, which shared the guidelines for developing and implementing an Older Adult Ministry in the local church. This workshop was well received and had an overflow of Conference members in attendance. The annual "Sing The Song of Life" seminar was held in September 2002, and a task force is busy now planning the next "Sing The Song of Life" seminar, which will be held in October 2003, in Hawaii. The Older Adult Ministry continues to provide resources for local churches that are developing a ministry for older adults, and continues to study the needs of the older adults throughout the Annual Conference. Networking opportunities, training for Older Adult Ministry Leaders, encouraging participation of older adults in District meetings and workshops, and informing local churches of events relating to older adult issues, are all priorities of the Older Adult Ministry as it celebrates the Gift of Aging.

"Sing The Song Of Life" Committee: The theme for the 2002 "Sing The Song Of Life" conference was "Trail Markers For Your Journey." Held on September 25 and 26, 2002, at Northridge United Methodist Church, the conference's two keynote speakers were the Rev. Dr. Robert Smith, who brought humorous and inspiring messages on the joys of aging, and Dr. Eric Law who spoke on "Aging in a Multicultural Context". Workshops on the ongoing development of body, mind and spirit in senior years were also held. Although attendance was down from past years many who did attend and had attended in the past said that this was by far, the best "Sing The Song Of Life" conference that they had attended. Currently a task force including Jean Carr, Ron Faux, Keith Ackman, and SongJa Park, are hard at work planning the 2003 "Sing The Song Of Life" conference, which for the first time, will be held in Hawaii in October at the Honolulu: Harris.

Marriage and Family Ministry: Responding to my call in the 2002 Annual Conference Journal for an individual to serve as Coordinator of this ministry, The Rev. Julie Elkins stepped forward, and although faced with many challenges, none-the-less drew strength from others and offered and agreed to coordinate this ministry. As she builds her team they will work on ideas for promoting Marriage and Family on a Conference-wide level. The first full week in May of each year is National Family Week. The challenge is to overcome the barriers of television, outside the home scheduled activities, the Internet, video games, and work, to lift up the concept of family and observe family time at home, and do it more than one week a year. During 2003, the Rev. Ms. Elkins and her team plan to develop resources for churches to use to explore their role, their ministry, in this area and then challenge the churches Conference-wide, to take a bold step and empower family members to draw strength spiritually, emotionally, and socially, from one another.

Single Parent Ministry: The year 2002 saw the Annual Conference hold its twelfth annual Single Parent Camp over Labor Day weekend with 65 people making up 27 families, in attendance. The theme "Take Care Of Yourself In Order That You Might Take Care of Others" dwelt heavily on the concept of drawing strength from one another and overcoming the barrier of feeling one "always has to do things themselves, by themselves." The Single Parent Ministry's gratitude to the Rev. Richard Bentley for giving up his Labor Day weekend and time with his family, to be the spiritual leader for this camp, cannot be fully or accurately expressed on these pages! Meanwhile funding has been secured for an individual to organize and lead the elementary and youth seminars and worship during this particular camp. Who among you is called, or knows of someone who can do this and may be interested? A person to lead the music portion of worship and at campfires is also needed. The Single Parent Ministry will again hold this camp over Labor Day Weekend this year at Lazy W Ranch Camp.

Last Note: In Bridging Barriers, no two people are better at it than SongJa Park, Associate Director of Connectional Ministries, Nurture Ministries, who is assigned to the Adult and Family Ministries Council, and Carol Mayer, her secretary who is also a member of the Council. All of us B each member of the Adult and Family Ministries Council B repeatedly draw strength and encouragement from these two great people. They have our utmost admiration and deepest appreciation for all that they do.

Agenda Report

The 2002 Annual Conference gathering passed a resolution presented by Mark Ulrickson regarding our Annual Conference agenda/schedule. It reads:

WHEREAS, one of our California-Pacific Annual Conference vision objectives is to build new leaders,
WHEREAS, new leaders including working people, students and others whose availability for participation on weekdays of Annual Conference is limited, excluding them from significant involvement in Annual Conference sessions.
WHEREAS, most of the business of Annual Conference is presently conducted on weekdays, leaving less substantive issues/processes to be addressed on the weekend.
THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that California-Pacific Annual Conference seek to realign its gathering to conduct the bulk of its business over a Friday-Sunday, concluding on Monday and report.

(For instance:
Thursday-Clergy Executive Session/evening worship
Friday-Sunday-Conference Business
Sunday-am-workshops and worship, pm-plenary and worship
Monday—Celebration of Appointments
--Order of Elder gathering, Board and Agency meetings to assess next steps)

In response to this resolution, in consultation with the Pilot Group, the Session Committee, the Bishop, and the Conference Secretary, we have arrived at two new options. These options will be presented in a Legislative Section to be decided and recommended to the entire Conference.

Recommendation No. 1
The California-Pacific Annual Conference selects one of the following options to implement the Ulrickson motion.

Option #1
Presentations or reports not mandated by The Book of Discipline will be grouped on Saturday afternoon from 1:30 –3:00. These items will be presented concurrently at various sites or stages unless otherwise mandated by the Bishop or the Annual Conference. Time slots will be posted and publicized.

Option #2
All presentations will be given to the whole Annual Conference, however all reports shall be either in written form or in video format.
In both options 1 and 2, the University of Redlands has indicated that any meetings on Monday would require a change in another long-standing client's schedule. Such a request for the Monday addition would need to be submitted several years in advance.

Option #3
Refer this to Agenda Chairperson of the Annual Conference for additional study and report back to the Conference in 2004.
-Adopted as amended by the Annual Conference, Plenary 10, June 22, 2003.

Archives and History, Commission on Again, it has been our privilege during the past year to fulfill our primary charges: (1) to preserve the records of the Annual Conference and (2) to encourage and assist local churches in preserving their records and compiling their histories.

Highlight of the year was the scheduling of our annual Local Church History Seminar at the Claremont School of Theology (CST), the location of the Conference Archives. Designed to assist local church historians/archivists, we held discussions in such topics as Managing Church Records, Writing Church Histories, Handling of Photographs and Conducting Oral Histories. As usual, attendees were afforded an opportunity to visit the Archives.

We will again schedule a Local Church History Seminar at CST this year on Tuesday, September 9. Anyone interested in church history is cordially invited to attend.

Several of our members attended the annual meeting of the Western Jurisdiction Commission on Archives and History held in Salem, Oregon, last September. While there, they also participated in the annual meeting of the Historical Society of the Methodist Church.

Kim Creighton was appointed Conference Archivist, having completed her master's degree in Library and Information Science at UCLA. She had served as assistant to Betty Clements who is the CST Research Librarian. Betty continues as CST Liaison to the Commission.

During the year Kim researched 43 inquiries from all across the nation, including a request from the Downey UMC to research the correct date for the establishment of their congregation. Our findings resulted in a recommendation to fix the founding year as 1854. Kim happily received many boxes of materials to be evaluated for appropriate disposition. We seek suggestions for sources of information and appropriate archival materials to be included in the collection. Kim also managed grant funds received from the Los Angeles Urban Foundation. These funds have been used to help preserve the Archives' extensive collection of Conference records, church/pastor histories, and audio-visual materials.

Last August it was my privilege to present the Bishop's Cane to Dr. Fletcher Scharer at the Upland UMC. This celebrated gold-headed cane was used by the late Bishop Warren McIntyre and is now presented, on loan, the minister who has had the longest service within the Conference.

It was with regret that we learned that a long time loyal member of our Commission the Rev. Tom Pendell and his wife, Carol, had decided to move to Alaska to be closer to their family. Tom is a consummate Methodist church historian, a walking chronicle of whom, when and where of Methodism. He served as President of the Western Jurisdictional Commission and is currently a member of the General Commission on Archives and History. We wish both Tom and Carol our very best.

I am concluding my last of eight years as a member of this Conference's commission on Archives and History. It has been an uplifting experience to be a student of church history during this time and to associate with so many dedicated professional and non-professional historians. I shall continue to keep in touch with the Commission in connection with my responsibility as Historian of Riverside: First.

Bishops' Hope for the Children of Africa Task Force

Our conference partnership with the Nigeria Annual Conference United Methodist Church has continued to grow in two directions. The first is conference to conference and the second is church to church.

As part of the conference-to-conference, there have been two trips to Nigeria. April 7 - 17, 2002, the Rev. Keith Hwang led a team of three members from the task force to make an exploratory visit to the Nigerian Conference United Methodist Church. February 9 - 20, 2003, Bishop Mary Ann Swenson led a team of eight persons to Nigeria. Bishop Swenson preached at a United Methodist Women's revival in Zing where approximately 28,000 women attended. Bishop Swenson presented a $12,000.00 check to support two women's leadership training centers. Training in literacy, hygiene and marketable skills such as cooking, sewing and business development will provide women with skills to better care for themselves and the children of their community.

The second aspect is the Global Colleagues in Mission whose objective is to develop a church-to-church relationship with individual churches from the California-Pacific Annual Conference and individual churches in the Nigerian Conference. At the 2002 Annual Conference, Bishop Swenson dedicated 11 churches from our Annual Conference to partner with 11 churches in Nigeria. Since then three more churches have become partner churches. The purpose of this program is to intentionally develop a mutual relationship between churches for at least a five years commitment. To help our congregations develop the relationship, a handbook has been developed that is used for training workshops in each individual congregation. Task force members lead the workshops.

Our future goals are to increase the number of congregations in the California-Pacific Annual Conference who will make a commitment to partner with a congregation in the Nigerian Annual Conference, for a minimum of five years. It is our hope that each year teams composed of members of our partner churches will visit Nigeria to deepen the mutual relationships. Our Conference will continue to raise money to support projects that will bring Hope for the Children of Nigeria and their families. Our primary goal is to support programs that bring Hope to the Children of Africa.

Bishops' Initiative on Children and Poverty, Task Force for the

The Task Force for the Bishops' Initiative on Children and Poverty has had a productive year, beginning with the 2002 Annual Conference Plenary Presentation made by Scott Anderson, Executive Director of the California Council of Churches. Mr. Anderson echoed the theme of the Initiative: we are called to be churches that care for "All God's Children."

In summer/fall 2002, the Task Force submitted an informational article to Circuit West on California ballot propositions, which would affect children within the state. Also, information on the grant process for the federal 21st Century Learning Center funding for afterschool programs, which are available for bid by faith-based organizations, was publicized.

In the fall, the Task Force enabled the pastoral letter from Bishop Swenson which called for prayer and action on behalf of children everywhere -- especially those children who would be most affected by military actions in Iraq. A resource listing of general church, ecumenical, and local websites for reflection and action were part of the Bishop's communication. In addition, information on the Children's Defense Fund Children's Sabbath was included.

In January 2003 the Task Force co-chairs attended the quadrennial gathering of Conference Task Force coordinators in Atlanta. A new congregational study guide, Community with Children and the Poor, based upon the Council of Bishops' Letter of the same name, was previewed and training given. Resource sharing and models of ministry and outreach were also part of the convening.

For the coming year, the Task Force is preparing a PowerPoint presentation of Cal-Pac churches engaged in Community with Children and the Poor. This multimedia presentation will accompany and complement the study guide in local congregations. Facilitator training for the study guide will be offered at Annual Conference and in regional settings.

The Task Force for the Bishops' Initiative on Children and Poverty continues to enthusiastically support the work of the Hope for the Children of Africa Task Force, as well as work cooperatively with the Children's Ministry Council.

Camping, Outdoor and Retreat Ministries, Board of

Our Board's Mission is "We believe in God's infinite power to create and renew. We believe that natural surroundings, programs that uplift and educate, and well-trained leaders can make a positive and lasting impression on an individual's life. To this end, the Board of Camping, Outdoor and Retreat Ministries provides Facilities, management, programs and leadership to enhance love of God, self, humanity and creation". Our Board is continuing to work on our ministry by analyzing "what it is we are trying to do and how are we going to do it". Our vision is to develop our camps through master planning focusing on personal experiences and leadership development for disciple making. The Board and our Camp Managers are following developed plans to feature individual themes to help with programming experiences at camps. Opportunities like the new climbing tower, ropes course and new trails at Camp Cedar Glen are now available. Each camp is establishing an endowment program to help provide for current and future capital funds to meet program and facilities needs of our 21st century campers.

We had a great year of camping in 2002. Our district age level camps had 1,692 campers attend. Many special support camps were offered to individuals and groups. Local churches have enjoyed opportunities for retreats and times of fellowship together at our camps. Schools continue to use our sites for nature education and conservation camp programs. Altogether this year, there were 160,000 camper days enjoyed in our camps. This is lower than recent years due to the forest fires causing closure of camps Colby, Cedar Glen and Virginia for many camper days this year to insure our campers' safety.

We are very thankful for the devoted volunteers who staff the programs and care for our camp facilities. They are the core of our camping and retreat ministries who make our district and special camps happen. They provide the opportunities for others to share in their special ways through the camping and retreat ministries.

Our dedicated group of camp managers and their staff maintain and provide the hospitality for the camps. They do a great job managing our camps on tight budgets to provide clean and safe environments for all of our camping programs. We have 23 full-time and 31 part-time employees at our eight camps.

Our new Camp Office Director/ Operations Manager, Paul Cogger, has reviewed Camping's budgets and various policies. His knowledge and experience in camping is helping us prepare for the future.

Our Camping Director of Program, Garth Gilliam, lead our District Camping Program and specialty camps along with his Conference Youth activities in an extremely busy year. He developed more specialty camps and programs to help nurture our youth. We have been very fortunate to have Garth's leadership for our camping program.

Individually, did you have any experiences that actually "made a difference in your life"? If so, please share them with others at your church and let us know about them too! Help us to continue or add those features at our camps to give our Conference Camping unique experiences and settings to work with the purpose of spiritual education and renewal for all of us.

Candler School of Theology

Candler School of Theology is grounded in the Christian faith and shaped by the Wesleyan tradition of evangelical piety, ecumenical openness, and social concerns. Its mission is to educate—through scholarship, teaching, and service—faithful and creative leaders for the church's ministries in the world.

These purposes define Candler's role as a school of the university and of the church.

I begin by mentioning this because Candler faces the challenge and opportunity of leading a national research university in rediscovering what it might mean to relate to a major denomination. And I am happy to report to you that we are making very real progress in this complex and precious relationship.

Most dramatically, Emory and Candler received from the Lilly Endowment Inc. a grant for $10,000,000 for a doctoral venture in religious practices and practical theology. The United Methodist News Service release (http://www.umns.umc.org/02/sep/427.htm) only hints at the importance of this grant. No fields in theological education are more vital to ministerial training and formation than those that work at the connection of school and church, vocation and leadership, theory and practice. Yet schools find faculty for these fields—preaching, worship, pastoral care, religious education, evangelism, administration—with great difficulty or cover these areas with adjunct faculty or content themselves with persons whose credentials and scholarship do not equal those in the more classical areas. This grant will make it possible for Candler through the Graduate Division of Religion to recruit superb persons into the practical theological fields and to provide them the training that will make them the future leaders of theological education.

Candler has continued to make extraordinary faculty appointments. Dr. Robert Franklin, previously president of the Interdenominational Theological Center in Atlanta and commentator on National Public Radio, will re-join us next fall as Emory's Presidential Distinguished Professor of Social Ethics. Dr. Alice Rogers, a leading pastor in the North Georgia Conference, came last summer to direct our Teaching Parish (student pastor) program. We welcomed as well Dr. David Petersen, a highly distinguished member of the Old Testament guild, long-time faculty member at Iliff and the newly chosen President-Elect of the Society of Biblical Literature. And Dr. Faith Hawkins, an Emory Ph.D., has returned to Candler and is providing remarkable leadership in our Youth Theological Initiative (YTI).

YTI celebrated its tenth anniversary this past fall with a conference for practitioners. The three day event reflected on ten year's experience of gathering young people from across the country every summer for a four week experience in thinking and acting in an environment that encourages serious theological and ethical reflection on God's place in all of life. The conference generated great excitement about the future of youth ministry. Candler also received refunding for YTI in the amount of $2,182,200. This grant from the Lilly Endowment will cover the next four years of the program. Lilly has told us that this will be their last grant to us for this program, so we are searching now for endowment and annual fund support to ensure its continuation.

Candler was very pleased that Bishop Lindsey Davis appointed Dr. Wesley Wachob to Glenn Memorial Church on the Emory campus with a commitment to continue the effort to better connect that congregation with the University. Wachob served previously as senior minister in Mobile and as chair of the Board of Ordained Ministry of the Alabama-West Florida Conference. Wachob and the church have agreed that he might teach on occasion and Candler has appointed him as an adjunct faculty member. To read more about Dr. Wachob and his Candler appointment, please visit the following web site at Emory:

http://www.emory.edu/EMORY_REPORT/erarchive/2002/October/erOct.7/10_07_02wachob.html

We continue to enhance our continuing and church education efforts under the able leadership of the Rev. Beth Luton Cook. January 6-8 we offered a conference Celebrating and Revisioning the Wesleyan Movements featuring Dr. William B. McClain as Whiteside preacher and lecturer, plus Drs. Richard Heitzenrater, Rebekah Miles, Randy Maddox, Mary Elizabeth Moore, Stephen Gunter, Carlton "Sam" Young, and Mercy A. Oduyoye. Continuing education has also offered the church a new Mini Theology School, through the Bill Mallard Lay Theology Institute; summer and yearlong Courses of Study; conferences on Spiritual Guides and the Great Commission; and Covenant Colleagues, an experiment in sustained continuing education. Note especially the next continuing education and alumni/ae event, a preaching festival scheduled for September 16-19, 2003, featuring our Bandy professors, Fred Craddock, Robert Kysar and Thomas Long.

Candler continues to be a pacesetter in addressing student indebtedness and in aid to ministerial candidates. Over the 2001-02 academic year we awarded $4,191,298 in scholarships, of which only $978,010 derived from the Ministerial Education Fund (MEF). In addition we administered $978,842 of externally conferred scholarships, a total of over five million in grants, and roughly nine million in aid total. With such resources we are now able to provide full tuition awards to many United Methodist students who have demonstrated financial need. The MEF remains key to that commitment, as does the generosity of the Cannons, Shermans, Pitts, Hardins, Franks, McDonalds, Garretts, Quenelles and so many others whose benefactions have made such support possible. Even with these resources our students borrowed $3,566,398 last year, so our quest for additional support continues.

Another strong class matriculated this fall bringing student enrollment to 562. Of these 422 are M.Div., 87% of whom are full time and 46% of whom are under 30. The M.Div. population is half male, half female, 28% American ethnic, and 5% international. Forty-seven conferences are represented by our United Methodist students, 77% of whom are from the Southeastern Jurisdiction. The diversity and the talent of these folk make Candler an exciting place for ministerial formation.

We are very proud that Barbara Day Miller, assistant dean of worship and lecturer in liturgical practices, has been named music director for the 2004 General Conference. We are also proud of our faculty, who week-in-week-out speak, preach, conduct workshops, teach Sunday school throughout the church.

For more information about Candler, our extraordinary faculty and dedicated students preparing for ministerial leadership, I hope that you will bookmark: http://candler.emory.edu/ABOUT/news.html

I thank you for the church's partnership with us. Candler appreciates your support, your gifts and your prayers for the work we are about.

Children's Ministries, Council on

The decision of the Annual Conference to restructure has challenged the Conference Council on Children's Ministries to find new ways to connect with district and local programs. Along with the Board of Education we are working on data for better Conference-wide networking of Children's Ministry workers. We have reviewed and discussed the new district administrative structures (different in each district) and considered how education is represented and tied in with district priorities and planning. In keeping with this we modified our job description for district coordinators. We encourage them to be part of a working group with other education representatives in each district to carry on tasks of presenting workshops, helping Children's Ministry workers to network, providing resource and program help, and advocating for children.

Projects of the year have included publicizing use of the book: Safe Sanctuaries: Reducing the Risk of Child Abuse in the Church. Copies are available from the Nurture Ministries office. We have participated in input to the Secretariat for Lay and Clergy Sexual Ethics. We publicized and sponsored attendance at the conference "Growing Children in Faith" put on by the Large Church Initiative of the General Board of Discipleship of The United Methodist Church, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, Feb. 18-20, 2003.

In the spring of 2002 the Children's Ministries Council supported the Child Care Directors Seminar "Wrecking Ball or Construction Crew." In their continued effort to build a foundation of good communication and relationship between the church and weekday childcare ministry, the Directors group presented another seminar, "Nurturing the Connection," in April 2003.

In March grants were approved for: Long Beach: First, Kid's Club Tutoring, 3,500; La Mesa: Foothills, UPLIFT program, 5,760; Los Angeles: United Ministry at USC, A Community Place, 5,000; Vista UMC, Children and Youth Ministries, 8,000; Bishop: First, Owens Valley Hispanic Ministry, 5,000.

In October grants were approved for: Fullerton: Orangethorpe, Jugardo con Jesus, 3,500; San Diego: North Clairemont Sunday School and beyond Ministry Team, 3,000; Long Beach: North Long Beach, Wellness After School Program, 2,100.

The Council meets twice yearly. Our direct responsibilities include support and encouragement for the basic children's ministries of our churches. There are two active committees with which we coordinate: (1) the Bishop's Initiative on Children and Poverty with its associated project, Hope for the Children of Africa, and (2) The Childcare Directors Committee. Besides networking and presenting their annual workshop for churches, the Directors group has a Childcare Consultant service.

We seek to be supportive of various persons, local churches and groups in the Annual Conference who work to enhance the education life of children in the church and to be an advocate for children's rights.

Koreen Miller

Christian Education, Board of 2002-2004 Mission Statement: Vitalize Christian Education.

Goals: 1.Leadership: development, support and nurture. 2.Communication: information out and listening.

COMMUNICATION

A Cal-Pac Christian Educators' e-group is available to all who want to keep in touch, share resources, discuss issues, request help and information and whatever else is needed to help with their Christian education needs.

A Christian education web page can be accessed at www.cal-pac-ce.com or through the Cal-Pac Conference Web site. A new feature is "Windows," a peek through the window at Christian education programs.

The annual Christian Education Supplement to the Circuit West was published in August.

The Communication Team has been addressing the goal for 2002-4. The plan is to have a database of information about the Christian education ministries in our local churches including programs, innovations, experience, curriculum used and more. Information identifying our leaders, teachers and contact persons; their areas of expertise and training will be included. This information will be accessible to those who wish help and to share strengths and successes with others. It would identify leadership throughout the conference. It is a tool for use in many ways by local churches, individuals, Conference staff, and the Board of Christian education as they work with one another in this ministry.

LEADERSHIP

Christian Education ALIVE in the New Millennium is "A Lasting Investment in Vital Education" provided for our congregations. Arvilla Jungman leads the ALIVE Committee.

It is designed to assist local churches to provide quality Christian Education Ministries. These workshops are taken to the local church or cluster of churches. Experienced leaders are trained specifically for these workshops. Trained leaders in Spanish, Korean, Vietnamese, Chinese and English languages are available.

The workshops continually revised to provide the most effective help possible. The workshops offered are as follows: Workers with Children 1. Basic Skills for Teaching, 2. Creative Activities in the Church School, 3. Experiencing the Bible with Children. Workers with Youth 1. Youth Programs, 2. Local Church Youth Ministry: Getting Started, 3. Youth: Faith and Spirituality. Workers with Adults 1. Teaching Adults. Special Interest Workshops 1. Christian Education at Home, 2. Growing Up Christian: Stages of Faith Development, 3. Building and Maintaining Your Church Library, 4. Digital Classroom.

Another facet of the ALIVE program is the Traveling Sunday School Teachers College. Churches or clusters of churches may schedule five workshops. Teachers completing four courses receive a diploma. ALIVE is designed for churches of any size. Christian Education Sunday Offering Funds finance this effective ministry to the local church. The Arleta: Trinity completed this course in March of 2003.

Christian Education Consultants are available to help local churches find solutions and bring resources and excitement to its ministry of Christian Education. Consultation may address struggling Sunday Schools, reaching children in the community, starting new classes and fellowship groups, rejuvenating the total program or other issues. Experienced leaders trained specifically to be Consultants. Requests are directed to the Nurture Office. Bette Caldwell coordinates this program. This program is financed by the Christian Education Sunday Funds.

Lab Schools An experimental one-day Lab School focusing on the "One Room Sunday School" was held in the Spring of 2002. More than 50 persons attended.

After many years of providing the "best training a teacher can get" the decision was made to discontinue Lab Schools in the Cal-Pac Conference. This was a decision made with careful and prayerful consideration. Through the years Lab Schools have given local church teachers, counselors, clergy, administrators and all who have attended a practical inspirational experience and has often been a life changing experience. It has enhanced the quality of Christian Education in our churches. Many leaders in Christian Education have found their calling through the Lab School. We give our thanks to all those who have been involved in Lab Schools throughout the years.

New training models are being developed. A new model to incorporate the best aspects of hands-on training into a new format in keeping with the needs of teachers in churches today will be ready for implementation in 2004. The plan will include the training and certification of leaders for this model. Another model will be developed to provide workshops to be used by clusters of churches or Districts.

A Discover Your Strengths workshop was presented to the Board of Christian Education at the August Board meeting. On February 7, 2003 the Board sponsored the workshop at Long Beach: Los Altos UMC. Thirty-five persons participated. The Christian Education Sunday Funds covered the expense.

Recognition of the Christian education programs and teachers was presented in the form of District notebooks using photos and information submitted by our churches. These were displayed in our Annual Conference booth.

The Verne D. Cooney Award recognizes those persons who exemplify excellence in Christian Education. Professional and laypersons are recognized on alternate years. This award is presented at Annual Conference. The recipients for 2002 were teachers Rose Abesamis, Shelly DeBaun and Elaine Klessig.

MORE

Christian Educators Fellowship is a professional organization for persons in the ministry of Christian Education all over the country. Our Conference has its own California-Pacific Chapter. The chapter members include persons, lay and professional, who are committed to Christian Education and perform this ministry in a variety of capacities. The chapter publishes a quarterly newsletter, has cluster meetings for support and fellowship and presents and supports events for enrichment, education and spiritual renewal. The annual Retreat "Embracing Traditions of Rest and Restoration" led by Rev. John H. Farley was held February 23-25, 2003. Free memberships are provided for first time members. Koreen Miller replaces Judy Helton as President.

The "Hiring A Christian Educator" packet was updated this year. It is available from the Nurture Office or can be printed from the Christian Education Web site, www.cal-pac-ce.com.

The Christian Education Sunday Offering is part of Christian Education Month (September.) The emphasis on this important ministry spotlights teachers and leaders of children, youth and adults, by recognizing their time, dedication, and commitment to training and learning within the church. The Board of Education encourages each congregation to celebrate this ministry. Information and ideas are sent to local churches along with special offering envelopes. The Christian Education Sunday Offering supports the following Conference-wide ministries making them available at a nominal cost to participants and churches: Christian Education ALIVE, Consultants program, scholarships, teacher/leader training and other Conference Sponsored events. Scholarships totaling $2,500 were given to churches for Christian Believers training.

Christian Unity and Inter-religious Concerns, Commission on "Christian Unity" is among the most misunderstood terms in our vocabulary. Some see it as a conspiracy to merge all denominations and lose the identity of our historic and proud faith family. Not true.

Others see it as theological sell out intended to weaken our doctrines, standards and articles. No so.

Still others see it as ecclesiastical gamesmanship, never designed to have any real outcome of affect. They see it as a nice way to have cooperation with other faith traditions, but ratcheting up to collaboration will likely not occur. These folks do have a point. The progress is slow and the sparse accomplishments are few. But Methodism does have a responsibility to be an active witness and contributor vis-à-vis our brothers and sisters in other faith traditions.

Christian Unity is an attempt to recognize the "one holy catholic and apostolic church" and do what we can to be Christ's family in whatever form the Holy Spirit leads us.

The term "Inter-religious Concerns" is equally misunderstood. We are asked: why interact with those who aren't ever Christians? All people of reverence are God's children. We can learn from them; and they from us. Our Christian faith is often strengthened from our relationship with other people of faith.

This year, the Commission had two broad concerns. One was to support the Faith and Order movements of the National and World Councils of Churches. The other concern was the human toll of the violence in the Middle East, specifically in Israel and Iraq.

Faith and Order efforts included a knowledgeable conversation with Dr. Rod Parrott, the Faith and Order Chairperson for the Southern California Ecumenical Council. He defined Faith and Order as the strategies to bring about great "closeness" between and among the diverse faith traditions. The goals of the Faith and Order division have evolved over the years, since F & O was organized and re-organized by the Conference in Lasuanne in 1927 and in Edinburgh in 1937. Since then the movement has been absorbed into the National and World Councils of Churches.

As part of our Faith and Order concern, we did express support and encouragement to the beleaguered-but-improving National Council of Churches. The Council seems to have turned a corner in budget limitations and garnering of grants. We wish them well.

The Commission did spend considerable time pondering and praying over the problems in the Middle East. The Rev. Sam Cox from Hawaii brought us a most enlightening presentation on Israel from a Palestinian point of view. The fighting is soul wrenching and the escalating death toll is cause for deep prayer.

In like manner the Commission members are concerned about Iraq. At this writing, serious war is threatened and we decry the proposed preemptive strike by our country. You will know how the conflict has played out to date when you read this several weeks away from when it was written.

Recently, a "Peace Pole" was posted by our Bishop and other Conference dignitaries in the front of the Islamic Center of Southern California in Los Angeles. The gesture was to express our deep solidarity with Muslims of good will and to offer friendship and support amid difficult times.

Many resources are available through our Conference Commission and the General Commission. If you need something specific, we are likely to be able to get it for you.

Church and Society, Board of

The Board of Church and Society continued its efforts in 2002-2003 to be a faithful witness for social and environmental justice, domestic and international peace and human welfare as revealed in the steadfast love of God through Jesus Christ. The members of the Board, representing every District of the Annual Conference, collectively and individually supported and provided resources to local churches' ministries of social service, social education, social witness, and social action through prayers, participation, grants, networking and timely communication. The Board has arranged for local churches and officer training in the maintaining and developing of ministries that are responsive to Christ's invitation to feed the hungry, visit the prisoner, clothe the naked, shelter the homeless care for the stranger, minister to women and children, defend the oppressed, affirm God's creation through environmental justice, and promote peace for all people and nations. We have carried out this calling in the following ways:

We have promoted and sponsored Conference-wide training in United Methodism's historic General Rules and Social Principles for Districts, local churches and social advocates. We are continuing to make available resources and training so that all members of the Annual Conference will have an opportunity to become acquainted with these historic documents.

We continue to support those who advocate for reproductive choice, abolition of the death penalty, comprehensive mental health ministries, environmental stewardship, alcoholism and other drug addiction prevention, treatment and recovery ministries, alleviation of hunger and poverty, confrontation of racism in all of its systemic forms, economic justice in respectful labor-management relations, affirmation of the United Nations and all national and international agencies and groups that advocate for the peaceful resolution of conflict.

As expressions of support for those who labor for that which brings life to all people, the Board members have been involved in District and local church activities such as living wage advocacy and respectful farm labor-management in Ventura County, environmental justice and hand gun safety lock distribution in San Diego County, inter-religious peace-waging efforts in Los Angeles County, hate crime protest in San Bernardino County, nuclear testing protest at the Nevada border and anti-gambling protests in Hawaii.

We have empowered ministries in our Annual Conference through the distribution of grants to the following: Brotherhood Outreach Program, Young Adults for Christ, Advocacy for Justice, North Valley Caring Services "Community Advocacy and Outreach Corps" and California Council of Churches.

We continue to monitor and follow up four resolutions that were passed by Annual Conference 2002: Resolution #80 "Affirmation of the General Board of Church and Society" affirming and supporting the prophetic ministry of the General Board, Resolution #82 "Calling for Global Peace" calling every congregation to speak out against further escalation of violence at home and around the world, Resolution #83 "Sustainable Facility Development" encouraging local congregations to include sustainable building practices in planning and designing new facilities or remodeling existing facilities, Resolution #90 "In Defense of God's Creation: A Call to Preserve Bio-diversity and Halt Mass Extinction" calling for advocacy for "restoring creation" as a central concern of the mission of the church.

Our Board resources and trains local congregations for social ministries through its three committees of Domestic, Global and Environmental Concerns, in addition to the work of the Executive Committee and its task groups of hunger, reproductive choice, mental health, and alcohol and other drug concerns. We retain supportive contact with the Peace with Justice Committee, Hunger Committee, AIDS Ministry Committee, Environmental Justice Ministries, California Impact, California Council of Churches, and the General Conference's Special Program on Alcoholism, Addiction and Related Violence (SPARV).

As part of our support for peace and peacemakers, we invited Father George Regas to address the 2002 Annual Conference about peace, nuclear testing, disarmament, and respectful relations among nations. The Board sponsored the installation of a peace pole at the Los Angeles Islamic Center by representatives of the Christian, Jewish and Muslim communities. Bishop Mary Ann Swenson directed the activities of this event.

The vision of the Board of Church and Society is to be in the community through witness for and acts of reconciling and restoring justice and to be part of the solution to social concerns through education and service. We will continue to support and provide resources and training to congregations that seek to be mediating and redeeming neighbors with other concerned congregations and groups in their communities.

Claremont School of Theology

Claremont School of Theology continues to build on its legacy of excellence. We are pleased to have the California-Pacific Annual Conference as an important partner in our work to prepare outstanding pastors and teachers who will be lifelong learners in service to God, the church and the world.

Claremont students engage a challenging curriculum in a supportive and encouraging environment that nurtures spiritual, personal and intellectual growth and exploration. The instructional program at Claremont School of Theology is among the best in the world and our campus is a perfect setting for reflection and study. Our faculty is unmatched in its expertise and enthusiasm. We are committed to preparing graduates who are well equipped to lead diverse and complex congregations and other forms of ministry.

Claremont alumni/ae continue to serve in significant leadership and pastoral positions worldwide. One of our alumni served a tour of duty in Afghanistan as chaplain to an Army unit and was recently redeployed to Kuwait. Another alumni is a Navy Chaplain in the Persian Gulf. Yet another alumnae is providing essential ministry as the United Methodist liaison, working with Palestinians, Christians and Jews in Jerusalem and the West Bank. Claremont alumni/ae serve in positions of leadership at all levels of the United Methodist Church and within other denominations.

In the California-Pacific Annual Conference, Claremont School of Theology alumni/ae minister in more than 200 congregations. We take pride in the service and witness they provide for the Conference. We are pleased to share our common task of providing quality leaders for the future with the Conference.

We are delighted to report on some of the current activities that enhance congregations of the California-Pacific Annual Conference.

- Claremont School of Theology graduated 64 students at our most recent commencement. Many are serving in important positions in the California-Pacific Annual Conference and throughout the United Methodist Church.
- At the Service of Ordination, 14 Claremont graduates became ministers, elders or deacons during the 2002 California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

- We held our annual President's Dinner at the Bonaventure Hotel in Los Angeles in October. The Lifetime Distinguished Service Award was presented to longtime Conference Treasurer J. Wesley Hole for his support of Claremont and theological education and for his lifetime of service to the United Methodist Church. Claremont alumni, Dr. James McCray, Jr., pastor of Jones Memorial United Methodist Church in San Francisco, was the featured speaker for the evening.
- Claremont School of Theology added two new faculty members this year. Dr. Ellen Ott Marshall is Associate Professor of Ethics and Dr. Carol Lakey Hess is Associate Professor of Religious Education.
- The Master of Divinity program at Claremont is very strong with a total enrollment in the program of 134 students. We expect to graduate 44 students into ministry this year.
- Our Doctor of Ministry program continues to provide pastors with the opportunity to conduct important research related to their parish work. There are 31 students in that program.
- In 2002, 104 students were registered in our Summer Course of Study program and 89 for our 2003 interterm classes. In August, seven students graduated from our Course of Study program. For 2003, we anticipate serving 80 Course of Study students, 31 Hispanic Course of Study students, 17 licensing school and 16 advanced Course of Study students.
- 118 people attended our annual ministry convocation Congregational Leadership: Getting from Here to There. The two-day event was facilitated by our George W. Butler Associate Professor of Church Administration and Finance and Assistant Dean for Institutional Research, Scott Cormode. A highlight of the convocation was a day of workshops exploring the use of 21st century technology to engage congregations, led by Eric Elnes and Tex Sample. Other presenters included Rev. Tyrone Gordon, Senior Pastor of St. Luke Community UMC in Dallas, Lovett Weems, President of St. Paul Theological Seminary, and Rev. Yvonne Williams Burke, pastor of Altadena United Methodist Church.
- In January 2003, Claremont sponsored, Peacebuilding in Violent Times, a conference on peacemaking at our Southern California campus. Presenters included Bishop C. Dale White, who gave the keynote address, Bishop Mary Ann Swenson, Bishop C. Joseph Sprague, Tom Porter, Director of the JustPeace Center, Elaine Enns of CERJ and Claremont faculty members Dr. Ann Taves and Dr. Ellen Ott Marshall. We were very pleased to have such enthusiastic interest from members of the California-Pacific Annual Conference in attendance. Concurrently, President Amerson served as instructor and convener of Exploring Vocation in a Violent World an exploration of the role of the church -- past, present and future -- in the task of making peace. Other instructors included Bishop Swenson, Bishop White and Mr. Porter.
- A conference, Truth: Interdisciplinary Dialogues in a Pluralist Age, brought scholars from around the world to our campus to discuss and reflect on the nature of truth. In addition to Claremont faculty and students, presenters included Christof Landmesser of the University of Tubingen, Germany, Marilyn McCord Adams of Yale University, James Barr of Vanderbilt University, Lieven Boeve of the University of Leuven, Belgium, and George Newlands of the University of Glasgow, Scotland.
- Throughout the year, Claremont School of Theology sponsors speakers and programs relevant to our students and the greater community. During the past year, we have hosted Dr. Jackson Carroll, Barbara Essex and Stephen Breck Reid. Cultural events presented by Claremont School of Theology included Grace, Glamour, Grandeur: A Kimono Extravaganza, a benefit concert by singer/songwriter Gene Cotton, our annual Korean Harvest Festival and Just a Prayer Away, a gospel music concert.

Students

Claremont School of Theology offers a strong course of study to a multicultural student body. Our current total enrollment is 401, with 294 full time students. Our student body is 50% female, and includes 28 African-American, 41 Asian, 13 Hispanic, 2 Native American and 44 international students from Africa, Asia, Europe and South America.

Scholarships

Our administration, faculty and staff are very conscious of the tremendous financial commitment theological education demands of students. Currently, our graduates carry an average debt of more than $35,000. These graduates are following a calling that has low financial rewards. To make a pastoral career more accessible to those who answer that call to ministry, we must increase the number of endowed scholarships for United Methodist students.

Our Presidential Scholarships provide full tuition assistance for ten entering students each year (up to thirty on campus at one time) and are a very important tool in recruitment. Presently, seven students from the California-Pacific Annual Conference are Presidential Scholarship recipients.

Claremont continues to offer full tuition scholarships for newly entering, part-time, ethnic minority United Methodist students.

As we approach our 50th Anniversary year in 2007-08, we challenge the Annual Conference to consider funding several full-tuition scholarships along with living stipends that could be designated to students from the California-Pacific Annual Conference. We would challenge you to join us in preparing pastors for ministry by endowing at least five (5) such scholarships by our Fiftieth Anniversary year. To do this would require two million dollars ($2,000,000) in gifts toward such an endowed fund. Others are being asked to make similar and larger contributions so that persons entering the ministry are not burdened with overwhelming debt.

Finances

Claremont School of Theology continues to operate with a balanced budget. The weak economy tested our investments. As of June 30, 2002 our endowment fund balance was $22,050,761.

Our 2001-02 Annual Fund campaign brought in more than $1.1 million in support of general operations and scholarships. Our 2002-03 annual fund drive is our most successful Annual Fund effort to date. The weakening economy continues to impact charitable giving. As a result, donations to worthy causes are down nationwide. At Claremont School of Theology, our loyal community understands the vital importance of theological education, especially today. Those supporters continue their generosity, and have given more than $935,000 as of February 15, 2003 in support of our "…a future and a hope" Annual Fund campaign. We are very grateful to the Rev. Brandon Cho for acting as Co-chair of the Annual Fund.

Planning for the Future

We recognize the critical need for effective leaders in our churches, communities and educational institutions and stand prepared to meet the challenge of our changing world with well-equipped ministers capable of providing necessary leadership world-wide.

As we look forward to the 50th Anniversary of Claremont School of Theology, the administration, faculty and staff are engaging in a vigorous process of self-examination and revisioning. The faculty is focusing on ways to strengthen and enhance our curriculum, especially our Master of Divinity program. At the same time, we are completing the Master Plan process that envisions how our campus facilities will serve our students, congregations and ministers for decades to come.

We look forward to our 50th Anniversary year, we are addressing the need for student assistance, facilities maintenance, improved faculty and staff salaries and adequate resources to keep Claremont at the forefront of graduate theological education.

Clergymates

Clergymates is an organization for fellowship and nurturing of clergy spouses. A diverse group, we share a unique role in the life of the church. We are clergy "itinerant support systems."

The Clergymate Council is a group of Clergymates (some elected, some volunteer) who meet on a regular basis during the year to plan activities including the yearly retreat held each March and activities during Annual Conference week in June.

Colleen Kintner using the theme, "God, I'm Knocking" led the annual spiritual retreat held at Aldersgate Retreat Center in Pacific Palisades March 7-9. The weekend provided an opportunity for reflection and renewal as well as fun and fellowship.

The theme for this year's Clergymate Annual Conference activities is "Stepping Stones" based on Galatians 5:22. The Clergymate Luncheon, held on Saturday in the Casa Loma Room, is an opportunity for personal sharing and renewal of friendships. The Retirement Celebration on Friday afternoon honors the spouses of retiring clergy.

The Clergymate Council administers the Sharon Stewart Fund, established to provide monetary scholarships enabling spouses to attend the annual retreat. This year the Fund assisted eight Clergymates. Donations to the fund are always welcome. All clergy spouses are invited to make a $10 annual donation for dues, which provides first-class mailings of information and material. The ClergyMate Connection, our e-mail directory, is used to provide prayer support for one another and can be joined by e-mailing: waylyn1@aol.com.

We seek ways to be in ministry to Clergymates within our conference and welcome new suggestions.

Communications, Commission on

The Conference Commission on Communications has the task of helping the boards, agencies, councils, committees, commissions and local churches of the Annual Conference to keep in touch with each other.

The Commission is also charged with the responsibility of telling the story of United Methodism throughout Southern California, Hawaii, Guam and Saipan to those outside the United Methodist Church through contact with the secular media in print and electronic forms. The Commission also provides resources and technical services to local churches through the Media Center and Video Task Force.

During the past year, the Conference Director of Communications has been brought on board. The Director, Larry Hygh, Jr., has been traveling across the Conference leading workshops on "Advertising Your Local Church in a Media Drive Society" and "Igniting Ministry." He has also been speaking in local churches on Sunday morning and throughout the week as well as playing piano and saxophone.

Circuit West, the Conference newspaper, remains a major communication tool to local church leaders. Edna Steinman is serving as the editor of the publication. Color has been added to both the front and back pages to increase the attractiveness. Also, four additional pages have been added this year, bringing the total of California-Pacific pages in the publication to eight. Two of these pages offer additional local church and Conference news. The other two pages are special language pages in Korean and Spanish. These pages now appear every issue of the newspaper. The publication continues to remain a United Methodist Review based newspaper. Larry Hygh, Jr., also designed an apportionment insert that appeared in the February 14 issue. This supplement described the apportioned budget for 2003. This supplement is available to local churches that need additional copies.

The Conference web site, www.cal-pac.org, continues to be a vital source of information. The web site has been maintained the Rev. Glen Haworth. Information continues to be updated in a timely manner. Entities throughout the annual conference continue to launch their own pages from the site. Another new feature has been the addition of news from around the conference including pictures.

New this year is an electronic newsletter that comes out every Friday morning. The new newsletter is called "Cal-Pac Update." Cal-Pac Update is designed to be a weekly electronic newsletter with tidbits of information from the national, conference and local church level. Anyone can subscribe to Cal-Pac Update free of charge. The Yahoo e-mail list that is currently being used to distribute the newsletter is in the process of being changed to a service provided by United Methodist Communications in Nashville, Tennessee.

Community relations efforts have been increased this year. These efforts have been with the secular world including newspapers, radio and television stations, print publications and the World Wide Web. Bishop Mary Ann Swenson has appeared on television and radio. Local television news affiliates covered a Peace Pole dedication held at the Islamic Center and a service for peace held in the fall at Claremont School of Theology. Bishop Swenson was also the guest on a public access television program called "On Target." She has also been interviewed for radio. All of these efforts have been coordinated and arranged through the office of communications.

The Commission has also been involved with training the cabinet and conference staff in crisis communication. Two consultants from Cerrell Associates, Inc., were contracted for a workshop on dealing with crisis and how to deal with the media. The workshop was videotaped and is available through the Media Center and district offices for use in local churches as a training tool. The Conference Director of Communications has also been used as a resource to Bishop Swenson, the Cabinet, and local churches, to write statements and strategize how to deal with crisis situations.

The Media Center is the resource video library and video production house for the Conference. The Rev. Jerry Owyang serves as the chairperson of the Media Center Task Force. The Media Centers maintains one of the largest ecumenical video resource libraries in the country, renting videos to churches in the Conference and throughout the United States. The resources are computer and print catalogued. New videos are being added to the library.

In December, the Media Center sponsored "An Industry Awareness Night" featuring Ted Switzer; former publicist with CBS and Warner Brothers, and Buddy Ebsen, star of "Beverly Hillbillies" and other television hit series. The purpose of the evening was to bring United Methodists who work in the media together.

The Media Center works in partnership with United Methodist Women to promote video related to the United Methodist Women School of Mission studies. It publishes a special issue in the Circuit West covering the mission studies themes. The Media Center Director, Leah Switzer, spoke and sang at district events and local churches on the mission studies.

A new Media Center catalogues was published this year.

In the area of video production, the Media Center produces electronic promotional materials for conference boards, local churches, and the conference web site. In addition, Switzer served as executive producer of "Portrait of Susanna: The Story of Susanna Wesley" which is being national distributed by EcuFilm.

The Media Center has editing video systems that can be used for a small rental fee for Conference, district, and local church needs. The Center can also connect persons across the Annual Conference with reasonably priced laborers for video projects.

The Rev. John Demaree leads the Video Production Task Force. These volunteers set up the video and lighting equipment and then tape the proceedings of the Annual Conference each year. This video system provides everyone attending the conference with an upfront seat and enables presenters to include visual resources. The videotapes are available for purchase and pickup at Annual Conference or from the Media Center after conference. Many lay members use a Conference videotape summary to complement their reports to their congregations.

The Task Force also uses the same process during other Conference events throughout the year like the Young People's Convention held this year in Long Beach.

During Advent, a co-operative newspaper advertising campaign was held across the Conference leading up to Christmas Eve. Commission member Maureen Ong Vanderbosch coordinated the campaign.

Electronic networking continues to be a priority for the Commission. Per Martin has been heading up the task force, but he has rotated off of the Commission.

The Conference Communications Director has also designed a "Connectional Ministries Staff Brochure," that is available to local churches. It tells about the staff and how they can resource local churches.

The Commission has been working this year to provide trainings for local churches.

Cal-Pac Conference was the first conference in the nation to host an Igniting Ministry training for Korean local churches using the new Korean language resources. Staff led the training from United Methodist Communications in Nashville, the Conference Director of Communications and national leaders from the Korean church.

The Conference is scheduled to host the first "Second Step Igniting Ministry" training in the denomination in April at First United Methodist Church in Glendale. A web site workshop is also being planned for the fall to be offered at the Bishop's Convocation in Palm Springs and later in the week for the local church leaders interested in the web as a tool for ministry. Chuck Russell from United Methodist Communications in Nashville, Tennessee, will facilitate these workshops.

The Commission is working closely with the Conference Council on Finance and Administration to sponsor four "Connectional Giving Workshops" in the fall. These workshops will be held in four areas of the Annual Conference, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, and Hawaii. These workshops will explore giving and the connectional process of United Methodism. They will be done in conjunction with United Methodist Communications based in Nashville, Tennessee.

Charles Cappleman

Conference Secretary

Printing the Journal turned out to be an adventure once again. The final version of the 2002 Journal was sent to the printer on September 15, 2003. The printer promised to have the 2002 Journal mailed out by the end of November. However, the Journal was mailed out two months late in January 2003. We have selected a new printer who has a better track record of producing the Journal in a timely manner.

The deadline for the information to be included in the 2003 Journal will be August 31, 2003. Any information received by the Conference Secretary after the date will be included either in the errata sheet or the 2004 Journal.

I am pleased to announce that Bishop Mary Ann Swenson has authorized the training of the Rev. Bob Isip on the work of Conference Secretary. He has served the Conference as Agenda Chair for many years faithfully. He will be presented to the Conference during the 2004 Annual Conference for election as Conference Secretary for the 2004-2008 quadrennium.

After consulting with Bishop Mary Ann Swenson and many other leaders, I am presenting a recommendation for a new format of publishing the Journal to the Conference: printing only the most frequently used portions of the Journal and publishing all the sections of the Journal on CD. It is my sincere hope that the recommendation will be adopted so that the Conference will save both money and time in publishing the Journal. In this time of fiscal difficulties, it is very important for us to be good stewards of financial resources.

I want to ask the Conference to join me in thanking all of the persons who work tirelessly and without recognition for the work of Conference Secretary: Bob Isip (Agenda Chair), Gail Messner (Preliminary Report Editor), Johan Dodge (UM Daily), Amy Fatemi (Legislative Sections), Kathey Michelle Harry (Runner), Arlene Brewster and Jheri Resnik (Journal editing), and many servants.

One of the duties of Conference Secretary is lay equalization. Lay equalization is the process through which the number of lay members to Annual Conference be made equal to the number of clergy members. It is necessary to adjust the formula for electing lay members from local churches in order to achieve the balance from time to time. It was decided that the formula will be changed for the year 2004. The Conference Rules III.F.3.b (Page I-8*, The Journal,* 2002) allows the Conference Secretary to adjust the formula as much as 10% "in order to increase the number of lay members elected by local churches." The new rule will read as follows:

> Each local church shall elect additional lay members based on membership of the local church on December 31 of the year preceding Annual Conference as reported on Table I of the Statistical Reports. One additional lay member shall be elected for a membership over 224 ~~249~~ and less than 501 ~~551~~ members. Two additional lay members shall be elected for a membership over 500 ~~550~~ and less than 811 ~~901~~ members. Three additional lay members shall be elected for a membership over 810 ~~900~~ members and less than 1651 ~~1801~~. Four additional lay members shall be elected for churches over 1650 ~~1800~~ members. The application of this rule is not cumulative - a local church falls into only one category. The preceding membership numbers may be changed by as much as 10% by the Conference Statistician and the Conference Secretary in order to increase the number of lay members elected by local churches, provided they give notice to and receive approval of the preceding Annual Conference.

The new rule will result in approximately 15 additional lay members elected by local churches in the year 2004.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 1

SUBJECT: Journal Publication

SUBMITTED BY: Conference Secretary

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: Saving of $10,000-$12,000 per Year

SOURCE OF CONFERENCE STAFF TIME: Conference Secretary

WHEREAS the cost to print the Journal has been increasing rapidly in recent years; and

WHEREAS the Conference is now spending about $28,000 to print the Journal each year; and

WHEREAS it is proper stewardship to use apportionments as effectively as possible especially in this time of economic difficulties; and

WHEREAS electronic publication is now used widely by many organizations; and

WHEREAS many annual conferences have decided to print the Journal in electronic formats (floppy disk, CD disk, email, internet, etc.) in its entirety or partially; and

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT the Journal be published in the following two formats: printed format and computer files on CD; and

THEREFORE BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT the printed format to include the following sections: Table of Contents, Nominating Report, Appointments, Rules, Directories and Statistical Tables; and THEREFORE BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT printed copies of the non-printed sections be available to those who request them.

-Adopted by the Annual Conference, Plenary 4, June 19, 2003.

Congregational Development, Board of

The charge for your Board of Congregational Development reads: "to establish and report annually the primary plan for congregational development and redevelopment activity within the Annual Conference. -to (sic) enable and coordinate the planning, funding and implementation of all congregational development and redevelopment strategies of the Annual Conference. This includes (a) the creation of new congregations; (b) the establishment of emerging and changing ministries; (c) assisting existing churches to revision their future and refocus their ministry; (d) define the resources to enable the churches to become vital congregations" (V.F.3.a of the Conference Rules).

In implementing that policy, we have continued our contract with Percept Group, Inc., a church-oriented demographics company who provide us with leadership and planning data. In addition, eight members of our Demographics Task Force attended their Vista Client Conference, "Robust Congregational Development," in San Diego in February 2003, learning new ways to utilize demographic resources and 10 essential characteristics of congregational development efforts at the Annual Conference level: Growing commitment; strategic plan; specific targets or goals; measurable action; integrated planning, capable leadership, demographic analysis; financial support, designated staff and committee preparation. We have shared some of this with the Board at their spring meeting and will continue that process as well as sharing our learnings with other Conference leadership.

During this Conference year, we have also continued to fund Emerging Ministries at Hemet UMC (Hispanic); Long Beach Cambodian Ministry; San Gabriel: First (Cantonese); Escondido: First (Latino); Artesia-Cerritos: Gujarati; Simi Valley: Mision Hispana Biblica (Hispanic); San Diego: St. Mark's (Tongan); and Baldwin Park UMC (Hispanic). Keep these emerging ministries in your prayers.

We have initiated one major start-up ministry in the Santa Barbara District at Nipomo. During the first year we have funded 100% of the pastor's salary package plus other expenses associated with starting a new church. The launch date for this congregation will be during this Conference year and we invite each of you to be in prayer for this new congregation and Bill Johnson, the pastor.

Finally, we also have funded three projects designed to assist existing church to revision or revitalize their ministry and refocus their future: Long Beach: First; Descanso: Chapel of the Hills; and Palmdale In addition, the Demographics Task Force led a workshop in late May for the Central Coast cluster of the Santa Barbara District. Keep these revitalization programs in your prayers also.

A major segment of the Board meetings focus on evaluating all of these programs and strategizing additional ways to help all of these projects succeed.

This has also been a year of transition for the Board. This completes our 8th year of existence. At first, we were seen by others and often perceived ourselves as a grant-giving organization. Experience is teaching us that congregational development is more than this. In considering our responsibilities, we have defined three primary tasks: 1) to develop a strategy, i.e., to establish a plan for congregational development within this Annual Conference which identifies and prioritizes opportunities for new and revitalizing churches; 2) to provide leadership; i.e., to develop competent and effective pastors for new and revitalizing churches through training and support; and 3) to provide resources, i.e., to undergird new and revitalizing churches with the means to initiate and support new mission through various resourcing models. The Board is now organized around these three areas of responsibility.

Leading this Annual Conference in addressing the need for congregational development involves all of these areas. All three areas require funding. In order to focus on these tasks, to develop measurable goals in each area, and to implement action strategies to accomplish our goals the Board voted at its Fall 2002 meeting to accept no new projects for the 2003-2004 Conference year. We realize this places a hardship on people who have been anticipating start-up and revitalization projects. But we think we can be better stewards and do the work of congregational development more effectively if we begin to develop all three components of our task.

We have already begun our tasks. This year we began the congregational assessment program and have placed each church in the Conference on a life-cycle chart so that we can better prioritize our needs. We have shared this information with the Bishop and Cabinet. You will be hearing more about this at the Annual Conference sessions. We sent our start-up pastor, Bill Johnson, and a Board member, a Cabinet member and our staff person to an assessment seminar on the qualities and characteristics of a start-up pastor. We found this to be so helpful that we sent two members of the Board of Ordained Ministry to a later session of the same workshop. They also found it be an exciting and informative time. Each year we have sponsored some Board members, Cabinet members, and pastors to the School of Congregational Development. In addition, there will be a Jurisdictional Academy along the same lines in Seattle in the fall. We are excited about what we together as an Annual Conference can accomplish in starting new congregations and ministries and in revitalizing churches where circumstances have changed. We invite you to keep this Board in your prayers.

Finally, I want to thank the Board for their dedication, vision and diligence in working for congregational development. Special thanks also to Kris Hodson who gives far more than any of us can begin to realize in time and caring and creativity.

California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church
Graphic Local Church Life-Cycle Glossary
Prospective Area
Geographic areas in which a United Methodist Presence is needed where there is none or it is impaired.
Prospective Ministries
New avenues of ministry along the lines of age, race, culture and language that are not currently addressed by a United Methodist presence.
Start-Up Church or Ministry
A Non-Self Sustaining Church in its infancy stages that is dependant on funds and resources from the Annual Conference, District or other sources. Churches in this designation are characterized by their aggressive plan for growth and evangelism as they move toward defining their ministry identity in the community.
Emerging Congregation
A church which has recently emerged from the Start-Up designation or Revitalizing designation that is currently receiving assistance from the Annual Conference, District or other sources. These congregations will be characterized by their aggressive commitment for growth toward Self-Sustenance through a clearly mapped vision, purpose, strategy and goals. The Emerging Congregation will have established a base of operations consistent with these goals. Churches failing to become Self-Sustaining in the maximum allotted time will either become a Mission Church or moved to the Transitioning Church designation. If the congregation is seeking Mission Church designation, it must do so only by meeting the established criterion as well as with the concurrence of the Superintendent and the District Committee on Planning and Strategy.
Revitalizing Church
A church that has formerly been a Self-Sustaining Church or Mission Church that has emerged from the Transitioning Church designation. These churches have developed a plan to become a Self-Sustaining Church through the infusion of monies and resources from the Annual Conference, District or other sources that can make the church's ministry thrive once again in its community. The focus of ministry in the revitalization is determined by the local church in conjunction with the Superintendent and the District Committee on Planning & Strategy.
Self-Sustaining Church (Long-Term)
Churches not categorized elsewhere are considered self-sustaining churches. These churches are assessed on the following four (4) parameters. The number included on the Life-Cycle Graphic chart next to the name of the church will indicates how many of the following parameters have been met.
1. Ministry: Based on the three assessments (church, pastor and District Committee) a conclusion can be stated about the ten-year pattern of growth or decline in congregational program and ministry. Empirical information such as percent of budget devoted to program or staffing should be collected. Leaders should be interviewed to learn what a church might experience non-missional program growth in each assessment.
2. Mission: Based on these three assessments a conclusion can be stated about the ten-year pattern of growth or decline in congregational mission work (excluding apportionments). Empirical information such as percent of budget devoted to mission should be collected as well as other intangible ways in which a church might experience missional growth.
3. Apportionment giving at 100%
4. Worship attendance shows a ten-year pattern of increase with the annual average amount determined by the average attendance for the previous year (ex. Attendance for 1999, 2000 & 2001 should be averaged for the "Average Attendance" of the year 2001.)
Mission Church (Long-Term)
A Non-Self-Sustaining congregation that is willing and will live out a: 1) mission statement that expresses the importance of that congregation continuing as a presence or as a service based ministry of tantamount importance to the mission of the Annual Conference; 2) ministry that includes plans for goals, strategies, finances, and organization. The Mission designation is subject to annual review by the Superintendent and the District Committee on Planning and Strategy. The Mission church will usually receive support from the Annual Conference, District or other agency and is expected to help support the wider connection with the global church through apportionment giving.
Transitioning Churches
A church which is no longer self-sustaining and now under the provision of some kind of financial assistance from the Annual Conference, District or other sources. Churches in this designation are characterized by a commitment to 1) Adoption of plans to become a Mission Church or 2) Actively develop a plan to become a Revitalizing Church through appropriate, asset-based ministries, staff changes, sale or subdivision of property), financial support of new ministries or congregational expansion or 3) Actively move toward discontinuance as a local church.
Discontinuance
A church that has only survival as its stated or unstated mission evidenced by: declining membership, lack of visitors, lack of serving mentality, insufficient financial support or have expressed an unwillingness or inability to become a Mission Church or a Revitalizing Church.

Congregational Loan Committee

The Congregational Loan Committee of this Annual Conference has three primary responsibilities. We administer loans and make loans and grants from three funds: 1) the Revolving Loan Fund, 2) the Conditional Donations from the Conference budget, and 3) the Jubilee Fund.

The Revolving Loan Fund now totals about $11.2 million dollars. Of that, $5.7 million is loaned to churches. Of the $5.5 million cash balance, $2.7 million is invested with Bank of America (BofA), $2.1 million was loaned for cash flow to the Annual Conference, and $700,000 was invested with UM Development Fund at the end of 2002. From those funds we received income of almost $400,000 in 2002. This is about a 3.5 percent return. However, when the fees we pay to Bank of America are subtracted, our percent return is only about 3.3. It may be low but we are not losing money, thank God! The rate is much lower at the present time than in the past, due to the current low interest rate paid on our cash balances with BofA, the Annual Conference and UMDF. In addition, almost $1.5 M of the loans is to two local churches at very low rates. This was in response to an urgent request from our Conference leadership in two emergency situations for new congregations a couple of years ago. Most of our churches pay 6.5% or 7.5% on their loans. New loan rates are 7.0% for existing congregations, and 6.0% for new congregations with a maximum of $500,000 being available to each church.

Currently, the churches that have benefited from these funds and have loans are:

Hawaii District: Waianae UMC, Pearl City: Trinity; Honolulu: Christ; Wahiawa: Olive.

Long Beach District: Rolling Hills UMC; Lakewood: First.

Los Angeles District: Los Angeles: Vermont Square; Los Angeles: Korean Central; Los Angeles: Crenshaw; Los Angeles: Los Angeles Korean (Robertson); Los Angeles: Younghwa; Los Angeles: Bowen Memorial.

Pasadena District: Walnut UMC; Glendora UMC; Quartz Hill: Christ Our Savior.

Riverside District: Temecula UMC; Moreno Valley UMC; Hesperia UMC; Pomona: First Tongan.

San Diego District: San Diego: St. Mark's; San Diego: St. Paul's.

Santa Ana District: Brea UMC; Rancho Santa Margarita: Santa Margarita; Anaheim: Light of the Canyon; Westminster: Good Shepherd.

Santa Barbara District: Granada Hills: Valley Korean; Thousand Oaks UMC; Pacoima: First; Santa Clarita UMC; Newbury Park: St. Matthew's.

Your money in this Fund earns the most when it is helping local churches buy property, do remodeling or do new construction. If you know a church that is thinking about building in any way, please contact our office. We have money to loan.

The Conditional Donations are made for property purchase, remodeling or new construction also. We expected to receive about $200,000 from budgeted funds during 2003 for this Fund. For property or new construction the maximum donation is $50,000. The Committee has designated $75,000 of existing funds for handicap access ramps. Although we have limited funds, please contact your District Superintendent or our office if you know of a church in need of help for any of these purposes. The "conditional" in the name means that a lien will be placed against the property so that if it is ever sold and no longer United Methodist, that money will return to be given to other churches. These are grants for the life of the specific church.

Those churches receiving Conditional Donations and benefiting from this Fund during 2002 were:

Hawaii District: Kailua: Keolumana; Hilo UMC.

Long Beach District: Compton: Crossroads.

Los Angeles District: Los Angeles: Bowen Memorial.

Pasadena District: Pasadena: Grace.

Riverside District: Moreno Valley UMC.

Santa Ana District: La Palma UMC; Fountain Valley: First.

The Jubilee Fund continues to bless local churches and ministries of our Annual Conference. These grants are given each year from the 3.5% of the value of the Jubilee Fund on January 1. They are for both property and program. Applications are due to the District Planning and Strategy Committees by September 1, 2003.

The Jubilee Grant funds distributed in 2002 (covering grants for years of 1999, 2000 and 2001) were as follows:

Hawaii District: Wahiawa: Olive ($25,000)

Long Beach District: Compton: Crossroads ($40,018.21); Toberman Settlement House ($10,000); Torrance: Hope ($3,000); Long Beach: First - Willmore Agency ($5,000); Torrance: Walteria ($1,000 & $5,000); Redondo Beach: First ($3,400); Long Beach: Cambodian American ($5,500).

Los Angeles District: Los Angeles: Echo Park ($10,000); Los Angeles: United University Church ($6,400); Los Angeles District Food Collaborative ($5,000); Los Angeles District Consulting Team ($5,000); Los Angeles: Crenshaw & UCLA: Wesley Foundation ($6,000).

Riverside District: Temecula UMC ($25,000); Hemet UMC ($5,580).

San Diego District: San Diego: Rolando ($10,000); San Diego: District PHAT Youth Ministries ($1,578.51); San Diego: Wesley ($10,000); Julian: Community ($7,500); Descanso: Chapel of the Hills Community ($735).

Santa Ana District: Fullerton: Cornerstone ($2,000); Anaheim: United ($10,000); Santa Ana District Youth Ministry ($10,000).

Santa Barbara District: Morro Bay: Estero Bay ($4,000); Sepulveda: North Valley Caring Services ($14,000); Oxnard: North Oxnard ($4,000); Santa Paula: El Buen Pastor ($6,000); Simi Valley: Misíon Hispaña Biblica ($4,210).

Conference Ministries: Filipino Caucus ($5,000); Missionary Covenant program ($10,091); Ethnic Ministries Commission ($1,600).

In 2002 Jubilee grant were approved for the following churches and ministries:

Hawaii District: Hilo UMC ($2,800); Lahaina UMC ($11,750).

Long Beach District: Lakewood: First ($15,000); Long Beach: First (Willmore Urban Foundation ($10,000); Long Beach: North Long Beach ($5,000).

Los Angeles District: Los Angeles District Food Collaborative ($6,522); Los Angeles: Los Angeles Korean ($10,000); Los Angeles: United University Church ($8,500); UCLA Wesley Foundation ($10,000).

Pasadena District: Quartz Hill: Christ Our Savior ($3,750); Tujunga UMC ($5,000); West Covina UMC ($11,895).

Riverside District: Desert Hot Springs: Community ($1,100); Ontario: Trinity ($4,000); Riverside District Lay Leader ($2,500).

San Diego District: Conference Mental Health Ministries ($20,000); San Diego: St. Mark's ($5,600 and $1,000).

Santa Ana District: La Habra UMC ($7,825); Yorba Linda UMC ($9,600).

Santa Barbara District: Northridge UMC ($15,000); Pacoima: El Mesias ($7,000).

In addition, the Joint Task Force with CFA, as authorized by the 2001 Session of Annual Conference, continues to look for ways to use the Jubilee Fund to help local churches with their construction and property needs. Due to the current economic conditions and our concern about risking the Fund, we are proceeding slowly.

Lastly, we owe a great debt of gratitude to our faithful staff: Kris Hodson, Associate Director, Connectional Ministries Team, who is capable, knowledgeable and wears many, many hats with ease and seemingly simultaneously. Arlene Brewster, Secretary, Connectional Ministries Team, who though technically in an "retired" status, serves with enthusiasm and care, producing documents, motel reservations or whatever we need. Our sincere thanks for their service to God in these roles of our Church and Conference.

I thank the members of the Committee for their faithful service and work. They are a joy to know and share with in God's work. God is Good! All the time! In the name of Jesus, we praise God for the privilege of serving the local churches of this Conference.

Gwen Jones-Lurvey

Connectional Ministries Team

Reports from the Conference Boards and Agencies that make up the work of connectional ministries are included in this preliminary report. In them you will find a breadth and depth of work that supports the Primary Tasks of the California-Pacific Conference. This past year has been a bridging of fulfilling the mandate of our Calling, and continuing to strengthen the connectional requirements mandated by the Discipline of the United Methodist Church. This is not always easy!

The dedicated volunteers who make up the various boards and agencies often spend countless hours, and much creative thinking, moving forward the work of the Church, as it follows the Biblical directive to make disciples of Jesus Christ. The outstanding connectional ministries professional and support staff give countless hours, above and beyond what might be expected, to do the same. The Conference is blessed!

Perhaps the most innovative decision made this year is to embark on a mission to more effectively relate to local churches and districts. A system of deployment of connectional ministries staff has been put in place for 2003/2004. During a specified week each quarter, all 8 staff will move into the 8 districts, spending time in local churches, training leaders in workshops and clusters, preaching, consulting, and resourcing in their particular area of expertise. The first week of deployment was completed in February, and received a great deal of affirmation from local church people, as well as District Superintendents. During the remainder of 2003, the staff will be deployed three additional weeks--May 5-9; September 22-26; and November 3-7. In addition to the weekdays, staff will be available either the weekend before, or the weekend after, to preach, teach, or train.

We have been privileged to welcome the Communications staff to the connectional ministries team. Larry Hygh and Leah Switzer add a great deal of expertise and enthusiasm to our work. Larry has produced a Connectional Ministries staff brochure, as well as an apportionment interpretation piece--both much needed interpretive tools. Leah continues to coordinate services from the media center which allow us to tell the mission and ministry story.

It has been our intention to continue doing the work we have been called to do even as we move toward a new structure. By July 1 of 2004, all the new pieces will be in place. There will be a new Executive Director of Connectional Ministries, and staff that will fill the Associate Director positions. I anticipate some new faces, and some not. All will be done with our ultimate goals in mind--to bring the best resources we can to assist the local churches, and other entities.

A word about our support staff, and our program staff... Ann Palmer, Frances Jones, Carol Mayer, Julisa Neri, Jheri Resnick, and Arlene Brewster work competently and professionally to bring the best service we can to the many people and churches who call our offices each day. SongJa Park, Jim Conn, Garth Gilliam, Kris Hodson, Fernando Santillana, and Keith Hwang maintain a level of competency and cooperation that serves the conference well. It is a privilege to be in ministry with all of these persons.

Each of us has been called to ministry through our baptism, and Christ continues to call us to ministry in our everyday lives. It is my hope and prayer that all of us who work on behalf of all of our United Methodist entities live up to that call. May God continue to sustain us.

Marilynn M. Huntington

Disability Ministry, Conference Council on

Romans 12:11-12 "Do not lag in zeal, be ardent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in suffering, persevere in prayer."

The Conference Council on Disability Ministry brings greetings to the members of the Annual Conference. We have had a year blessed by opportunities to share and witness with others. We are grateful for these opportunities and continue to work together to insure that all of the churches of the California-Pacific Annual Conference will truly have "Open Hearts, Open Minds and Open Doors".

Our year began with the presentation at last years Annual Conference and the debut of our video (produced by Dr. Phil Peace) "Accessibility Is More Than A Ramp". We also met a number of clergy and laity at conference who were interested in having our group come to present at their local church. Our Conference Coordinators for Disability Ministry, the Reverend Jerry and Juda Carter have been traveling throughout the Conference this year to present at local churches. They have been warmly welcomed at several churches in the San Diego District and two churches in the Los Angeles District. At each presentation the Reverend Jerry Carter shares his message of hope and courage in the Sunday sermon. In addition, the Carters have had the opportunity to gather with the local congregation on those Sundays to share a meal and show our video. The Carters have been blessed by the overwhelming positive feedback they have received. They are also always touched by individual church members who come to them after the presentations to share stories of their own struggles in their families with disability and at times feeling unwelcome in the local church. These challenges continue to remind us of the importance of our work.

One of the highlights that our coordinators experienced this last year was an opportunity to meet with members of Foundry UMC in Washington DC last summer. The Carters were contacted by members of this church and were planning to vacation in DC this past summer. They were invited to present to the Trustees and Building Committees of this historic church in our nation's capitol. The Carters met with the committees and screened the video at Foundry. The message of open doors for people with disabilities is a universal one and many annual conferences are developing outreach and resources to insure accessibility to all. We are excited to be a part of that outreach.

For this next year we will be continuing to focus on outreach in the local church. Our goal is to present at one church per month, and to increase our outreach into Districts that we have not yet visited. In addition, we have developed a Conference award for "The Most Accessible Congregation" that will be presented at this year's Conference and annually thereafter.

We encourage the local church to contact us. We are available to train Sunday School personnel, ushers and others on how to be a fully welcoming church. We are grateful for the opportunities that we have had and pray that our ministry will continue to be a blessing to others.

Juda and Jerry Carter

Disaster Response Committee, Conference

When disaster strikes, the Church is called to a crucial ministry. The United Methodist Church has unique strengths for such a time, including our connectional system, strategic location in communities, and a faith which witnesses to God's love when many would struggle with questions of life and death, good and evil. We do well to prepare today for effective ministry at that indeterminate future moment. Though we have a valuable resource in the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR), in the event of major disaster UMCOR can only carry out its ministry in partnership with the annual conference. As UMCOR has clarified, "The impacted annual conference Y 'owns' its disaster and the response to it. For many reasons that benefit speedy recovery, it is important that the claim of ownership be made as soon as possible after the disaster event. Pre-disaster planning and training will minimize a disaster's impact by accelerating ownership" (from UMCOR's Recommendations for Developing a Disaster Response Plan for Your Annual Conference). This is the task of the Conference Disaster Response Committee.

In 2002 local churches and the Conference assisted in response to fires and storms within the bounds of our Annual Conference. These included the Fallbrook fire in February, the Julian fire in July, the Williams fire (especially San Dimas Canyon) in September, and typhoons in Guam (Typhoon Chata'an in July and Supertyphoon Pongsona in December). Three separate $10,000 grants were requested and sent to the Annual Conference from UMCOR to facilitate disaster response, including one grant for the three Southern California fires and two grants for the Guam typhoons. These funds were used to repair water systems, facilitate debris removal, purchase generators and meet individual needs on a case-by-case basis. The response to the Supertyphoon Pongsona in particular will continue for at least three years. The Rev. Donna Faith Eldridge, pastor of Guam UMC, chairs the Interfaith Disaster Response Committee which is coordinating the work of the many voluntary organizations, including UMCOR. A budget for long-term recovery is being developed and a request from Bishop Swenson to UMCOR will provide a share of the funding over the next three years. It should be noted that much of this funding is made possible through the One Great Hour of Sharing Offering taken annually on the fourth Sunday of Lent.

Several training events in varying aspects of disaster response have been held. In February and March of 2002 the Conference Disaster Response Committee offered workshops at each of the District Leadership Training events interpreting the Local Church Disaster Response Plan booklet that was distributed to every church in 2001. This booklet focuses on how the local church is in ministry to its community and coordinates with denominational and ecumenical resources. District leadership workshops in February and March of 2003 were developed with Guide One Insurance on the more hands-on issues of mitigating property and personal risk factors in local churches. Leadership from the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health was utilized to offer training in Critical Incident Stress Management for 25 clergy at Claremont UMC in June 2002. National UMCOR staff came to Pasadena in February of 2002 and again in 2003 to provide the basic disaster response training, which had previously only been available at the UMCOR Sager-Brown Depot in Baldwin, Louisiana.

Discipleship, Board of

The Conference Board of Discipleship is comprised of three sections: Worship, Spirituality, and Stewardship. Our most basic task is to keep apprised of the needs and concerns of local churches in these three areas, and to respond to those needs through the development, provision, and promotion of resources for learning and training.

In the area of Worship, headed by Gregory Douglass, our work this year has centered on planning for the "Journey to Jesus" workshop, to be held on September 20, 2003 at Monrovia UMC. This workshop will be led by Robert Webber and will stress the vital connection between worship, evangelism, and nurture. With its presentation we hope to build on the momentum of Webber's well-received first workshop in our Conference, which was held in March 2001.

In the area of Spirituality, headed by Nancy Wilson, we presented on May 10 a quiet day for prayer, reflection and walking the labyrinth entitled "Walking Our Prayer." Led by Mary Garbesi, Director of Caring Ministries at Santa Monica First UMC, the retreat was held at Community UMC in Pacific Palisades. We also helped support and promote the Spirit Streams retreat, held April 3-6 at Casa Maria in Santa Barbara and featuring well-known teacher and writer Glenn Hinson. In addition, we have helped to promote Companions in Christ leadership training events.

The section on Stewardship, led by Brent Criswell, focused on promoting the "Growing Generous Givers" seminar led by Kennon Callahan in San Diego on May 5-9.

Several of our members presented workshops at various district "How-To Workshops."

We are grateful for the fine leadership of our Board chair, Don Roe, and regret his resignation from the Board early this year due to increased responsibilities in other areas. We face some occasional frustration with the poor turnout at our meetings, as well as with the challenges of being "in flux" as changes are made in our Conference and District structures. But we move ahead, confident of God's gracious presence, and always in the hope that God can take all our efforts, large and small, and make them into something life-giving and good for the Body. Thanks be to God!

Episcopacy, Committee on

Every time the Committee on Episcopacy meets the members are awed as we hear Bishop Mary Ann Swenson tell about her schedule. She travels extensively throughout the Conference meeting us in all kinds of ways. In every setting she brings her special warmth, love, and joy to the people she encounters. In February 2003 she led a team to Nigeria to help strengthen the partnership, which is being developed between the California-Pacific Conference and United Methodist Churches in Nigeria. She was in touch with the laity and clergy in Nigeria just as she is in touch with us at home in our Conference. In March 2003 she plans to lead more than 175 lay and clergy members of the Conference on The Life and Teachings of Paul cruise.

Bishop Swenson thinks creatively and discovers new ways to accomplish tasks. An example of her creativity is in the development of the position description for the Assistant to the Bishop. The Committee on Episcopacy is excited about the new possibilities for ministry, which this position will bring. You will hear details about this new appointment at the Annual Conference Session.

Bishop Swenson knows how to help people be connected to one another. Often in meetings she will say, "Oh, there is someone who can help you with this project." Or she might say, "Have you seen this material? I think it will give you some good ideas." We continue to appreciate the model, which Bishop Swenson and Gaunnie Dixon provide for how clergy and laity can work together in ministry. In a variety of ways, Bishop Swenson lights the path for us.

We are appreciative of the ministry of Dr. Donald Locher as Special Assistant to the Bishop during the last two years. His help has been significant, especially when Bishop Swenson was in Mississippi during her mother's illness and following her mother's death.

We also thank Shirley Coombs, Executive Secretary to the Bishop and Cathy Wilson, Administrative Assistant for the efficient, gracious, and caring way that they do the variety of tasks which are required of them in the Bishop's Office.

The Committee will meet three or four times in 2003 as we continue on this exciting journey with Bishop Mary Ann Swenson and Jeff Swenson. We are truly blessed by their presence with us.

Episcopal Residence Committee

The California-Pacific Conference provides an attractive and functional home, which is west of the arroyo in Pasadena for Bishop Mary Ann Swenson and Jeff Swenson. The residence is an easy commute from the United Methodist Center either by automobile or bicycle.

The Committee is grateful to Dr. Donald Locher and Mr. Charles Bohannon whose watchful eyes make sure that the Episcopal Residence is properly maintained on a regular basis. The Committee appreciates the Swenson's careful use of the residence and also their conservative use of utilities, which has important ecological and financial implications. They are a good example for all of us.

Regarding the Minimum Salary Schedule:

As addressed last year, our Conference minimum salary schedules are 6% behind other conferences and we have failed to keep up with the area cost of living by even a greater margin. Therefore, the Commission will be recommending to this Annual Conference, the approval of the Minimum Salary schedules PL and F with a 2% increase the beginning level and maintaining the step increase amount for this year. It is our desire to continue seeking an increase for the next two years in an effort to regain some of the ground lost in the minimum salary schedule of our conference. We hope it will be approved.

In closing I want to express my thanks to those who have served so well this last year. Also, there are several vacancies on the commission and I would encourage any who might want to serve on this commission who provides such a vital service to our conference to contact me or the chair of nominations, Rev. Ben Ellis.

TRAVEL REIMBURSEMENT: In addition to the cash salary, professional business expense line items may be included in the local churches' budget, to be available to all ordained clergy and local pastors under pastoral appointment. This budget shall include funds for the allocation of auto expenses used in the work of the parish, for clergy and local pastors under pastoral appointment. It shall be payable upon presentation of expense vouchers to the church treasurer by the clergy person. The amount of reimbursed professional business expense shall not be reportable to the IRS as income to the clergy person.
UTILITIES: Payment of gas (fuel); water; electricity; sewer fee; trash collection; base telephone; and basic cable television, when necessary because of location.
HOUSING: Adequate housing will be provided, using as a guideline "Parsonage Policies and Standards," as amended, for each eligible clergy appointed to a charge. In the case of clergy couples where no parsonage is provided, both congregations will share in the payment of an adequate housing allowance. If there is a parsonage provided to one member of the clergy couple, the church of the other clergy member will provide funds to the other church, or to the clergy involved, to insure that housing is adequate, provided that such amount will not ordinarily exceed one half of the amount stated above. Any such arrangement shall be agreed upon by all parties involved and shall be approved by the District Superintendent(s). This is intended to be in keeping with Judicial Council Decision 588, October 23, 1987.

HEALTH INSURANCE: The recommended Health Insurance allowance guidelines for churches receiving Equitable Compensation funds shall be the equivalent of the respective coverage of any authorized plan offered through the Conference Board of Pensions.

CONTINUING EDUCATION: A minimum of $350 shall be provided for continuing education purposes.

GEOGRAPHIC VARIANT: A variant of $500 shall be added for pastors serving in Hawaii and other remote areas, as designated by the Cabinet and approved by the Commission on Equitable Compensation.

-Adopted by the Annual Conference on the consent calendar, Plenary 4, June 19, 2003.

Ethnic Ministries, Commission on

The Commission on Ethnic Ministries welcomed the expertise and sensitivity of a new Associate Council Director, the Rev. Keith Hwang, whose support and able leadership has brought us to new heights. A new Commission Chairperson, the Rev. Anita Valles, has been working diligently with the Rev. Hwang, the Commission, caucus members, and networking with other Conference committees such as the Shared Facility Task Force with the goal of becoming "bridgebuilders" for our local churches and the Conference leadership, boards, and agencies. We feel we are making good strides towards this end.

Our first task was to get to know each other better; therefore, our "icebreaker" was to share with one another what we each "bring to the table" culturally. This was a very exciting and revealing exercise. From this activity developed our own "Ground Rules for Dialogue" in order to better communicate with each other. Using these ground rules, we then began the task of understanding each other through communication, which the Bible defines as: "speaking the truth in love."

We are networking with the different caucuses to create task forces to teach local churches or our own Conference leadership about our respective cultures. These teams would be used whenever a local church has a particular ethnic group in their community and are thinking of starting an outreach ministry to them or sharing facilities. The local church would then contact the caucus or our commission and get the name of the person in charge to book a presentation to the local church. We also see these teams possibly being used by the Board of Ordained Ministry for churches who will be getting a cross-cultural appointment, as well as for the pastor that is being appointed to a different cultural group from his/her own. These caucus task groups could also be available, if needed, to our Conference leadership such as: the Bishop and Cabinet, the various Cal-Pac Boards and Agencies, District Groups, or others. However, this idea is just in the birthing stages and is right now being formulated, not ready at this time to be put into action. Yet, we feel that at least we are headed in the right direction to assist our conference to build bridges with various groups within any given community. We are very excited about this possibility, and hope to be able to acquire funds and/or network with the United Methodist Communications group in Nashville and talk about sharing expenses for this work, or apply for grants to create videos to send to our local churches rather than teams from the various caucuses. We think that these videos could be a resource not only for our Conference, but also for others who might need this resource nationally, and/or maybe even internationally.

As our Commission is pleased to do every year, several Ethnic Ministry Grants were given to as many local churches as we were able to award. Startup funds for new outreach ministry in their communities were issued, in spite of critical shortages in revenue this year. A word of thanks goes to Jheri Resnik, our Commission's staff support person, for her tireless work; the Bishop, the Cabinet, and the Council of Ministries for the excellent work they are doing to enable, empower, and assist all of us to do God's work. Through our work, we hope that many might see that we really are Christians by our loving service to each other and our neighbors.

Anita Valles

Evangelism, Board of

The Board of Evangelism (BOE) is dedicated to informing, equipping, and training both laity and clergy for the work of sharing the Gospel in creative, innovative ways. The increasingly complex, post-Christian context of our ministries demands that we tell the story of Christ in ways that speaks honestly to the needs, suspicions, and struggles of our culture. To this end, the Board of Evangelism offered two major training events during the conference year. The highly successful "Multimedia in Ministry" conference, held in October 2002, drew more than 150 participants from around the conference to explore new technologies for ministry, including web ministry, video ministry, PowerPoint technology, and the spiritual themes of major motion pictures. In March 2003 the Board sponsored "St. Patrick in So Cal," an all-day workshop on Celtic evangelism and the successful methods of St. Patrick in sharing the gospel in a pagan world.

In addition, the Board has provided resources for several church and district evangelism events including concerts, revivals, local church workshops, and district how-to workshops. Board members have been given opportunities to sharpen their own skills for evangelism by attending conferences at a local and/or national level.

Members of the conference who are interested in serving on the BOE are encouraged to contact the Conference Nominating Committee. As the BOE continues its work, it is eager to add new members who have passion for bringing Christ to an ever-changing culture.

Mark R. Feldmeir

Finance and Administration, Council on

We are pleased to report that with the faithful stewardship of churches in our Annual Conference, apportionment receipts for 2002 totaled $10,293,667, slightly higher than in 2001 but 1.5% lower in percentage paid. Our receipts were 82.6% of the amount apportioned, less than anticipated, which reflects the decline in giving throughout the denomination during a very difficult year. We offer our congratulations to the 222 churches who paid 100% (or more), some for the first time in many years, and to the 107 churches who made significant progress toward their 100% goal.

All churches are asked to make regular monthly apportionment payments, which not only help the conference cash flow requirements, but also alleviate the end-of-the-year struggle in local churches to pay their apportionments. We continue to be concerned about those churches under-paying their apportionment; a few made no apportionment payment in 2002. Other churches have not paid their share of moving expenses or contributed their part to the Comprehensive Protection Plan. Along with the Bishop and Cabinet, the CFA continues to monitor these struggling churches and discussing appropriate courses of action to take.

Members of the CFA have continued their work with the Conference Leadership Team, seeking their help with some difficult financial issues and asking for their sense of funding priorities within the Conference. Because the 2002 apportionment receipts were lower than anticipated, and because the 2003 apportioned budget was increased significantly - to provide for a Bishop's Assistant and to provide heath care benefits for retired clergy - the CFA deliberated a possible mid-course correction in this year's budget. However, these financial issues are being addressed through spending controls, including no salary increases for the professional staff, and through prudent management of all available resources. We have also taken these things into consideration in our preparation of the 2004 budget, and commend the Board of Pensions for addressing the shortfall in funding the retirees' health care benefits. Additional issues requiring our attention included inaccurate Table II reporting and reviewing the CFA-related rules for proposed changes.

The Council has cooperated with the Board of Trustees in reviewing our investment strategy regarding the Jubilee Fund. We have jointly decided to place all designated but not yet utilized funds for grants, beginning in 2003, into a Bank of America Money Market account until the grant recipient is prepared to receive the funds. The CFA is also recommending that the Trustees/CFA joint committee review our Jubilee Fund management policy. We have conducted our annual review of the Jubilee Fund distribution plan, including further discussion with Bud Wrisley considering his proposal from the 2001 Annual Conference. The CFA voted to stay with the original distribution plan as outlined by the 2000 Annual Conference. However, we will continue to revisit this issue and next fall will consider ways to alter the distribution plan, beginning in 2005, when the payout level of $15,000 is reached. Any such plan would be brought before the 2004 Annual Conference.

The 2003 Jubilee Fund Report (below) relates the activity of the Fund in the Foundation and the use of the funds within the Conference through December 31, 2002. Those ministries on List A have received Jubilee Grant monies in 2002. (The details of those grants are reported elsewhere by the Congregational Loan Committee.) The churches on List B were the recipients of Jubilee Funds during 2002, bringing to 138 the number of churches to have funds returned to them. In 2002, a combined total of $233,116.87 was returned to 21 churches, bringing the total returned to local churches from 2000-2002 to $863,771,82. The 2003 distribution will take place directly after Annual Conference.

Budget hearings for the 2004 Conference budget were held on March 7, with the CFA meeting March 6-8 to prepare the proposed financial plan. Prior to these hearings, the CFA asked all boards, agencies, committees, and conference staff to reduce expenses in 2003, and to plan for a reduced budget in 2004, with attention being given to deficit recovery in 2004. The result of that work is before the Conference for action.

The CFA continues to have great confidence in Dan Gara, our Executive Director of Finance and Administration. We value his professional skill, his grasp of complex financial issues, his knowledge of and caring for people in our local churches and extension ministries, and the cooperative spirit he generates. The Conference Treasurer's support staff, particularly Joyce Zirkle and Kevin Stern, continues to serve us all with personal grace and professional skill.

I want to express my gratitude to the members of the CFA who have been encouraging and supportive of my leadership as President of the Council on Finance and Administration.

2002 Apportionments

The Council on Finance and Administration is grateful for the faithful stewardship of the churches in our Annual Conference who contributed $10,293,667 in Connectional Ministries giving (also known as apportionments) in 2002. This amount is dollar-wise slightly higher than in 2001, but 1.5% lower in percentage paid. Our receipts were 82.6% of the amounts apportioned, which reflects the decline in giving throughout the denomination during a very difficult year.

- We offer our congratulations to the 222 churches that paid 100% (or more), some for the first time in many years.

- We are likewise grateful for the 107 churches that made significant progress toward their 100% support of Connectional ministries, and we encourage you to keep moving toward your full payment goals.

- There were 25 churches that paid 10% or less of their apportionment in 2002, and 15 of these churches did not make any apportionment payment. This is a serious concern, and CFA members are willing to visit these churches to help interpret Connectional Ministries, explain the grade figure formula, suggest stewardship resources, and to dialogue with you in a way that will "open windows of opportunity" regarding your apportionments.

- All churches are asked to make regular monthly apportionment payments, which not only help the Conference cash flow requirements, but also alleviate the end-of-the-year struggle in local churches to pay their apportionments.

- In this matter of apportionments, we want to sound a note of caution to each pastor in every church. Each year it is imperative that you review the Table II report for accuracy, before you submit it, since it is used to calculate your church=s apportionment. Please scrutinize the figures given to you by the church's bookkeeper or treasurer, and compare them with the figures you submitted the previous year. There have been some inaccurate reports this year, and this has resulted in churches pursuing reductions in their apportionment that we cannot grant.

- We'd like to express our appreciation to the District Superintendents for encouraging a 100% apportionment payment when they conduct Charge Conferences, and we urge the pastors and laity in each local church to work in partnership to fulfill their calling in this area.

- Furthermore, we are grateful for the 133 churches that have paid at least 5/12 of their 2003 apportionment by this Conference time, and pray that they will continue to lead the way. According to our Conference Rules, this is expected of every church. We are also aware that several churches are making significant strides in increasing their support of Connectional Ministries. Two examples of this are a church (St. Mark, Anaheim) that increased its payment from 10% to 60%, and a church that increased from 8% to 75% (Montrose: La Crescenta).

The CFA was pleased with the interpretive document detailing the Conference finances that was published in the February 14 edition of Circuit West. This represents a step in our effort to strengthen apportionment giving through effective communication. We are grateful for the cooperative work of Larry Hygh, our Director of Communications, and we look forward to new and improved interpretive materials in the future.

You are invited to visit the Conference Treasurer's office (Melrose #101) and pick up additional interpretive materials about apportionments, including the booklet Sharing Our Gifts. The CFA also invites each local church to hold a 12-week study using the resource Steward, available through Cokesbury. We would further urge your participation in the Connectional Giving workshops that will be held in four locations in our Conference this fall - October 2 (San Diego) and October 3 (Santa Barbara), in a 2.5-hour format; October 4 (Los Angeles) and October 11 (Hawaii), in a 6-hour format.

Audit

We are pleased to announce that - for the second year in a row - our Conference received a report indicating that we have had a clean audit of our financial records, without qualification, and with no recommendation to management letter for improvement.

Jubilee Fund Activity in 2002

You will find the Jubilee Fund Report, for the calendar year ending December 31, 2002, on p. 27 of the Preliminary Report. Again this year, the report is in two sections: (1) recounting the activity of the Jubilee Fund in the Foundation, and (2) what the Fund activity has been in our Conference. [Our PowerPoint presentation of this report should begin to appear on the video.]

The Foundation Activity tells you what the Jubilee Fund has done at the investment level. The fund balance at the end of 2001 was $7,366,875.10, and we received dividend income of $177,139.49, resulting in a balance of $7,544,014.59.

There are also expenses associated with the Jubilee Fund, seen on the next slide, including: (1) a Management (Administrative) Fee to the Foundation, (2) funds distributed to the Conference, (3) a market value adjustment, and (4) realized losses on marketable securities. Jubilee Fund expenses totaled $1,595,233.20 last year.

When you subtract expenses from revenues, the fund balance on the books at the end of 2002 was $5,951,781.39.

The next slide will indicate the amounts (1) designated for grants prior to 2002, (2) grants that were designated last year, and (3) grants that were paid to the Conference, resulting in a subtotal of the funds retained of $507,361.32.

The Foundation Funds Available as of December 31, 2002 equaled $5,444,420.07.

The Conference Activity portion of the report tells you what was done with the Jubilee Fund as the monies were taken out of the Foundation. We began with a cash balance of $3,396.56, and received $495,236.06 from the Foundation - $275,392.75 for grants, and $219,843.31 for returning to local churches.

Grants totaling $271,325.75 were distributed to the ministries on List A (p. 28). Jubilee Funds were returned to the 21 churches noted on List B (p. 28). This resulted in a total fund distribution of $504,442.62.

In distributing Jubilee Funds to grant recipients and to churches, we spent $9,206.56 more than we received from the Foundation, and that gave us a net outflow of Conference funds that appears in this report as a negative number. Because we had a cash balance at the beginning of the year (of $3,396.56), the outflow of funds resulted a negative cash balance at the end of the year of $-5,810.

The bottom line is that $5,438,610.07 is available for the 7% scheduled distribution in 2003. We want to remind you that the Jubilee Fund is a "Long Term Fund," not an endowment. The 2000 Annual Conference selected the California-Pacific Foundation as its money manager, and adopted a formula for spending 7% of the fund annually. You will recall that 7% of the fund, "as it has grown or diminished," is to be divided: 50% to be used for grants, and 50% to be paid back to the local churches "starting with the churches that made the smallest contribution" to the Pacific Homes settlement.

7% of the $5,438,610.07 = $380,702.70, which means that $190,351.35 is available in 2003 for return to local churches, and an equal amount of $190,351.35 is available for ministry grants.

This year, the 2003 distribution of Jubilee Funds took place in March. A total of $183,436.75 was returned to the next 14 churches on the list. And I would remind you that we do not make partial payments in returning these funds.

If you wish to review the Church Return Schedule, please visit the Conference Treasurer's Office in Melrose #101.

We have continued to keep before the CFA the proposal Bud Wrisley made at the 2001 Annual Conference. You may remember that Bud asked for a two-year payout plan which would result in more churches getting some of their money sooner. Some churches would benefit from a partial payment, but others would not benefit if they need a full distribution in order to accomplish their ministry goals. After our discussions, the CFA voted to stay with the payout plan currently in place, but agreed to review the plan again in 2005. That is when we estimate will be at the point of returning funds to churches at the $15,000 level.

The CFA is continuing in its efforts to work with the Conference Board of Trustees to reevaluate the Jubilee Fund investment strategy and management policy. One example of this would be the question: Is it prudent to continue with a 7% payout for ministry grants and returns to local churches?

CFA Response to Board of Pensions Health Care Benefits Proposal

Yesterday afternoon, you heard the report from the Board of Pensions regarding the health care benefits proposals before this Annual Conference. Dan Gara provided some of the history behind this issue, Judy Cobb explained the exacting work of the Health Care Task Force, and Bud Wrisley carefully walked us through the two present proposals - the "blue" 55% plan and the "tan" 80% plan. Let me briefly recap the history of this concern from the CFA perspective.

At the Council on Finance and Administration meeting in March 2001, after the budget hearings, the CFA was very concerned about the rapidly rising cost of the health insurance subsidy for retired clergy and spouses, and the resulting rise of $266,034 (15.12%) in the Pensions and Benefit Funding line item proposed in the 2002 apportioned budget. The Board of Pensions shared this concern, and on the floor of the 2001 Annual Conference "requested Bishop Swenson appoint a task force on post-retirement medical benefits" [2001 Journal, p. D-26] to prepare recommendations for the Board of Pensions and the Annual Conference. Representatives from the CFA were included on the Task Force.

At the March 2002 CFA meeting, after the budget hearings, the CFA remained increasingly concerned about the $615,789 (30.39%) increase in the apportioned budget request from the Board of Pensions for 2003. This was more than double the previous year=s request. The level of concern that the issue must be faced and addressed, resulted in Resolution No. 79 being submitted by the CFA to direct action by the Task Force and the Board of Pensions.

Higher than expected insurance costs in 2002 resulted in the Board of Pensions ending the year with a deficit of $287,745. In addition, the deficit was expected to rise further in 2003. The proposed changes in the health care plan for retired clergy and spouses did not appear to the CFA to be sufficient to solve the problem, so the Cabinet, Leadership Team, and the CFA agreed to ask the Task Force and the Board of Pensions to reconsider their proposal and bring modifications to address what was now considered a crisis. Meetings with members of the CFA, Board of Pensions, Leadership Team, and the Task Force resulted in a variety of proposals to bring a budget request forward at the March 2003 budget hearings that would do three things: (1) correct the 2002 deficit, (2) address the expected 2003 deficit, and (3) pay for the expected 2004 health insurance increase, without increasing the 2004 Board of Pensions and Benefit Funding apportionment request above the 2003 level.

At the CFA meeting preceding the budget hearings this year (2003), the Task Force chair, the Conference Benefits Officer, and the newly-seated Board of Pensions chair thoroughly discussed with the CFA (1) the Task Force's deliberations, (2) a detailed spread sheet of financial estimates based upon on a 45/55% recommended split in the medicare supplement premium costs, and (3) approval of the recommendation by the Board of Pensions. The CFA members appreciated the tremendous work of the Task Force, and the Board of Pensions, to bring forward a budget request within the guidelines requested by the CFA. The budget request was deemed prudent, financially responsible, and responsive to the financial situations in our local churches affecting apportionment payments.

The CFA acknowledges that there is no easy or painless answer to solve the health care crisis affecting our country, and facing our Annual Conference. However, the more critical issue is the overall financial vitality of the Annual Conference. This Conference is attempting to maintain a fixed C or even an increasing overhead C with a decreasing membership and diminished financial resources. At some point this breaks down. The crisis point arose in the area of health care costs, but this is only a happenstance. A crisis was bound to occur somewhere. The issue is not solely confined to the excessive demands of one budget item, but the lack of a comprehensive financial plan in our Annual Conference, and the lack of resources to satisfy our desires or expectations for ministry.

We were all caught up in the Spirit as we heard the dynamic preaching of Bishop McKenzie yesterday. I especially took note when she said, "Resources are limited, but the Lily comes back!" Friends, the resources are limited, and I truly believe the Lily comes back, but it does so when it is fed and watered and nurtured by every church paying its apportionments 100%. That will be a reality when there is a climate of trust in our church leaders, when there is a sense of support for ministries at the local church level, and when there is a shared vision for our mutual ministries beyond the local church.

Our financial distress has been exposed by the health care costs, but the CFA wants to work toward a solution to the problem of our Conference's overall financial health. To that end, the CFA is pleased to hear the Leadership Team's commitment to "intense action" in the area of "sharing our common wealth." We call on them to address this concern by working in close partnership with the CFA to develop a long term solution. More specifically, we would ask the Leadership Team to suggest specific (and perhaps painful) ways to increase human and financial resources, and/or reduce program and staff expenditures. While it is good that the Leadership Team has promised to do this, and report to the 2004 Annual Conference, the CFA needs this information by the time we hold the 2004 budget hearings for the 2005 Apportioned Budget next March. Furthermore, the CFA would hope that these discussions would find a way to lower the 45% share of health care costs being asked of the retired clergy.

2004 Conference Budget

Hearings for the 2004 Conference Budget were held on March 7, and the CFA diligently worked to prepare a reduced budget for 2004. This was in keeping with our desire to avoid the kind of 8.66% increase that was proposed last year, which you graciously voted to adopt without adjustment. Last year's increase provided for the new Assistant to the Bishop position, and was intended as a one-time only way to deal with the increased cost of retired clergy and spouse health care benefits. Because the CFA was deeply concerned about last year's increase, we wanted to reduce the 2004 Apportioned Budget by 5%. We were able to come close, and the results of our work are found in the last two columns on p. 29 of the Preliminary Report.

On behalf of the Council on Finance and Administration, I present the following recommendations *(*p. 28 of the Preliminary Report) for the 2004 Apportioned Budget:

I move the adoption of the: World Service Apportionment of $1,372,777, and the Conference Benevolence Apportionment of $3,212,253, for a combined total of $4,585,030. (Recommendation No. 1)

I move the adoption of the: Ministerial Support Apportionment of $5,605,511. (Recommendation No. 2)

I move the adoption of the: Administration Apportionment of $2,015,354. (Recommendation No. 3)

I move the adoption of the: Other General Conference Apportioned Benevolences of $829,549. (Recommendation No. 4)

I move the adoption of the: Special Days and Causes as follows . . . (Recommendation No. 5)

Youth Service Fund ($4 per youth member) - $31,964; Christian Education Sunday - $23,000; Cooperative Advertising Fund - $10,000; Ethinic Minority Local Church - $18,000; Hunger Appeal - $22,000; AIDS Ministry - $15,000; Peace with Justice - $28,000.

Special Days and Causes Total $147,094

This proposed Apportioned Budget for 2004 totals $13,035,444. This represents a 3.7% decrease from 2003, or a dollar amount of $500,899 less than last year.

Staff Recognition

We continue to have great confidence in Dan Gara, our Executive Director of Finance and Administration. We have reviewed the scope of his work, received a report from him as to his professional goals, and we are convinced that his skills, abilities, knowledge, and quality of leadership in this executive position are outstanding. The CFA would also like to recognize Dan's support staff - particularly Joyce Zirkle and Kevin Stern - who continue to serve our Conference well with their professional skill, personal grace, and good humor.

I want to call on Dan Gara at this time for a special recognition [Josie Reeves' retirement after working for our Conference since 1971].

Personal Recognition

Finally, I want to express my gratitude to the members of the CFA, my colleagues and others, who continue to empathize with our situation while they encourage and support my leadership as President of the Council.

Foundation, California-Pacific United Methodist

The primary task of the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation is to invest assets for local churches, church-related agencies, Districts and the Annual Conference. Our investor family includes 113 local churches, six Districts, six church-related agencies and the Annual Conference.

In an extremely difficult market, the Foundation has continued to outperform its benchmark (the Standard and Poor's 500). The S&P 500 experienced a negative 22 percent in 2002; the Foundation experienced a negative 13 percent. We appreciate those churches and agencies that trust in the disciplined, long-term investment philosophy of the Foundation. During 2002, the Foundation received $2.3 million in new investment money. In that same year, distributions were made in the amount of $5.2 million. The majority of the distributions were sent to fund mission and ministry; however, $572,000 of those distributions was attributed to churches that moved their investment relationship elsewhere.

In addition to its investment responsibilities, the Foundation plays an important role in the grant-making process of the Annual Conference. Many of the funds designated for program grants are held by the Foundation. Working in cooperation with the Connectional Ministries Team, the Foundation Board reviews all applications and makes fiduciary determinations regarding the grants. The Board also reviews evaluations of each grant-winning project. The Foundation also provides the administrative support for the Y.S. Mae Evangelism grants.

In addition, the Foundation provides training and resources, primarily for local churches, in establishing and/or building endowment. During 2002, over 75 percent of Foundation staff time was devoted to consultations with local churches regarding endowment ministry. Staff also conducted estate planning seminars and wills workshops in local churches, and the Foundation provided churches with resources to continue the post-seminar education process. In addition, staff has consulted with individuals and their attorneys in the gift planning process.

A full copy of the Foundation's Annual Report, which includes the results of our external audit, is available through the Foundation office.

We are grateful for the Foundation team: Executive Director Jan C. Berentsen, Bookkeeper Daniel Nign III and Administrative Assistant Sara Poindexter. They carry out the tasks of the Foundation with a high level of energy and cheerful hearts. On behalf of the Board, I encourage you to contact them to help with your church's endowment and investment needs.

Gammon Theological Seminary

Gammon Theological Seminary founded in 1883 is one of 13 accredited United Methodist seminaries in The United States. It is located at 653 Beckwith Street in Atlanta, Georgia. Gammon was established by The Methodist Episcopal Church in connection with Clark University.

The mission of Gammon Theological Seminary in partnership with the Interdenominational Theological Center is to recruit, support and educate pastors and leaders for the United Methodist Church.

Ninety-two United Methodist students are enrolled in graduate/post graduate degree programs from Africa, Asia and the United States. Thirty-three students are enrolled in the CPTS program in cooperation with Claflin and Dillard Universities.

The interdisciplinary curriculum offers a holistic educational experience, integrating theological studies with preparation for the ministry. 160 courses fall into four major areas of study: Biblical Studies and Languages; Philosophy, Theology, Ethics and History; Persons, Society and Culture; and The Church and Its Mission. A variety of classes, many of which actively engage students in the ecumenical and multicultural environment on campus and in the community beyond; they encounter a preview of the diversity they will discover in serving congregations and communities after graduation.

Gammon/ITC is fully accredited by The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada and by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The alumni of Gammon Theological Seminary serve the community and larger society as bishops, pastors, counselors, professors, government officials, denominational executives, campus ministers, chaplains, college administrators clinical pastoral counselors and community leaders.

The Kleist Challenge Grant is a two million dollar fundraising campaign. It is designed to raise funds for renovation and updating the Gammon Hall facility. Alumni, friends, and local churches are encouraged to help raise $250,000 needed to meet the challenge grant offered by the Kleist Foundation.

Gammon embarks upon the twenty-first century with a vision that honors its historic mission and embraces its promising future.

Global Ministries, Board of God's people and God's Mission through Jesus Christ is alive and well. The economy and international conflicts have changed the shape of many ministries. Nevertheless, the mission of God's work continues unabated.

We have sent people mission trips to Nigeria and Mexico, to Vietnam and Russia, to the Deep South and to Native American reservations. We have supported dozens of full time missionaries, though some have had to change plans and location. The General Board of Global Ministries have made huge staff cuts because of changes in giving and stock market income, but is making changes in ways that are the least harmful to employees and the most supportive of ongoing mission.

One of the things I love most about this Annual Conference is the collection of cultures and languages, tribes and peoples in our boundaries. We have the gift and responsibility of ministry with so many different ethnic groups and languages. We have many churches that reflect the changes of the make-up of their communities, while many others are still learning this lesson.

We send people to other countries to do ministry, but we can also do international ministries just by walking out of our front doors!

Each year the Conference Board of Global Ministries supports local ministries for human needs, by distributing around $200,000 in block grant money to the districts. It is up to the districts to determine how those grants are allocated. It is a great honor to hear the stories of so many human needs ministries that exist in each of our districts.

I strongly encourage each church to find a place of hands-on ministry. You support these ministries through your apportionments already and the power and meaning of these gifts multiply radically when your mind and heart and energy and skills are engaged in serving people face to face.

I encourage each church to explore missions through the Annual Conference Missions Luncheon, and Mission Festival, and through personal contact with any of the CBGM personnel found in your Journal. Become personally involved in supporting an individual missionary or project, and you will want to give to overflowing to support the people you love.

When you are personally involved in the missions of your church, your community, and the world, even your apportionments will begin to feel much less like a burden and much more like "Mutual Mission" giving that we agree together to support in love.

Please search out that one person who serves or is being served, that one project that you can adopt and love, and then lift up those people and those systems in prayer to Jesus Christ who called us from the start to "Go and make disciples…."

Joint Commission for Church Extension and Cooperation Between Mexico and the United States

The United Methodist Joint Commission for Church Extension and Cooperation Between Mexico and the United States, created by and responsible to the Conference Board of Global Ministries, struggled in 2002 fulfill commitments to scholarships for students and salary subsidies for pastors, because of a serious loss of interest income from endowment funds. Fortunately, the number of individual donors to the Joint Commission worked in the Northwest Conference of the Methodist Church of Mexico in 2002 numbered 35, an increase of 15 over the previous year. Also, the number of churches supporting work in the Northwest Conference increased from 27 to 33, with two districts and five UMW units also contributing. The Rev. James Oliver and Mary Zambrano led workshops for the UMW Schools of Mission, which, along with the Church-Wide Mission Study on Mexico, led to contributions that enabled the Commission to keep Fall funding commitments. Sister Church projects and Work Teams also helped fill the funding gap. At the last meeting of 2002, the Rev. John Giffin, pastor of Chula Vista: First, was elected President of the Joint Commission for the 2003 Conference year, and in accepting this role of leadership, spoke of how "The Love of Jesus Christ Knows No Border." The Rev. Wesley Neal, pastor of Santee UMC, was elected the U.S. Vice-President.

Brian Kent

Hawaii District Superintendent

"You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hid. No one after lighting a lamp puts it under the bushel basket, but on the lamp stand, and it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to God in heaven. " Matthew 5:14-16 NRSV

On a recent March evening, more than fifty persons, most of them United Methodists, stood on a street corner in Honolulu with candles shining brightly in the dark night. A brief rain shower was passing, but the gusts of wind and showers could not put out the flames nor daunt those who held them. They were part of a candlelight vigil for peace, being held all around the globe that day. Their good works were giving glory to God.

As I write this report for the Hawaii District, we seem to be surrounded by darkness. Since about 1990, beginning with the war in Kuwait, the economy in the state of Hawaii, Guam and the Northern Mariana Islands, based largely on the tourism industry, has been very depressed. A slight upward movement began in the year 2001, and things looked hopeful. Then came the shock of 9/11/01, and tourism and the island economies again fell. Any small gains that followed were sunk even further when Enron and Worldcom and other large groups folded under mismanagement and the stock market plummeted, taking church investments with it. We are now in a suppressed economy that affects our jobs, our retirement plans, our ability to support our families, and to give to our churches.

We are told that a war will be even more devastating to our tourism economy. These are indeed times that "try one's soul"...and one's faith! How easy to believe in the promises of God when things are going well! When life gets difficult, however, is when the depth of our faith is made evident. As a church, we are called to proclaim God's dominion, God's power, God's rule, and God's ultimate victory in all that we do. And so we do not lose hope, for even in the darkest of days our faith is being renewed and strengthened day by day. I am reminded of the words of Toyohiko Kagawa: "It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness. "

We were inspired to allow the fire of the Holy Spirit to burn in a powerful message from pastors Gary Barbaree and Piula Ala'ilima at our annual leadership training event. As we work together as the Hawaii District, we remember that Christ is the light of the world, and that light has and will overcome all darkness. That light, that torch, has been passed to us. We must not conform to the darkness and despair of this world, but rather we must transform the darkness with a light that shines so brightly that even the darkest corner is illumined.

The light was bright this year as the first harvest of sweet yams and taro from our Hawaii Economic Development Project were presented. This beginning success is a joy for a project that has been planned for over five years as a way to help our Pacific Islanders feed their families and eventually have a way to earn a living. District Division of Church and Society now sponsor this project, begun by Kilohana UMC.

Another light has been the progress of First L.A.P. (Life After Prison), begun by Pacific Islanders UMC as a residential program for those on early release or parole from prison, to help them find ways to stay clean and sober, to find jobs, and to realize hope for a better way of life.

Bishop Swenson was keynote speaker as we celebrated the chartering of KamNam Korean UMC in Honolulu on January 19. KamNam was a former Korean mission start-up ministry. The completion of the education building for Olive UMC has brought light to the central Oahu area, and will be dedicated by Bishop Swenson on April 23. And Trinity UMC completed "phase two": a large covered lanai to be used for fellowship and feasts.

A few of the many ways we have tried to keep the flame alive: In March, our District Division of Church and Society sponsored an evening honoring Dot and the Rev. Bob Bobilin for their ministry to Hawaii, especially in founding the Hawaii Coalition Against Legalized Gambling. Their hard work has enabled Hawaii to remain as one of only two states with no legalized gambling. Our District Conference was held February 15, 2003, as we "connected the dots" of churches spread out on six islands. Also: Pacific Islanders Commission meeting at Kahuku UMC; Britt Lecture series with Dr. Beverly Robert Gaventa; workshop on "The Faith We Sing;" and the United Methodist Student Movement meeting at Wesley Foundation.

An emphasis on ministry to youth has led to special work being done through Christ UMC, Lahaina UMC, Kahuku UMC and First Tongan UMC, among others, with a focus on finding ways to help young people find alternatives to drugs and alcohol. Windward cluster churches have held quarterly youth events. Our District, which has its own YPC event, held it in conjunction with Hawaiian Islands Ministries in 2003. Our Young Adults have also been busy, especially through the Wesley Foundation, which again sponsored a Strength for the Journey retreat and Concrete Christ, an urban work camp experience.

The light is shining across the sea from Hawaii to California through the deployment of Conference staff. We began the deployment in February with the Rev. Fernando Santillana spending one week with us, exploring the possibility of beginning Latino ministries. Jim Conn, Leah Switzer and Keith Hwang will be sharing with us as the year progresses. Larry Hygh made his first visit to the Hawaiian Islands this March, and will visit the churches on Guam and Saipan in May as part of his desire as Director of Communications to know each of the churches in the California-Pacific Annual Conference.

One way we have been letting our light shine is in our Hawaii District Office. Our goal as the Hawaii District Office is to support the work of our churches and our pastors, assisting in ways that can help them in their ministry, and also to be responsible to the District Union. I have high praise for the hard work that has been done this past year by our HUMU chairperson, the Rev. William deBos; the HUMU budget chairperson, the Rev. Stanley Bain; our new HUMU treasurer, Rachel Stones, and finance committee; and our district office staff, Lorraine Kadooka and Leilani Zukemura, as we have worked together to make necessary changes in office procedures. We are reordering several of our financial procedures in order to be responsible to the members of our district union board of directors (HUMU), and to the members of our local churches. To give added assistance, we have contracted with a CPA consultant to provide services and training, and have hired a local firm to perform our audit and review services.

An obvious change is the new job descriptions, which have been in place since July 1, 2002. We currently have two full time staff positions in the district office, the position of District Administrative Assistant and the position of District Financial Officer.

The District Administrative Assistant, Leilani Zukemura, is the person who greets those coming into the district office, answers the telephone and directs calls, provides support for the District Superintendent, assists a volunteer with Ka Leo Mekokiko (the district newsletter, published monthly, eleven times a year), provides assistance to program ministries of the district, updates annually the district directory, and performs a myriad of other necessary tasks to help our churches and pastors.

In the new position of District Financial Officer, Lorraine Kadooka works with the District Superintendent (Executive Secretary of the District Union) with responsibility for the financial accounting for the district, as well as overseeing all insurance matters for church property and personnel, and coordinating travel to Annual Conference. The "District Finance Office" was opened in a room formerly used as the media center.

The Rev. Bob Lott continues as part-time director of the media resources of the district, and is often in the office on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Alvin Maeda has been faithful volunteer for our office for many years, and continues helping in many needed ways. Other part-time assistance comes from Claire Sanpei with bookkeeping, Carl Sato with insurance, Tyler Pottenger as our District Chancellor, Carole Ayakawa as our travel agent, Marilyn van Geison as newsletter editor, and Tom Moore as our "computer guy." Our District Union membership in the Hawaii Employers' Council (HEC) allows our local churches to have access to various resources, such as over-the-phone consultants, training workshops, books, assistance with the development of personnel policies and job descriptions, sexual harassment guides, and disaster response materials.

If you visit the Hawaii District Office, you might notice some other changes. The United Methodist Men graciously painted the main office, the workroom, and the finance office. The carpet was cleaned in all offices. Plants were donated. Electric wires, cable and telephones have been upgraded. The toll-free telephone number to the Conference Center (1-800-244-8622) can now be used by all areas of our District, with the exception of Saipan and Guam. Our District Website is being updated. Through the support of our new Conference Director of Communications, Larry Hygh, "Saipan" has been added to the Circuit West masthead, and Circuit West is now received in a timely manner.

The office of District Superintendent benefited greatly from the assistance of the Rev. Stanley Bain as assistant to the District Superintendent, who served for six months in a ten hours per week status. This help was very important, as the superintendent's job description necessitates being away from the office a minimum of one week per month, in addition to traveling throughout the islands of the district.

Another way we allow our light to shine is through maintaining the connection with local churches and clergy through our district e-groups: hawaii_dist_clergy@yahoogroups.com for all District clergy, inc. retired, extension ministries, etc., and appt_hiumc_clergy@yahoogroups.com for those clergy under appointment to churches in our district. We plan to expand these groups through a connection with UMCOM, as well as to continue updating our district web site: http://hawaiipacificmethodists.org. Word from the Conference is that they will have us connected with California via video conferencing within the coming year, enabling us to "attend and participate" in a meeting while remaining in Hawaii!

Struggles with finances in our local churches and in our District have tried to dim the light of Christ. Rising insurance and travel costs coupled with losses on investment income have caused serious and difficult decisions to be made affecting neighbor island travel, travel to Annual Conference, outreach ministries such as church-owned day care and preschools, and program ministries in our district. Members of Honolulu: First, its pastors and the superintendent fought valiantly before the City and County of Honolulu to maintain the autonomy of the church against a leasehold conversion law, and lost. What this will mean for future ministries of this church are not yet known. What is known is that though the light sometimes grows dim, we must not let it go out!

Guam felt the power of two tremendous typhoons this past year. Chata'an hit Guam on July 5. The people of Guam UMC rallied to help those who had lost everything throughout the island, and used their time to hand out drinking water, distribute food, assess damage. Then came Super typhoon Pongsana in December, and caused total devastation. As a District we are thankful to the help received from UMCOR as well as from local churches and individuals to aid in the recovery. We are also thankful to Rev. Donna Faith Eldredge and members of Guam UMC for their courage and perseverance in these difficult times. Even in the total darkness of electricity-deprived Guam, the light still shone. A message that came from Donna Faith, "Some people "wish upon a star" -- I've always wished upon the moon...or rather, prayed...when I think of loved ones half way around the globe, when I pray for family and friends across the Pacific, when I give thanks for the connection that means so much to the United Methodist Church...I am reminded that every person brought to mind and lifted in prayer sees the same moon that I do."

Wanting to shine light in areas of conflict within our churches, persons from our district have been trained in conflict resolution/mediation skills, and are planning to offer this training for our clergy and laity. Realizing that there can be no peace in our world unless we find ways to have peace within our own hearts and work to have peace within our churches, we are trying to plan ways in which we can learn how to listen to one another and appreciate and respect the various cultural traditions within the United Methodist churches of our district.

Going a step beyond, United Methodists are participating in ecumenical and interfaith organizations, such as Faith Action for Community Equity (FACE), the Open Table (dialog and discussion between various dimensions of faith perspectives), and the newly developing The Interfaith Alliance (TIA) which hopes to carry of the work of the former Hawaii Council of Churches. Work with Native Hawaiian issues continues in the annual week-long vigil on Kaho'olawe, the sacred Hawaiian island formerly used for bombing practice by U.S. military, and also in the annual work camp at Siloama Church, the Protestant church begun 135 years ago by victims of Hansen's disease in Kalawao (Moloka'i) even before Father Damien started his mission work with victims of the disease.

We celebrate the light that shines from our sisters and brothers who came from Korea one hundred years ago. What began as a local celebration of the first Koreans coming to Hawaii was expanded to a national event with the realization that when the first immigrants stepped off the ship in Hawai'i, they also became the first to set foot on American soil. The first group of 102 Korean immigrants to arrive in Honolulu disembarked from the ship Gaelic on January 13, 1903. Fifty-two of these persons were already Methodists. Establishing places of worship was one of their first objectives. The celebration continues throughout this year, with emphasis on events April 24-27, and in November 2003 at Christ UMC. The superintendent was fortunate to travel to Korea this past April to learn about the Methodist churches and ministries of Korea. Other anniversary celebrations include Guam UMC's 30th anniversary, ten years since the founding of Immanuel UMC, Saipan, and the 25th anniversary of the beginning of Tongan language ministries in Hawaii. There are now over 1700 Tongan United Methodists in Hawaii.

We honor the military chaplains serving in our Hawaii District: Sam Tucker, Hector Colon, Paul Foreman, Dave Hodge, Nestor Nazario, Albert Ghergich and Glenn Scheib, as they bring hope and healing to those serving in the armed forces. We also honor Toshi Yamamoto, missionary to Japan, who was recently elected general secretary of the National Council of Churches of Japan (NCCJ), and Dick Millspaugh, chaplain at Boone Hospital Center in Columbia, Missouri, who received the Anton T. Boisen Professional Service Award from the Association of Professional Chaplains.

Among the clergy of our District, we have celebrated the marriage of Joyce Lolohea (daughter of Taike and Fai'ana Lolohea) and Mava'e Latu; and Keleni Maile (daughter of Tevita and Losapina Maile) and Jamey Smythe. We rejoice at the births of Emily Morley (parents are Bob and Isla Morley), Jolie M. Miyake (granddaughter of Hidemi and Shoko Ito), John Karapani (grandson of Misi and Leva Karapani), Iwato Joshua Sato (parents are Yuji and Hiroka), Micah James Latu (parents are Joyce and Mava'e Latu, grandparents are Taike and Fai'ana Lolohea), and birth of Julie Talmy (grandmother is Lorraine Kadooka).

We celebrate the life of those who have ended their course upon this earth and now are part of that great cloud of witnesses: Dr. Harry Komuro (6/4/02) and Pastor Tevita Siaosi (8/30/02); and we grieve with those who have lost loved ones: the Siofele family at the tragic death of son and brother, John; Isla Morley (father); Pastor Nuka Taukolo (mother); Nancy Edwards (mother), Tevita Moa (father); May Chun (mother), Angela Lim (mother); Bishop Mary Ann Swenson (mother).

We honor those who retired in 2002: Richard Matsushita and Hidemi Ito; and those planning to retire in 2003: James Wesley Beebe and Cecil Carl Johnson.

And we rejoice with those to be ordained this June as members in full connection (elders): Linita 'Ulu'ave Moa and Amy Wake, and commissioned as an associate member: Sinaipa Langi.

This is not a time to be discouraged, but rather to be empowered by the challenges that lie ahead. This is a time when our faith is tested, even tested by fire. May our light, God's light beaming through us, continue to shine throughout Hawaii, throughout Guam and Saipan, throughout the world! May they see our faith and our good works and give glory to God!

Health Insurance Plan (HIP)

July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004

INTRODUCTION

In an effort to find an equitable and compassionate solution to the fiscal crisis facing this Annual Conference because of the rising cost of providing health insurance for retired clergy, their spouses and dependents, the Conference Leadership Team has worked closely over the last few weeks with representatives from the Board of Pensions, the Health Insurance Task Force, the Council on Finance and Administration, the retired clergy, and other interested parties. Working together, we have crafted a proposal that invites all of us to "bear one another's burdens and thus fulfill the law of Christ."

Under this plan, retired clergy will still be asked to bear a portion of the cost of their health insurance, although this portion will be considerably lower than the 45% share required by the original Board of Pensions proposal. Active clergy, retirees who do not participate in the Conference Health Insurance Plan, and the laity who attend our local churches and ministries will also be asked to bear a portion of the total expense. The remainder of the costs will be covered by asking the Annual Conference to forego the 3.7% decrease in apportionments proposed by the Council on Finance and Administration and – if necessary – by diverting Jubilee Fund monies scheduled for distribution as grants during 2003 and 2004 to this purpose.

We offer this proposal to the Annual Conference as a short-term remedy for the project budget shortfall of $1.3 million confronting us for the period between July 1, 2003 and December 31, 2004. Recognizing that the real problem is much larger than what we can address here, we commit ourselves to use the next eighteenth months as a window of opportunity to look at global issues of resource allocation and to craft specific and workable long-term plans for addressing them.

It is in this spirit, that we move the following amendments to the proposed health insurance plan being brought to this Annual Conference by the Board of Pensions.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 1

The California-Pacific Annual Conference requests the Council on Finance and Administration to modify its proposed budget for 2004 to maintain total apportionment askings at a level equal to 2003. The additional funds are to be used for the purpose of paying health insurance premiums for retired clergy, spouses and dependents participating in the Conference Health Insurance Plan for the period of July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004.

Adopted by Annual Conference - Plenary 7, July 20, 2003

RECOMMENDATION NO. 2

The California-Pacific Annual Conference authorizes the Board of Pensions to create and solicit contributions to the "Cal-Pac Retirees' Healthcare Supplement Fund", which will be used for the purpose of paying health insurance premiums for retired clergy, spouses and dependents participating in the Conference Health Insurance Plan for the period of July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004. Contributions to the fund will be solicited from the following and other sources:

1. A voluntary confidential monthly contribution from all active clergy of 1% of their monthly salary, understood to include the sum of the base salary line item in the budget of the salary-paying organization (local church or otherwise) and of that portion of any housing and/or furnishing allowances exceeding $1,500 per month. (Active clergy from whom contributions will be solicited include all appointed active clergy in the California-Pacific Annual Conference except clergy on any leave of absence, incapacity leave, sabbatical, or attending school full-time. In addition, less than full-time Local Pastors and Student Local Pastors will be excluded.) These contributions will be solicited in the form of a special asking from each local congregation or salary-paying unit. If authorized in writing by the clergy person, the sum will be deducted from the pastor's monthly paycheck and forwarded to the Board of Pensions office.
2. A voluntary monthly contribution from all retired clergy not participating in the Health Insurance Plan of 1% of the total pension received from MPP by them from the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits of The United Methodist Church.

Adopted by Annual Conference – Plenary 9, July 21, 2003

RECOMMENDATION NO. 3

The California-Pacific Annual Conference authorizes a special offering to be held in each local congregation at least once before December 31, 2004, the proceeds of which shall be deposited in the "Cal-Pac Retirees' Healthcare Supplement Fund," which will be used for the purpose of paying health insurance premiums for retired clergy, spouses and dependents participating in the Conference Health Insurance Plan for the period of July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004. The goal for this offering is $100,000.

Adopted by Annual Conference – Plenary 9, July 21, 2003

RECOMMENDATION NO. 4

Philosophy:

It is the intent of the California-Pacific Annual Conference (Conference) to provide access to cost effective medical insurance for active clergy, and retired clergy members who served at least 10 of the last 15 years prior to retirement as a member under Episcopal appointment in this Conference, consistent with sound fiscal policies followed by the Conference and local churches responsible for funding the HIP. Conference and local church lay employees may participate in the HIP subject to the rules of their respective employers.

Health Insurance Plans:

- Active clergy Health Management Organization (HMO)
- Active clergy out of HMO area Preferred Provider Organization (PPO)
- Retired clergy HMO
- Retired Medicare Supplement PPO (out of HMO area)

Eligibility and Participation:

Active Clergy:

1. Clergy - Every eligible active clergy member under Episcopal Appointment in this Conference, including full, probationary, associate, local pastors and members of another denomination or conference, must be enrolled in the active clergy HIP, except where equivalent coverage is available under a spouse's group plan, or an individual plan (allowable only if the clergy's language needs could not be met under the HIP-Res. #38, 1994). The premium for active clergy HIP is the responsibility of the local church or salary paying unit.
   a. Incapacity Leave - Clergy appointed to incapacity leave are eligible and must be enrolled in the HIP. The premium for clergy appointed to incapacity leave is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.
   b. Family Leave, Leave of Absence, Sabbatical Leave, Appointed to School - Clergy appointed to any of these categories are eligible and may participate in the HIP. The premium is at the participant's sole cost.
2. Clergy Spouse and Dependent Children - Clergy spouse and unmarried dependent children under the age of 18, to age 24 if a full time student (12 or more units), or disabled, providing such disabled person(s) are not eligible for Medicare, Medi-Cal or other government sponsored healthcare programs are eligible to participate in the HIP. The premium for active clergy spouse and unmarried dependent children is the responsibility of the local church or salary paying unit.
3. Surviving Spouse and Dependent Children - If an active clergy covered under the HIP dies, the surviving spouse and dependent children of that clergy person are eligible and may choose to participate in the HIP.
   a. The subsidy for the surviving spouse and dependent children is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions and will be 100% for 24 months from July 1, 2003, if a surviving spouse as of June 30, 2003, or from the first month after the date of clergy person's death if after June 30, 2003.
   b. Beginning the 25th month after clergy person's death, surviving spouse and dependent children coverage may be continued through the HIP with a subsidy from the Board of Pensions at the same amount as is applicable to retired clergy described in Retired Clergy section 3 below.
   c. If Surviving Spouse Remarries - If the surviving spouse remarries, he/she and the dependent children are no longer eligible for health insurance benefits through the HIP.
4. Divorced Spouse - The divorced spouse of an active clergy is no longer eligible for HIP subsidy. (See exception in Financial section below.) The divorced spouse of an active clergy may participate in the HIP at the participant's sole cost.

Retired Clergy:

1. Clergy - A retired clergy member who retires with 35 years of service in the United Methodist Church or at age 62 or later, and who has served at least 10 years of the last 15 years prior to retirement as a member of this Conference under Episcopal Appointment is eligible to participate in the HIP. (See exception in Financial section below.) The subsidy for the retired clergy HIP is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions. The Bishop and the cabinet may recommend to the Board of Pensions that the 10 year rule be waived for greater effectiveness in the general itinerancy and recruitment in the Cal-Pac Annual Conference.

a. Medicare Eligible - All retiree HIP subsidies are calculated based on Medicare eligibility and participation in Medicare Part B.
b. Not Medicare Eligible - Retirees who are not Medicare eligible may participate in the active clergy HIP, but may receive a lesser subsidy than the retirees who are Medicare eligible, as described in the Financial section below.

2. Spouse - The spouse of an eligible clergy must have been married to the retired clergy at the date of retirement to be eligible to participate in the HIP. The subsidy for the retired clergy spouse who is participating in the HIP is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.
   a. Medicare Eligible - Spouse HIP subsidies are calculated based on Medicare eligibility and participation in Medicare Part B.
   b. Not Medicare Eligible - spouses who are not Medicare eligible may participate in the active clergy HIP, but may receive a lesser dollar subsidy than the spouses who are Medicare eligible, as described in the Financial section below.
3. Surviving Spouse - The eligible surviving spouse may participate in the HIP. The subsidy for the retired clergy surviving spouse participating in the HIP is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.
   a. Medicare Eligible - Surviving spouse HIP subsidies are calculated based on Medicare eligibility and participation in Medicare Part B.
   b. Not Medicare Eligible - Surviving spouse who are not Medicare eligible may participate in the active clergy HIP, but may receive a lesser dollar subsidy than the surviving spouses who are Medicare eligible, as described in the Financial section below.
   c. Surviving Spouse Remarries - If a surviving spouse remarries, he/she is no longer eligible for HIP subsidy.
4. Divorced Spouse - The divorced spouse of a retired clergy is no longer eligible for HIP subsidy. (See exception in Financial section below.) The divorced spouse of a retired clergy may participate in the HIP at the participant's sole cost. The Cabinet and the Bishop may recommend to the Board of Pensions that a divorced clergy spouse may be allowed to continue to be eligible for Conference HIP subsidy.
5. Dependent Children - Dependent children of an eligible clergy must be dependent at the date of clergy's retirement and unmarried, under the age of 18, to age 24 if a full time student (12 units or more), or disabled and not eligible for Medicare, Medi-Cal or other government sponsored healthcare programs are eligible to participate in the HIP and receive subsidy. If the retired clergy's dependent children are disabled and Medicare or Medi-Cal eligible, the dependent children may participate in the HIP at the participant's sole cost.

Financial:
The Board of Pensions is responsible for selecting the insurance company(s) and all of the terms and benefit coverage for the active clergy HIP and the retired clergy HIP.

Active Clergy
The local church or salary paying unit is responsible for payment of the health insurance premium for the active and retired clergy and family that is appointed to that local church or salary paying unit.

Incapacity Leave
Clergy appointed to incapacity leave must be enrolled in the HIP. The premium for clergy appointed to incapacity leave is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.

Family Leave, Leave of Absence, Sabbatical Leave, Appointed to School
Clergy appointed to any of these categories may participate in the HIP. The premium is the participant's sole cost.

Retirees
The Board of Pensions is responsible for subsidizing a portion of the health insurance premiums of the HIP for retirees as described below.

The Board of Pensions subsidy of the retiree's health insurance premium will depend upon the extent of coverage, age, location of the retiree's residence, dependents, Medicare eligibility and any other factors deemed reasonable and fair by the Board of Pensions.

The retiree is responsible for paying the unsubsidized portion of the health insurance premiums of the HIP.

The Board of Pensions is under no obligation to subsidize any health insurance premiums for retirees unless specifically provided for below and reserves the right to recommend changes in the level of subsidization (see Changes and Amendments to the HIP).

Beginning July 1, 2003, the Board of Pensions subsidies shall be as follows:

1. For retired clergy, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children who are on the HIP at June 30, 2003, and who retired prior to 1982, the Board of Pensions will subsidize 100% of the HIP health insurance premium.
2. For eligible retired clergy, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children, as defined in Retired Clergy sections 1- 5 above, and who retired after 1981, the Board of Pensions will subsidize a portion of the HIP health insurance premium, with the insured responsible for paying the unsubsidized portion as follows (Please reference #3 below as well):
   a. For those eligible persons who live within the California clergy HMO area, the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium in an amount equal to the California HMO premium rate, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150. (The participant pays $50.00 per person with a family maximum of $150.00. If the participant lives in the HMO area and is in the PPO plan, the additional cost per person of the difference between the HMO and the PPO will be added.)
   b. For those eligible persons who live in Hawaii, the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount not greater than the actual premium rate, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150. (The participant pays $50.00 per person with a family maximum of $150.00.)
   c. For those eligible persons who live outside of the Conference HMO area, the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount equal to the actual premium rate, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150. (The participant pays $50.00 per person with a family maximum of $150.00.)
3. Not Medicare Eligible: If the retiree, spouse or surviving spouse is not eligible to receive Medicare or does not participate in Medicare Part B, the subsidy will be reduced by the amount of the Medicare Part B premium that is required to be paid by those eligible participants who are on Medicare and described in section 2 immediately above. (The 2003 rate is $58.70. The 2004 rate will change if and when the Medicare Part B rate changes.)
4. Less than 10 years of service or not otherwise eligible: Retirees, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children of clergy who either have or will retire prior to July 1, 2003 and have not been members of the Conference under Episcopal Appointment for at least 10 years of the last 15 years before retirement, or who are currently in the HIP, but will no longer be eligible for continued coverage under the rules described above, may participate in the HIP of the Conference as described below. (See exception in paragraph 5 below.)
   The Board of Pensions will subsidize the cost, consistent with the rules described in paragraph 4 immediately above, as follows:
   a. Beginning July 1, 2003 the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount equal to the actual premium, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150.
   b. Beginning January 1, 2004 the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount equal to the actual premium, less $100 per person, with a family maximum of $300.
   c. Retirees, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children of clergy who retire on or after July 1, 2003, and have not been a member of this Conference under Episcopal Appointment for at least 10 years of the last 15 years before retirement, may choose to participate in the HIP at their sole cost. (See exception in paragraph 5 below.)
5. The Bishop and the Cabinet may recommend exceptions in the paragraphs noted above to the Board of Pensions for greater effectiveness in the general itinerancy and recruitment in the Conference, either in the past, present or future and with other reasonable justification.

Delinquencies:

When a participant or salary paying unit is three (3) months in arrears of payment for the premiums required under their HIP, the participant and if appropriate, the salary paying unit and the District Superintendent shall be notified. The participant's HIP will be canceled at the beginning of the fifth (5th) month if all billed premiums have not been paid or otherwise satisfied.

Changes and Amendments to the HIP:

The Board of Pensions shall be authorized to recommend changes and amendments to the above as it deems reasonable and fair, subject to ratification of the Annual Conference at its next regularly scheduled meeting.

Adopted by Annual Conference - Plenary 7, July 20, 2003

RECOMMENDATION NO. 5
The California-Pacific Annual Conference directs that Jubilee Funds designated for Grants in 2003 and 2004 be held in reserve and authorizes their use to cover any shortfall in health insurance premium payments for retired clergy, their spouses, and their dependent participating in the Conference Health Insurance Plan for the period of July 1, 2003 through December 31, 2004. At the end of the period, the unused portion of these funds will be returned to the corpus of the Jubilee Funds to be used as originally specified in previous legislation. The Council of Finance and Administration will monitor the status of the income from its various sources and will bring a report to the 2004 Annual Conference with hope that the grant application process from the Jubilee fund can be reopened.
Adopted by Annual Conference - Plenary No. 9, July 21, 2003

Higher Education and Campus Ministries, Board of

The Board of Higher Education and Campus Ministries seeks to develop and give oversight to programs of ministry at institutions of higher learning within the geographical area of the California-Pacific Conference. It works to develop student leadership as well as student awareness of how faith can be a vital part of a college or university experience. In addition it seeks to engage itself with issues of higher education in the state of California and promote greater understanding of a Christian perspective on those issues.

In the past year new campus ministries have been developed under the leadership of Charlene Zuell at the University of Hawaii and Darlene Warren-Shapiro at Cal State University Northridge. An additional campus ministry on the Malibu/Pepperdine campus will be funded for at least the coming year.

The Board was saddened by the death last summer of Dan Towler, campus minister at Cal State University Los Angeles. He and his ministry will be sorely missed. The Board, however, will work to continue a Methodist presence on that campus.

The Board oversaw the distribution of many scholarships to students from various districts: from Hawaii, nine; Long Beach, nine; Pasadena, eighteen; San Diego, thirteen; Riverside, fourteen; Santa Ana, fourteen; Santa Barbara, eight; Los Angeles, nine.

In the coming year the Board will work on long-range planning issues. In the spring we will study Board Responsibilities and Process, laying out more clearly how we do our work as a Board, what the jobs of Board Members are, and how we can effectively choose and train Board members. We will also study how the Board can effectively engage issues of higher education, especially here in the state of California. In the fall we plan to study ways in which Campus Ministry itself may be further developed.

Hunger Committee

In November 2002, an article in the CIRCUIT WEST announced to local churches that they could apply for grants for their hunger ministries. Each application has to be signed by the District Superintendent in order to be processed. On February 8, 2003, the Hunger Committee considered 41 applications totaling requests for $83,160. Through the line item on the apportionments, "Hunger Appeal" and the 2002 Hunger Walk at Annual Conference, the Hunger fund rose up to $33,707.91.

The money was shared with the following grant recipients: Honolulu: First received $800 for their food bank and $400 for IHS dinners; Honolulu: Harris received $800 for "Harris Soup Ministry"; Maywood UMC received $300 for "Friendly Workers Sharing" program; Redondo Beach: St. Paul's received $800 for "NEEDS" project; San Pedro: First received $600 for "Sunday Nite Supper"; Zaferia Shalom Agency in Long Beach received $800 for their food pantry; United Ministry at USC received $1,000 for "A Community Place"; Los Angeles Trinidad received $800 for "Compardiendo"; Los Angeles: University Church - The Peace Center received $800 for "Food and Faithfulness" Peace Treck; UM-LAD Urban Ministries Committee received $2,000 for "L.A. District Food Connection Collaborative"; Crenshaw:

UMW received $800 for "UMW's Food Pantry"; Tujunga UMC received $800 for "Bailey Human Care Center - Food Cupboard"; Monrovia UMC received $500 for "Hope Kitchen"; Palmdale: First - Missions Team received $1,000 for their "Feeding Ministries"; Indio: First received $700 for "FISH of the Lower Coachella Valley"; Ontario: First received $1,000 for "Loaves and Fishes"; Banning UMC received $600 for "S.H.A.R.E."; El Cajon: First received $1,000 for "Bethlehem Food Pantry"; Borrego Springs: Community received $500 for "Food Distribution Program"; Imperial Beach UMC received $500 for "Hunger Outreach"; Julian: Community received $900 for "Mountain Manna"; Pacific Beach UMC received $800 for "Wednesday Nite Ministry"; Laguna Beach UMC received $1,000 for "Assisting the Hunger"; The Friendly Center, Inc. in Orange received $1,000 for "Emergency Food Assistance Program"; Anaheim: St. Mark's received $1,000 for "Caring and Sharing Breakfast Outreach and Food Pantry Distribution"; Atascadero Loaves and Fishes received $600 for "Feeding Hungry Families"; Reseda: First received $500 for its food pantry; Valencia UMC received $500 for "F.I.S.H."; Five Cities Meals on Wheels, Inc. in Shell Beach received $500 for "Focus on Food Emergency Food Pantry"; Lompoc: First received $600 for "Good Neighbor Snack Program"; Van Nuys: First received $500 for "Needy Family Food Basket Delivery"; Knollwood UMC received $400 for "Saturday Morning Breakfast Program"; California Church IMPACT received $5,000 for "Legislative News Alert".

The balance of $2,107.91 will be tapped into for mailings and hunger booth expenses in 2003.

Investigation, Committee on

The California-Pacific Annual Conference Committee on Investigation, being constituted as elected by the Conference, did not meet during 2002 because there were no complaints to investigate. We remain ready to fulfill our responsibility as determined by the Book of Discipline.

Korean Ministry, Council of

The Council serves the call from the Annual Conference to promote specific areas of the Korean ministry. The focus has been the same as in the past few years in terms of supporting the following generations, women clergy, laity and clergy leadership development. Within the limited budget, the Council has tried to address all the needs from the respective community, and it has undoubtedly been difficult to meet these needs. Other than financial needs, this immigrant community experience has different needs emerging from their ministries. These new emerging needs have been part of the new deliberations of the Council this year.

One of them has been around shared facilities. The Annual Conference has put considerable energy to address this challenge some years ago. Needless to say, shared facilities were a natural challenge for the connection with the diversity we have. And the diversity among us continues to grow and the need to address the challenges from shared facilities becomes bigger than ever. As part of a language group, the need for the Korean community to address this challenge has not become an old agenda. Instead, it continues to be a refreshing agenda, and the Council has begun to tackle this challenge by re-allocating resources, expanding networking among the churches in shared facility, and seeking renewed resolutions for the Korean churches and their partner/host churches. The Rev. Daniel Shin agreed to lead the community with an approved plan by the Council, and the plan is now implemented.

A better way to communicate has been an unending agenda for the Council. Recently the Circuit West, with Larry Hygh's leadership, has allotted a page in Korean. Editing and printing became part of the Council's deliberation, and the Rev. Jae Duk Lew and the Rev. Changmin Lee, the co-editors have been a wonderful team to update the Conference events and other news that the community must be apprised of. I am grateful for the gift and dedication of these editors and for those who have shared heartfelt stories of the ministry from their respective parishes. I believe this page, for the community, will play an important role to increase the efficiency of communication. The Council solicits stories of ministries around the Conference. They have been such an inspiration.

Among the many diverse groups within the Conference, there are bridge builders in a very specific way. The Korean community has the largest clergy members who serve in cross-cultural and cross-racial appointments. They are the ones on the frontline of the bridge building business. The opportunities and limits are unique for the appointments. And what they can bring to the life of the Conference in the future is enormous. The growth of cross-cultural appointments requires specific ways of community building, networking, leadership training, and visioning. The Rev. John Yoon at Del Rosa UMC has been serving this community as the chairperson, and I am so thankful for his passionate and team-spirited leadership for the group. The Council is very excited about their energy and creativity in this special call in the parishes of the conference. The support from the Council continues and the leadership gets stronger, and we are grateful for that.

The Council takes on another important emerging need/challenge for the community. The community is in greater need than ever for bridge building between the Annual Conference and the Korean UMC's. The level of participation of the Korean community in the Annual Conference should be increased. To address this challenge the Council, offers a forum where the Bishop and the Expanded Cabinet meet with the leaders of the congregations to visit the important business of the Conference such as program, grant, administrative matters, and apportionment. More than language, the history, culture, and value system of the community have to be put on the table for meaningful dialogue with the conference leadership. And the Council must play a leading role in providing the forum with cultural interpretation.

This community of the Council is composed of 17 members with few ex-officio. It meets 4-5 times a year to address the agenda mentioned above. The Council knows its limit and within that limit it strives to do its best for the need and potential of the Korean community. They believe the community has a lot to contribute to the larger church in many ways. Finding resources and commitment within the community will always be part of the deliberation of the Council to share hope, growth, and maturity for the larger church. The call is clear for the community. It is to be part of new creation as they are in Christ. (2 Corinthians 5:17) And we are grateful for the call.

Laity, Board of

The Board of Laity meets semi-annually and during the sessions of Annual Conference if time permits. Our fall meeting is a retreat and last fall we welcomed the new Conference staff members Larry Hygh, Director of Communications and Paul Cogger, Director of Facilities Management and heard of their visions for the ministries in which they are engaged. We held a service of remembrance in commemoration of the September 11th victims and completed our plans for the 2002 Lay Convocation to be held at Claremont School of Theology - the first time we would use a facility other than a local church.

Most of the Board's work is done throughout the year by committees, under leadership of the Conference Lay Leader, District Lay Leaders, and the Conference Director of Lay Speaking Ministries. Subsequent to a year's planning, our highest concentration of energy seems to be expended during Annual Conference when the entire Board works feverishly to conduct the Lay Orientation sessions, present the Laity Report, present the Laity Award in acknowledgement of outstanding work of lay persons in local churches, and host a Laity Banquet. We view these events as vital to our work to develop awareness of the role of lay persons in the Conference. During the 2002 Lay Orientation, we also dedicated time in memory of Ray West, San Diego District Lay Leader who died in 2002 while serving in that office.

Another coordinated effort the Board sponsors is the annual Lay Convocation held each year the day prior to Laity Sunday, held in 2002 at the Claremont School of Theology. The response was tremendous. Karen George (West Covina UMC, and former Pasadena District Lay Leader) served as Convocation Chairperson and worked hard to assure no detail was overlooked.

Dr. Elaine Amerson, Special Assistant to the President of Claremont School of Theology was the keynote speaker; music for the morning worship service was provided by the Sanctuary Choir from Claremont UMC. My partner in ministry, Bishop Mary Ann Swenson was there in the morning to greet the participants; participated in workshops, had lunch and conversation with participants and preached during the afternoon service, and celebrated Holy Communion before sending us forth. Her full participation that day was greatly appreciated by the laity. Luncheon music was provided by Peruvian musicians from Bowen UMC (Los Angeles).

We believe that because the faculty, staff and students of the Claremont School of Theology were extremely receptive and hospitable throughout this event, it was a very positive experience for the participants. The number of clergy partners in attendance and their support throughout was heartwarming. The Board has requested that we return to Claremont for the 2003 Convocation, for which David Hoiles (Whittier First UMC and former Santa Ana District Lay Leader) will serve as Chairperson.

Examples of the work of District Lay Leaders include: Hawaii District Lay Leader Carol Kesler and Naty Lagaso, Associate District Lay Leader, attend most local church Charge Conferences. Carol recently led a session in the District's "How-To" workshops, "Partners in Ministry;" with emphasis on how clergy and laity can work together in ministry. Carol also writes a monthly article for the District Newsletter, and encourages youth to attend Hawaii 's YPC, adults and youth to attend Lay Speaker classes and to participate in the Walk to Emmaus;

The Long Beach District has a new District Lay Leader – Wilma Ryder, who is working with the new Superintendent of the District in becoming familiar with the local churches and their ministries. Wilma has long been active in District and Conference activities and is an asset to the District and to the Board of Laity, where she has readily accepted new responsibilities.

The Los Angeles District is served by a wife and husband team as co-Lay Leaders, Connee and Phil

Freeman, who hold quarterly meetings with local church lay leaders, meeting in different churches within the District to give the Lay Leaders an opportunity to move beyond the bounds of their own church communities. Among the subjects offered during these meetings have been: "How to Become a Welcoming Church;" the District's strategy to strengthen the Clergy-laity partnership; conducted a District workshop "Clergy+Laity=Strength" and have attended local church worship services and other special events.

Beryl Cooper, Lay Leader of the Pasadena District moves confidently about the District, working with the District Superintendent and visiting local churches. She also attended local church Charge Conferences, and is working to establish a Lay Speaking School in her district.

David McGlocklin, new Riverside District Lay Leader organized and led a workshop in a District Lay Convocation at the Claremont School of Theology; led discussions on the Local Church Assessments for the Conference Comprehensive Plan; held the District's 1st quarterly meeting of the Lay Leaders in April; plans a Lay Speakers/Lay Leaders Retreat for the fall, and will have a district web page with an interactive map of the district with driving directions.

In the Santa Ana District, Judy Cobb, District Lay Leader, provided leadership for the building of a United Methodist Habitat House in Orange County, which was dedicated last November. Judy regularly visits local churches, inspiring laity to become more involved in lay ministries and assists the Conference Lay Leader in executing responsibilities related to the Board of Laity.

Ken Ellis, Santa Barbara District Lay Leader and Vice-Chairperson of the Board of Laity was one of the team of lay and clergy persons who accompanied Bishop Swenson to Nigeria in February. In addition to his work with the Lay Speaking Ministries in his district, he also serves as videographer and produces film depicting the ministries of the Board of Laity, the Lay Convocation, work in his District and work and events of other entities in the Conference as well.

San Diego District Lay Leader, Bill Rockwell, began filling in for the late Ray West when Ray was ill, which means we often forget that Bill is in his first term as Lay Leader. Bill has a close working relationship with his District Superintendent and visits local churches frequently, in addition to Charge Conferences. Knee surgery this year hasn't slowed him for even a moment.

The Lay Speaking Ministry in our Conference is fortunate to have the leadership of David Johnson (Long Beach District), who coordinates the work of and meets regularly with this Committee; keeps track of when and where the District Lay Speaking Schools will be held. He prods, where necessary, in order that we are able to offer to all laity within the bounds of our Conference opportunities to grow in caring, communicating and leadership skills. The Riverside District has placed major emphasis on recruiting and enrolling youth in the Lay Speaking School. David Johnson also regularly schedules the Conference Lay Leader to address the opening or closing session of each Lay Speaking School.

The Board of Laity provided funding to assist David Johnson, along with Lay Speaking Directors from Riverside, Hawaii, and Santa Ana Districts to attend the National Convocation of Conference and District Lay Speaking Ministries in Nashville last January. Each attended workshops and seminars related to various aspects of Lay Speaking, and the feedback from them has been extremely positive. David Johnson serves as Treasurer of the National Association of Lay Speaking Ministries.

The Board is exploring a new clergy-laity partnership project to be held in conjunction with the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry. We hope to be able to discuss this more fully following a future meeting with representatives of both Boards.

It is the work of the entire Board, which enables the Conference Board of Laity to impact the ministry of the laity within Conference. We appreciate the commitment of each member, for the tremendous gifts they share, the time involved in meetings and other activities in which they engage to assure the success of our events. We thank the clergy members of the Board for sharing of themselves to forge the partnership of clergy and laity as we work to bring God's love and grace to the people of God.

We are grateful to Richard Patterson and Dr. Willie Jones for their years of service to the Board. Richard's creativity enabled us to present unique reports during the Annual Conference sessions.

To Bishop Swenson, SongJa Park and Carol Mayer, we express our gratitude for your commitment to lay ministries and for your continued support and inspiration.

Gaunnie Hardin Dixon

Lay Leader, Conference

Since our last Annual Conference, much of our time has been spent in prayer and concern about the looming prospects of our country entering into war with Iraq. So many families in our churches have young men and women who have been deployed in and around Iraq as this war draws near. Our prayers remain with the leaders of our Country, the women and men of the military, their families, the people of our country, as well as with the people of Iraq. I continue to speak out against war inasmuch as I believe it is not the way to peace but the way to death and destruction. I have had many opportunities to accompany Bishop Mary Ann Swenson as she continues to speak out against war and for peace.

At last year's Annual Conference, we expressed our gratitude to two District Lay Leaders who had served the Conference and the Board of Laity well. We greatly appreciate the tremendous work done during their terms as District Lay Leaders. Dr. Willie Jones (Long Beach District) and Richard Patterson (Riverside District) both made significant contributions during my term as Conference Lay Leader. It was wonderful to have had opportunities to work with them both.

We welcomed two new District Lay Leaders: Wilma Ryder (Long Beach District) and David McGlockllin (Riverside District). Wilma is a member of Torrance: First and David a member of Lake Elsinore: First. They are working well in their districts and have become active members of the Conference Board of Laity.

One of my favorite activities each year is attending United Methodist Night at Dodger Stadium and last July was no different. I don't go for the game (I don't understand the game); I go for the celebration, to see friends and to eat Dodger Dogs. It was rewarding to see many lay Conference staff members on the field that evening during the pre-game activities.

Bishop Swenson invited me to join her, the Cabinet and Conference staff on September 11th in Santa Barbara at Mt. Calvary Monastery and Retreat House in commemoration of the bombing of the World Trade Center. During my time there, I read, communed with nature in the gardens of the Monastery; participated in meetings of Cabinet and staff; shared meals with the Bishop, Cabinet members, Conference staff and the Monastic Brothers; attended the Vigils, Vespers and Eucharist services; browsed in the bookstore and observed 12 hours of silence.

Two days later, I was with the Conference Board of Laity Retreat at Aldersgate Retreat Center in Pacific Palisades for our annual Board Retreat.

The Conference Board of Church and Society sponsored a Social Principles Workshop led by (the lay-clergy partners who serve as co-Chairpersons of this Board) JoAnn Fukumoto and Larry Wayman, along with members of our Conference staff and staff from the General Board of Church and Society. The Workshop, held at El Segundo UMC, provided a wonderful opportunity for me to reacquaint and recommit myself to the Social Principles of The United Methodist Church.

Along with Bishop Charles Jordan, I made a presentation on behalf of Bishop Swenson to Dr. Willie Jones, former Long Beach District Lay Leader, at the celebration of his retirement as Dean of Compton College last fall. Dr. Jones also campaigned for and was elected to the Compton College Board of Trustees. I was among several other United Methodists following his election to attend his Swearing-In Ceremony last December.

Throughout this past year, I participated in Quarterly meetings sponsored by the Los Angeles District, where the District Superintendent and District Lay Leaders came together with local church lay leaders in information-sharing. The last such meeting I attended brought together local church lay leaders and pastors to engage in dialogue exploring ways to strengthen the lay-clergy partnership and sharing power in ministry. These meetings serve as great opportunities to enhance the ministry of the laity, while serving as information-gathering and bridge-building opportunities, which also develop and strengthen leadership of the laity.

Although it was my desire to participate in either the opening or closing of Lay Speaking Schools in each of the Districts, because of time constraints, I was able to participate in only four District opening or closing services this year.

Shortly after Annual Conference, I was invited to be guest preacher at Belmont Heights UMC while that congregation awaited the arrival of their new pastor; I also preached at Torrance: First as that congregation celebrated Women's Day. Unfortunately, the Reverend Charles Washington, pastor, Hollypark UMC, who had invited me to bring the Laity Sunday message died quite suddenly last summer. His successor, the Rev. Kathey Michelle Harry (one of the pastors at my own local church) was appointed to Hollypark, honored the invitation and welcomed me to the still grieving congregation. A short time later, I once again greeted this congregation when they celebrated the appointment of the Rev. Ms. Fields as their new pastor.

Throughout the year, I visit local churches in the Conference, often with Bishop Swenson or, occasionally, with Larry Hygh, Conference Director of Communications. Some of the churches in which I worshiped during this past year are: Holman when Larry Hygh delivered the sermon on Youth Sunday; Crenshaw, Inglewood, Martin Luther King, Pico Union Hispanic Shalom Ministry, Rosewood, St. Mark, St. Paul's, West Hollywood, Westwood (Los Angeles District); Bellflower First, Belmont Heights and Torrance First (Long Beach District); Scott and Sage Granada Park (Pasadena District); Claremont UMC (Riverside District); Spurgeon and First Korean of Orange County (Santa Ana District); North Hollywood First, Ventura First, (Santa Barbara District).

As I write this report, war with Iraq seems imminent and I have participated, with Bishop Swenson in services where calls were made for Peace. One such service was a Peace Vigil at the Claremont School of Theology. Another was an interfaith service designed by John Griffin, pastor, Crescent Heights UMC, with music provided by Paul Cogger, Conference Staff at the Islamic Center of Southern California, where Bishop Swenson, along with representatives from 11 denominations brought greetings and words of peace, followed by Bishop Swenson presenting a Peace Pole to the Islamic Center with the words: "May peace prevail on Earth" inscribed in English, Hebrew and Arabic. Bishop Swenson then planted the Peace Pole on the lawn of the Islamic Center.

I also attended an event sponsored by the Conference Board of Church and Society, Methodists for Social Action and the Conference Peace with Justice Committee "Proclaiming the Gospel of Peace in a Time of War," with Jim Winkler; General Secretary of the General Commission on Church as the featured speaker. This was also a time of prayers, meditation and speaking for peace, during which participants made a commitment to peace with justice.

The 2002 LayConvocation at Claremont School of Theology was seen as a great success. Dr. Elaine Amerson brought the morning message; the Sanctuary Choir of Claremont UMC provided music during that service; 12 workshops on a great variety of subjects were well attended; Peruvian musicians presented the lunchtime music from Bowen UMC, (Los Angeles). Bishop Mary Ann Swenson greeted us during the morning service and brought the message and celebrated Holy Communion during the closing worship service.

Several District Lay Leaders and the Conference Director of Lay Speaking Ministries accompanied me to the Annual Meeting of the Conference United Methodist Men at Redlands: First last summer. In the fall, with Larry Hygh, I attended the Annual Meeting of the Conference United Methodist Women at Escondido First UMC. Connections with both these groups are vital to the work of the Conference Lay Leader as I seek to maintain and strengthen connections with laity throughout the Conference.

The General Secretary of the General Board of Church and Society (GBCS), Jim Winkler, invited Conference Lay Leaders to be guests of the GBCS at a "Familiarization," held at the GBCS offices in the United Methodist Building on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. I was among approximately 50 Conference Lay Leaders accepting his invitation and spent 3 days learning more about the ministry of the GBCS, worshiping together, praying for world peace, engaging in discussions about peace-making, advocacy and the impending war with Iraq. We had time with GBCS staff and with the Reverend Dr. Robert Edgar, General Secretary of the National Council of Churches (and former President, Claremont School of Theology). We also toured the offices of the GBCS and the General Commission on Religion and Race, historic monuments. And were able to spend time with several newly elected Conference Lay Leaders.

In November I attended the Metro Ministries Convocation sponsored by the National Urban Strategy Council in Detroit and I worshiped at the Metropolitan UMC, whose pastors are both from our Conference: Julius del Pino and Janet Gaston Petty. I was invited to greet the congregation and did so on behalf of members of this Conference.

Upon my return to Los Angeles the following day, I was saddened to learn of the death of Mary McDonald, mother of Bishop Swenson. We continue to keep Bishop Swenson in our prayers as she mourns her mother's passing. I also encouraged others to do so as well and to contribute to the scholarship fund established in Mary McDonald's name at the Mississippi United Methodist Foundation.

Last winter I participated with Bishop Swenson and members of our Conference staff with staff from the General Board of Discipleship in a day of "Connectional Conversations" regarding issues of importance to our church as we seek to grow and continue to develop leaders.

Bishop Swenson and I distributed gifts at the "Christmas in November, " Celebration sponsored by the Children Youth and Family Collaborative, a project of the Bishops' Initiative on Children and Poverty, directed by Lydia Cincore-Templeton, and Joseph Templeton, missionaries working in our Conference. We attended Los Angeles Rosewood (Hispanic Ministry) UMC, where the Bishop preached, and following worship services, in costume of one of the Three Kings, participated in the children's gift-giving. These were both great experiences. Westwood UMC held its Children's Sabbath, Larry Hygh and I were on hand to enjoy that celebration as well.

It was my privilege to participate in a very moving worship service at Sage Granada Park UMC with Bishop Roy Sano as that church observed a Day of Remembrance - commemorating the signing of Executive Order 9066 by President Franklin Roosevelt in 1942, resulting in the internment of Japanese-American United States citizens during World War II.

Throughout the year, I continue my work as Chairperson of the Conference Board of Laity; Co-Chairperson, with Bishop Swenson, of the Conference Leadership Team; to serve on the Buildings, Land and Ministries Team, the Conference Committee to Strengthen the Black Church, the Episcopacy, and Sessions Committees and to respond to other boards and agencies of the Conference whenever requested.

Also during the year, as interim Chairperson of the Western Jurisdiction Urban Network, I convened a meeting of that body at a retreat center in the San Francisco Bay Area, which was attended by 50 clergy and lay persons (from most conferences in the Jurisdiction) who are involved in urban ministry. Bishop Mary Ann Swenson, Bishop Leontine Kelly, Dr. Philip Amerson, President, Claremont School of Theology, and many other lay and clergy persons with a passion for urban ministry from our Conference also participated in this 3-day meeting.

In January, the Western Jurisdiction Leadership Team held its annual meeting in Claremont. As Vice-Chairperson of the group I, along with Bishop Swenson, welcomed this body to our Conference as well.

The 35th Annual Meeting of Black Methodists for Church Renewal (BMCR) meets in Los Angeles. The Conference BMCR Chairperson, the Reverend L. L. C. Hammond, who served as host of this event, has invited both Bishop Swenson and me to extend greetings of welcome on behalf of our Conference

The Conference Youth Confirmation Celebration is always great fun and it is exciting to spend time with our Youth as they begin their Christian journeys and as they become familiar with the Conference staff and structure. I seem to learn something from each new group of Confirmands.

During each of the past 3 years my stress level during the Annual Conference sessions has been greatly reduced because of assistance provided me by the Reverend Charlene Zuill, who serves as my clergy-assistant during that week, doing errands, keeping me on schedule, making sure everything we need for courtesies is at hand, driving me when I leave the campus and providing a myriad of other duties which I seem not to have enough time to take care of. I thank Charlene for the unobtrusive way in which she gets those jobs done.

My work during this past year was made possible because of the love and support Bishop Swenson extends to me as we work to inspire others to model strong lay-clergy partnerships. I also appreciate the support many of you have given me during this past year. I thank the Conference staff and the lay and clergy members of the California-Pacific Conference for your encouragement and support and for your willingness to be my partners in ministry.

Leadership Team

Role of the Leadership Team

We are convinced that the Leadership Team can encourage and support the work of the Annual Conference such that diverse parts of the body can work together toward the achievement of our mission, the fulfillment of our purposes and calling, and the effective engagement of our primary tasks. Through working together in recent years, the members of the Conference Leadership Team have more clearly articulated the mission of the Leadership Team and a few core values which guide its work:

MISSION STATEMENT OF THE CONFERENCE LEADERSHIP TEAM:

The Leadership Team serves the Annual Conference by actively facilitating the fulfillment of the Primary Tasks of the Conference and articulating a holistic vision for this future.

CORE VALUES OF THE CONFRENCE LEADERSHIP TEAM:

The Conference Leadership Team is guided in its work by:

- a commitment to discerning the movement of the Holy Spirit
- diversity in composition and thought
- sensitivity to the local church
- a commitment to progress in its work
- a commitment to working in partnership with diverse bodies from around the Annual Conference in advancing the work of the Conference and visioning for its future.

Goals of the Leadership Team

This year the Conference Leadership Team has articulated three GOALS for the Annual Conference. The Leadership Team understands itself to be responsible for seeing that these goals are accomplished and has specified a number of OBJECTIVES for each goal. These goals and objectives are summarized as followers:

GOAL I. The Annual Conference will fulfill its Primary Tasks

Boards, agencies, commission, committees and pilot groups, as well as Conference staff, will be aligned with the Tasks, report on the Tasks, identify critical issues and be accountable for accomplishment.

GOAL II. The Annual Conference will be guided by a vision that is current and forward thinking.

The Leadership Team will enliven a process of visioning and articulating the vision that involves local churches and ministries, as well as formal and informal groups, and will maintain alignment with the Cabinet and others in leadership.

GOAL III. The Leadership Team will assist Board, Agencies and Commissions in doing the "hard" work of the Annual Conference.

The Leadership Team's role, scope, authority and operating procedures will position it to lead and to exist into the future with the purpose of ensuring that critical and difficult Annual Conference issues and decisions are addressed through the Annual Conference sessions and through effective, passion-filled and self-directed pilot groups.

The implementation of each objective requires Action Plans, which are available from the Leadership Team upon request. We encourage you to be in contact with any member of the Leadership Team as you might have questions or suggestions fo our work: Steve Ayres, Cherrye Cunnigan, John Fanestil, Becky Haase, Marcia Hartsock, Betty Jackson-Brubaker, Spencer Kim, Ward McAfee, Sharon Rhodes-Wickett, David Richardson, Amanda Shotts, Jim Standiford, Bishop Mary Ann Swenson, Eva Thai, Stan Toyama, Veda Ward, Frank Wulf, Gaunnie Hardin Dixon, Cheol Kwak.

In specifying the Action Plans for Goal II, the Leadership Team has identified four critical areas for intense action:

- Sharing the Common Wealth: a global study focused on specific issues that affect resource allocation, such as apportionments, insurance options, entitlements for clergy, conference staff, congregational development (start ups and closures), clergy assignment and equitable compensation;
- Increasing interaction among language groups, including shared facilities issues;
- Strengthening the connections among local congregations and ministries and the Annual Conference and its staff; and
- Growing membership in local congregations and ministries and the Annual Conference.

For each of these critical areas, a Leadership Team member has agreed to serve as moderator and convener of work, utilizing existing boards and agencies where they exist and spurring the development of pilot groups where there are no established entities. We urge Annual Conference members to identify areas of their own passion and, if there is alignment with these critical areas, to work with us. You may get additional information about this work and indicate your interest at the Leadership team booth.

2003 Accomplishments of the Leadership Team

In addition to the development and specification of the Mission, Strategic Functions and Roles of the Leadership Team which laid out a plan for action into the future, reports were heard from many groups in preparation for Annual Conference session. Many hours were spent on complex issues involved with the increase in health benefits cost and the attempts to deal with its impact.

During the past year the Leadership Team worked with the Bishop, the Committee on Episcopacy, and the Transition Team to hire the Assistant to the Bishop who is already an invaluable asset to the Annual Conference. We have worked with the Annual Conference staff to make the skills and knowledge of the staff better understood and for these resources to be available in the Districts and local churches in a systemized way. Initial feedback on the staff brochure and the deployment initiated by the Executive Director has been very positive. We approve an increase in the staffing of the Congregational Loan Committee (funded through the Committee) to handle the workload demands of supporting the Jubilee Fund and more work with the Board of Congregational Development. We have established a position description, timeline and process for hiring a new Executive Director of Connectional Ministries, with the recruitment process for hiring a new Executive Director of Connectional Ministries, with the recruitment process beginning this month. We continue to work with the Transition Team so that the building of a team including new Directors can be in place by our 2004 Annual Conference session.

Long Beach District Superintendent

I was invited by Bishop Mary Ann Swenson to be part of the cabinet, having just returned to Pasadena: First after a three-month spiritual renewal leave. 2002 has been a year of reflection and questioning where God was leading me in ministry. As I look back on where this journey has taken me, I am thankful to God for providing me with spiritual mentors, trusted friends, and colleagues along the way who have guided me in my spiritual discernment. I am grateful that God continues to find new ways of bringing challenge to my ministry. I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to Bishop Mary Ann Swenson for entrusting me this office. I am humbled by her confidence in my abilities. I am deeply indebted to the clergy, laity, and social services directors of the Long Beach District for their love of the church, its mission, and ministries. They are servant leaders who are visionary, inspirational, diligent, collaborative, enthusiastic, daring, creative and passionate.

The last eight months have been a "lighting rod" of experiences. I began my work July 2002 -- visiting the churches in Long Beach, attending worship services, consulting and assessing ministry and mission with pastors and lay leaders, taking church facility tours, and working with district committees. In August I attended training for new District Superintendents at Lake Junalaska. Mid-September, the District Superintendent Committee, chaired by the Rev. Fred Overby (Grace UMC) planned and hosted an installation service and welcomed new and returning clergy in the district. Newly appointed pastors in our district are Wayne Sanderson (Bellflower UMC), Tong-Soo Han (Associate, Zion Korean UMC), Rick Uhls (Belmont Heights UMC), Carolyn Breihan (Associate, Los Altos UMC), Amy Fatemi (North Long Beach UMC), Modesto Ibraim Diaz (Associate, Hispanic Ministry: Lynwood UMC), Erika Gara (Redondo-St. Paul UMC), Eric Scott (San Pedro: First), Derek Nakano (Faith UMC), Amy Chieko Wake (Associate, Faith UMC), Mark Sturgess (Associate, Torrance: First), Kathleen Ross (Torrance: Walteria), Neil Platon (Wilmington: First), and Kathey Michelle Harry (Hollypark UMC). It quickly became a practice for the District Clergy to gather every other month beginning with worship, a presentation from a keynote speaker, a shared loved feast, and fellowship. We do this by traveling around the district celebrating the richness and diversity of cultures in each city. The months that followed were heavily scheduled with Charge Conferences, Cabinet and District Meetings, and local church consultations. On December 5th we gathered to celebrate our District Clergy Christmas Party at Alpine Village.

The District Superintendent Committee was also involved and had been busy in seeking a new administrative assistant for the district office. On February 18, 2003 our prayers were answered and we welcomed Jackie Beery. We look forward to a fruitful and dynamic ministry with Jackie.

The District Union remains active in assisting with church needs under the strong leadership of Dr. Willie Jones and the Rev. Dick Edgar. I am indebted to the historical perspectives and wisdom they provide when making difficult decisions as it affects our churches in the district. I am also assisted in my work by a very enthusiastic and articulate lay leader, Wilma Ryder. Her presence in meetings and her support have made the difference.

The District Leadership Team has met several times redefining their role as leaders and focusing on the theme of empowerment. Their goals for the next 4 years are follows: a) increase leadership resources, b) increase financial resources, c) partner or a adopt mission project between churches, d) provide hospitality and grace, e) become a prayer partner, and g) strengthen the communication of ministry and mission of churches around the district level.

In February, the District Leadership Team had a very successful meeting with the Rev. Marilyn Huntington who helped us interpret the new leadership structure. We also welcomed Kris Hodson into our district during her deployment – consulting with 12-14 churches who were heavily invested in revitalizing their congregations and communities.

The District Committee on Ordained Ministry has been active in nurturing our candidates under the creative leadership of the Rev. Mark Wiley (Lakewood First). We have recommended candidates in the category of commission probationary elders, permanent deacons, and local pastors.

Throughout these nine months I have spoken to various groups such as UM Women, UM Men, Lay Speaker Classes, District Youth, and preached in several churches.

In January, we hosted the Rev. Jim Conn, our Conference Urban Strategist, who enlightened us with how to recruit skilled people in our neighborhood, how to network with varying institution around neighborhood, and how increase financial assets.

In February after charge conferences were completed, I attended the Pacific Islander Commission meeting in Hawaii along with members of our Tongan and Samoan congregations. We savored the delicious food, cultural immersion, and spiritual fervor.

At the Bishop's Greece/Turkey Tour "Journeys of St. Paul," 28 laity and clergy participated. All twenty-eight returned safely on March 21st and on March 22nd we conducted our Leadership Empowerment Workshop (formerly "How to Workshop") with this year's theme being: "Leadership for a Lasting Change". Highlights of our workshop included opening worship led by pastors and lay leaders, music by the Samoan Choir of Maywood UMC, and eighty-five participants attending eleven workshops including topics on Youth and Young Adults, Children Ministry, Peace and Justice, Spirituality, Use of Media, Disaster Preparedness, Worship, Church Revitalization, SPPRC, and more.

We grieved and mourned the loss of the Rev. Charles Washington, pastor of Hollypark UMC from 1998 to July, 2002; the Rev. Harold Baker, former pastor of Bellflower UMC and Mrs. Helen May Smith, a deacon whose membership was at San Pedro UMC. We prayed for the loss of loved ones the Rev. Lynn Westover's (Trinity UMC) father John Sweeney, and the Rev. Tutitopou Kaea's (Tala-Fungani UMC) uncle Teia Paa Vaka.

We celebrated the birth of Madelyn Grace, daughter of the Rev. Andy (Los Altos UMC) and Camille (Rolling Hills UMC) Mattick born October 24, 2002 and Nicholas Luke Overby born on January 30, 2003, son of Chris and Amy Overby, grandparents of the Rev. Fred (Grace UMC) and Cathy Overby. We also celebrated with the Rev. Amelia Finau (Lennox UMC), as her nephew, the Rev. David Tevita Mone, was married in December 2002.

We give thanks and praise to God for guiding our footsteps as Tala-Fungani UMC prepares to move into a shared sanctuary/facility home with Grace UMC welcoming them. We congratulate those churches who have reached a milestone in their anniversaries: Lakewood (60th), Leisure World Community (40th), and Compton FUMC (135th). Congratulations were also given to Lynwood UMC (Rev. Regina Roberts) on their rededication of their worship sanctuary after having suffered from a fire accident. Kum Ran UMC (Rev. Sun Sik Yoon) celebrated the grand opening of their new educational building for English Language Ministry, and Crossroads Njia Panda UMC celebrated the Rev. Lydia Jackson Waters 17th year as Senior Pastor (in conjunction with her 60th birthday and 25th year of ministerial service).

We also acknowledge ministries that were in transitions. We said farewell and best wishes to Wesley Vietnamese language ministry as they joined Westminster Vietnamese ministry in Santa Ana and we celebrated the transition of new leadership and facility of the AIDS Heartline who for 17 years was housed and a ministry of St. Paul UMC in Redondo Beach under the dedicated leadership of Sharon Savage (St. Paul UMC member).

Committee Reports

a. District Lay Speaker Classes (David Johnson): The Lay Speaking Ministry has held two sets of classes. Fall, 2002, the Lay Speaking Ministry hosted a series of classes on September 21st, 28th, and October 5th. Eleven persons attended the "Basic" class, eight attended the "Lay Speakers Are Servant Leaders" class, six attended the "Lay Speakers Grow Spiritually Through Daily Discipline" class, and eight attended the "A Ministry Of Caring" class. The Spring, 2003 Series was offered on March 1st, 8th, and 15th. Five persons attended the "Basic Class" and fifteen attended the "Lay Speakers Lead Small Groups" class.

b. Religion and Race (William Renfroe): This group has met twice and is considering some weighty issues. Their budget is declining alongside the financial decline in the conference. They reviewed and discussed a complaint against the Bishop regarding whether or not there was discrimination in election of Black women as District Superintendents. They've sent invitations to District Superintendents for grants of up to $2,000 for developing programs within the district to promote racial inclusiveness. They were charged at Annual Conference last year to devise strategies for inclusion of the Islamic community. They have reviewed and discussed the issue and will be devising strategies for next year. This group has also received training from Kathy Thomas-Sano, General Conference CORR, on how to sensitize the conference to its diverse populations.

c. District Planning and Strategy (Doris Shigihara): This year, the Comprehensive Plan was adopted at the Annual Conference in June and this committee had the task of reviewing the assessment by each local church clergy and laity. They also had the task of looking at each local church's 10-year profile. They have met 7-8 times and have been busy. There were a lot of questions raised and answered. Since assessment will be taking place every year, they will be able to accomplish this task more efficiently. They are looking at ways to have 100% clergy and lay input. They have looked carefully at the suggestions made by both clergy and lay as to how to improve this process.

Long Beach District has much to celebrate. We are thankful to God for the ways our district has been blessed with a wealth of resources in leadership skills, passion, and vitality in ministry. Our rich diversity has presented many opportunities as well as challenges. We anticipate with excitement what God has yet to reveal in our churches in our people, and in the whole district.

We want to strive to reach the goal that God has envisioned for us. As the Apostle Paul wrote in Philippians 3:13–14, members of the Long Beach district also want to remember the past, but not to be stuck in it. Rather, we press forward to the present and to what opportunities there are for our church's future. We are confident that with God's help we will be what we are called to be and we will do what is asked of us to do for the sake of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. All honor and glory to him.

Upcoming Events: April 15, 2003 – District Clergy Gathering at Belmont Heights UMC; April 30, 2003 – District Secretaries Luncheon at Lakewood First UMC;
May 6, 2003 – Apportionment Celebration ; May 8, 2003 – Social Services Agencies Luncheon at Long Beach First UMC; May 10, 2003 – District Conference at Torrance First UMC

Lily M. Villamin

Los Angeles District Superintendent

As the year 2002 comes to a close, I am profoundly grateful to God for all the blessings of our Los Angeles District. We have experienced much during this year, and I believe we have strengthened our overall ministry in the district.

Of course, the strength of any district lies in its constituent churches, and our LAD churches have continued to fulfill their role in making disciples in their respective communities. I want to thank our local church clergy and laity for their spiritual leadership and hard work in enabling their churches to be in ministry. In our contemporary times, nothing comes easy in the running of a local church, and the hard work of faith has been exemplified by our LAD clergy and laity.

I also want to thank our fine staff for all the hard work they do in running our district office. Ana Haydee provides the foundational support for all of us, and through her dedication, the work continues to flow out. Our new Executive Director, Judy Chung, has so many gifts and graces that the transition from Pat Youngquist has been an easy one for us. One of the finest compliments we can give Judy is that we haven't missed a beat under her leadership and transition from Pat. Our newest staff member, Tonya Harris is off to a good start in coordinating our many programs, and she is filled with so many competencies that you will soon see the fruits of her work. Our district staff is superb, and one of the finest staffs in the entire Annual Conference. I cannot thank them enough for all that they do!

We have so many lay and clergy volunteers that it would take a whole page to thank them all. I especially want to thank LAD Lay Leaders, Connee and Phil Freemen, who give tirelessly for the church they love. Connee and Phil travel our whole district and annual conference in their advocacy of the church, and I am so grateful for them. Likewise, Jackie Hawthorne continues to guide our United Methodist Ministries of Los Angeles Board, and she provides a firm foundation in the midst of much change.

Time does not permit me to mention all of our clergy and lay volunteers, but on behalf of the whole church, thank you for your time and talents, and your unwavering support of our local, district and conference ministries. We could not make it without all of you, and I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

My great difficulty in the superintendency role is to not let the sheer volume of our responsibilities so dominate our time that the real work of visioning does not happen. If you ever look in the Discipline (See Paragraph 419-424) about what is our responsibility, you will soon realize that no one person could possibly fill such a role. It is a typical polity dilemma: our General Conference just keeps adding to the responsibility level of this position, but never bothers to take away any of the responsibilities that have become outdated or a lower priority. So, we are stuck with an old model that cannot meet the needs of our contemporary churches and communities. This is the reason that the church so desperately needs a new vision to propel us forward to meet the new challenges that lay before us.

Some of the deeper visioning work that our LAD is about includes continued emphasis on the making and cultivating of spiritual leaders. It seems to me that the one area the church reflects it's own contribution and difference with secular society is in our gift of spirituality. We must have spiritual leaders who differ from secular leaders, and keep the community and society in balance. We have such a dearth of true leaders now days that we really need to continue to create and nourish our spiritual guides. What difference we make in our church communities is contingent on the spiritual depth and foundation of our clergy and laity.

Secondly, we need to continue to find ways to strength our local churches in the serving of their communities. Our Crossroads consultation process where we take 4-5 local churches each year for an intensive training over an 8-month period has proven invaluable in our rejuvenation of churches. We just pray that this system will continue to raise the bar as churches grow stronger We are in our second round of training churches now, and all indications are that this program will continue to be a success.

The third vision that I want to uplift revolves around our clergy-laity partnership in ministry. Through the hard work of our district Lay Leaders, Connee & Phil Freeman, our Lay Leaders continue to organize and grow stronger in community, and we have started the difficult work of partnering with our clergy in dynamic relationship. We need each other so desperately in caring out the church's mission and ministry that we must give our all in improving our communications and working relationships.

Finally, I pray that our Los Angeles District continues to value learning and growth. Any organization that does not emphasize learning is doomed to failure, and we continue to push our Leadership Team and various committees to be up on the latest research and concepts.

Recently, business professor, Jim Collins has pointed out that the truly great companies are those who have a shared vision, and keep plugging away at implementing that vision. I hope we are doing that very thing. If we stick to our priorities, we will be stronger in the end, and it is to this greater purpose that we press onto the goal of victory in Christ. I am grateful to all of you for strength for the journey. Staying focused on the Vision,

Grant Hagiya

Ministerios Latinos Council

News that are not news anymore, but for sure the impact is very clear. We all know about the rapid growth of the Latino population, not only in Southern California, but also in the entire country. At present, there are 35.5 million Latinos (not counting the undocumented people).

The Latino population is now larger than the African American (34.7 million), making us the largest ethnic group in the country. The average age of the Latino population is 25.9, while the average age for the rest of the population is 35.3, which means we are the youngest ethnic group.

California is the state with the largest number of Latinos in the country (31.3%), and Texas is the second largest with 18.9%. At present, the Anglo population comprises 42.9% of the population in our state, while the Latinos are 40.2%. In third place are the Asians with 12.1%, and then the African Americans with 7.0%. By the year 2005, Latinos are projected to become the majority (more than 50%) of population in California.

We have cities like South Gate with 83.6% of Latino population, Norwalk 71.3%, Santa Ana 71.2%, West Covina 66.5%, North Riverside with 63.2%, Rialto 62%, Santa Maria 58.9%, North Pomona 53.7%.

"Para muestra bastó un botón". And I will stop the statistics here, now that I have given you a taste of the great need for Latino ministries.

Status on Ministries: Unfortunately, during this past year, only one Latino ministry was started at Culver Palms, and three Latino ministries were cut off: Oxnard, Sepulveda, and Shandon. As usual, the main cause for closing these ministries was the lack of funding to support Local Pastors.

Pastor's Preparation: The Course of Study January and July sessions in Spanish continue with great success at Claremont School of Theology. At present, we have 32 students attending, 19 of which belong to our Annual Conference, and it is a joy to say, the majority of them are already serving a congregation.

Promoting Leadership:

- During this Conference year, we offered several workshops and retreats for Pastors in different areas: The Book of Discipline, Spirituality and Social Justice, and Finance and Administration.
- Monthly "Encuentros Pastorales" (Pastoral Encounters) held at different churches throughout our Conference. Fellowship and theological conversations are the main focus of these gatherings.
- Upon request from local congregations, workshops were presented.
- The Latino youth had a Conference gathering during the month of May with a good attendance. The idea is to promote youth leadership through this type of events.
- In conjunction with LAMAG, the Second Fiesta Latina took place last March at Huntington Park UMC. Bishop Swenson preached and offered the Sacrament of the Table in Spanish.

National Plan for Hispanic Ministries:

A consultant from the National Plan for Hispanic Ministries was invited to come and visit our Conference. Pastor Dionisio Salazar spent three days visiting several congregations, and met with a task force of lay people and pastors to discuss different issues affecting the ministry in our Conference.

As a result of these conversations, it was established that our Latino Ministries are way ahead of the program Pastor Salazar came to promote. The National Plan offers a $50,000 grant, which is distributed over a 3-year period, but we do not qualify for this grant since its guidelines only apply to Annual Conferences planning to develop Latino Ministries, rather than supporting programs for existing congregations, which is our case.

Our task force was disappointed to lose this grant, but their spirit was high to find out we are one (or a few) step ahead of the National Plan. We are still in conversations with the National Plan to consider our Conference as a special case.

Looking to the Future:

We began this report emphasizing the growth of the Latino population. This situation should make us very much aware of the need for Latino evangelization, and new ministries throughout the entire Conference.

In the month of February, I was deployed to the District of Hawaii. The island of O'ahu has more than 37,000 Latinos, and a ministry is being organized at Kapolei UMC. The island of Maui has more than 12,000 Latinos, and a new ministry is being organized at Honolua UMC in Lahaina by Ricardo Mijares. Mr. Mijares has the support of District Superintendent Barbara Grace-Ripple, Pastor Vaitu'uloa Fonua, and the Rev. Paul Tangonan.

I try to look into the future and I see the desire to do ministries, people willing to work, active training, Course of Study at Claremont; but what I do not see is the Conference financial support to do the work of the United Methodist Church.

The District of Riverside only has one Latino congregation. Santa Ana could have at least 3 or 4 more, as well as Long Beach, Santa Barbara, San Diego, and Pasadena.

We are missing such a precious opportunity to grow! The future of the UMC, at least in this Annual Conference, is the Latino population. We have to remember that, at present, more than 40% of the population is Latino. If we step outside our church buildings, we will see Latinos walking by, and if we throw a net into the streets, whom are we going to catch?

We do not need sympathy. We need the tools and financial support to develop more effective ministries, for this is our call as Christians and United Methodists, who are seeking a more just and better world.

Missionary Support, Conference Coordinator for Covenant Relationship for a Better World

Congratulations to the 227 California-Pacific Annual Conference Churches that gave $314,648 for missionary support in the year 2002. This exceeded the previous year by $11,742. There were 19 new Covenant Churches for a net gain of 12.

Conference churches support 49 missionaries in 16 countries. Of these 23 are clergy and 26 laity. They are African-American, Anglo-American, Filipino-American, Japanese-American, Korean-American, Latino-American, Mexican-American, Pacific Islander-American as well as Nationals from Argentina, Ecuador, Mexico and the Philippines.

Our 49 conference-related missionaries are organizing new congregations and building churches; teaching pastors in seminaries and laity in colleges; pastoring churches and counseling; teaching in grade schools and high schools; personal evangelism and assisting volunteers in mission, training in agriculture and construction; assisting international church leaders and refugees; working in community development, inner city, communications, social justice, advocacy, nutrition, health care, re-forestation and peace with justice. All are active in local churches.

In missionary support, California-Pacific Conference ranks first in the Western Jurisdiction and among the top ten in the nation. The 227 Covenant Churches are to be commended for their vision and outreach to the needs of the world.

The Annual Conference Missionary Luncheon, once again, had more than 400 in attendance. Missionaries from Jerusalem, Japan, Congo and 3 from California-Pacific Conference spoke. Recognition went to 86 churches for their outstanding missionary support. Top churches in each district were: Hawaii, Aiea; Long Beach, El Segundo; Los Angeles, Santa Monica: First; Pasadena, Glendale: First; Riverside, Claremont; San Diego: St. Mark's; Santa Ana, Mesa Verde and Santa Barbara, St. Mark. The top giving church in the conference was Glendale: First and the highest per capita church was Burbank, Magnolia Park.

Other events during the year were Conference Global Ministries Festival at Aldersgate UMC in Tustin, Annual Conference Missionary Sunday in local churches, Global Ministries and Covenant Relationship booths at annual conference in Redlands.

Printed resources included: 2000 Directory of Conference-Related Missionaries, Supporting Churches and Pastors for 2002 (8th year); 5000 Missionary Devotions for Advent 2002 (9th year); 2000 Missionary "PlaceMaps" with pictures of conference-related missionaries (6th Year); 5000 Missionary Special Offering Envelopes (5th year); 86 certificates for "Outstanding Missionary Supporting Churches" (10th year); periodic Statements of Appreciation to Covenant Churches showing their financial gifts for missionary support.

During 2002, 17 missionaries from 8 countries and the United States spoke in 128 of our conference churches. A complete itineration schedule is prepared for each missionary on home assignment in the Cal-Pac Annual Conference. I preached or spoke 23 times in 17 churches and visited Methodist work in Peru with missionary the Rev. Teresa Santillana.

Our thanks to the conference office for their excellent cooperation, especially Jheri Resnik, Josie Reeves, Mabel Habersham-Flowers, Joyce Zirkle, Shirley Randels Coombs, Cathy Wilson and Peggy Hallock.

Nominations Committee, Conference

The Nominations Committee thanks all persons who have been willing to faithfully serve our Lord through Conference Committees. The commitment you have made in time and energy is vital to the life and ministry of the United Methodist Church in the Pacific Islands and Southern California. We give a special word of thanks to all those who have completed the two consecutive terms of four years allowed in our rules. Your consistent service has been invaluable.

The goal of the Nominating Committee is to put qualified individuals onto the boards and committees that interest them most, while keeping true to the four thirds recommendation and district representation that have been reaffirmed by many sessions of this Annual Conference. In order to meet this goal it is essential that all interested members fill out a Talent Bank form. These can be found in your packet and at the Nominating Committee booth. Please take a Talent Bank form back to your local church and encourage qualified persons to fill out a copy and send it to the address on the back. Talent Bank forms can also be submitted through our Cal-Pac web site.

This year our election of delegates to General and Jurisdictional Conferences is particularly important. Please keep our Conference in your prayers as we crawl through votes and procedures to complete this deeply important process. We ask for your patience and look forward to a truly inspired delegation.

The Committee works hard with duties that continue throughout the year, and I thank all who serve and have served in this capacity. Please keep our Conference and all its varied forms of mission and ministry in your constant prayers, as we serve our risen Lord together.

One Spirit: Ministry Through Land and Buildings

(Formerly Shared Facilities Task Force)

When the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place. Acts 2:1-4 (RSV)

To be all together in one place, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, is the focus of the One Spirit team in guiding Annual Conference congregations that umbrella various language groups on the same land and in the same buildings.

Emphasis will be on Possibilities for new learnings and strength rather than Problems

Meetings this year included three: March 5, 2002 at UM Center for formation, September 13, 2002 at Santa Barbara: First for all day retreat to define our work, January 15, 2003 at Pasadena: Holliston for focus of our work

From those meetings the following insights developed:

One Spirit of the heart (with many opinions) is the starting place for ministry

Land and Buildings usage will follow if the One Spirit of the Heart is in place

The energy of our work in the Conference congregations will be to foster: connecting across language, culture and customs, trusting that God is at work in the process of connecting, listening to each other and to God's direction through prayer and scriptures

We adopted Ground Rules for Dialogue-Commission on Ethnic Ministries-Adopted October 26, 2002.

The Team does not plan to intervene in trouble situations, but provide resources/education – be in prayer "without ceasing" in all we do, build community of One Spirit across the Conference in all we do, affirm local churches that have many cultures by: a letter to each church in the Annual Conference from the team which says: "don't be afraid…work together…look to possibilities for life now and ahead", suggest resources such as books, workshops, movies to churches to build One Spirit, suggest cluster meetings that bring many-cultured congregations together, collect stories of congregations that are working well together, writing about them in Circuit West articles and email connections and at Annual Conference gatherings, inform the conference we exist as a One Spirit Team…to give hope for life together

We have used The Land by Walter Bruggemann as a resource.

The sense of being lost, displaced, and homeless is pervasive in contemporary culture. The yearning to belong somewhere, to have a home, to be in a safe place, is a deep and moving pursuit. Loss of place and yearning for place are dominant images. P.1

The Bible itself is primarily concerned with the issue of being displaced and yearning for a place. Indeed, the Bible promises precisely what the modern world denies. P. 2

Land is central, if not the central theme of biblical faith. Biblical faith is a pursuit of historical belonging that includes a sense of destiny derived from such belonging. P.3

…rootlessness and not meaninglessness characterizes the current crisis. There are no meanings apart from roots…a sense of place is to be sharply distinguished from a sense of space...space means an arena of freedom, without coercion or accountability...place is space which has historical meanings. Place is a space in which important words have been spoken…vows exchanged, someone has lived, buried, an event taken place…P.4-5

Genesis 1-11 is about people fully rooted in land…12-50 is about not having land but being on the way toward it and living in confident expectation of it…P.15

Wilderness is the historical form of chaos and is Israel's memory of how it was before it was a created people…displacement in that time and our time is experienced like the empty dread of primordial chaos…to be in the wilderness is landlessness par excellence…P.29

…the outcasts are given places and comforted. Indeed, to be comforted is to be given place.p.150

We plan to continue work in the Annual Conference to bring about One Spirit in Ministry through land and buildings.

Ordained Ministry, Board of

By Annual Conference this year our board will have examined and interviewed approximately fifty candidates for probationary and full connection membership. This task consumes an enormous amount of time by board members yet we know how important our work is to these candidates as well as for identifying and recommending strong leaders for mission and ministry in our Annual Conference.

Part of our task, on behalf of the church, is to examine candidates to see if we can affirm the presence of gifts, evidence of God's grace, and promise of future usefulness as these persons who have responded to a perceived call by God offer themselves in leadership as ordained ministers. It is truly awesome to be part of this process and as a board we acknowledge the faith that Conference members place in board members as we work on your behalf.

We also spend much time in supporting active clergy through our Residency in Ministry program, continuing education events, financial aid for counseling for clergy and their families, transition workshops for clergy who are changing appointments, assignment of advisors for probationary members, and development of structures to support local and student pastors.

Our board will be going through significant membership and leadership changes in the next year so we have already identified those who will assume new positions in July of 2004 and these persons will be working this coming year with board officers, registrars, and other leaders who will be retiring next year. Efforts are also underway to identify and recommend to the Bishop names of potential board members so that the board will better reflect the diversity of our Annual Conference.

The greatest concern of the board as we analyze trends over the last several years is to increase our effectiveness as an annual conference in identifying and developing spiritually mature persons who are bright, have strong interpersonal skills, and who show the promise or ability to articulate a vision of the church and ability to move the church to the fulfillment of that vision. Numerous studies conducted over the last ten to fifteen years have shown that most of the best students in high school and college no longer consider ordained ministry as a vocation.

Our board looks forward to presenting our recommendations to the clergy session and a plenary session at Annual Conference. We will have done our best work and then turn these over to the larger covenant community to consider. We continually pray that all of our recommendations which have been reached using written examinations, interviews, references, psychological assessments, and other tools are in every case most of all the result of the guidance of the Holy Spirit as we and others guide candidates in exploring their call to ministry in the United Methodist Church.

Pacific Islanders Commission

"I am only one, but I am still one: I cannot do everything, but still I can do something; and because I cannot do everything I will not refuse to do the something that I can do. " We as Methodists can relate in every way to the words of Edward Everett Hale.

Each year Tongan and Samoan United Methodist churches from both California and Hawaii send representatives to the Pacific Islanders Commission Annual Meeting where their main goal is to bring all unresolved issues to the table and find resolutions that rekindle and renew the relationship within the Cal-Pac commission.

The day started off with registration and the unique "Kava Ceremony" demonstrated by the Tongan Hawaii Pulega. The Rev. Barbara Grace Ripple greeted both the Tongans and Samoans in their native tongue and welcomed all representatives that were in attendance on behalf of Bishop Mary Ann Swenson and herself.

The Kahuku Tongan choir led the worship service, following was a scripture reading by the Rev. Barbara Grace Ripple. As we face challenges we are given the opportunity to work with one another to spiritually heal our ministries through God. The Kahuku Tongan choir closed the worship service with a hymn thus sending us all on a mission for God.

And so the journey begins... reports were presented by both the Hawaii and Mainland Samoan and Tongan working committees with proposals to better the leadership, youth programs and financial stability of the ministries. The Scholarship fund report was presented by the Reverend Sione Veikoso who gave accurate balances and indications as to the distribution of funds. The Rev. Piula Alailima dismissed the meeting with a prayer and all headed for the Polynesian Cultural Center.

We mean business… February 8, 2003 proved to be a very busy day. Dr. Phil Amerson was introduced to the Commission. As the President of the Claremont School of Theology, his main concern was how and what can be done to reach the young people of different cultures. He challenged everyone to find avenues in which the "young people" can be reached. Kilohana Tongan UMC have explored programs to benefit the Tongan church economically such as the Nurses' Aide program and the Farming program. Three new positions have opened up within the Pacific Islanders Commission. Director of Church Development one each from the Tongan and Samoan working committees and the Director of Christian Education. The Ministerial Committee accepted and carried recommendations and motions with ease while the Program Committee voiced their opinions on positions within the Commission but spoke more efficiently on the radio show program proposed by the Tongan working committee. Last business of the day and most important, the Budget Committee. Our request for 2004 is $80,020.00.

Pasadena District Superintendent

Grace and Peace in the Name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ!

As I near the end of my second year as Superintendent of the Pasadena District, I wish to thank those with whom I have been engaged in ministry: Bishop Mary Ann Swenson, my Cabinet and extended Cabinet colleagues, the Conference staff persons, and the pastors and laity of the district. The work that we do in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ would be impossible without all of you and all of us united in spirit and flesh. Thank you for your prayers, presence and support.

Secondly, I am deeply indebted to Pamela Allen, our district's Administrative Secretary, who is, in large measure, the force behind the district's work. Pam is the person you will encounter first when you call or come into the office. She makes sure that notices get sent out, that we get accurate information on the various forms and applications that must pass through this office, as well as to assist you with any of a thousand and one needs or inquiries that come our way. It's been a real joy to share this ministry with someone who is so thoroughly dedicated to the call of Jesus Christ.

Thirdly, the Pasadena District is blessed to have some excellent lay leadership in a number district leadership positions. With the assistance of our District's Lay Leader Beryl Cooper, and Associate Lay Leader Joanne Williams, we have begun the process of trying to identify, recruit and train future leaders. I thank those who have given us so many years of service and are now completing their terms of service. Likewise, I welcome those of you who have consented and begun to serve the church through our district and Annual Conference structures.

Let me list some of the activities and accomplishments of the past year: The District's "Welcome Celebration" at West Covina UMC; the Pastor/Staff-Parish Relations Committee Training for district churches in July and August, 2002; the Clergy Christmas Party at Cielito Lindo Restaurant in South El Monte; Mentor Training for District Clergy, January, 2003; and the "How-To" Workshops in January 2003.

The District Leadership Resource Team continues its work while trying to refine the duties and responsibilities of its members under a new structure. Gregory Douglass and Richard Kim have provided leadership as its co-conveners. The local church liaisons who are the at-large members serve as the links between the Leadership Team and the local church. As is the case at the Annual Conference level, the restructuring process has had its share of rough spots, but hopefully, after 3 years, we are beginning to understand our roles under this new structure.

Year 2002 saw its share of changes. Joining the district in new appointments in July, were: Timothy Ang (Alhambra: First: Chinese Ministry); Melissa MacKinnon (Arcadia: Good Shepherd, Associate); Jim Dallas (Baldwin Park); L. Roby Correa (Burbank: Magnolia Park); Patricia Hedges (Pasadena: First); Samuel Cruz (Pasadena: Latin American); and Bob Isip (San Gabriel: First). Leo Hsu was appointed to a new start-up ministry at San Grabriel: First to the Chinese (Cantonese Language) community.

The Pasadena District had several of its members have a change in their conference relationship. Chae Hon Nam and Seung Il Wang became Full Elders. John Wang was commissioned a Probationary Elder. Cynthia Skripak went on Family Leave, while Ken Heflin (retired) agreed to serve an interim appointment at Pasadena: Holliston. Persons who entered the retired relations from the Pasadena District were Leo Hsu, Joseph Oh, Jack Preston and Emmanuel Wu. And lastly, in February, Ennis Whaley joined that great cloud of witnesses as he passed into eternal life in his 92nd year of earthly life.

Another milestone in the Pasadena District is the retirement of Russell Walker, Executive Director of Community Support Services, Inc., and Lucille Washington, secretary to Russ at CSS. Russ' service to the district through CSS exceeds 30 years, while Lucille has been his support for 24 of those years. They have helped churches in the Pasadena District start childcare centers, after school programs, and secure funding for a host of programs over the years. They will be a major loss to the district's many churches who depended upon them for a host of services.

Churches that celebrated anniversaries in 2002 included: Bell Memorial (91st) in December 2002 and First Filipino American (24th) in March 2003

Along with extended Cabinet members and the President of Claremont School of Theology, I journeyed to South Korea in April of 2002. It was a wonderful experience to learn of the culture and history of Korea. Cabinet colleague Cheol Kwak and his spouse Lee were gracious hosts and tour guides. And it was a real joy to preach to one of the Korean Methodist congregations. In addition to my trip to Korea, I participated in a second mediation-training event in October 2002. It was lead by David Augsburger of Fuller Seminary. August 2002 I traveled to Nashville, Tennessee for a follow-up training event for District Superintendents. It was lead by Art Gafke, formerly of the General Board of Higher Education & Campus Ministry, Division of Ordained Ministry. Participants were superintendents in their second year of service.

For the remainder of 2003, the primary challenge before us will continue to be the strengthening of each of our local churches. While a number of our churches were 100% in their apportionment giving, far too many of our churches paid under twenty-five percent of their total askings. The total for the district continued to decline, only reaching a maximum level of 80% of the total district share. Even the Covenant Relationships fell behind in 2002. Only forty-six percent of the churches with covenants met their goals. In 2003, more of our churches will be asked to keep their covenants to support our connectional giving goals.

The district Board of Congregational Development will be completing its assessment of the churches in the district according to our Annual Conference's Comprehensive Plan. We will help every church to assess its ministry as our limited resources get tighter. Hopefully, each congregation will prayerful evaluate its ministry for the future.

As was the case in my first year of my superintendency, I preached at several of the district's churches. I thank you for your invitations and I look forward to preaching for others of you in the coming months and years.

There are many more of you to whom I am grateful for the ways in which we have served our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ this past year. While I will not name you, please accept my appreciation. I hope and pray that this next year will bring us all the kinds of blessings and peace that comes through the Holy Spirit. Peace and grace to you all.

Peace with Justice Committee

The Peace with Justice Sunday offering provides funds equally for the peace ministry of our Annual Conference and the National program. The half of the offering allocated to our Conference Peace with Justice Committee provides for an ever-expanding ministry. This past year's highlights include:

- May 2002 A leadership training event by Janet Horman, Peace With Justice Program Director of the General Board of Church and Society on PWJ Covenant Congregations.
- June 2002 Peace Pole presentations. One (1) planted at the Annual Conference office in Pasadena.
- June 2002 Annual Conference seminars/vigil, (1) Pace e Bene - active nonviolence, (2) Conflict Resolution and (3) Prayers for peace vigil.
- July, 2002 Distribution of video tapes and educational materials of the Rev. Sandra Olewine on Middle East crises to all District Offices.
- September 2002 at Prayers for Peace Vigil at Claremont School of Theology.
- December 2002 Co-sponsored Peace Education Event featuring Jim Winkler, General Secretary of the General Board of Church and Society.
- January 2003 Peace Pole presentation. One (1) planted at the Islamic Center in Los Angeles by Interfaith leaders led by Bishop Mary Ann Swenson.
- April 2003 Attended a demonstration at Nevada Test Site coinciding with renewed focus on US dramatic shift away from 50 years of policy geared towards nuclear disarmament.

At the 2002 Annual Conference PWJ sponsored resolutions on, Calling for Global Peace, Working to End Current Conflict Between Israeli and Palestinian People and Ending Nuclear Danger in 2003.

The committee awarded grants to the following: Interfaith Communities United for Justice and Peace, Save Our Sons Prison/Justice Ministry, "A Better World Is Possible: Christian Faith and Economic Justice," Explore Peacemaking in the Present Age, "Los Pacificadures" (Organizing for Peace in the Latino Community), Befriending Sandy and her Palestinian-Israeli Neighbors and Orange County Interfaith Committee for Workers Justice/Living Wage.

Our main focus will be developing Peace With Justice Covenant Congregations by identifying and networking with those congregations who are doing mercy ministries. Covenant Congregations moves the churches to advocacy/justice ministries through bible study and witness. Our District educators are anxious to work with churches in our Conference. It is time to add on justice ministries through advocacy witness.

Pensions, Board of

The Board of Pensions is charged with the responsibility of providing for, and contributing to, the support, relief, assistance and pensioning of clergy and their families, other church workers and lay employees related to the Annual Conference.

At the close of the 2001-2002 Conference year, the California-Pacific Conference had 932 active and retired clergy. Our health insurance programs had approximately 1513 participants. All of these persons are our Board's constituents. We consider our services to and on behalf of them a vital ministry in the long tradition of our connectional church.

Much of the energy of the Board this past year (as in the past several years) has been focused on the escalating cost of providing post-retirement medical benefits for retired clergy and employees of the Conference and health care coverage for our active clergy and employees.

The Board has worked on this matter in concert with the special Task Force on Health Care, which was appointed by Bishop Mary Ann Swenson and chaired by Judy Cobb. This group has been of invaluable service to the Board and we are deeply grateful to them for the diligence with which they have worked on this issue.

Beginning with the 2003 calendar year, the Board attempted to reduce the cost of our retiree's health care by increasing co-payments for office visits and prescription drugs and reducing certain other benefits. But, it was soon clear that these changes would produce only a modest reduction in health care costs. When coupled with a 15% increase given to us by our health care provider (PacifiCare), this meant that our 2003 costs actually increased by 4%. This resulted in a significant increase in apportionments (roughly an 8% increase attributed to retirees' health care).

The Board was informed by the Council on Finance and Administration that the Conference budget could not sustain such increases and that the Board of Pensions must do something about cutting the cost of this insurance. Further, the CFA mandated that the Board not only come into the 2004 budget hearings with a significantly smaller budget, but, that we also wipe out our deficit from 2002 (approximately $289,000) and our anticipated deficit in 2003 (approximately $60,000), Given these mandates, the Board of Pensions had very little recourse than requiring retirees to pay a portion of the premium for their health care coverage. In order to reduce our asking from apportionments and to make up the deficits for 2002 and 2003, the Board is proposing that retirees pay 45% of their health care premiums with the Conference paying 55% and that this change be made effective on July 1, 2003.

The Board is fully aware that this is drastic action and that it will pose a financial burden on all of the retirees who utilize the Conference's insurance plan. But, escalating health care costs are a problem facing every annual conference in the connection. Some have even opted to withdraw from providing any retiree health care coverage which is funded by their respective conferences.

We are most concerned about our retirees and surviving spouses who have very little resources, especially those who retired years ago before our pension program was improved. We plan to set aside funds in our future budgets to assist the truly needy among our retirees who will be unable to meet the financial burden of increased costs in health care coverage. We shall inform our retirees about this assistance as soon as is practical.

Each member of the Board of Pensions, along with our staff, wishes that it were not necessary to take these actions. But, after examining every alternative, it became clear that we had little choice. We take no joy in changing the long-standing practice of providing free health care coverage for our retirees and their spouses who need it. Our hearts are heavy because of the necessity of this change.

In other matters, we rejoice that we continue to enjoy a positive balance in our Past Service Funding account with the General Board of Pensions and Health Benefits. This means that for the sixth consecutive year, we will not need to make a payment into this account for 2004.

We also rejoice that, in the year 2002, we continued to distribute the earnings from the Frank Lynch Fund and the Georgia Lynch Fund as supplementary grants to our retired clergy, surviving spouses and dependent children. A total of $284,269 was distributed this past year. A full detailed report of this distribution is available in the Board of Pensions office.

We are blessed with exceptional staff in the Board of Pensions office. David Center, who has been our Executive Secretary since 1977, successfully competed for continuing in his position under the new Conference structure. We are pleased that he will continue to lead us. Sylvia Miller, Health Benefits Coordinator, and Marji Martin, Administrative Secretary, continue to service us efficiently and well.

The Board is also well served by Gary Ward, our consultant in health care insurance matters. Gary brings wise counsel and years of experience to our deliberations.

In February 2003, the Board elected a new chairperson, Norton 'Bud' Wrisley. It has been a distinct pleasure to serve as the Board's Chairperson these past six years. Thanks to all who have worked so diligently on the matters before us. May God bless all who are served by the ministry of the Board of Pensions.

REPORT OF SPECIAL GRANTS MADE DURING 2002

The Book of Discipline, 2000 provides in ¶1506.14 that the Conference Board of Pensions may make special grants to clergy and former clergy members of the Annual Conference and their spouses.

During 2002 the Conference Board of Pensions made grants from the following: Grants from the Hough Emergency Fund went to Althea McIntire, L Walters, Emory Taylor, Lloyd Snodgrass and Sylvester Gallardo. Grants from the Crowell Fund went to Amable Alpizar, Nellie Kenny, Virginia Portello-Orozco, and Ruth Lowe. Grants from the special grants account went to Al Rhodes-Wickett, Retired Hispanic Clergy and Spouses, Richard Kendall and David Farley.

2002 PENSION RATE FOR PRE-1982 APPROVED YEARS OF SERVICE

The Conference Average Compensation (CAC) for 2004 is $47,010, as determined by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits. The CAC has increased 5.79% percent compared to the 2003 CAC. For years, the Board has maintained a pre-1982 pension rate at 1% of the CAC. Again this year, the Board is recommending setting the pre-1982 approved service pension rate at 1.00% percent of the CAC. With the adoption of the 1.00% pension rate in 2004 for each approved year of service prior to 1982, the pension rate for 2004 will be $470 per approved year of pre-1982 service. The General Board of Pension and Health Benefits has advised us that a Past Service Deposit for 2004 will not be required. The General Board of Pensions provided an actuarial projection for 2004. As of January 1, 2004 the Cal-Pac Conference is projected to have the Supplement One Fund of the Ministerial Pension Plan over funded by approximately $17,408,029.

2000 Discipline ¶1506.8. On or before July 15, 2002 each annual conference shall develop, adopt and implement a formal funding plan for retiring its pre-1982 pension obligation.

Recommendation No. 1

It is recommended that the California-Pacific Conference Funding Plan For Supplement One to the Ministerial Pension Plan, as described below, be adopted.

California-Pacific Annual Conference Funding Plan For Supplement One to the Ministerial Pension Plan As of January 1, 2003

The Past Service Rate (PSR) is $444, or 1% of the Conference Average Compensation (CAC). The conference intends to maintain a PSR at 1% of the CAC. For the Past ten years, the CAC has been an average of 2.791% increase per year, and we expect the pattern to continue at approximately 3% per year.

As of January 1, 2003, assuming 3% annual PSR increases, the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits shows more assets than benefit obligations. Funding Plan as of January 1, 2002 is summarized below.

	Present Value of Benefits*
Assuming 3% PSR annual increase	$68,858,391
	Current Assets
Supplement One Funding	$76,180,742

*Assuming 8% long term interest and the 1983 Individual Annuity Mortality Table

-Adopted by the Annual Conference on the consent calendar, Plenary 4, June 19, 2003.

Recommendation No. 2

It is recommended that the pension rate for calendar year 2004 be set at 1.00 percent of the Conference Average Compensation ($470) per year for pre-1982 approved years of service. The General Board of Pension and Health Benefits is authorized and instructed to distribute this pension rate in accordance with provisions of Attachment One of the Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP) Adoption Agreement.

Recommendation No. 3

Resolutions Relating to Rental/Housing Allowances for Retired or Clergy persons of the California-Pacific Conference

The California-Pacific Conference (the "Conference") adopts the following resolutions relating to rental/housing allowances for retired or disabled Clergy persons of the Conference:

WHEREAS, the religious denomination known as The United Methodist Church (the "Church"), of which this Conference is a part, has in the past functioned and continues to function through ministers of the gospel (within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code section 107) who were or are duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of the Church ("Clergy persons"):

WHEREAS, the practice of the Church and of this Conference was and is to provide active Clergy persons with a parsonage or a rental/housing allowance as part of their gross compensation;

WHEREAS, pensions or other amounts paid to retired and disabled Clergy persons are considered to be deferred compensation and are paid to retired and disabled Clergy persons in consideration of previous active service; and

WHEREAS, the Internal Revenue Service has recognized the Conference (or its predecessors) as the appropriate organization to designate a rental/housing allowance for retired and disabled Clergy persons who are or were members of this Conference;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

THAT an amount equal to 100% of the pension or disability payments received during the year 2004 by each retired or disabled Clergy person who is or was a member of the Conference, or its predecessors, at the time of his or her retirement or last service be and hereby is designated as a rental/housing allowance for each such Clergy person;

THAT this rental/housing allowance will apply to each Clergy person who in 2004 receives retirement plan or disability plan benefits described below; and

THAT the pension or disability payments to which this rental/housing allowance applies will be any pension or disability payments, whether paid by a plan sponsored by this Conference or the Church, be a commercial annuity company, or otherwise. That results from any service a Clergy person rendered to this Conference or that a retired or disabled Clergy person of this Conference rendered to any local church, annual conference of the Church, general agency of the Church, other institution of the Church, former denomination that is now a part of the Church, or any other employer that employed the Clergy person to perform services related to the ministry of the Church, or its predecessors, and that elected to make contributions to, or accrue a benefit under, a plan, annuity, or fund for such retired or disabled Clergy person's pension or disability as part of his or her gross compensation.

NOTE: The rental/housing allowance that may be excluded from a Clergy person's gross income in any year for federal income tax purposes is limited under Internal Revenue Code section 107(2) and regulations there under to the least of: (1) the amount of the rental/housing allowance designated by the Clergy person's employer or other appropriate body of the Church (such as this Conference in the foregoing resolutions) for such year; (2) the amount actually expended by the Clergy person to rent or provide a home in such year; or (3) the fair rental value of the home, including furnishings and appurtenances (such as garage), plus the cost of utilities in such year.

Adoption Agreements to Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP) and Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP) Applicable to the California-Pacific Annual Conference

The Plan Documents for the Ministerial Pension Plan and the Comprehensive Protection Plan provide that annual conferences have the right to periodically amend the Adoption Agreements to the Plans setting forth the Pension Rate applicable to such participants, the church contribution rate, and any other provisions specifically applicable to such conference. The following Adoption Agreement is submitted to the Annual Conference for its approval.

-Adopted by the Annual Conference on the consent calendar, Plenary 4, June 19, 2003.

Recommendation No. 4

It is recommended that the following Adoption Agreement to the Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP) and Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP), applicable to the California-Pacific Annual Conference for the year 2004 be adopted.

This Adoption Agreement is hereby adopted by the California-Pacific Annual Conference (hereinafter referred to as the "Conference" or "Plan Sponsor" as defined in MPP section 2.30(b)), and agreed to by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits (hereinafter referred to as the "Board") for the Plan Year commencing January 1, 2004. It shall be effective until amended by the Conference and agreed to by the Board in accordance with the provisions of the Ministerial Pension Plan and the Comprehensive Protection Plan. Previous Adoption Agreements shall remain in effect for the Plan Years to which they apply.

MINISTERIAL PENSION PLAN

1. Contribution Base (MPP §2.17): The Conference Contribution Base for the Plan Year shall be a Participant's Compensation not to exceed the Denominational Average Compensation (DAC).

2. Church Contribution Rate (MPP §4.01a): The Church Contribution Rate for the Plan Year shall be 12% of the Contribution Base.

3. Remittance (MPP §401.d, k): The Church Contribution shall be remitted monthly by the Salary-Paying Unit.

4. Elective Arrangements: The Conference Board of Pensions is hereby authorized, at its discretion, to arrange with the Board for active participation in MPP by eligible persons who are not otherwise required to participate.

5. Continued Participation: The Conference elects to continue a person's MPP participation in the following categories, the contributions for which shall be the responsibility of the Conference:

Associate Members and clergy members in full connection appointed to a sabbatical leave to the extent allowable under applicable federal law. (MPP§4.01j(1), 4.03, 4.04, Discipline ¶349).

All Participants appointed to disability leave, but not approved for disability benefits payable under the Comprehensive Protection Plan to the extent allowable under applicable federal law. (MPP §4.01j(2), 4.03, 4.04, Discipline ¶354).

6. Pension Build-Up For Less Than Full Time Appointments: The Clergy Members indicated below and are not covered by another Plan Sponsor's MPP adoption agreement shall have buildup contributions made to their Church Accounts by the Conference. The amount of such contributions shall be equal to a percentage of the Denominational Average Compensation, multiplied by the Conference Contribution Rate, less the contribution required by section 4.01a of the Ministerial Pension Plan. The percentage of the DAC shall be in 25% increments, which correspond with the percentage of full-time service indicated by the member's appointment. (MPP §3.02, 4.01b.)

Full, Associate and Probationary Members who are appointed: (Discipline 329.2) 3/4 time; 2 time and; 1/4 time

Clergy Members of other Denominations who are appointed pursuant to ¶ 337.1 or 337.2 of The Book of Discipline, and who are appointed: 3/4 time; 2 time and; 1/4 time

7. Pension Rate: The 2004 Pension Rate shall be $470.00 per year of service (MPP §B.03). If the twelve percent contribution rate is selected in Section 2 above, the Conference Board of Pensions is hereby authorized to adjust this rate so that this rate is equal to or greater than 0.9% of the Conference Average Compensation.

8. Annuity Rate for Married Participants. (MPP §E.02b): The annuity type for married participants shall be a life annuity with 75% to the surviving spouse contingent annuitant.

9. Past Service Liability (MPP Article D): This section describes the actuarial estimated cost of providing a Formula Benefit pursuant to Supplement One. The pension rate determined under Section 7 above shall include 0% increase for purposes of funding the pension liability.

In accordance with MPP Supplement One, ¶ B.03 and the election made in Section 7 above, the Unfunded Past Service Liability as of January 1, 2004 has actuarially projected estimated annuity reserve value of $17,408,029. Annual Past Service Deposits (APSD) are not required.

The actuarially projected amount indicated in this Section is based upon certain assumptions, including mortality, interest, number of covered participants and beneficiaries, the Pension Rate selected in Section 7 above, and the surviving spouse percentage selected in Section 8 above. In addition, it is assumed that all deposits, both special and regular, indicated on previous Addenda A have been, or will be, made in a timely manner. If any of the assumptions used prove to be incorrect, the Board reserves the right to correct this Section and the Conference agrees to abide by such correction.

COMPREHENSIVE PROTECTION PLAN

1. Remittance (CPP §4.02h): The Church Contribution shall be remitted monthly by the Conference. [Such Church Contributions shall be transferred monthly (effective on the last day of the month) from the Deposit Account of the Conference by the Board. The Conference shall maintain an amount in its Deposit Account sufficient to provide for the monthly transfer of the Church Contributions. In the event the Deposit Account is overdrawn, an interest charge shall be made by the Board. Such charge shall be made at the current monthly rate of interest credited to the Diversified Fund or the current monthly rate of interest credited to the STIRA investment program, whichever is greater.]

2. Elective Arrangements: The Conference Board of Pensions is hereby authorized, at its discretion, to arrange with the Board for active participation in CPP by eligible persons who are not otherwise required to participate.

3. Required Continued Participation: The Conference elects to enroll or to continue the participation of all the participants in the following categories for which the Conference shall contribute 3.4% of the Denominational Average Compensation:

Associate Members and clergy members in full connection appointed to a sabbatical leave (CPP §3.02a Discipline ¶349).

All Full, Associate, and Probationary Members appointed to disability leave, but not approved for disability benefits payable under the Comprehensive Protection Plan, however the Conference shall contribute 4.4% of the Denominational Average Compensation for this category (CPP§3.02a, Discipline ¶ 354)

All Full Time Local Pastors appointed to disability leave, but not approved for disability benefits payable under the Comprehensive Protection Plan, however the Conference shall contribute 4.4% of the Denominational Average Compensation for this category (CPP§3.02c, Discipline ¶354)

4. Optional Continued Participation: The Conference elects to enroll or to continue the participation of electing participants in the following categories for which the Conference shall contribute 4.4% of the Denominational Average Compensation.

Associate members and clergy in full connection appointed to attend school after having served under appointment in the Conference, other than an appointment to attend school, for a maximum of (2) two years (CPP §3.02a)

Full, Associate, and Probationary Members granted leave of absence, for a maximum of five years (CPP §3.02a Discipline ¶351).

Participants granted a family leave, for a maximum of five years (CPP§302.a, Discipline ¶352)

5. Appointed Less Than Full Time:

REQUIRED PARTICIPATION. The Conference elects to enroll or continue the enrollment of all of the participants in the following categories for which the Conference shall make the required contribution based upon 3.4% of the clergy base compensation not to exceed 200% of the Denominational Average Compensation:

Full, Associate, and Probationary Members who are appointed (CPP§3.02a, Discipline ¶329.2): 3/4 time; 2 time and; 1/4 time

Members of Other Denominations who are appointed pursuant ¶¶329.2 and 337.1 or 337.2 of The Book of Discipline, 2000 and who are appointed: 3/4 time; 2 time and; 1/4 time

6. Plan Compensation Below 60% of the DAC or the CAC:

REQUIRED PARTICIPATION. The Conference elects to enroll or continue the enrollment of all of the participants in the following categories whose Plan Compensation is below 60% of the Denominational Average Compensation or the Conference Average Compensation, whichever is less, for which the Conference shall make the required contribution based upon 3.4% of the Denominational Average Compensation: (CPP§3.02.c)

Full, Associate, and Probationary Members, Full Time Local Pastors and Members of Other Denominations who are appointed pursuant to ¶337.2 or 337.3 of The Book of Discipline, 2000.

J. Delton Pickering

Personnel Policy, Conference

The tasks of the Conference Personnel Committee (CPPC) are to interpret and develop personnel policies, recommend salary ranges, monitor compliance with Conference Personnel Policies, review new staff positions including approval of the salary level of each position and the related job description, and serve as the final appeal for any grievances by staff members.

Since the review and approval of job descriptions is an on-going responsibility of the CPPC, the committee worked with the Transition Team and the Leadership Team as anew job descriptions were developed and will continue to do so in 2003 and 2004.

The CPPC has been particularly pleased with the contributions of Jan Hanson, our part time Human Resources Consultant. She completed a comprehensive review of the most recent Wage & Benefit Survey of Southern California Non-Profit Organizations which resulted in the recommendations reviewed in this report. The CPPC continues to affirm salary increases based upon merit. Merit increases of up to 5% are recommended and will be based upon performance evaluations. (see Recommendation 2.) A policy concerning implementation of a step system to get employees to the mid-point of respective pay ranges is being developed.

The Level I salary is set equal to that of a District Superintendent, which is calculated by a formula governed by Conference Rules.

The CPPC was saddened by the sudden death of Stan Kukawka's son and Stan's heart surgery which followed soon afterward. Stan is doing well but his health situation prevented him for continuing as Chairperson. His contribution will be missed tremendously. I have agreed to act as Chairperson for the near future. The CPPC makes the following recommendations.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 1 – 2004 Salary Ranges
That salary ranges for Conference Staff for the calendar year 2004 be set as follows:
Exempt Staff (exempt from overtime pay)
Level I $82,961
Level II $50,128 to $70,179
Level III $33,904 to $49,296
Level IV $25,584 to $34,240
(Note: Salary for Level IV includes food and housing. The food and housing portions are administered by the BCORM in accordance with applicable state and federal laws and with concurrence of the CPPC.)

Non-Exempt Staff (hourly employees eligible for overtime pay as defined in the Personnel Policies.)
Level 10 $15.25 to $21.35
Level 9 $12.96 to 16.85
Level 8 $11.04 to $13.80
Level 7 $9.36 to $11.78
Note: the regular workweek is thirty-five (35) hours (1,820 hours annually.)
-Adopted on the consent calendar, Plenary 9, June 21, 2003.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 2 –Staff salary increase for 2004
That there be no cost of living adjustment and that merit increases by up to, but not to exceed 5%. Consistent with the rules governing Level I salaries, that this salary be set at $82,961.
-Adopted on the consent calendar, Plenary 9, June 21, 2003.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 3 – Out of range adjustment effective December 2003
For all exempt and non-exempt employees who have reached the maximum salary for their position, a lump sum payment not to exceed $600 may be given for performance at a satisfactory level or above. The lump sum would be payable at the time of the performance review and would not affect the employee's hourly and annual compensation classification.
-Adopted on the consent calendar, Plenary 9, June 21, 2003

The committee wishes to express special appreciation to Dan Gara and his staff for their outstanding performance in this challenging year of transition.

Fred Coots

Riverside District Superintendent

I give you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another. By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another. John 13:34-35

Jesus gave this commandment as a way of telling us what is important in our relationship with him and each other. As we come to the close of another conference year, the calling from Jesus to love one another becomes more important daily. How we love is how people will know that we are Christ's disciples. When C. S. Lewis was asked what was the difference between Christianity and other religions he said, "That's easy, Grace!" Grace and how we love is how others will know we are followers of Christ.

This past year has been filled with joy and anxiety. Wars and rumors of wars have filled our every moment. But it is at those times when the church becomes more important to the world as we attempt to model Jesus' commandment to love one another. My prayer is that we find a way to live in peace, but if war happens then that we must let our brave men and women in the armed forces know that we support them and hold them up in our prayers. I urge you to continue to pray for all of God's human creation, even those some may choose to call "enemy or evil."

This year Charge Conferences came a little earlier for some churches as I attempted to finish all Charge Conferences by the first week in January. I want to thank all the churches for their cooperation and spirit of willingness to get this task accomplished.

Several new things have been happening in our District. Hopefully by the time you read this report the District web page will be in place. I want to thank David McGlocklin who has worked tirelessly to construct our web page. The web page will contain information about activities in the District, location of our churches, and activities in our local churches. The new web page will enable us to pull up a map of the District and locate any church in our District and review the activities that are scheduled in the church. The web page will also contain Conference event information.

Several of our churches are expanding their facilities in order to keep up the growth. Corona UMC is moving from their present location and building a new sanctuary. Murrieta UMC and Temecula UMC are adding to their present facility. Barstow UMC, and Redlands: First have completed their building programs. Throughout the District we hear stories of the Spirit of God moving in ways that is drawing people to the community of faith. However, as some are experiencing growth others are struggling and attempting to find ways of being in ministry in their communities. We were encouraged when SongJa Park, a Conference staff, came out to our District and spent some time with some local churches and cluster groups. This was a very positive experience and our District benefited from sharing and learning what our Conference staff can offer to help churches be more effective.

Thanks to Judy Weaver, Judy and Doug Lewis, Walda Gorian and their helpers we had a very successful "How to Workshop," in which over two hundred people participated. During our "How to Workshop," we also heard from our Chairperson of District Congregational Development Committee, David McGlocklin, who gave us a report on the status of the churches in our District. It was very informative and revealing to all who attended. This information is part of our District comprehensive plan.

As is inevitable in God's human creation, we have grieved as we celebrated the lives of colleagues and District family members who have finished their journey on earth and have gone to be present with the Lord. We will miss them but we know we will meet again.

I want to thank all the churches and leaders in the District for their faithfulness to the ministry entrusted to them in their communities. Everywhere I go I find dedicated people working joyfully and tirelessly for our Lord. Thank you for your good work.

I look forward to another year of ministry with you and pray that we will continue to reach out to people who need to know the "Good News. " May God continue to empower you to be the witnesses of God's love and mercy to all people.

John Valles

Rules Committee

At the 2002 session of our Annual Conference, the Rules Committee was instructed to rewrite the Conference rules, and that task has been our year-long focus. We understood our mandate was to seek consistency in the organization and structure of the rules, to improve conformity with The Book of Discipline, 2000, to eliminate unnecessary duplication, update references and terminology, rearrange material to enhance understanding, and to more accurately reflect the way our Conference actually carries out business. This, we believe, we have done.

The Rules Committee did not view its mandate as license to make wholesale changes of substance to the rules. We have incorporated into the document modifications to their own rules as requested by several boards and agencies, most of which are designed to make those rules clearer and more concise.

We regret the new rules are not in the preliminary report, but we hope to have them available on the Conference web page by May 15th for you to study. The document we present to you for adoption has been a true committee effort, but special thanks go to two members who have been most heavily involved: the Rev. Richard Bentley, who has brought his knowledge of the history of the rules to the process, and especially to the Rev. Robert Stimmel, who accepted the monumental task of editing our work.

Arlene Dempster

San Diego District Superintendent

The conference year which now nears its end has been a year of war and rumors of war. Perhaps more than in any other district the impact of the war against Iraq has been felt in the San Diego District. A significant number of the troops sent to the Middle East went from bases within the San Diego District. For months this has meant a climate of uncertainty in the lives of service men and women and their families, and with the approach of the actual time of attack we have seen people from many of our local churches deployed. Congregations have worked to offer care and support to the families remaining here and to keep connected to persons overseas. Military chaplains, including United Methodists, here and abroad have tended to the spiritual needs of troops.

At the same time the church has been strong in its efforts toward peace. Many have been the prayers for a peaceful resolution of the conflict with Iraq and of the response to threats of terrorism. United Methodist churches have sought to build stronger connections with Muslim and Jewish communities and to build stronger interfaith understandings. When the voice of the prophet has been heard in our land it has many times come from the mouth of a United Methodist leader.

In these times of anxiety and uncertainty the life of our churches has gone on. Neither national and international uncertainty nor the economic downturn nor natural disasters has stopped our congregations from moving ahead with their efforts to proclaim the gospel and serve the world. Last summer saw a continuation of the San Diego District's outstanding camping program for children and youth, in spite of a forest fire in Julian that forced the cancellation of our senior high camp. The San Diego District led the Annual Conference in the amount paid in connectional giving, being the only district to pass the $2 million mark in its contributions. The Strength for the Journey Retreat brought spiritual support and growth to persons with HIV/AIDS. Campus ministry at San Diego State University and the University of California-San Diego continues to grow. District churches remain some of the biggest givers of financial support and work to missions with work teams to Russia, Guatamala, and the Philippines and the district Mission Walk in April. A long list of district churches is involved in building projects--from new sites and buildings being prepared for North Coast and Vista UMC's to plans for expansion at Foothills, Chula Vista First, and San Luis Rey UMC's because they are literally bursting at the seams. Imperial Valley church members have become involved in an after school program in Mexicali as part of La Iglesia sin Fronteras. Training for church leaders was given at the district How-To Workshops hosted by San Carlos United Methodist Church in January.

The San Diego District has been blessed with strong lay and clergy leadership. We give thanks for the contributions of Lay Leader Bill Rockwell, District Union President Burt Alden, METRO Director John Hughes, and District Leadership Team Chairperson Lori Doyle. My work as your superintendent is wonderfully supported by our Administrative Assistant Mona Samuels. To all of these persons we offer our thanks.

In his poem "For the Time Being," W. H. Auden reminds us that Christ is the Way, the Truth, and the Life and that we should seek Christ in the Kingdom of Anxiety. Through this year full of anxiety we have been able to continue on with confidence and hope because Christ has been there to guide and sustain us. May we be mindful of Christ's presence with us.

Emma Moore-Kochlacs

Santa Ana District Superintendent

Thank God for the disciples of the district. They have been bold enough to articulate who Christ is in the dispirited world. In many different ministry settings, both lay and clergy have worked so hard in their respective communities to lift up the sacred presence of Christ. I thank them for the worships, devotions, and many holy gatherings that deepen their faith journeys. I thank them for feeling no shame to share their faith with those who yearn and seek. It is impossible to mention all of the meaningful ministries throughout the district. Each and every attempt by a congregation to spell out what it means to be a follower of Christ has placed hope and vision for those witnessed, and I am immensely grateful.

Yes, we built a house. And we named it a "Methodist House." One of the district's mission projects for this year was to build a house in the Santa Ana downtown area with the Orange County Habitat for Humanity. The Habitat provided a lot, piece of land, and we built it with $100,000.00. The support throughout the district was overwhelming, and many of the contributors felt that this was one of the ways in which they participated in the very passion of Jesus. Of many fundraising events, the Bike-A-Thon attracted 36 bikers, including Bishop Swenson and Jeff. They began their journey from Fullerton: First and finished at St. Mark's in San Diego district. It was a marvelous experience. We finally dedicated the house to the Ramirez family, a family consisting of a couple and four children. As I write this report, the family found a home in the Methodist House. All of this was possible because of those who yearned, sought, and were passionate for what Jesus would do for those in need.

The diversity within us is a true blessing. As I have stated in many charge conferences, 11 languages are spoken to glorify God in the churches. I thank God for the persistent and resilient lay and pastoral leaders as they pioneer their respective mission fields. The district Building and Strategy committee has been very active to support their ministries in meaningful ways. As the different language (other than English) groups continue to expand, a proactive and visionary strategy becomes so essential. The committee envisions different options within several areas of the district. They played a key role in merging Buena Park Korean UMC with Grace River Korean in the Anaheim area this year. I thank Greg Hammil and the committee for their untiring work for the best possible allocation of resources and support for the communities. Their selfless dedication for the district planning and strategy is well appreciated by many of the district churches.

The leadership team, composed of the district lay and pastoral leaders, continue to be a birthing place for the vision of the district. I believe this format of district leadership after DCOM has been well placed and is found to be effective in many ways. This is a team with whom the superintendent has often consulted, prayed, and played. And I would like to express my deep appreciation for their faithful and productive participation. Especially, the Rev. Cindy Williams has done a wonderful job as the chairperson, and I look forward to continuing work with this team.

The Rev. David Beadles leads the Superintendency Committee this year, and the committee has been a wonderful partner in ministry. Caring attentions have been a soothing support for my family and me. Along with my three children, Lee and I feel that we are very blessed to have such friends even with their superintendent! They put their fingers on the pulse of the district with mine, and articulate the strength and growing edge for my leadership. They have been companions in search of a Christ-like ministry for the district. I thank them.

The partnership between the laity and clergy has never been more successful than this year. Judy Cobb, the district lay leader, has been a great partner with me to go around to the charge conferences and to participate in many crucial events of the district.

Her leadership has been well appreciated by those who have had an opportunity to hear her. Her passion and commitment to the connection have been demonstrated by the untiring and selfless contribution of her gift and grace. It has been my privilege to work with her, and the district has been blessed by her presence. Jean McKee, the assistant administrator of the district, is another one that makes this ministry possible. Again, she has demonstrated her commitment to the church and passion for the people who serve. As the most experienced and effective assistant, she has often been a support person for those assistants in other districts if they needed help. Thanks be to God for her ministry.

"Anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation…" (2 Corinthians 5:17) This coming year will be part of a new creation for us who are in Christ. Ministry goes on. Hearts continue to be transformed. And Christ's heartbeat dwells in all of us… New steps into the future know no fear for we are in Christ. And we move forward with bold spirit. Amen.

Cheol H. Kwak

Santa Barbara District Superintendent

Gifted, Graced, and Called by God

It is because we are gifted, graced, and called by God that the people of the Santa Barbara District have offered ministries to the communities of the area during this past year. We give thanks to God who challenges and equips, strengthens and guides.

As a result of last year's decision of the district, a leadership team is now in the process of discovering its ministry to the churches of the district. We are grateful for the prayer, thought, creativity, and enthusiasm of Maggie Fertschneider, Ron Griffen, Roberta Palmer, Larry Wayman, Steve Ellis, Mark Ulrickson, Dewayne Johnson, Ken Ellis, Mele Maka, Tina Urias, Kathi Ellis, Dorothy Caldwell, and Samuel Hong who have agreed to take up this important leadership effort. The team has planned several events for the district throughout the year and is contemplating more for the months ahead including training for visioning and a cultural sensitivity experience.

At last June's Annual Conference, we welcomed pastors newly appointed to the district including Barbara Purdy to San Fernando: First, Andre Feijo to Pacoima: El Mesias, Steve Peralta to Santa Barbara: St. Mark, and Kay Barre to Tarzana: St. Paul. We delighted in celebrating the appointment of William Johnson to the start-up ministry in Nipomo and many have surrounded him in prayer during the year. Anna Lee Mulford agreed to share her time with the people of Ventura: First and Fillmore: First as the latter church seeks to revitalize its ministry. In midsummer, Janet McKeithen became the campus minister at CalPoly in San Luis Obispo while continuing a half-time ministry in rural Shandon. In early fall, Fred Erwin and Jorinda Bullitt assumed appointments at Moorpark and Pacoima: First, respectively.

During this district ice cream social welcome, we also celebrated the commissioning of Susan Grove and Sione Veikoso as well as the ordination of Sunny Pak, SonHye Him, Samuel Hong, Lamuel Jacobs, and Ron Griffen, all to Elder's Orders. No pastor retired from the district this past year. We did bid farewell to Soomee Kim, sending her off to Evanston to share leadership responsibilities for the General Commission on the Status and Role of Women, to Lee and Charlene Cunningham as they took up a new appointment at Moreno Valley, and to Barbara Silversmith who entered a Clinical Pastoral Education program in the Washington D.C. area.

Additionally, we rejoiced as Mision Hispana Biblica United Methodist Church was received as a newly chartered church in June. A great celebration was held as the church began ministry as a formally constituted congregation of the denomination serving in Simi Valley.

Increasingly, because of the geography of the district, gatherings are taking place at the cluster levels. Clergy holiday events were held at Moorpark and Arroyo Grande churches while training events in the form of How-To Workshops were held at the Reseda, Arroyo Grande, and Camarillo churches. We did come together as a district to be in conference and to welcome Bishop Mary Ann and Jeff Swenson at a springtime meeting at Ventura: First. We are grateful to all who were instrumental in providing leadership for these experiences of fellowship and growth.

Again, the district offered a high quality summer camp program at Colby Ranch. We are appreciative of the efforts of Donna Everhart and Butch Henry in creating a joyful senior high camp, David Camphouse and Amy Aitken for leading an enthusiastic junior high/middle school session, and for Candy Holsenbeck-Smith and Charlie Gray for offering a mountaintop experience to elementary school children. They were glad for the significant gift of time and energy and offering of faith that was provided by the men and women who staffed each camp. As a district, we gave thanks for the many years of camp leadership offered by Butch Henry as he moved to the Sacramento area.

Several youth and adults used summer weeks to take part in the Sierra Service Projects on Native American reservations and rancherias in California, Arizona, Nevada, and Oregon while Arson Rebuild teams trekked to Georgia to build a church destroyed by fire.

Throughout the year, several district committees have sought to resource the work of local churches. The District Committee on Ordained Ministry, under the leadership of Barbara Purdy, successfully oversees responses to God's call to ministry through mentoring, candidacy certification, recommendation to the conference Board of Ordained Ministry for commissioning, and certification of local pastors. The Planning and Strategy Committee, with the leadership of Craig Brown, seeks to implement a coordinated plan for ministry throughout the district and is responsible for Jubilee Fund grants, Equitable Compensation applications, and the district's portion of the conference's Comprehensive Plan for Ministry. During this past year, committee members toured the central coast area where they spent time with Bill Johnson in reviewing the recently initiated Nipomo ministry and surveying new sites for growth. The Superintendency Committee, now led by Spencer Kim and Amy Aitken, continues to provide review of and support for the ministry of the superintendent. The Building and Location Committee, chaired by Ed Law, undertook a more active life as plans for a sanctuary at San Luis Obispo and other plans for building at Santa Barbara: Korean, Pacoima: First, and Morro Bay: Estero Bay were discussed. The District Union, led by Howard Hudson, met to review investments of the district and to distribute money to support emerging ministries and local needs.

Individuals have headed up efforts in the district as well and we give thanks to Tom Hower for his work with lay speakers and Ron Harrington for his service as district lawyer. Jose Vindel as chairperson has gathered others to undertake a fruitful Hispanic ministry within the district. Ken Ellis and Dorothy Caldwell continue to serve creatively and faithfully as lay leaders.

Gifts and grace and call have prompted new projects within the Santa Barbara District. Van Nuys: First has begun a ministry to the Spanish-speaking neighborhood through the work of Modesto Arenas. Santa Barbara: First is undertaking a significant renovation of its magnificent organ. Santa Maria: First finished an exterior repaint of the whole church while Chatsworth and West Valley congregations added a colorful new playground to its campus. The Friendly Valley church in Newhall has dedicated a new organ for use in worship and charter schools are being hosted at both First and El Mesias congregations in Pacoima. Newly chartered Mision Hispana Biblica in Simi Valley has created a community assistance center with a wide variety of grants supporting its work and North Valley Caring at the Sepulveda site has secured a significant grant to enlarge its ministry to the North Hills area of the San Fernando Valley.

Among the clergy families, marriages have been celebrated. Karen Delaney and Steve Ellis spoke words of wedding in February and then just a week later Flora Obayashi and Larry Wayman were united in marriage with elements of the Hawai'ian culture included. Community awards were bestowed upon Lew Fry for his chaplaincy work and upon Larry Wayman for his leadership in responding to violence in the Oxnard area. Charles "Cap" Cappelman received special commendation for his work in the communications industry.

The district continues to benefit from the faithful service of Catherine Phillips as she provides care and guidance for the congregations and pastors. In light of her many tasks, we are especially grateful for her editing of the district pages of the conference newsletter. Catherine has become active in the conference association of church secretaries (PAUMCS), which will educate her to train local church secretaries for greater service in our churches.

Yet again, it is a privilege to serve the pastors, people, programs, and churches of the Santa Barbara District. Thanks be to God and to the people of the district for this opportunity to experience gift, grace, and call. Grace and Peace to All

Southern California Ecumenical Council

February 1, 2002 through January 31, 2003

MISSION STATEMENT: The Southern California Ecumenical Council (SCEC) is a regional body representing churches, denominations, related ministries, and other ecclesiastical communities who cooperate to promote responsible and creative expressions of our Christian unity and witness to the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Through ecumenical networks and inter-religious partnerships SCEC works to foster religious understanding, to advocate for social justice and to advance the well-being of all people.

The ministry of SCEC offers avenues of response - especially within the Los Angeles and Southern California areas where cooperative thought and action can assist local congregations and denominations reach out to our diverse communities. SCEC is an agency that listens to many calls for help and connects those in need with those who are prepared to respond to Christ's call out of the love and concern in their hearts. Your $18000 gift to the year 2002 budget is gratefully received and we want to write you into the year 2003 budget for $153000. Your gift is crucial to our financial stability, and we are most thankful for your generous support.

Our ecumenical worship experience of the year was the annual celebration of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, January 26. A multi-ethnic congregation of three hundred fifty persons from fifteen denominations gathered at Pasadena: First, for Celebration of the Word. The Rev. Dr. Robert Edgar, General Secretary, National Council of the Churches of Christ, was the preacher for the occasion. The service and following panel discussion reflected sober reflection on the questions of war and peace in the Middle East and consideration of ways in which faithful people may respond. In Southern California SCEC joins the other ecumenical and interfaith councils in the continuing struggle for justice and peace at home and abroad.

During the year SCEC played a significant role in sponsoring a May forum on the history of Jewish-Palestinian relationships in the Holy Land and in planning the July Asilomar Mission Education Conference on the Sudan and Displaced Children at Risk. On the environment front, not unrelated, we contributed time and energy to the only community town meeting (held in Santa Monica) for the August United Nations Summit in Johannesburg, South Africa. We continue to explore the ethical dimensions of the national energy crisis through California Interfaith Power and Light and the Los Angeles Interfaith Environmental Council. These programs encourage individuals and congregations to practice energy conservation and (in Los Angeles) sign up for alternative energy generation. Interested persons may contact us for further information. We can be reached at phone 626-578-6371 or scec1@earthlink.net United Methodist representatives are Ms. Laura Ramirez, Rev. Sessions Report

Most of you know that preparation for next year's Annual Conference begins immediately after the end of the present Annual Conference. In fact, as soon as Annual Conference is over, we meet to evaluate and begin plans for the coming years. So while most folks are driving home, exhausted, disappointed or overjoyed, we are meeting to plan for the next year. Preparing for Annual Conference and the more than 1,500 clergy and lay delegates is always a challenge. This is particularly true in years when we have election of General and Jurisdictional Conference delegates. However, I am fortunate to have dedicated and extremely capable people on the Sessions Committee that are up to the task.

The Committee is made up of people who are responsible for every aspect of the Annual Conference. Many things that we take for granted work smoothly because many people come together to make it work. There are people working on registration and housing. There are the ushers who have a particularly challenging job this year because of the elections. There are the childcare people, communications, worship, booths, parking, legislative sessions, agenda, staging, youth activities, courtesies, finances, clergymates, evaluation, and the University facilities and their people. Beside all the jobs mentioned there are a large number of volunteers that give of their time and energy to help the Annual Conference run as smoothly as possible. We owe these people our deepest gratitude for giving of themselves that we may experience a good Annual Conference.

I want to thank everyone involved in making our Annual Conference possible. Please know that I appreciate your hard work. Without you this event would not be possible. May God continue to bless you and fill your life with His joy and peace.

Status and Role of Women, Commission on

The Commission would like to thank L. L. C. Hammond for serving as Co-Chairperson. We would also acknowledge Helen Sebring and Myron Stump for eight years of dedicated service and support.

The Commission membership consists of representatives from each District with equal opportunities for men and women and representation from all ethnic backgrounds.

We support and have been actively involved in the Sexual Ethics Task Force n the past years. Now that the Task Force is in place attention to other areas and issues important to the status and role of women in our Conference will be our focus.

We will continue to work closely with United Methodist Women, Church and Society and the Clergywomen's Association.

We have worked on Survey Response Forms to increase awareness and are interested in encouraging and building up COSROW within each local church. We have participated in the Riverside "How To Workshop" and are anxious to participate in each District in a similar capacity.

We completed our brochures and made them available to our local churches and have a new and current web site. Go to www.cal-pac-cosrow.org We are looking forward to a year of growth and education.

Strengthen the Black Church, The Committee to

During the 2002 Annual Conference year the Committee to Strengthen the Black Church has worked to identify and strengthen Black Churches within the California-Pacific Annual Conference with two major events–the first being a workshop at the Lay Convocation and the second being a gathering on November 9, 2002. The purpose of the workshop at the Lay Convocation was to share the intention of the Committee to Strengthen the Black Church:

- Conduct assessments of the "State of our Black Churches" in the Annual Conference
- Define possibilities and opportunities for essential mission and ministries of our Black Churches with our Black constituencies
- Utilize the Conference and District structures to enable strategy development for empowering and enabling growth of both the congregational and missional life of Black Churches
- Facilitate and coordinate connections with General Church agencies and mission initiatives that address the strengthening, and development of Black Churches
- Call our Annual Conference to support an intentional Black Church agenda by dedicating budgeted resources to aid and develop Black Churches within the Annual Conference

The two workshops were well attended and provided an educational opportunity for those that attended and the presenters, the Rev. Cedrick Bridgeforth and Tanya Harris

A Gathering was held on November 9, 2002 at the Saint Mark United Methodist Church (Los Angeles) and was well attended by the various Black Churches within the Annual Conference. There was a good representation of clergy and laity. It was recognized at that time also that some churches identified by the Annual Conference as "Black Churches" do not identify themselves with this title but rather "multi-ethnic." There were several insights, assets, resources, strengths and needs of at least 14 local churches. The two questions that were answered were (1) what are the resources needed to strengthen your local church? and (2) what resources does your church currently have?

The outcome of the gathering led the Committee to focus some attention to (1) linking churches with specific program needs with churches who already have resources of vibrant ministry models that could help the other churches.

The Committee identified the following core issues for the 2003 year which include:

1. Identified Black Church pastors and Administrative Council Chair to identify their desire to accept or decline participation in the work of the Committee.
2. Strengthen and Encourage ministries that address the health needs of Black people i.e. Diabetes, HIV/AIDS, Prostate Cancer,
3. Strengthen and encourage satellite ministries among churches where Blacks have clustered i.e. Temecula, Palmdale, Carson, Lakewood/Cerritos
4. Strengthen and encourage promotion of Black Churches through various publicity opportunities i.e. Martin Luther King, Jr. Parade, Los Angeles Black Church Spring Revival, Brochures

We consider it a high honor to serve the people of the United Methodist Church

Kathey Michelle Harry & Cedrick Bridgeforth

Treasurer, Conference

Seven full years of ministry have been completed as your Conference Treasurer and now Executive Director of Finance and Administration. I continue to be blessed as a lay person with a job that's a unique ministry serving our Conference churches and Jesus Christ.

A regular newsletter, "Dollars and Sense," continued to be published this year to provide helpful, timely information to local church treasurers, pastors, finance chairs and trustees. Since November of 1997, we have included 198 articles or items of interest. An index is available, upon request.

The efforts of the Treasurer's office staff were devoted to working with various task forces and special committees relating to such varied responsibilities as the Jubilee sub-committee of Congregational Loan, the Board of Trustees, the Capital Asset Budgeting Committee, and the Pastor's Moving Committee. We also served as staff support to the Council on Finance and Administration, the Conference Board of Trustees, the Lawyers Committee, the Conference Sessions Committee, and the Episcopal Residence Committee. In addition we interfaced with the Rules Committee, the Nominating Committee, and the Commission on Archives and History. These activities were in addition to the normal treasury and accounting functions.

As part of the conference reorganization, during 2002 my title change reflected the additional supervisory responsibilities associated with pensions, human resources, health insurance, camp plant and operations other than program. David Center and Paul Cogger continue management responsibilities in those areas, and I depend upon their expertise and experience.

Our apportionment receipts in 2002 in support of the "connectional church" ministries totaled $10,293,667, slightly higher than 2001 and 82.6% of total apportionments. Although a drop from 84.1% for the prior year, we know 2002 was a tough year.

There was no borrowing from our bank during this last Conference year. To meet our internal cash flow needs during 2002, the Council on Finance and Administration continued to authorize inter-fund borrowings.

The proposed budget being recommended to this session of the Annual Conference was developed over several months in late 2002 and early 2003, culminating with the budget hearings held on March 7, 2003. At that time, the proposed budgets of all of the boards and agencies were presented and CFA then calculated the apportionment amount after cutting substantially from the Ministry requests. Copies of those detailed budget requests are available. See the CFA report for additional detail on the recommended 2004 apportionment, a reduction from 2003.

The Annual Conference audited year-end financial statements for 2002 reflect that most boards and agencies performed within their revised 2002 spending plans. The audit of the 2002 financial records was completed prior to Annual Conference by our CPA firm, Moreland and Associates, and was available for review by any member of the Annual Conference during the Annual Conference. We received a clean opinion with no recommendations to management for improvement.

The workload of our staff continues to be significantly increased. Our commitment to continue a high level of productivity and effectiveness has not changed despite staffing at a lower level than in 1993.

Your Conference Controller, Kevin Stern, continues to professionally serve you as the Administrator and Manager of the Accounting Department, and each year I search for new words to describe Kevin's attitude and performance. In addition to my confidence in Kevin's accounting expertise, I am particularly grateful for his continued professionalism and cooperative spirit. He is my steady right hand. Amen.

Once again, I remain particularly proud of the outstanding effort of the members of the support staff who ensure your questions are promptly answered and the financial transactions are accurately and properly recorded in the Conference books. Over $23 million flows through the office each year. Josie Reeves brings 33 years of faithful ministry in the Treasurer's office - back to J. Wesley Hole. Josie provides a historical perspective and deep knowledge base. Mabel Habersham-Flowers also brings tremendous experience to the Treasurer's office. She "lives" on the phone with many of you in the local church. For 22 years, she too has seen tremendous change and is able to handle a broad range of responsibilities. Both Josie and Mabel are deeply committed to serving God through their work in our office. Joyce Zirkle, our Administrative Secretary, always gets compliments on her knowledge, attitude and communication skills. She is a key link between the local church and questions for the Treasurer's office and her expanded knowledge base permitted her to assist me in providing answers you needed. Like the others in the office, Joyce considers her job a ministry and it shows. Peggy Hallock is the first cheerful voice you hear when you call the Conference Center. Peggy has a broad knowledge of the activities of the Conference and is very helpful in directing calls to the proper place. She continues to assume additional duties as we added responsibilities without adding staff. All of us in the Finance and Administration office work as a dedicated team. All our staff members are United Methodists active in their local churches. I am very proud of this staff of servants who work so hard for you as they live their faith in Jesus Christ.

Trustees, Board of

Our Conference Board of Trustees conducted three meetings in the calendar year 2002. The first meeting was held on March 21, 2002. Our Conference Chancellor, Steve Harbison, provided an update on two pending legal cases that were being handled by the Conference's insurance carrier, Kaye-Western. Our Conference Treasurer, Dan Gara, presented a report on the rapidly rising costs of supplemental medical benefits for our retired clergy, supported in part from earnings of the Conference Endowment Fund. The Insurance Committee reported good claims experience for 2001 and announced a legal liability seminar to be offered on September 14, 2002 by Richard Hammer for all interested. The Property Committee made a number of recommendations regarding the Arroyo Grande camp. Motions for dissolving the cell phone antenna contract, approving a feasibility study for building a cabin with a $25,000 gift, and authorizing Chuck Kishpaugh to negotiate and recommend a lease agreement with a communications company were all approved. The Trustees received a report from the Congregational Loan Committee, including the approval of their 2003 budget. In addition, the Conference's Revolving Line of Credit with the Bank of America was renewed.

The second meeting of the Trustees was held on June 12, 2002 to discuss the accounting for the Conference Endowment Fund, established in 1879. This fund totaled $4,425,123 in assets as of December 31, 2001. The history of contributions was reviewed to accurately account between temporarily and permanently restricted funds. The Conference Treasurer and Conference auditors recommended that all realized and unrealized gains be classified as temporarily restricted funds that are able to be spent to support the retired pastors under The Board of Pensions. Therefore, it was moved that $1,654,670.32 of the Conference Endowment Fund be temporarily restricted and $2,770,453.41 be permanently restricted as of December 31, 2001. The motion was approved.

The third meeting of the Trustees was held on November 7, 2002. The Conference's insurance broker, Kaye-Western Insurance, presented an overview of the Conference's renewed policy. The policy covers properties totaling $806,888,191 in value with a blanket policy limit of $15,000,000 in coverage for 2003. The policy also showed an 11% premium increase; well below the average premium increases due to turmoil in the insurance industry following 9/11. A motion was made to accept the renewed policy, which was approved. Chuck Cota, Chairperson of the Property Committee, reported that a master site plan for all of the Conference camping properties was under way.

A subcommittee comprised of representatives of the Trustees and CFA met twice during the calendar year to review The Book of Discipline, 2000 regarding the responsibility for fund investment recommendations and decisions, specifically concerning the Jubilee Fund. The sub-committee, chaired by Greg Batson, met twice (April 17 and November 6, 2002) and made the following recommendations:

- Because the responsibility for Conference investments is shared jointly by the Trustees and CFA, an operating agreement between the two bodies was recommended. The CFA is responsible for making recommendations regarding Conference investments to the Trustees. The Trustees may concur with the recommendation, or object, at which time the issue would be submitted to a joint committee of the two bodies for resolution.
- Once Jubilee funds have been designated for ministry grants; those funds should be invested in a short-term investment account. Any earnings from such a short-term account shall be returned annually to the long-term investment fund.

The Trustees approved both recommendations of the subcommittee.

On behalf of the Trustees, I wish to thank all those ex-officio members who have supported our work in the past year: Dan Gara, Treasurer; Steve Harbison, Chancellor; Jan Berentsen, UM Foundation; Gwen Jones-Lurvey, Congregational Loan; Chuck Kishpaugh and Paul Cogger, Camping; and Keith Andrew Hwang, Secretary. I also wish to thank Paul Tsuneishi for chairing the board so ably since he stepped in to fill the void left by the death of our former chairperson, the Rev. George Walters.

United Methodist Women

"Windows of Opportunity" continue to be opened to women of the California-Pacific United Methodist Women. During the past year, many of us attended Assembly, which is held every 4 years. This event, "Sing a New Song" was held in Philadelphia and despite the precarious world situation nearly 10,000 women gathered to sing, study, learn and fellowship together. It was an inspiration to all of us who attended. The summer months were very busy with three Schools of Christian Mission held in July and August. Our study leaders were outstanding as they led us through especially difficult studies on Mexico, Restorative Justice and James. We are the only conference that offers the opportunity to attend Schools in four (4) languages - English, Korean, Hispanic and Tongan. We also held one session for teen women. All Schools were filled to capacity.

From our study of Mexico, we carried the theme of "Fiesta!" to our annual meeting held in October in Escondido and it was truly a celebration as we gathered to do the conference business, learn, fellowship and celebrate together. The afternoon featured a Mexican marketplace that invited us to remember that goods from our neighbors to the south often exploit those who are producing them. We also enjoyed delicious foods and music from the new Hispanic congregation of Escondido UMC. The Rev. Faith Conklin challenged us with the words of James. The gathering of nearly 500 women from all areas of our conference was an inspiration to all of us.

Our mid-winter events, held in February, were held in four locations throughout our conference which gave more women of our conference an opportunity to attend. We were challenged to look at Restorative Justice through "New Eyes." At Martin Luther King, Jr. UMC, the Rev. DiAnn Johnson spoke on the Shalom Zone. Those who attended National City: First heard Shirley Ferrill speak on Victim-Offender Mediation. Dr. Robert Denham spoke about the Kairos Prison Ministry at Riverside: Wesley and a panel which included the Women's Prison chaplain, a minister who worked with prostitutes for 10 years, a representative from a women's shelter and mental health ministry spoke at Wahiawa UMC in Hawaii.

As we celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Methodist Hospital in Arcadia which was started by UM Women in Los Angeles, we have chosen to take on a new opportunity to help women and children. We have made a commitment to raise $100,000.00 for their Maternal Child Health campaign. The response has been excellent as we have told the story of Methodist Hospital throughout our conference.

As president, I had the opportunity to attend the Women's Division meeting in October. It was a privilege to meet the many women who give us support and help with decision-making concerning this large organization. I also met many representatives from General Board of Global Ministries (GBGM) of which Women's Division is a part. While I was there it was announced that our conference had received a grant which will help our sisters from the Guam and Saipan units attend the School of Christian Mission in Hawaii this summer as well as allow Hawaii district officers to go to those islands and do officer training and membership development. Another window of opportunity opened! I also have visited our districts and national mission institutions. In September, I spent a day at David and Margaret Home in Laverne and in March traveled to Calexico and Neighborhood House. A visit to Toberman House is in the near future and I am a frequent visitor at Susannah Wesley Community Center. Our monies and time are well spent at all of these projects which offer so many opportunities to members of their communities.

"Building a community of women..." has been one of the pervading goals of the California-Pacific United Methodist Women during this past year. As a Mission Team we strive to encourage all to honor and provide for the diversity of our Conference. When planning events we have looked at location, programming and participation so that the Windows of Opportunity might be opened for more women. As we look to the rest of this year, we will hold one of our Schools of Christian Mission in Hawaii which will open windows for more women. Our grant from Women's Division will allow for participation of Guam and Saipan women. We are planning to have teen sessions at all three Schools this year. We are still hoping to begin units for university women and our eyes have been opened to the prospect of starting units in women's prisons.

As United Methodist Women we continue to fulfill our purpose as we strive to open Windows of Opportunity for the women and children of the world. As this happens we learn that Windows have opened for us as we discover the joy of doing for others and becoming part of Christ's New Creation.

United Theological Seminary

At United Theological Seminary (UTS), 2002 was a year where much time and effort was spent envisioning the future. When Bishop Milton Wright and his colleagues established the seminary in 1871, it was clearly for the purpose of equipping leaders for the church. And it was done out of a deep sense of piety, the love of learning, and a determination to carry the Gospel to the world. It was not an easy assignment then, nor is it easy to maintain today.

While there surely have been radical cultural shifts and changes over the past 132 years, our task remains essentially the same. Our mandate is to become a Christ-centered learning community in order to equip and deploy spiritual leaders for the church and the emerging global community.

We believe the future of United Theological Seminary is dependent upon the recently affirmed values of the seminary and our capacity to implement academic and non-degree programs consistently rooted in these values. Both the faculty and the Board have expressed their commitment to:

- Experiences of faith and discipleship in Jesus Christ
- Studies in the Biblical Tradition
- Participation in the practice of ministry
- The integration of faith and academic inquiry
- A world vision of inclusivity, reconciliation, and peace

We are determined to enable our students to articulate the Christian faith with such conviction that discipleship is the consequence of their leadership within and through the church. And we are determined to provide such a profound educational experience that, on campus and in those places our students and graduates serve, there will be solid evidence of growth in Christian maturity, signs of the redemptive community, and radical change in the cultures and communities we encounter in the power of the Spirit.

United Seminary flourishes when we understand that the resources entrusted to us must be shared with the church and the world. At UTS we are preparing an Academic Plan that will enhance the ministries of the Gospel throughout the church. Our students are able to preach and conduct worship, effectively lead others within their assigned posts, participate in discipleship and spiritual formation with sensitivity and skillfulness, create and guide the healing community, and grasp the context for mission with an understanding of the tasks and resources essential for justice, evangelism, and reconciliation.

UTS is establishing an Urban Training Center to prepare and deploy leaders for the developing congregations strategically placed among hard-living people and the newly emerging cities across the country. We are enthusiastically cooperating in the preparation of dynamic leaders within racial-ethnic communities and learn from those who have faced oppression and injustice for generations.

UTS is committed to exploring the rich traditions of the United Brethren in Christ, the Evangelical Church, the Methodists, and the ecumenical community represented by our students, faculty, and constituents. The EUB Heritage Center on campus represents a collection of more than 7000 manuscripts and artifacts suitable for very meaningful research and discovery. Rooted in our history is the substance of our faithfulness and practical divinity [to borrow a phrase]. We are enabling our constituents to capitalize on the rich resources available here through our exceptional library.

Leadership development is being greatly enhanced at United through the Kenneth H. Pohly Center for Supervision and Leadership Formation. Preparing leaders and supervisors for the work of ministry is integral to our curriculum and mission in the larger church and community. We have heard the appeal for leaders in the church, and we are responding with substance.

Our newly formed Center for Worship, Preaching, and the Arts demonstrates our capacity to provide top-rated training in these vital areas for the church. Our capacity to use technology creatively, to enable the proclamation of the Word, and to enhance ministry through the arts is already well noted among our constituents and friends.

The Institute for Applied Theology coordinates UTS's new programs in practical ministry leadership. In campus, congregational and community settings, the Institute offers innovative programs that enhance and complement masters' and doctoral degree program offerings, as well as programs for continuing education, lifelong learning and transformative ministry development to both clergy and laity.

This is an exciting and challenging time as we think contextually and globally. We are forced to raise the difficult questions of theological education in a violent and unsettled time for the church and the world. And we are particularly challenged, at UTS, with rapidly growing our capacity to stay at our mandate in a time when our seminary is so critically needed.

Urban Strategy and Shalom Ministries

For ten years, the ad hoc Urban Strategy and Shalom Zone Ministries Committee of the Annual Conference has been "strategizing ways to heal the city."

A key element in that strategy has been taking struggling ministries and projects to a sustainable level. This year the first major advance occurred when North Valley Caring Services, the non-profit arm of Sepulveda: UMC received a three year grant of $1.2 million to provide support and programming to young children and their families in the immediate neighborhood. This project was initiated by Rev. Jim Hamilton, pastor of the Church, and continued and expanded by a dedicated but small board of directors, most of whom are United Methodists. It has evolved with the support of the office of Urban Strategy and neighboring United Methodist Churches, most significantly, the Northridge: UMC

This year substantial work was done to put Plaza Community Center on solid footing. Still reeling from a period of inadequate management, the Center was forced to close its clinic, while scrambling to find investments to close a $250,000 gap. Through some creative financing and a major gift engineered by a United Methodist layman, Plaza was able to stabilize its financial situation. At the same time, the agency was able to secure an agreement with the County of Los Angeles that would secure its future while expanding mental health services to the Eastside.

On the parish side of the equation, the Urban Strategist has helped the Los Angeles District start an important initiative to take sustainable churches to a new level of competency and growth. Using the Church Development Systems training, also known as Crossroads, the LA District trained a core of clergy who could train churches on the district to enhance their ministry methods. Four churches have developed strategic plans and are continuing to build their congregations while four new churches were selected for the training. Churches receiving training in 2002 included Los Angeles: Crenshaw/Calvary Parish – both churches, Hollywood: First and Westchester.

In addition, urban clergy and project directors were offered four "Networkshops" to enhance their skills in ministry. The workshops presented leaders notable in their fields, including Rev. Mark Whitlock, Executive Director of FAME Renaissance on Community Economic Development, and Tom McGuiness, founder of the Citrus Valley Health Partnership, LA county's largest and most effective health collaborative who shared his experience building coalitions and partnerships. In addition the Urban Strategist led workshops on running effective meetings and board building as well as another round of in-depth trainings on Asset Based Community Development (ABCD).

This year one of the faithful members of the Conference Committee retired from her work. Lay woman Shirley Ferrill who has been a long-time staff member of METRO in San Diego joined the ranks of those who continue to do the work of ministry but without salary. She continues to serve as a representative from the San Diego district.

Finally, two key collaborators make this work effective: The California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation, directed by Ms. Jan Berentsen, and the Los Angeles United Methodist Urban Foundation directed by Rev. DarEll Weist. Without their help, this work would not be possible, and moments of healing in the city would harder to find.

Volunteers in Mission

The Volunteers in Mission program had its busiest year yet in the Cal-Pac Annual Conference. Over 2000 people went on mission trips in 2002. The Sierra Service Project had 43 Cal-Pac churches participate with nearly 650 youth and adults working at four different Indian reservations. The Vietnam Medical Mission came to fruition and sent 44 people to Vietnam where they served many needy adults and children. Plans are in the works to build a 2 story medical clinic in 2003 in Vietnam so that Dr. Vien Doan and teams can continue their work in the coming years. The Arson Rebuild group sent three teams to Eatonton, Georgia to rebuild a Baptist church, which was burned down in November 2000. Plans are in the works to send four teams in 2003 to another location and perhaps have one of those teams combine with a VIM group from Cal-Nevada Annual Conference. A Cal-Pac team consisting of members from two other conferences went to Tjakastad, South Africa to build a church. Cal-Pac Young Adults went to Mexico to build a house in one day. Another group of youth went to "Urban Plunge" in Oakland to help with construction, medical and VBS projects. The Rver's in Mission had another busy year working at many local churches, donating free labor and expertise. The NOMADS also were here at seven locations around the conference and have been quite helpful. They desire more locations here to work at in 2003. Other teams went to Guatemala, Mexicali, Tijuana, Philippines, Costa Rica, Cuba and Tonga where a group from Langi Fine's church helped build a beautiful new 2 story library at Queen Salote College.

Two of our districts, Long Beach and Santa Ana, raised funds and provided labor to build Habitat for Humanity homes in their districts. The Santa Barbara District also participated in building the HfH in Piru. A work team from Kansas came to work on the parsonage and church at Crescent Heights. Teams of United Methodist Men from Hawaii worked at Camp Koke'e on Kauai doing maintenance and vegetation clearance. An advance team went to Nigeria to foster relationships between our conference and the conference in that country. We are truly an Annual Conference in mission!

I continue to be active in disaster response, responding to the Guam typhoons and Southern California fires. We received emergency humanitarian grants from UMCOR to aid these areas. I was able to have UMCOR here to do Basic Disaster Response Training with 45 participants from the Western Jurisdiction. UMVIM Leadership Training was a first time event here as well. UMVIM and Disaster workshops were provided in the districts and at Annual Conference. I was able to travel to a conference on volunteerism and disaster response in Hawaii, received more disaster response training from UMCOR and had continuing education in CISM Training. The UMVIM newsletter came out three times in 2002 and was mailed by Covina UMC, one of my covenant churches. I spoke at several churches around the conference, Claremont School of Theology and at the Missionary Luncheon during Annual Conference. I am grateful to the 11 churches that have covenant relationships with me and to the Rev. Dale Smith for his support and work in this area. I am blessed with the support of Bishop Mary Ann Swenson, our District Superintendents, the Rev. Keith A. Hwang, the Rev. Thomas Lofton, the Rev. Jim Oliver, the Rev. Dr. Marilynn Huntington and support staff of Jheri Resnik and Ann Palmer. I look forward to being in mission with all of you in 2003. Praise God!

Young Adult Ministries

This past year the Young Adult ministry within the California-Pacific Annual Conference continued to grow. As I write this report our next and newest event, the Young Adult Convention (YAC), is actively being planned. The Rev. Steve Peralta, the Rev. Karin Delaney, the Rev. David Camphouse, and Larry Hygh, gifted young adult leaders all volunteered to share with the Young Adult community in worship. Also, we are thrilled to have Michael Pritzl, the lead singer of the Violet Burning, at the retreat to share his musical talents. I look forward to sharing more about the convention at Annual Conference.

I am pleased to report that service also remains a vital part of the Young Adult ministry program. In late April, the young adults embarked on our annual trek to just outside of Tijuana to build a home for a needy family. Each year the young adult community tends to become a little more ambitious and this year the design calls for a loft in the homes that we build.

Our annual winter/ski retreat was a great success this year. We were blessed to be led in worship during the weekend by the Rev. George Hooper as we considered what is meant to live anew based on Hebrews 10:19-23. We had fifty people in attendance, which was particularly impressive given the lack of snow. The weekend offered plenty of time (often late into the night) to play together and grow as a community.

Our core group within the young adult community continues to be college age persons but yet we draw some throughout the entire spectrum of the young adult age range (18 to 35). Last year, the schedule was adjusted to attract college age students and graduating seniors by allowing for a couple of events during the summer break. In the past, our beach retreat was held during the Labor Day weekend, which did not allow many college students to participate as they had already left for college or were busily preparing to leave. The schedule change appears to have worked in attracting new participants and will be continued this year. We continue to look at other ways to make young adult events more inviting and in that spirit have added a childcare option to the Young Adult Convention. In addition, we have planned informational Young Adult forums in districts to reach out to communities, which have historically been less active participants in the conference young adult activities.

The young adults have always been a community in transition and this year this particularly rings true. The Rev. Doug Dickson who has ably served as our Young Adult Coordinator the past three years is moving on to other ministry. Our Santa Ana District Representative, Rachel Allen, will be leaving the area as she heads off to seminary to prepare for future ministry in the California-Pacific Annual Conference. This also marks the end and a new beginning for me as I complete my final year as President and also move on to seminary. The theme for the Young Adult Convention, of Steppin' Up and Steppin' Out seemed so appropriate given the upcoming leadership transition. Garth Gilliam and I look forward to introducing to you at annual conference the next wave of talented individuals who will be Steppin' Up to continue and expand the growing ministry to young adults.

Youth Ministry, Conference Council on

Greetings from the Youth of the California-Pacific Annual Conference. My name is Miracle McClain. This past year being Conference Council on Youth Ministries (CCYM) Chairperson has been fulfilling in every way; physically, mentally and spiritually.

"I thought age should speak; advanced years should teach wisdom. But it is in a man, the breath of the Almighty, that gives him understanding. It is not only the aged who understand what is right. Therefore I say: Listen to me; I too will tell you what I know." Job 32:7-10.

Conference Council on Youth Ministries creates and supports youth ideas as they plan major events for the youth of our conference.

Youth Day at Annual Conference was filled with lively worship. Deven O'Dell and Alex Lim were the youth speakers. The offering was designated to Concrete Christ Service Project, the Urban Plunge Mission Trip and the Youth Service Fund. Many youth participated in the fellowship activities following worship. CCYM and the Board of Camping sponsored the climbing wall.

We began the year with our first Cal-Pac mission trip "Urban Plunge" held in Oakland, California. July 27th – June 1st. There were 75 participants. We combined our efforts along with Desert Southwest and Cal-Nevada Conferences. There were 3 teams: A medical missions team led by Dr. Vien Doan, a construction team who painted the Fred Finch Youth Center and a Vacation Bible School team who filled the kids and community with God's love. The Rev. Kelvin Sauls and Down's Memorial UMC in Oakland showed us what hospitality was truly about.
Young People's Convention (YPC) 2003 was held in Long Beach at the Renaissance Hotel, February 15th-17th. The theme was "DOWNPOUR of Living Water" based on Acts 2:17. Six hundred participants came with their hearts filled and it was indeed a DOWNPOUR of God's love. This year's featured speaker was Lori Polich. We had great worship along with spirit-filled music led by bands Son Burn and Guy Moon. The Catch the Wave Workshops were a big hit and the Luau was filled with great fun, music and dancing. As always the dance and concert provided a time to fellowship with friends. Small groups and Bible study allowed the youth to talk with others about God. We even had special guests from South Africa who provided us with songs and dance during the opening worship.

Junior High Convention 2003 was again held at Cedar Lake Camp, Big Bear. The theme was "Can You Dig It?" featuring Matt Neely and our very own lovely Bishop Mary Ann Swenson. We had great worship, small groups, Bible Study and a dance. Hawaii YPC joined with Hawaiian Island Ministries at the Waikiki Parkside Hotel with 160 people in attendance. YPC was held on the island of Oahu March 6th-9th.

We thank God for being able to fund youth ministries in and out of our conference through the Youth Service Fund. The ministries that were funded for the 2003 year are; Dam la mano $2,500, Good Samaritan $5,000, Appalatians Service Project

$1,000, Sierra Service Project $2,000, Hawaii YPC $2,500, Youth 2003 Scholarships $1,200.

CCYM would like to congratulate the Youth Workers Academy participants. They completed a year long certified course of training in foundational youth ministries for the local church. CCYM this year has been a fulfilling year. I want to thank the United Methodist Credit Union for their support in our youth activities. I especially want to thank all the members and chairs of CCYM for your hard work. You have made CCYM a family full of love and you are truly hard workers for the One Above. My great appreciation goes out to Tricia Hamilton and Garth Gilliam for their guidance and support and most important believing that I could do anything that I put my heart and mind to. This past year has been a growing experience for us all and I look forward to working with all of you in the upcoming year.

RESOLUTIONS TO PETITION THE GENERAL CONFERENCE

RESOLUTION TO PETITION NO. 1

SUBJECT: Changing Language About the Incompatibility of Homosexual Practice with Christian Teaching

SUBMITTED BY: : Rex L. Britt, Theresa Basille, Rich Bolin, Anne L. Broyles, Richard R. Bentley, Jr., Louis A. WHEREAS the United Methodist Church has been debating the issue of homosexuality without resolution for more than three decades; and

WHEREAS the current language of the Book of Discipline, 2000 ¶161 G, which reads:

> Although we do not condone the practice of homosexuality and consider this practice incompatible with Christian teaching, we affirm that God's grace is available to all.

has proven extremely divisive within the life of the Church; and

WHEREAS faithful Christians disagree about the compatibility of homosexual practice and Christian teaching;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference as follows:

Amend ¶161 G

1) By changing the sentence: "Although we do not condone the practice of homosexuality and consider this practice incompatible with Christian teaching, we affirm that God's grace is available to al.l" to read: "Since faithful Christians are not of a common mind about the compatibility of homosexual practice with Christian teaching, we neither condone nor condemn such practice. Furthermore, since we believe that God's grace is available to everyone, we encourage all Christians to seek the wisdom of the Scriptures, the guidance of the Holy Spirit, and the care of church communities in making decisions about how to live out their sexual lives."
2) And by changing the sentence: "We implore families and churches not to reject or condemn their lesbian and gay members and friends" to read: "While we affirm the right of families and churches to offer renewal through the transformation of sexual identity, we implore them to accept ~~not to reject or condemn~~ their lesbian and gay members and friends."

So that the Paragraph in question would read:

Homosexual persons no less than heterosexual persons are individuals of sacred worth. All persons need the ministry and guidance of the church in their struggles for human fulfillment, as well as the spiritual and emotional care of a fellowship that enables reconciling relationships with God, with others, and with self. ~~Although we do not condone the practice of homosexuality and consider this practice incompatible with Christian teaching, we affirm that God's grace is available to all.~~ Since faithful Christians are not of a common mind about the compatibility of homosexual practice with Christian teaching, we neither condone nor condemn such practice. Furthermore, since we believe that God's grace is available to everyone, we encourage all Christians to seek the wisdom of the Scriptures, the guidance of the Holy Spirit, and the care of church communities in making decisions about how to live out their sexual lives. ~~We implore families and churches not to reject or condemn their lesbian and gay members and friends.~~ While we affirm the right of families and churches to offer renewal through the transformation of sexual identity, we implore them to accept ~~not to reject or condemn~~ their lesbian and gay members and friends. We commit ourselves to be in ministry for and with all persons.

SUBJECT: Theological Integrity

WHEREAS the United Methodist Church has always valued the richness that our diversity brings to the work of theology; and

WHEREAS theological diversity calls us into dialogue with each other in our common search for the truth; and

WHEREAS dialogue with those who hold different theological perspectives from our own helps us see that unity is not the same as uniformity; and

WHEREAS theological dialogue conducted without rancor or animosity forces us to admit our own limitations and pushes us toward faithful dependency on the leading of God's Holy Spirit;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference as follows:

Add the following to the end of the third paragraph of The Book of Discipline ¶104:

Recognizing the primary authority given by all Christians to the scriptures and to the historic ecumenical creeds, and by United Methodists to the Articles of Religion and the Confession of Faith, as well as John Wesley's Explanatory Notes on the New Testament and Standard Sermons, we nevertheless affirm that theological integrity is to be found in the give and take of dialogue between diverse communities. The historical documents of the Christian Church in general and of the United Methodist Church in particular provide guidelines and parameters within which communal theological reflection can and must occur. The search for truth is not well served by definitive statements for which we demand unwavering affirmation, but by a process of dialogue in which we seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit, honor the wisdom of the past, make use of new discoveries, and respect the diversity of human experience.

So that the Paragraph in question would read:

While the Church considers its doctrinal affirmations a central feature of its identity and restricts official changes to a constitutional process, the Church encourages serious reflection across the theological spectrum. Recognizing the primary authority given by all Christians to the scriptures and to the historic ecumenical creeds, and by United Methodists to the Articles of Religion and the Confession of Faith, as well as John Wesley's Explanatory Notes on the New Testament and Standard Sermons, we nevertheless affirm that theological integrity is to be found in the give and take of dialogue between diverse communities. WHEREAS the United States Constitution guarantees rights to everyone living in the United States, including temporary and permanent aliens as well as citizens; and
WHEREAS these rights are threatened by the October 2001 USA PATRIOT ACT which includes provision for indefinite detention or deportation of non-citizens, even if they have not committed a crime; grants the FBI access to medical, financial and educational records without a court order; creates a new crime, "domestic terrorism", which is so broadly defined it could apply to acts of civil disobedience; and
WHEREAS the Patriot Act includes Federal Executive Orders which establish secret military tribunals for terrorism suspects; permit wire tapping of conversations between federal prisoners and their lawyer; lift Justice Department regulations against covert, illegal counter-intelligence operations by the FBI; and limit the disclosure of public documents under the Freedom of Information Act; and
WHEREAS, despite the fact that this law and these executive orders particularly target foreign nationals and people of color, anyone in the U.S.A. could be affected even when acting and speaking legally in opposition to government policy; and
WHEREAS this law has resulted in the detention and arrest of at least 2,000 Muslims, Arabs, and Southeast Asians in the United States without due process of law; and
WHEREAS at the outbreak of WW II, the United States government interned 120,000 persons of Japanese ancestry, two-thirds of whom were American citizens, in just such a manner without semblance of due process of law; and
WHEREAS, after extensive investigation, a Presidential Commission in 1982 concluded that such internment was the result of, "war hysteria, racial prejudice and a failure of political leadership", and
WHEREAS a token monetary award and an apology signed by Presidents Bush (first), and Clinton on behalf of the U.S.A was made to those affected as a result of this finding;
THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the 2003 California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church go on record as opposed to the use of the USA PATRIOT ACT to violate fundamental rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that all members of the California Pacific Annual Conference be encouraged to ask their elected representatives to work toward the repeal of those portions of the USA PATRIOT ACT which could be used to violate fundamental rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Conference Secretary be directed to immediately forward a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, members of Congress and other appropriate persons; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference to incorporate the language of this resolution into THE BOOK OF RESOLUTIONS of the United Methodist Church.

WHEREAS Wesley Foundations and Ecumenical Campus Ministries have been given responsibility to care for the spiritual needs of United Methodist students attending colleges and universities; and
WHEREAS Campus Ministries function as extension ministries of the General Church and participate fully in its mission of making disciples for Jesus Christ; and
WHEREAS support of Campus Ministry has historically represented the commitment of Annual Conferences, Districts and Local Churches to the evangelization of unchurched young adults, the spiritual support of United Methodist young adults, and the development of strong and informed Christian leaders;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference to amend the 2000 Book of Discipline by adding the following paragraph between ¶231. Annual Membership Report and Audit and ¶232. Permanent Records:

Annual Report of Full and Preparatory Members Attending Colleges and Universities--The pastor shall report to each charge conference the names and contact information for full and preparatory members attending colleges and universities. A written copy of this report shall be forwarded to the District Superintendent; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference to amend the 2000 Book of Discipline by adding the following paragraph to the list of programmatic responsibilities assigned the District Superintendent in ¶ 424. Program:

6. To forward the name and contact information of each college or university student that has been reported to a charge conference in her or his District to the Wesley Foundation or Ecumenical Campus Ministry on or closest to the school at which that student is matriculating. If there is no United Methodist related Campus Ministry on or close to the school at which a student is matriculating, to forward the name and contact information of that student to the nearest Local Church.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference to amend the 2000 Book of Discipline by adding the following as ¶ 227.2.c):

The pastor, in cooperation with youth and young adult leaders in the congregation, shall disseminate information about United Methodist related Campus Ministry to college/university students or potential college/university students who are full members, preparatory members, or constituents of the congregation.

RESOLUTION TO PETITION NO. 6

SUBJECT: Urgent Call to End the Nuclear Danger
SUBMITTED BY: Cal-Pac Annual Conference Peace with Justice Committee and Cal-Pac Annual Conference Board of Church and Society
ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None
SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Conference Secretary

Let me hear what God the Lord will speak, for God will speak peace . . . Psalms 85

WHEREAS, we as United Methodists of the California-Pacific Annual Conference understand that God created the universe and everything in it and that our world is an astonishingly beautiful, rich, complex, tiny piece of that creation, teeming with life and beloved in God's sight; and
WHEREAS, since the nuclear age began in 1945, this glorious world has been faced with a fundamentally new kind of threat from nuclear weapons and because contemplating the use of nuclear weapons is an affront to God; and
WHEREAS, the Nuclear Posture Review submitted to the United States Congress by the U.S. Department of Defense on January 8, 2002 calls for an abrupt end of fifty years of progressive policy geared towards nuclear disarmament and poises the world on a new, more threatening arms race; and
WHEREAS, this Nuclear Posture Review calls for a "New Triad" which proposes preemptive military strikes, targeting non-nuclear states with nuclear weapons, moving forward with missile defense technologies, developing new "usable" nuclear warheads and the likely resumption of Unites States nuclear explosions in Nevada; and

WHEREAS, the United Methodist Church has continually reaffirmed its unequivocal stand against the use of nuclear weapons and has affirmed the Council of Bishops statement (in their document IN DEFENSE OF CREATION The Nuclear Crisis and a Just Peace) that "nuclear weapons, whether used or threatened, are grossly evil and morally wrong" (2000 Book of Resolutions ¶315 page 782-785);

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this 2003 California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church denounce the new direction in nuclear policy called for in the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) 2002 Nuclear Posture Review; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we affirm and commit ourselves to actively support the efforts of the Council of Bishops of the United Methodist Church as well as the denomination's general boards and agencies and other organizations and individuals within both religious and secular communities who are speaking in opposition to the use of preemptive nuclear strikes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we call on all political leaders throughout the world to work with the international community, especially the United Nations, to end the prospect of the use of preemptive nuclear strikes for any reason by any nation state in the world, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Conference Secretary be directed to immediately forward a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States and other appropriate persons in the world's religious and political community; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference to amend ¶315 of the 2000 Book of Resolutions as follows:

Add to the second recommended action listed on page 784 the words "and to condemn the threat to use or the actual use of preemptive nuclear strikes for any reason by any nation state in the world."

So that the recommendation in question would read as follows:

(2) pledge never to use nuclear weapons against any adversary under any circumstances and to condemn the threat to use or the actual use of preemptive nuclear strikes for any reason by any nation state in the world.

SUBJECT: Allowing Funding for Dialogue and Education
SUBMITTED BY: Conference Response Committee on Welcoming
ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None
SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Conference Secretary

WHEREAS there is a need for continuing dialogue and understanding on issues that have generated much conflict throughout the church; and

WHEREAS t is necessary to clarify the intent of General Conference and to promote such dialogue and understanding when dealing with issues relating to sexuality;

WHEREAS in the spirit of John Wesley who promoted differences of opinion and encouraged prolonged, thoughtful and faith-filled dialogue at every meeting of his Annual Conference; and

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference petition the 2004 General Conference to amend Paragraph 806.9 of the Book of Discipline, dealing with the responsibilities of the General Council on Finance and Administration, in the following manner:

9. It shall be responsible for ensuring that no board, agency, committee, commission, or council shall give United Methodist funds to any gay caucus or group or otherwise use such funds to promote the acceptance of homosexuality. The council shall have the right to stop such expenditures. This restriction shall not limit the church's ministry in response to the HIV epidemic. The council ~~It~~ shall also be responsible for ensuring that no board, agency, committee, commission, or council shall withhold United Methodist funds from any church related caucus or group engaged in activities promoting continuing dialogue and understanding on controversial issues facing the church solely on the basis that such activities present a wide range of opinions and theological perspectives which include, but are not limited to, the church's official position. ~~It shall also not restrict any funds from This restriction shall not limit the Church's ministry in response to the HIV epidemic.~~

So that the entire paragraph would read:

9. It shall be responsible for ensuring that no board, agency, committee, commission, or council shall give United Methodist funds to any gay caucus or group or otherwise use such funds to promote the acceptance of homosexuality. The council shall have the right to stop such expenditures. This restriction shall not limit the church's ministry in response to the HIV

SUBJECT: Denominational Health Care ~~of Pensions~~
SUBMITTED BY: The Conference Board of Pensions
ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None
SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Conference Secretary

WHEREAS the Resolutions and Social Principles stated in The Book of Resolutions of The United Methodist Church recognizing health care as a basic right calls for society and all levels of the Church to provide adequate health care coverage for clergy and lay employees and to begin to alleviate poverty; and

WHEREAS the health care industry in the United States is experiencing extreme cost increases, which places clergy and lay employees at risk of losing adequate health care coverage at an affordable level; and

WHEREAS the loss of health care coverage can result in catastrophic financial results for active and retired clergy and lay employees; and

WHEREAS an independent actuarial study, sponsored by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits of The United Methodist Church ("General Board"), indicated that a denominational health care plan could reduce costs by creating a greater pool to spread risk and increase purchasing power; and

WHEREAS pursuant to paragraph 1501a, the General Board is responsible for the general supervision and administration of the support, relief, and assistance and pensioning of clergy, lay workers, and their families, of The United Methodist Church.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED the Annual Conference calls on General Conference to establish a denominational health program by January 1, 2007 to be administered by the General Board providing a benefit to all active and retired clergy with design options at the conference level.

RESOLUTIONS FOR CONSIDERATION BY THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

RESOLUTION NO. 98

SUBJECT: Ecological Responsibility
SUBMITTED BY: Conference Board of Church and Society
ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None
SOURCES OF STAFF TIME: None

WHEREAS the Bible states that "the Lord took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to till it and keep it" (Gen 2:15) and "The earth is the Lord's and everything in it the world and those who live in it" (Ps 24:1). We are the caretakers accountable to God. Indeed, we are the keepers in God's household, responsible to him for all of God's Creation; and

WHEREAS the United Methodist Social Principles state "God has granted us stewardship of creation…. Therefore let us recognize the responsibility of the church and it's members to place a high priority on changes in economic, political, social and technological lifestyles to support a more ecologically equitable and sustainable world leading to a higher quality of life for all of God's Creation" (paragraph 160.1); and

WHEREAS the root-cause of many conflicts and wars is the competition for resources and unequal distribution of the world's limited resources. The frequency and intensity of these conflicts will only increase as resources are diminished causing an ever-increasing spiral of pain and suffering for all of God's children and all of God's creation;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference invites local churches to engage in a study of our relationship to the natural world and how Christian teachings influence this relationship in light of God's healing presence in the world; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Church and Society shall prepare a summary resource to support this study for use by local congregations; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California Pacific Annual Conference commend those local churches that support alternatives to a wasteful consumer lifestyle such as Habitat for Humanity, Heifer Project, UMCOR Coffee Project, Bread for the World Offering of Letters, Hawaii Economic Development Project and encourage other churches in the conference to find ways to help overcome the unjust distribution and diminishment of resources; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California Pacific Annual Conference urge the World Trade Organization to include in their criteria of profit the well-being of the workers, the well being of the communities in which they are located and the well being of the natural world to the end that true profit would include the health of the whole world and everything in it.

RESOLUTION NO. 99

SUBJECT: Mental Illness Awareness Week, October 6-12, 2003

SUBMITTED BY: Conference Board of Church and Society

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None

SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Not Applicable

WHEREAS the Surgeon General has reported that one in five Americans experiences a mental disorder in any given year; and

WHEREAS half of all Americans have such disorders at some time in their lives; and

WHEREAS these illnesses of the brain affect all of us, regardless of age, gender, economic status or ethnicity; and

WHEREAS mental illness is a social justice issue involving health parity, the legal system, housing, addiction, employment, domestic violence and relationship problems; and

WHEREAS the General Board of Church and Society has called on United Methodist congregations to become "Caring Communities" that we might "educate their members about mental illness and to enter into a covenant relationship of understanding and love with persons and families with mental illness in order to nurture them and to reach out to the larger community"; and

WHEREAS the stigma and shame associated with mental illness continues in our churches and prevents persons from getting the help and support they need; and

WHEREAS pastors, church leaders and lay persons need to be educated about mental illness in order to carry out the church's mission of being a community of love, support and acceptance of all God's children;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Conference Board of Church and Society recommends that the California-Pacific Annual Conference promote Mental Illness Awareness Week, October 6-12, 2003, and that worship, education and outreach activities be undertaken to raise awareness of effective treatments of mental illness, barriers that exist for people who need help, and the need for parity in health insurance and access to appropriate treatment.

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None

SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Bishop, Conference Secretary, Director of Communications

WHEREAS the Gospel calls us to seek peace for all people, a peace that includes the presence of justice as well as the absence of war; and

WHEREAS the Gospel was given birth in the land which embraces the people of Palestine and Israel; and

WHEREAS the United Methodist Church has historically been in ministry with these peoples, a ministry currently aided by the Rev. Sandra Olewine, a member of the California-Pacific Annual Conference assigned to Jerusalem; and

WHEREAS United Nations Security Council Resolutions 242 (1967) and 338 (1973) continue to affirm the need for a just and lasting peace in which both Israelis and Palestinians may live as sovereign peoples in their own homeland; and

WHEREAS the hope for peace in the land is shattered as the lives of the innocent are taken and the earth itself is destroyed by weapons obtained on the world market, and through the violent acts of governments, independent parties and lone individuals;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference continue to work for peace for the people of Palestine and Israel by:

- Urging the U.N. Secretary General to consider deploying U.N. troops to begin rebuilding destroyed social infrastructures, groves, vineyards, and water resources;

- Urging the U.N. Secretary General to continue to press for negotiations through the on-going presence of a U.N. envoy;
- Asking the Bishop of the Conference to communicate our concerns about U.S. participation in the world arms market to the Council of Bishops, appropriate U.S. government officials including the President and the Secretary of State, and to the Secretary General of the United Nations;
- And by committing ourselves, as members of the California-Pacific Conference, to aiding the ministry of ~~Sandra Olewine~~ the United Methodist Representative with the peoples of the region through continued congregational support and in ways ~~she determines~~ determined appropriate, (i.e. writing letters, providing hospital supplies when possible, aiding in mission projects, etc.).

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of the communications noted above will also be made available to appropriate public and religious media.

WHEREAS we are created in the image of God and that God values all life; and
WHEREAS over 200,000 people die of heart attack each year in U.S.; and
WHEREAS in case of a heart attack, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) provides a temporary measure that maintains blood flow to the brain but a lifesaving pulse of electricity must be delivered to return the quivering motion of a heart in ventricular fibrillation to a normal rhythm; and
WHEREAS the chance to save a life of a heart attack victim decreases 10% per minute with the optimum time being three to five minutes; and
WHEREAS the average response time from a 911 call is beyond five minutes; and
WHEREAS AEDs could provide a life-saving medical measure for heart attack victims in a timely manner; and
WHEREAS AEDs are now reasonably priced so that they can be purchased by most congregations and camps without undue financial burden;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference encourages all local congregations and camps to consider purchasing an AED unit and have some members properly and thoroughly trained in its use and care.

RESOLUTION NO. 102

SUBJECT: Jubilee Grant Administration
SUBMITTED BY : California-Pacific Annual Conference Cabinet
ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None
SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Congregational Loan/Foundation

WHEREAS, (timely grant review, notification, disbursement and monitoring is desirable for recipients and for the) Annual Conference; and
WHEREAS, the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation has significant grant-making experience; and
WHEREAS the Congregational Loan Committee and the Board of Congregational Development have joint responsibility for Jubilee Fund grants;
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific United Methodist Foundation assume responsibility for the administration of Jubilee Fund grants including mailing and collecting applications, preparing check requests for successful applications, mailing and collecting written progress evaluations, and forwarding evaluations to the Congregational Loan Committee/Board of Congregational Development, as appropriate; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a new selection committee of the grants be comprised of the following numbers: The Foundation (2 representatives), Congregational Loan Committee (1 representative), the Expanded Cabinet representing the Bishop (2 representatives), Congregational Development (1 representative). The Director of Connectional Ministries and the Director of Finance and Administration will serve as Ex-Officio on the Committee.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Congregational Loan Committee/Board of Congregational Development and the Foundation provide a review and evaluation process, including providing on site evaluators; and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that one half of each grant be provided as the grant is approved and the balance distributed six months later upon receipt of written evaluations from the recipient and acceptable reports from the evaluator. Also, that the matching financial obligations from those receiving grants be removed.

SUBJECT: Health Insurance for Retirees and Surviving Spouses of Conference Clergy

SUBMITTED BY: Harry Adams, Lanny Arrowsmith, David Beadles, Charles Dennis, Lothair Green, Lee Hirt, Ed Hoffman, David Lehmberg, Ken McMillan, Robert Shepard, William Steel, Nelson Stringer, Lee Truman, Orlie White, George Williams, Mike Winstead, John Zimmer

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: Could be revenue neutral or cost up to $1½ million.

SOURCES OF STAFF TIME: CFA, Cabinet, and Conference officers

WHEREAS a proposal before the Conference would discontinue our practice covering the full cost of health insurance for retired clergy and their spouses on July 1, 2003; and

WHEREAS by this same proposal, Surviving Spouses of deceased clergy would no longer receive lifetime coverage for health insurance, but would, instead, find coverage terminated two years after the death of their spouse; and

WHEREAS a Conference budget crisis disappears the moment these changes are enacted; and

WHEREAS the CFA can reduce the Conference budget by $½ million when granted this relief;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the California Pacific Annual Conference, repudiate the notion of asking widows and retirees to solve the budget problems of the Annual Conference; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this pain and hardship be shared more equitably throughout the Annual Conference, acting as Covenant Community, in keeping with our conviction that such collegiality will resolve our fiscal woes; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Council on Finance and Administration, in conjunction with the officers and leaders of the Conference, conduct a review of all programs and ministries to seek economies in spending, as we have done when facing fiscal crises in the past; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, if necessary, our leaders bring us a vision for developing the substantial resources required to fulfill our obligation to the women and men who have given thousands of years of service to our churches, our communities and our Annual Conference.

WHEREAS the events of September 11, 2001 made the United States realize that the threat from terrorism is not relegated to other parts of the globe; and

WHEREAS we realize that these same acts of September 11, 2001 have engendered in our nation a great rage and sadness at the unfathomable loss of life and liberty; and

WHEREAS we know we must act to stop this violence for the sake of our nation, our families and our future; and

WHEREAS in response to those events we have launched attacks against other nations to quell and otherwise destroy this threat; and

WHEREAS the real threat is not the unrelenting violence that is targeted against the United States and it allies but the unrelenting poverty and its oppression that permeates the very lives of those who would bring this violence to our shores; and

WHEREAS the violence will continue and find new birth if the root cause is not also remedied; and

WHEREAS the attacks against the United States and its allies are masked in the guise of religious authority; and

WHEREAS we know through our Christ that God does not ask us to bring acts of violence against each other or even our enemies; and

WHEREAS God calls us through our Christ to bring about justice, seek kindness and walk humbly with our God.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we of the California Pacific Conference ask the President, the Congress and all responsible agencies of the United States to redirect the overwhelming resources of the United States to end poverty in the middle east with unrelenting acts of compassion unlike any seen in the history of human events; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that our armed forces gird themselves with clothing, food, medicine and the tools to build housing, roads, factories and other necessary infrastructure that will enable all persons to tear away from their poverty and live as whole human beings endowed by their creator with the unalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and

~~BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that our nation will not allow any person, potentate, nation or other organization to harm these same people; and~~

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that our nation will bring this proposal to the United Nations asking any and all nations to join in this quest to bring an end to global poverty and the oppression of those persons trapped within in its seemingly unyielding boundaries; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that our nation will not change from its course of this action of compassion until the threat of poverty and its resulting threat of terrorism is eradicated from the Middle East; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this action will bring to the world the light of love and God's ever present promise of reconciliation and unconditional love that God offers to all without price.

WHEREAS it is written of Jesus in Matthew 12:15 that "Many crowds followed him, and he cured all of them,"; and

WHEREAS the Social Principles state that "Health care is a basic human right" and, while the Social Principles "encourage individuals to pursue a healthy lifestyle", they also "recognize the role of governments in ensuring that each individual has access to those elements necessary to good health."; and

WHEREAS more than 6 million Californians (70% of whom are employed) lack health insurance; and

WHEREAS private health insurance premiums are rising an average of 13% to 25% resulting in employers, including the Cal Pac Conference, to cap their contributions to health plans; and

WHEREAS the Health Care Options Project (HCOP) of the State of California demonstrated that a publicly funded and administered single payer universal health insurance program such as Senate Bill 921 (currently under consideration by the California legislature) will save billions of health care dollars and provide the necessary funding for universal health care provided, as it currently is, through both public and private providers;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Cal-Pac Annual Conference endorses SB 921 (and/or other comparable legislation that reduces the number of uninsured and addresses the problems of administrative waste and growth in health care spending) and encourages congregations to address the healthcare crisis through study, reflection, advocacy and action.

RESOLUTION NO. 107

SUBJECT: Filling Leadership Team Vacancies

SUBMITTED BY: Conference Leadership Team

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None

SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: None

WHEREAS the Conference Leadership Team (CLT) was first established by the 2000 Session of the Annual Conference and 14 of the 16 current members-at-large were elected at that time; and

WHEREAS the election of the CLT members-at-large was designed to be done in two ways: (1) half to be nominated by the Conference Nominating Committee and elected by the Annual Conference, and (2) half to be elected by the Annual Conference by a process similar to election of General Conference delegates; and

WHEREAS the Conference Rules state that the members will serve "quadrennial terms, to be elected after each General Conference;" and

WHEREAS major turnover of membership at one time could pose problems with continuity of leadership; and

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Proposed Conference Rules relating to the Leadership Team be amended as follows:

- Delete items #1 and #2.
- Renumber #3 to #1 and add "(4 clergy and 4 lay persons)" following "Eight of the members-at-large" in the second sentence.
- Add a new paragraph #2 as follows:

  Effective with the 2004 sessions of the annual conference, members on the CLT shall be assigned to one of four "classes," to be filled on a rotational basis. A member shall be elected to a four-year term, with the possibility of being elected for a maximum of two terms. Vacancies are filled by electing the new person to the "class" with the vacancy, meaning a person may serve less than four years in a term. At each annual conference, there will be an election by ballot of the annual conference to determine one lay and one clergy member of the CLT, following nominations being allowed from the floor. In addition, one lay and one clergy member will be nominated by the Nominating Committee for election. As needed, election to fill positions vacated mid-term will take place in a manner consistent with the type of vacancy to be filled~~. (Note: The "youth" member will be allowed to serve a full 4 years, even beyond the age of "youth," if able to continue that long. However, the "youth" position will be designated within a class year, which might mean a youth will serve less than 4 years if filling an unexpired term.)~~ [Note: If a youth and /or Young Adult is elected they will serve a full term even beyond the age of youth and/or young adult.]

- Renumber #4 to #3.

This will cause the Rules to read as follows:

1. The membership of the Conference Leadership Team shall include: The Dean of the Cabinet, the Conference Lay Leader, and sixteen members-at-large. Eight of the members-at-large (4 clergy and 4 lay persons) shall be elected by a process similar to election of General Conference delegates and eight shall be nominated by the Conference Nominating Committee and elected by the Conference. It is strongly recommended that at least one youth and one young adult be included. The Bishop shall be ex-officio without vote.
2. Members on the CLT shall be assigned to one of four "classes," to be filled on a rotational basis. A member shall be elected to a four-year term, with the possibility of being elected for a maximum of two terms. Vacancies are filled by electing the new person to the "class" with the vacancy, meaning a person may serve less than four years in a term. At each annual conference, there will be an election by ballot of the annual conference to determine one lay and one clergy member of the CLT, following nominations being allowed from the floor. In addition, one lay and one clergy member will be nominated by the Nominating Committee for election. As needed, election to fill positions vacated mid-term will take place in a manner consistent with the type of vacancy to be filled. (Note: The "youth" member will be allowed to serve a full 4 years, even beyond the age of "youth," if able to continue that long. However, the "youth" position will be designated within a class year, which might mean a youth will serve less than 4 years if filling an unexpired term.)
3. The Conference Leadership Team will:
   a. Evaluate the Annual Conference's progress in fulfilling its primary tasks.
   b. Change the focus of the annual conference sessions to serve as a visioning "retreat."
   c. Assist all Conference committees, commissions, boards, agencies and staff to identify specific goals and objectives that will enable the Annual Conference to fulfill its primary tasks.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED implementation of this rule change take place as follows:

In the spring of 2004, the Leadership Team would review the Leadership Team membership and see who has already been placed in a class by the means of filling vacancies. Most of the members would have been in place from the beginning, and they would need to voluntarily place themselves in classes. Some would choose to go off in 2004. Everyone else would choose one of the next three years to "retire", four each year. That would provide the vacancies needed to put this rotational election process in place.

This procedure is designed to provide continuity as members of the Leadership Team rotate off, while still allowing up to the maximum of 8 years of service on the Team.

RESOLUTION NO. 108

SUBJECT: Annual Conference Travel for Hawaii District Members
SUBMITEED BY: The Hawaii District of the California-Pacific Annual Conference
ESTIMATED ANNUAL FISCAL IMPACT: $70,000 (based upon 2003 actual figure of $67,882)
SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Conference Staff; District Staff

WHEREAS, a covenant was made in 1967 by the Southern California-Arizona Conference to welcome the Hawaii Mission fully as a sister District in the life of the Annual Conference, and

WHEREAS, the fact that there would be an expense to the Conference for airfare for Conference members from the Hawaii District to attend and participate in the life of the Annual Conference was duly noted and agreed upon, and

WHEREAS, the 1967 Annual Conference voted to accept the Hawaii Mission District as a full member of the Southern California-Arizona Annual Conference, entitled to all benefits and responsibilities of said membership, and

WHEREAS, the Conference Rule of 1967, II.D.6 states "Reimbursement for travel to the mainland for members of the Conference who reside in Hawaii shall be made on the basis of Economy Class air flight rate," and

WHEREAS, the Annual Conference has never rescinded the Rule that would allow for travel to the mainland for members of the Conference who reside in the Hawaii District,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this rule be reinstated in the Journal of the California-Pacific Annual Conference, and

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the California-Pacific Annual Conference annually cover the cost of economy class travel to the mainland for clergy and lay members of the Conference who reside in the Hawaii District, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Sessions Committee (or equivalent) enter an estimated amount for the cost of economy class travel to the mainland for clergy and lay members of the Conference who reside in the Hawaii District, but that the amount reimbursed to the Hawaii District be the actual cost of airfare for those lay and clergy members, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this rule shall continue in effect until modified or deleted by an action of the Annual Conference.

SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Conference Secretary

WHEREAS the Africa University initiative formally began by the inspiring address delivered by Bishop Emilio de Carvalho of Angola at the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry of The United Methodist Church in October, 1984; and

WHEREAS Bishop de Carvalho was joined by Bishop Arthur Kulah of Liberia, Bishop F. Herbert Skeete, then President of the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry, Bishop Felton E. May, then President of the General Council on Ministries, and other members in discussing the educational needs of Africa and ways the denomination might respond to this challenge; and

WHEREAS the African Central Conferences of The United Methodist Church asked the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry and the General Board of Global Ministries to assist them in developing significant post-secondary institutions of learning for the churches of Africa; and

WHEREAS in St. Louis, Missouri, the 1988 General Conference of The United Methodist Church overwhelmingly approved the establishment of a university on the continent of Africa to be built in Zimbabwe and authorized an apportionment of $10 million over a four year period and an additional $10 million to be raised through World Service Special Gifts; and

WHEREAS the official ground breaking for the university occurred on site in Old Mutare in 1991, and Africa University opened in 1992 with two faculties and forty students representing six nations on the African continent; and

WHEREAS Africa University celebrated its tenth anniversary November 13-17, 2002, during which celebrations the Council of Presidents of the denomination's eleven historically Black colleges and universities met on the University's campus for the first time; the Association of United Methodist Theological Schools met on the University's campus for the first time; Ms. Graça Simbine Machel, wife of President Nelson Mandela, delivered the keynote anniversary address and was bestowed an honorary Doctor of Law degree; the Faculty of Theology building built by the South Carolina Annual Conference was dedicated and named in honor of its resident bishop, Bishop J. Lawrence McCleskey; two dormitories built by the South Indiana Annual Conference (Bishop Woodie W. White resident bishop) were dedicated and one named in honor of Vice-Chancellor Rukudzo Murapa and his wife Helen, and the second named in honor of the Associate Vice-Chancellor for Institutional Advancement, James H. Salley; and the United Methodist Volunteers in Mission Program was recognized and commended for its ministry in building ten staff houses in ten years; and

WHEREAS Africa University's enrollment reached a significant milestone in 2002 with its student population reaching 1,123 representing 22 African nations; and

WHEREAS the number of faculties has grown from two in 1992 to five in 2002 with the sixth faculty scheduled to open in the fall of 2003; and

WHEREAS in February 2003, Africa University launched its Institute of Peace, Leadership and Governance with an initial enrollment of 15 students, each of whom will earn a masters degree in Peace and Governance (MPG); and

WHEREAS 880 Africa University alumni have been deployed across the African continent in fulfillment of the University's mission to train new leaders for the nations of Africa---new leaders like Walter Manyangawirwa, who was in the first graduating class at Africa University and who is now a leader in the field of study of fungi, viruses, bacteria and other plant diseases; and

WHEREAS Africa University is the only private institution of higher learning on the African continent that may fly the international flag of the United Nations; and

WHEREAS Africa University has been called "...one of the great success stories of Christian missions in the world today" by Millard Fuller, founder and president of Habitat for Humanity International; and

WHEREAS the General Council on Ministries at its fall meeting held in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania on October 28, 2002 unanimously adopted a resolution expressing "its sincere congratulations and warm best wishes to Africa University on the occasion of its Tenth Anniversary," and avowing to "continue to stand in solidarity with Africa University and the United Methodist churches of Africa in educating for the right, speaking out against the wrong, and faithfully responding to the call of God to proclaim the Good News of the Gospel"; and

WHEREAS the support and enthusiasm of United Methodists world-wide for Africa University are demonstrated in the apportionments remitted annually, the second-mile givings, and contributions from churches and individuals for the Africa University Endowment Fund; and

WHEREAS California-Pacific Annual Conference calls upon each local church in the annual conference to pay the full Africa University apportioned line item and give generously to the Africa University Endowment Fund;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT California-Pacific Annual Conference affirms that Africa University is a dynamic and important mission project of The United Methodist Church; affirms the leadership of all those involved in the continuing development and day-to-day operations of the university; commends the Africa University Board of Directors and advisory Development Committee for their persistence, diligence, and visionary leadership in overcoming the obstacles and barriers to fulfilling the dream.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT California-Pacific Annual Conference calls upon the 2004 General Conference to make Africa University a priority and to allocate an apportionment of $10 million over a four year period and an additional $10 million to be raised through World Service Special Gifts to continue development, construction, and endowment of Africa University as outlined in the planning process determined by the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry and the Africa University Board of Directors.

SOURCE OF STAFF TIME: Conference Secretary

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT: None

WHEREAS the California three strikes law had good intentions of protecting citizens from violent and heinous crimes, it was not intended to put people away for life for petty offenses. The law has now cast a net so broad that juvenile offenses committed 20 years ago qualify a person for life in prison for a petty theft or simple drug possession;

WHEREAS drug rehabilitation and prevention programs have been replaced with life in prison, and for the first time in history the prison budget far exceeds the budget for higher education, and there are far more Blacks and Latinos in prison than in college;

WHEREAS the prison industry was the fastest and biggest cottage industry in the 90's, and it is on the stock exchange as a profit windfall;

WHEREAS human life and families have been devastated by this miscarriage of justice;

BE IT RESOLVED that the California three strikes law be amended to apply to violent offenses only; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the California Pacific Conference urge its people to cooperate with the organization FAMILIES TO AMEND THE CALIFORNIA THREE STRIKES law (FACTS) in signing petitions to get this matter on the ballot for the 2004 election, and urge its passage.

WHEREAS North Korea has maintained itself as a communist government since the World War II and has acknowledged that it has been developing nuclear weapons; and

WHEREAS North Korea's pursuit of nuclear weapons development program poses a great and immediate threat to many surrounding countries such as South Korea, China, Japan, and Taiwan and some of these countries may choose, in response to this threat, to develop their own nuclear weapons program; and

WHEREAS the people of North Korea are suffering from poverty, hunger, and inadequate medical provisions; and

WHEREAS North Korea has asked for the guarantee of the survival of their regime and economic aid in return for abandoning its nuclear weapons development program; and

WHEREAS any military actions taken by the United States against North Korea will lead North Korea to launch its attack on South Korea which can result in enormous destruction of both countries and loss and suffering of many innocent lives; and

WHEREAS the United States has been successful in the past of peacefully resolving international conflicts. For example, President Richard Nixon managed to open diplomatic relations with China through peaceful negotiations and President George Bush Sr. resolved a decade-long cold war environment between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. through diplomacy and negotiations; and

WHEREAS we, the United Methodist Church, believe that "war is incompatible with the teachings and examples of Christ. We therefore reject war as a usual instrument of national policy and insist that the first moral duty of all nations is to resolve by peaceful means every dispute that arises between or among them…" (The Book of Discipline, 2000, Paragraph 165C);

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT we send a letter to President Bush urging him to continue using peaceful methods in resolving the issue of North Korea's nuclear weapons development program and to provide humanitarian aids to relieve the suffering of North Koreans; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT we denounce the development of nuclear weapons by North Korea and any other nations and promote peaceful resolutions to any crisis that threaten international peace.

- Adopted by the Annual Conference, Plenary 10 – June 22, 2003

Past Resolutions In Effect 1992-2003

The following section is a collection of resolutions adopted by the Annual Conference in the last twelve years. They have been compiled to make them more readily accessible to district and local churches as well as Conference agencies. Omitted from this listing are resolutions that are no longer timely or have been rescinded or superseded or accomplished (e.g., resolutions to past General Conferences, those changing Conference Rules, etc.). What is listed is a compilation of actions which may still be relevant until amended or removed by Conference action.

Please note that the actual resolution should be examined. The summaries as printed often fail in conveying the full extent and content of the specific action. Previous Journals are often kept in local church libraries. The Conference Secretary, the Conference Archives and History collection, and the Conference Pensions offices all have a complete collection.

Questions may be directed to Conference Secretary Keith Andrew Hwang. The resolutions adopted in the year 1992 will be removed at the conclusion of the 2004 session of Annual Conference from this list unless renewed by action of the Annual Conference.

Conference Covenant for Ministry

The covenant through which members of the California-Pacific Annual Conference carry out ministry includes four categories of covenantal statements that require various responses related to the level of expected adherence. These four categories are:

1. Rules: Rules are adopted by the annual conference and are binding upon all members and organizations of the conference.
2. Policies: Policies are adopted by the annual conference and are binding upon all members and organizations except when the stated purpose of the policy can be met only by carefully supplementing stated procedures intended to carry out policy, in the interest of fairness and specific need.
3. Standards: Standards are adopted by the annual conference and are binding upon all members and organizations as goals to be vigorously pursued.
4. Guidelines: Guidelines are adopted by the annual conference and represent wisdom offered out of faithful prayer and careful thought and discussion and are intended to be advisory.

NOTE (1): In accordance with Annual Conference Rule V. H: All groups shall review these rules annually and shall present their recommendations for any revisions or amendments to the Conference Rules Committee for consideration at the next Session of the Annual Conference.

NOTE (2): Groups requesting changes in the published Conference Rules, Policies, Standards and Guidelines (Section I of the Conference Journal) for presentation/action at the 2004 Annual Conference are asked to send proposed changes to the Conference Rules Committee no later than February 13, 2004. Changes should be in written form and sent to: Arlene Dempster, 2747 Powhatan, San Diego, CA 92117. ATTN: RULES.

RULES

I. ORGANIZATION OF THE CONFERENCE

A. Name: The name of this organization shall be the California-Pacific Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church.

B. Organization: The organization of the Annual Conference shall be in accordance with ¶603, The Discipline.

C. Composition and Character: The composition and character of the Annual Conference shall be in accordance with ¶602, The Discipline.

D. Powers and Duties: The powers and duties of the Annual Conference shall be in accordance with ¶604, The Discipline.

II. THE MISSION OF THE CONFERENCE

A. Introduction:

1. The Mission of the Church is defined: "The mission of the church is to make disciples of Jesus Christ by proclaiming the good news of God's grace and thus seeking the fulfillment of God's reign and realm in the world. Local Churches provide the most significant arena through which disciple-making occurs. [¶121, The Discipline.]
2. The Mission of the Annual Conference: "The purpose of the annual conference is to make disciples for Jesus Christ by equipping its local churches for ministry and by providing a connection for ministry beyond the local church; all to the glory of God. [¶601, The Discipline]
3. The Calling of the California-Pacific Annual Conference, embraced at the Annual Conference Session of 1998, affirms the vital partnership between local churches and the Annual Conference:

   Following the example of Jesus Christ,
   Bridging the barriers that divide us,
   Drawing strength from one another through the power of the Holy Spirit,
   We, the California-Pacific Annual Conference,
   Covenant with God to cultivate, in partnership with local churches,
   New ministries and new disciples, new leadership and new life, for such a time as this.
4. Our connectional relationship is also suggested by ¶130, The Discipline: "Connectionalism in the United Methodist tradition is multi-leveled, global in scope, and local in thrust. Our connectionalism is not merely a linking of one charge conference to another. It is rather a vital web of interactive relationships."

B. Our Primary Tasks

1. Build Bridges & Draw Strength from One Another

The California-Pacific Annual Conference will facilitate the "connection" which is a fundamental characteristic of the United Methodist Church. This connection will be made not only between general agencies and the local churches, but between and among local churches, ethnic groups, theological perspectives, and any other groups which may be separated by any type of barrier to mutual ministry.

a. Serve as facilitator and enabler to bridge barriers between different groups within the annual conference.
b. Encourage and support the diverse racial, ethnic, and cultural ministries and communities within the annual conference.
c. Promote partnerships - spiritual and financial - between local churches and annual conference or general church ministries.
d. Assist every local church to have access to a comprehensive information and resource network.

2. Nurture Fruitful and Prophetic Leadership

The Conference will nurture lay and clergy leadership for fruitful and prophetic service, measured by the mobilization of our people for service in the church and in the world.

a. Provide opportunities for lay and clergy to learn new ways of working together.
b. Work with local churches to call leaders of tomorrow into their respective ministries.
c. Support the work of the local church through training opportunities.
d. Nurture clergy as holistic and prophetic spiritual leaders.
e. Cultivate a vibrant life of covenant communities in each district.

3. Plant New Ministries

The California-Pacific Annual Conference will recapture the zeal of a "mission movement." Instead of seeking institutional survival, the Conference will devote its prayers, presence gifts, and service to the planting of new congregations and new ministries, and encourage partnership in ministries where revitalization is needed.

a. Send and support holistic spiritual leaders in fertile areas of ministry.
b. Work with existing ministries to develop new and "renewed" ministries.
c. Encourage growth among younger generations through new and existing ministries.

III. OFFICERS OF THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

A. CONFERENCE SECRETARY

1. The Conference Secretary shall be nominated by the Conference Nominating Committee upon recommendation by the Bishop and elected in accordance with ¶603.7 of The Discipline.
2. The Conference Secretary shall be, or shall select, the Editor of the Conference Journal. In cases where the Daily Proceedings (in the UM Daily) are not approved by the Conference, the Secretary shall edit the Daily Proceedings for accuracy from the video recordings; such editing shall constitute approval.
3. Conference Journal
   a. The CFA is authorized to pay from the Conference Administration Fund the cost of printing and mailing the Conference Preliminary Reports and the Journal plus any expense of the Conference Secretary incident to his/her work. The number of Journals to be printed shall be at the discretion of the Conference Secretary with the approval of the CFA.
   b. The reports of all Conference boards and agencies shall be accepted on the basis of a maximum of two pages without cost with any additional space billed at a rate as determined by the Conference Secretary after consideration of prevailing costs.
   c. The price of the Journal shall be determined by the Conference Secretary each year on the basis of its actual cost.
   d. The Journal shall be distributed to the following persons free of charge: one copy to each clergy, local pastors and Student Local Pastors under appointment, and one copy to each Lay Member.
4. The Conference Secretary shall be authorized to edit for accuracy and brevity the Preliminary Reports for each session of the Annual Conference.
5. The Conference Secretary shall be authorized to print the UM Daily, reports and resolutions from standing committees. In addition, he/she may print only such resolutions and reports which are the property of the Annual Conference or whose reproduction may be authorized by the Annual Conference.
6. The Conference Secretary shall be the Information Management Officer with duties as defined by guidelines issued by the General Council on Finance and Administration.
7. The Conference Secretary shall establish supporting assignments and name persons as necessary to accomplish the duties of the Secretary's office. Such assignments are not to be considered "positions" with regard to Rule VI.F (one person-one position).

B. CONFERENCE STATISTICIAN

1. The Conference Statistician shall be nominated by the Conference Nominating Committee and elected in accordance with ¶603.7 of The Discipline.
2. The Conference Statistician shall gather data from the churches, boards and agencies of the Annual Conference and prepare statistical reports and analyses for publication in the Journal or, at the request of stated boards and agencies, in cooperation with the Cabinet and the Executive Director for Finance and Administration.
3. The Conference Statistician shall report to the Bishop and the Annual Conference.

C. THE CONFERENCE TREASURER

1. The Conference Treasurer shall be elected in accordance with ¶617 of The Discipline.
2. This position shall be known in the California-Pacific Annual Conference as the Executive Director of Finance and Administration.
3. The Executive Director of Finance and Administration shall be the Treasurer of all Conference groups and agencies.

D. THE CONFERENCE CHANCELLOR

The Conference Chancellor shall be elected in accordance with ¶603.8 of The Discipline.

E. LAY LEADER

1. The Conference Lay Leader shall be nominated in accordance with ¶603.9.c of The Discipline by the lay persons of the Conference Nominating Committee after consulting with the District Lay Leaders. Election shall be for a quadrennium and shall be at the first Conference session following General Conference.

2. The duties of the Conference Lay Leader are as defined in ¶603.9 of The Discipline.

IV. CONFERENCE PROCEDURES

A. ELECTION OF MEMBERS AND OBSERVERS

1. Clergy membership in the Annual Conference shall be as outlined in ¶602.1 of The Discipline.
2. Annual Conference lay membership and method of election shall be in accordance with ¶30 and ¶602.4 and .5, The Discipline. Lay members shall be elected quadrennially. The following shall be members of the Annual Conference by virtue of those provisions of The Discipline:

   j. President of the Conference Youth Organization
   k. Chair of Conference College Student Organization
   l. One youth between the ages of 12 and 17 and one young person between the ages of 18 and 30 from each District to be selected in such a manner as may be determined by the Annual Conference.
   m. Charges served by more than one clergy member under appointment (including deacons in full connection for whom this is their primary appointment) shall be entitled to as many lay members as there are clergy members under appointment.
3. Furthermore, to reach the required number of Lay Members in equalizing membership (lay and clergy), as allowed under ¶602.4, The Discipline, the California Pacific Annual Conference will use the following priority basis until the number needed is seven (7) or less, at which time the Cabinet will make nominations to the Annual Conference which shall, in turn, elect at its first session.
   a. Each District shall elect, annually at a District Conference, six (6) lay members to the Annual Conference, three (3) of whom shall be youth (age 12-18) and nominated by the District Council on Youth Ministries, and three (3) of whom shall be young adults (between the ages of 18 and 30) who shall be nominated by the District young adult organization, including those specified by ¶30, and ¶602.4, The Discipline and Rule IV.A.2.l above. Certification of their election shall be through a manner similar to the certification of other Lay Members of the Conference except that it shall be through the office of the District Superintendent rather than a local church.
   b. In charges with more than one organized local church, each organized local church shall elect one lay member.
   c. Each local church shall elect additional lay members based on membership of the local church on December 31 of the year preceding Annual Conference as reported on Table I of the Statistical Reports. One additional lay member shall be elected for a membership over 224 and less than 501 members. Two additional lay members shall be elected for a membership over 500 and less than 811 members. Three additional lay members shall be elected for a membership over 810 members and less than 1,651. Four additional lay members for churches over 1,650 members. The application of this rule is not cumulative - a local church falls into only one category. The preceding membership numbers may be changed by as much as 10% by the Conference Statistician and the Conference Secretary in order to increase the number of lay members elected by local churches, provided they give notice to and receive approval of the preceding Annual Conference.
   d. Conference officers - Secretary, Treasurer, Statistician (if they are laity) and the Conference Chancellor.
   e. Lay chairpersons of the District Leadership Teams.
   f. Executive Directors of the Conference who are not clergy.

g. Lay Associate Directors of Conference Ministry Areas.
h. Lay chairpersons of all Conference Boards and Agencies.
i. Conference Secretary of Global Ministries.
j. Lay members of General Boards and Agencies.
k. Presidents of District United Methodist Women.
l. Presidents of District United Methodist Men.
m. Lay Members of the Annual Conference's elected General and Jurisdictional Conference delegations; such persons will be Lay Members until new delegations are elected.
n. Two of the clergymates selected by their Executive Officers.
o. Additional members at large elected by the District Conferences (the number to be computed annually by the Conference Statistician).

4. The Conference Secretary shall use as the basis for the clergy membership of the Annual Conference the number of clergy members as of December 31. The churches shall elect additional lay members on the basis of the number of members reported to the Annual Conference on December 31. These figures shall determine the number of lay and clergy members in the Annual Conference for the following year. The Conference Secretary and/or the Conference Statistician shall be responsible for providing the necessary information to the District Superintendents and all others who are eligible to elect lay members.
5. Clergymates as observers: one clergymate in each District shall be elected by the clergymates of those Districts, by whatever means they deem advisable, to Lay Observer status in the Conference with privilege to speak on the floor and, in addition, the four executive officers of the Conference Clergymates shall be elected to said Lay Observer status for the year following their terms of office.
6. Lay Observers: at all sessions of the Annual Conference there shall be a maximum of three Youth Observers and three Young Adult Observers from each District with the privilege of being seated and the right to speak from the floor but without vote. The Youth Observers shall be elected by their District Youth organization and the Young Adult Observers by their District Young Adult organization except that, on Districts where such organizations do not exist, the observers shall be selected by a method to be determined by the District Leadership Team. Each observer shall be a member of a United Methodist Church in this Conference with not more than one youth or one young adult observer from the same Church. The Observers shall reflect the ethnic and racial makeup of the District from which they come.
7. One lay representative of each emerging congregation (as certified by the District Superintendent) shall be given the status of Lay Observer, which includes the privilege of the floor but not the right to vote.

B. ELECTION OF DELEGATES TO GENERAL AND JURISDICTIONAL CONFERENCES

1. The election shall be held in accordance with ¶31-34, The Discipline.
2. Voters may write any number of names on a ballot that does not exceed the number of persons to be elected. More names on a ballot than the number of persons to be elected will render the ballot defective.
3. Write-in votes are valid at any time during the voting process provided the number of names on the ballot does not exceed the number of persons to be elected. Persons whose names are on the ballot shall meet the requirements for election established in The Discipline.
4. Where there is duplication of surnames among the persons for whom a vote is to be cast and/or those printed on a ballot, both the first and last name of the person(s) for whom the vote(s) is (are) intended shall be written.
5. Only the official ballot form (provided by the Secretary of the Conference) will be accepted by the tellers.
6. All members who wish to vote shall be seated within the Bar of the Conference at the time of the balloting.
7. Pre-conference nominations, as well as those presented on the floor, shall in no way limit the freedom to vote for any person who is able and eligible, according to the laws of the Church, to serve as a delegate to the General and/or Jurisdictional Conferences.
8. After the first ballot the total number of additional ballots for electing General Conference delegates shall not exceed the number of delegates to be elected. On the first ballot, only those with a majority of the vote will be elected. On succeeding ballots, the person with the highest number of votes shall be elected, provided that all persons who receive a majority of votes shall be elected. This procedure shall be repeated for Jurisdictional Conference delegates. One final ballot for alternates shall be taken. The number of alternates to be elected shall not exceed one-half of the number elected to General Conference. Those receiving the highest number of votes are elected.

9. The Chief Teller and assistant tellers shall be appointed by the Conference Secretary. Insofar as possible they shall be non-voting persons attending the Annual Conference. They shall be instructed in the balloting and counting procedures before the first ballot is taken including the necessity of confidentiality until the results are officially announced.
10. As soon as the results of a ballot are tallied, the results shall be announced to the Conference in session and then posted in a previously announced location.
11. The General and Jurisdictional Conference delegation shall meet immediately following the Annual Conference session at which they are elected. They shall be convened by the Bishop or a designee (a person who is not a delegate or reserve delegate). They shall elect, by written ballot without nomination, a Chairperson, a Vice-Chairperson and a Secretary; the first person to achieve a majority for each office is elected.

C. ANNUAL CONFERENCE NOMINATIONS FOR EPISCOPAL ELECTION [¶406.1, The Discipline]

1. The Annual Conference, in the session immediately preceding a regular Jurisdictional Conference, shall conduct an election to select up to three ministers as Episcopal Nominees of the Annual Conference. This election shall be prepared by the Conference Nominating Committee and conducted by the Conference Secretary.
2. During the first plenary session of the Annual Conference each voting lay and clergy member of the Annual Conference shall be given a Preliminary Ballot and allowed to list one, two or three names of qualified ordained clergy to be placed on the actual Nominating Ballot(s). To be qualified a person shall 1) be a Clergy Member in Full Connection in an Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church, and 2) have not attained the age of 66 years on or before July first of that year. Listing an ineligible person on the Preliminary Ballot, as one of the three names, shall not invalidate the entire ballot. Listing more than three names shall invalidate the entire ballot. The Preliminary Ballot shall be taken without debate; there will be no nominations from the floor.
3. The Preliminary Ballots shall be counted by the Conference Nominating Committee. The name of each qualified person, listed on at least 25 of the Preliminary Ballots, shall be given to the Conference Secretary and reported to the Annual Conference.

   The Conference Nominating Committee shall then make every reasonable effort to contact each qualified person and invite them to provide a resume. Those who submit resumes, could not be contacted, or do not withdraw will have their names placed on the First Nomination Ballot. Insofar as possible, the First Nomination Ballot shall be supported by an attachment that contains, in alphabetic order, each person's name, age, gender, ethnicity, Annual Conference membership, service record, and, if submitted by the person, a brief (250 words or less) statement. This attachment shall be submitted to the members of the Annual Conference not later than the first plenary session of the second day of the Annual Conference.
4. The first Nominating Ballot shall be cast no sooner than the first plenary session of the second day of the Annual Conference session. Each voting member of the Annual Conference may vote for one, two or three of the names listed on the Nominating Ballot. Each individual name may only be listed once. Write-in names shall not be allowed and will not be counted.
5. The Tellers of the Annual Conference shall count the votes on each Nominating Ballot. The Bishop will report the number of votes received by each individual named on the ballot. Any person receiving votes in excess of fifty percent of the ballots cast in that election shall be declared a Nominee for Episcopal Election of the California-Pacific Annual Conference. The name(s) of those elected as nominees shall be removed from subsequent ballots.
6. After reading the results from each ballot the Presiding Bishop shall ask the body "Shall the Annual Conference continue to ballot in order to nominate clergy for Episcopal Election?" If one-third of the members present and voting vote "aye", another ballot shall be cast which lists the same names, less those previously elected as Episcopal Nominees, as on the previous ballot. There shall be no debate between the vote to cast another ballot and the casting of that ballot nor shall there be any additional names nominated to be placed on the ballot from the floor. However, after the report from any ballot, a person may request, from the floor of the Conference, that his/her own name be withdrawn from consideration. After three persons are elected as Nominees for Episcopal Election, or after the Annual Conference votes not to continue with another ballot (whichever occurs first), the balloting procedure shall cease.
7. The Annual Conference Secretary shall notify the Jurisdictional Conference Secretary of the results.

V. BUSINESS OF THE CONFERENCE:

A. Business - The business of the Annual Conference shall be in accordance with ¶605 of The Discipline.

B. Robert's Rules of Order - The rules contained in the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, shall govern the Conference in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with other Conference rules and any special rules of order the Conference may adopt.

C. The business of the Annual Conference develops from several sources including The Discipline, the General and Jurisdictional Conferences, and from within the Annual Conference itself.

1. REPORTS - A Statement of Accomplishments shall constitute a report from each council, board, commission, committee or agency, as an expression of its accountability to the Annual Conference.
   a. This statement may include Objectives and Goals, Scope of the Charge, Approach and Accomplishments, Budget Reports, Problems encountered, and Recommendations and/or Resolutions (see below).
   b. All reports from councils, boards, commissions, committees or agencies shall be in the hands of the Conference Secretary by a deadline, set annually by the Secretary, which shall not be earlier than March 15 nor later than 12 weeks prior to the opening date of the Annual Conference in order to be included in the Preliminary Reports. Each report shall include the number on the committee as well as the number voting for and against the report. No report shall be printed in the Preliminary Reports, which has not been acted upon by a majority of the members of the committee. Such a vote may be taken by mail.
   c. All reports presented to the Annual Conference for adoption shall be in a form approved by the Conference Secretary.
   d. No regular or special report from a standing committee shall be before the Annual Conference for adoption unless it has been in the hands of the Annual Conference members in printed form not later than the close of the last plenary session of the day preceding its presentation for consideration.
   e. The Conference Secretary shall be authorized to edit and print a supplemental edition of the Preliminary Reports, which shall contain a summary of the recommendations pertaining to the petitions (see below).
   f. Both Preliminary Reports, as well as supplemental reports, shall be considered preliminary in nature; local churches are at liberty to discuss the contents; however, Judicial Council Decision No.109 states that no official body of the local church may order or instruct lay or reserve members to vote in any prescribed manner on issues expected to come before the Annual Conference.
2. RECOMMENDATIONS - presented as action items within or related to the reports of councils, boards, commissions, committees or agencies. Recommendations may be voted separately by the Annual Conference or adopted within the Report as a whole. Recommendations shall be limited to actions and/or decisions needing the approval of the Annual Conference, as opposed to policy statements. Any such recommendation shall include a statement of: 1) the estimated financial impact, 2) the staff source and time required, and 3) the sources of funding required to implement its provisions.
   a. Any recommendation having fiscal impact shall be submitted to the CFA, with appropriate financial data by the author(s) for review, consultation (with the appropriate board or agency), and recommendation and comment for Conference consideration.
   b. No recommendation shall be before the Annual Conference for action unless it has been in the hands of the Annual Conference members in printed form not later than the close of the last plenary session of the day preceding its presentation for action.
3. RESOLUTIONS - Requests for approval on matters of policy or position may be brought before the Annual Conference from councils, boards, commissions, committees, or agencies of the Conference, and/or from at least fifteen (15) lay and/or clergy members of the Annual Conference. All resolutions shall include a statement of: (1) the estimated financial impact, 2) the staff source and time required, and 3) the sources of funding required to implement its provisions.
   a. Any resolution that has a fiscal impact shall be submitted to the CFA with appropriate financial data, by the author(s) for review, consultation (with the appropriate board or agency), and recommendation and comment for Conference consideration.
   b. Resolutions shall be in the hands of the Conference in printed form not later than the close of the business session of the day preceding their presentation for consideration.

Resolutions to be printed in the Preliminary Report shall be submitted in compliance with the deadline set by the Conference Secretary for submitting reports.

c. As a convenience to Conference members, District groups, and to agencies related to the Conference, the office of the Conference Secretary may, within the limits of time and available staff, reproduce such resolutions at a fee to be determined by the Conference Secretary. No resolution, petition, report or statement will be reproduced without a receipt, signed by the Executive Director for Finance and Administration, for payment of the necessary cost.

d. Resolutions shall be presented as briefly and fairly as possible within the limits of time. Minority reports are acceptable for any resolution.

e. Resolutions shall be limited to one issue or concern.

f. Resolutions shall be numbered consecutively throughout a period of twelve years, after which the numbering shall restart at "1".

g. Every resolution passed, unless otherwise stated in the body of the resolution, shall be in effect for twelve (12) years. The Conference Secretary shall maintain an inventory of all resolutions currently in effect. At the end of 12 years the resolution shall be considered null and void unless renewed by the Conference.

(1) Such list shall be published in each year's Journal and such other places as may be helpful.

(2) Each year the Conference Secretary shall notify the appropriate Conference agency of resolutions due to become null and void thus giving an opportunity for them to be re-presented to the Conference.

4. PETITIONS - Any person, group, local congregation, District or other entity related to The United Methodist Church - except a council, board, commission, committee or agency of the Annual Conference - may initiate business of the Annual Conference through the petition process. All petitions shall include a statement of: (1) the estimated financial impact, 2) the staff resources and time required, and 3) the sources of funding required to implement its provisions.

a. Any petition having fiscal impact shall be submitted to CFA with appropriate financial data, by the author(s) for review, consultation (with the appropriate board or agency), and recommendation and comment for Conference consideration.

b. Petitions shall be sent to the Conference Secretary prior to a deadline set by the Conference, said deadline having been advertised in a Circuit West published at least forty-five days prior to the deadline date. The petition shall state the local church(es) in which the signer(s) is/are member(s). Petitions not received by the established deadline shall not be available for consideration at the next session of the Annual Conference.

c. Petitions may be either action or position related; shall address only one issue or concern; and shall be related to the work of only one council, board, commission, committee or agency of the Annual Conference.

d. Petitions shall contain a full, but concise, argument for the action or position being requested and shall, in the interest of fairness, be expected to contain at least a minimum expression of other sides, if any, of the issue or concern.

e. All petitions received by the prescribed time shall be referred by the Conference Secretary to the council, board, commission, committee or agency most closely related to the content of the petition as determined either by the signer or by the Conference Secretary.

f. Each council, board, commission, committee or agency to which petitions are assigned shall meet following the closing dates for receipt of petitions, consider each petition, and recommend: 1) Concurrence, 2) Nonconcurrence 3) Referral (to another Conference board or agency), or 4) Concurrence with Amendment.

(1) The council, board, commission, committee or agency will communicate their action, in writing, including any reasons for nonconcurrence, to the Petitioner and to the Conference Secretary. The petitioner who has received a nonconcurrence, after considering the reason for the nonconcurrence, may notify the Conference Secretary of the desire to have the petition presented to the Annual Conference.

(2) All petitions receiving concurrence, concurrence with amendment, and those receiving a nonconcurrence but desired by the petitioner to be presented, shall, unless considered spurious by the Conference Secretary, be printed in the Preliminary Reports or a subsequent supplement. All petitions which have been amended shall show both the original and the petition as amended. Petitions receiving a nonconcurrence will also have printed a brief statement of the reasons for nonconcurrence.

(3) A petitioner(s) who has received a "Concurrence with Amendment" may notify the Conference Secretary of his/their desire to have the Petition considered without the amendment. In that case it will be listed and presented as a petition having received a "Nonconcurrence". Petitions receiving "Referral" shall be so referred by the Conference Secretary. If the organization(s) to which the Petition has been referred cannot act by the deadline set for submission to the Preliminary Report, the Petition shall be printed as is. The referral organization's subsequent action(s) shall be communicated to the Annual Conference in Session.

(4) All other petitions need be listed by number only and labeled "withdrawn".

g. Each council, board, commission, committee or agency to which petitions have been referred shall report its recommendation to the Annual Conference at a time to be assigned by the Conference Sessions Committee. If such a petition is not acted upon by the Annual Conference it shall be considered null and void.

h. Each council, board, commission, committee or agency shall be responsible for reporting to the Conference Secretary the final disposition of each petition assigned. This report shall be included in the Journal at the end of its regular report.

i. Petitions shall be numbered consecutively throughout a period of twelve years, after which the numbering shall restart at "1".

5. MOTIONS - Are requests for Conference action presented by any member of the Conference during a Plenary Session of the Conference.
   a. All motions shall be submitted in writing if so requested by the Presiding Officer or the Conference Secretary.
   b. The presenter of any motion shall provide or make a statement of
      (1) the estimated fiscal impact
      (2) the staff resource and time required
      (3) the sources of funding required to implement its provisions
   c. When the motion has a fiscal impact, such financial data shall be submitted in writing to the CFA, by the author(s), prior to Conference action, for their:
      (1) review,
      (2) consultation with appropriate Boards and Agencies, and
      (3) development of a recommendation for Conference consideration.
   d. All motions, which affect budgetary matters, in any way, shall be in the hands of the Conference, in printed form, not later than the close of the plenary session on the day prior to Conference action. Motions made on the floor of the Conference, which affect budgetary matters, which have not been in the hands of the Conference in accordance with the foregoing, shall not be acted upon until the next regular plenary session of this session of the Annual Conference.
6. REFERRING MOTIONS, PRESIDING OFFICER - The presiding officer may refer a matter under consideration, along with all motions related to that matter, to a group of persons, selected by the presiding officer, and who represent the various points of view expressed during the debate, with the charge that they study and report back to the plenary session on the matter not more than 24 hours later. This can occur during any Conference session provided that the matter can be considered prior to adjournment of the Annual Conference.
7. CLOSING DEBATE, MAKER OF MOTION - The maker of a main motion or resolution shall have a maximum of three (3) minutes to close the debate. This right shall not be forfeited by a motion to "move the previous question" or to "lay on the table."
8. ENTITLED TO VOTE - When a vote is being taken only members who are within the Bar of the Conference shall be entitled to vote.

D. Speaking

1. Speaker's Identification - After recognition by the presiding officer, but prior to speaking, each Conference member shall identify him/herself by name and church, or other Conference affiliation.
2. Limits on Speaking - No member shall speak on any question before the house more than once until all who wish to speak have done so. No member shall speak more than two (2) minutes (at any given opportunity) except by permission of the Conference. It shall not be in order to "move the previous question" until opportunity for four speeches on each side of the question has been provided.
3. Non-Members Entitled to Floor - When a laity serving on a council, board, commission, committee or agency is not a member of the Conference, said laity shall be entitled to the floor, without vote, on matters relating to the report of such council, board, commission, committee, or agency. Laity employed by the Conference as staff persons and laity serving as officers of the Conference shall be entitled to the privilege of the floor without vote.

E. Distributions on the Floor of the Conference

Material distributed on the floor of the Conference shall be related to the business of the Conference. Such material shall be submitted to the Conference Secretary, who shall be authorized to approve and provide for its distribution by Conference appointed ushers.

F. Legislative Sections

1. There shall be Legislative Sections composed of approximately equal numbers of laity and clergy Conference members selected at random, whose task shall be to review, discuss, and act on any legislative matter before the Annual Conference that is assigned to the Section. Official observers, and those invited to present information but who are not members of Annual Conference, may be permitted to participate in the discussion but do not have the privilege of voting. Conference members are eligible to vote only in the section assigned to them.
2. The purpose and responsibility of a Legislative Section is to provide one of the following four recommendations to the Plenary Session for each legislative item assigned:
   a. "Concurrence": received a vote of 80% or more in favor - is assigned to the Consent Calendar;
   b. "Non-concurrence": received a vote of 80% or more against - is assigned to the Consent Calendar;
   c. "Concurrence as amended": if any amendments proposed in the Legislative Section, which receive a vote of 80% or more in favor, the item, as amended, is returned to the Plenary Session for consideration (refer to paragraphs 4 and 5 below); and
   d. "No recommendation": none of the above is voted; the item is returned to the Plenary Session for consideration.
3. The powers of the Legislative Section do not include:
   a. initiating or proposing legislation to the Conference; except amendments to that legislation assigned to the Section.
   b. voice or vote in the selection of General or Jurisdictional Conference delegates;
   c. review, consideration or action on reports or slates of persons to be elected to Conference agencies;
   d. conducting official business of Annual Conference agencies;
   e. action on budget matters. Budget items may be sent to legislative sections but only for information and discussion. Conference action on budget matters can only be taken in plenary session.
4. A "Consent Calendar" shall be presented to a Plenary Session that contains all items, which received a vote of 80% concurrence or 80% non-concurrence in the assigned Legislative Section(s). Those items receiving less than an 80% majority, or that have proposed amendments, shall not be placed on the Consent Calendar and shall be referred back to a Plenary Session (see also ¶5 below).

   Action on a Consent Calendar shall be taken no earlier than the next Plenary Session following initial presentation of that Consent Calendar. When the Consent Calendar is presented for action, individual items on the Consent Calendar for concurrence, or for non-concurrence, may be removed from the Calendar for consideration by the Plenary Session by a Conference member's request from the floor, when that request is supported by at least 50 votes.

   Items remaining on an approved Consent Calendar shall be considered as Annual Conference actions without requiring further consideration by the Conference.
5. A recommendation for "concurrence as amended" from a Legislative Section shall be considered by a Plenary Session if it:
   a. has been submitted to the Conference Secretary in writing along with the vote tally; and
   b. has been available to the Annual Conference for review 24 hours prior to Plenary Session action; bulletin board posting is acceptable.
6. Leadership of Legislative Sections shall be a Conference Process person who is responsible for presiding, presenting the assigned items, and coordinating the discussion, and a District Superintendent to act as the Section Parliamentarian.
7. Definitions:

   Legislative Session - A gathering of 130-200 conference members meeting to consider legislation to be presented in Plenary Sessions of the Annual Conference.

Plenary Session - The total Annual Conference membership meeting to conduct the business of the Conference.

Concurrence - The result of a Legislative Section ballot that signifies approval of a proposed action (ref. ¶2 (a) and (c) above).

Non-Concurrence - The result of a Legislative Section ballot that signifies disapproval of a proposed action (ref. ¶2 (b) above).

No Recommendation - The result when a Legislative Section does not arrive at Concurrence, Non-Concurrence, or Concurrence as Amended. (See ¶2 (c) and (d) above).

8. Abstentions will not be counted in the calculation of vote percentages.

G. Referrals

1. The Conference Secretary shall prepare and distribute in a timely fashion to all Conference agencies and other affected groups and individuals a list of all actions of the Conference with a listing of what local church, district, and conference agencies or personnel should be aware of or to implement such actions. This list shall also be made available to members of the Conference and to local churches in the most efficient fashion possible.
2. All action items requiring a report to the following Annual Conference shall be given an identifying designation by the Conference Secretary.
3. Each action item so designated shall be referred to the appropriate Conference agency or individual with adequate notice to such agency or individual.

H. Rule Changes/Amendments

1. Any of the published Rules and Policies may be changed or amended in any session of the Annual Conference provided such changes or amendments are in the hands of the Conference in printed form and have been reviewed by the Rules Committee not later than the close of the last plenary session of the day preceding their presentation for consideration.
2. Organizations or agencies proposing changes in the Conference Rules shall submit such proposed changes to the Rules Committee. Such submission shall state the specific rule or policy to be changed, the present wording, the new wording desired, the intent and expected effect of the change, and the reason for wanting the change.
3. After reviewing proposed changes for clarity and consistency, the Rules Committee shall submit the proposed changes to the Annual Conference for action. If the Rules Committee determines that modification of the proposed change is necessary, the Rules Committee shall communicate such modifications to the appropriate organizations/agencies. Proposed changes, with modifications, shall be reported to the Annual Conference for final determination.
4. Following an Annual Conference session the Rules Committee, with the concurrence of the Conference Secretary, is authorized to make editorial corrections which properly reflect actions taken by the Annual Conference.

VI. STRUCTURES OF CONFERENCE ORGANIZATIONS

A. Staffing - All groups shall seek staff support as appropriate in coordination with the Director of Connectional Ministries or the Executive Director of Finance and Administration.

B. Inclusiveness - Unless otherwise provided the Annual Conference recommends that the Conference Nominating Committee and the Districts implement ethnic inclusiveness and balance among clergy, laymen, and laywomen on all Conference and District organizations. To that end it is strongly recommended that the Conference Nominating Committee and the Districts seek to provide membership for each Conference or District organization consisting of one-third clergy, one-third laymen, and one-third laywomen. It is also recommended that one-third of the entire representation should be composed of ethnic minorities, youth, and young adults. Further, it is recommended that the membership of each Conference organization be equitably drawn from the districts. These recommendations shall also apply to the membership of executive committees of Conference organizations.

C. Terms

1. Length of terms of all Conference organizations shall be one year except for organizations whose terms are established by The Discipline or elsewhere in these rules.
2. Terms for Conference organizations shall start on July 1, with quadrennial terms starting the July 1 following a regularly scheduled General Conference.

D. Tenure

1. Tenure shall accrue for all positions that carry the right of vote.
2. Start of tenure accrual for persons on all Conference and District organizations shall be July 1 following Annual Conference election or at selection to fill a vacancy.
3. Maximum tenure for individual service on any Conference or District organization shall be eight consecutive years.

4. Persons who have served maximum tenure may not be elected to additional terms with the same organization until four years have elapsed. An exception are members of General or Jurisdictional boards or agencies, residing within the Conference, who shall automatically serve on the corresponding Conference organization as an ex-officio member with vote; unless otherwise provided by The Discipline.
5. Tenure shall not be limited for:
   i. Pacific Islander clergy serving on the Pacific Islander Commission
   ii. Members of the Native American Committee
   iii. Conference Chancellor
   iv. Executive Director of Finance and Administration (Conference Treasurer)
   v. Lawyers' Committee
   vi. Exempt Staff and support persons serving on the Sessions Committee by virtue of their position.
6. District nominating reports shall include the year of election of all members to District boards and groups to assist the Districts in reflecting the tenure rule.

E. Vacancies

1. Any vacancy, which occurs between sessions of the Annual Conference in a position to which the Nominating Committee is empowered to make the nomination to the Annual Conference, may be filled by the Nominating Committee between sessions of the Annual Conference. Any other vacancy which occurs between sessions of the Annual Conference may only be filled by the Nominating Committee when it receives a nomination from the person or organization empowered to make the nomination to the Annual Conference, except as stipulated otherwise by The Discipline. Any person elected to fill a vacancy between sessions of the Annual Conference shall serve until the next session of the Annual Conference, at which time the Nominating Committee will present the name for election by the Annual Conference to fill the vacancy.
2. If a member of a Conference organization is absent from two consecutive meetings or one year, whichever is the lesser period of time, without a reason acceptable to the organization, then the Conference organization shall notify the person and the Conference Nominating Committee that the person has been removed from its membership. This rule does not apply to ex-officio members, but shall apply to any duly appointed representatives.

F. One-Person/One-Position Rule

1. In order to provide a broader representation on Conference organizations, no person shall be elected to serve on more than one Conference organization at any given time. However, a person may serve on more than one Conference organization when required by the structure of the Annual Conference, The Discipline, and/or the special constituency/representational requirements noted below. However, even where these specific exclusions apply, organizations are asked to follow the spirit of the rule.
2. The organizations and situations specifically excluded from the requirements of the one person-one position rule are:
   - Administrative Review Committee
   - Adult/Family Ministries Council (young adult members only)
   - Committee on Episcopacy
   - Committee on Investigation
   - Conference Council on Youth Ministries (youth members only)
   - Conference Young Adult Council (young adult members only)
   - Disaster Response Committee
   - Ethnic Ministries Division (ethnic minorities only)
   - Ministerios Latinos (ethnic minorities only)
   - Korean Ministry Council
   - Lawyers' Committee
   - Native American Committee (Native Americans only)

3. Responsibilities
   a. Budget recommendations to Annual Conference
      (1) The Council shall make a diligent effort to secure full information regarding all Conference interests so that none will be neglected, jeopardized or excluded. In order to secure such information the Council shall hold Budget Hearings; all Boards, Councils, Commissions, Committees and Conference related institutions or agencies who wish to secure any funds shall be invited (and expected) to appear in order to make their requests and to hear the other presentations. Such hearings shall be open to any interested person. The Conference Leadership Team shall study and coordinate the budget askings of Conference agencies as they relate to Conference program and shall make recommendations regarding the same to the CFA.
      (2) After the Budget Hearings, and after consultation with the Conference Leadership Team, the Council shall adopt and recommend to the Annual Conference budgets and/or procedures which are designed to secure such interests insofar as, in their judgment, the funds are available or may be raised. These proposed budget(s) and procedures shall be published for Conference review in the Conference Preliminary Report.
      (3) The Council shall recommend to the Annual Conference the following:
         (a) the Ministerial Support Budget
         (b) the Administration Budget
         (c) the World Service and Conference Benevolence Budget;
         (d) the Special General Church Apportionments; and
         (e) the quotas for Christian Education Sunday, Human Relations Day, Youth Service Fund, United Methodist Student Day, and such others as may become supported.
   b. The Council shall be responsible to oversee the office of the Executive Director for Finance and Administration and the Statistician. It shall provide for an annual audit of the accounts of the Treasurer as they consider necessary.
   c. The Conference Treasury, under the direction of the CFA, shall be constituted a depository for funds designated for all Conference Boards, Councils, Commissions and Agencies participating in the Conference Benevolence budget. Unless otherwise provided in The Discipline, the person serving as Executive Director for Finance and Administration shall serve as Treasurer of each Conference Board, Council, Commission and Agency participating in the Conference Benevolence budget.
   d. The Annual Conference places with the Conference CFA the responsibility and authority of the business affairs of the United Methodist Church Center with the understanding that each Board and Agency located at the Center be invited to designate one person to represent them at meetings of the Business Affairs Sub-committee of the Council. The Leadership Team shall be asked to designate two representatives who shall represent all Boards and Agencies related to the Ministry Areas. All designated representatives shall have voice without vote.

e. Apportionments and Conference Budget Procedures.

(1) In relation to the various causes for which financial amounts are assigned to the local church the following terminology shall be used: "Apportionments" shall refer to the amounts assigned to the local church for (1) the Ministerial Support budget, (2) the Administration budget, (3) the World Service and Conference Benevolence and (4) Special General Church Apportionments; "Quotas" shall refer to amounts assigned to the local Church for special day offerings and all other causes for which a budget or goal is adopted by the Annual Conference. All apportionments and quotas assigned to the local church shall (unless otherwise determined) be based upon the Grade Figure process.

(2) The CFA shall be guided by the following rules when recommending to the Annual Conference the various budgets which shall be apportioned to the local churches of the Conference.

(a) The total Ministerial Support, Administration, World Service and Conference Benevolence budgets and Special General Church Apportionments which are apportioned to churches of the Annual Conference shall not exceed a fixed percentage of total local church expenses after adjustment to exclude:

(i) principal and interest on indebtedness, loans and mortgages, etc.;
(ii) buildings and improvements, not including funds borrowed;
(iii) Ministerial Support;
(iv) Administration;
(v) World Service and Conference Benevolence apportionments; and
(vi) Special General Church apportionments.

This fixed percentage, which determines the maximum dollar total that may be apportioned to the churches for the next succeeding year's budget, shall be developed from the last full fiscal year reports of the local church to the Annual Conference.

(b) The fixed percentage as referenced above shall be 26.3% [based upon the relationship of the 1973 apportionment of $4,242,429 with the adjusted total paid by the local churches as outlined above - of $16,129,899, the last fiscal year reported at the time the 1973 apportionments were set]. The percentage may be changed only by a two-thirds vote of the Annual Conference.

(c) After the Ministerial Support and Administration Budget has been adopted by the Annual Conference the Council shall assign the total amount to the churches.

The total amount of the Ministerial Support Budget shall be assigned to the Churches in one sum. Likewise, the total amount of the Administration Budget shall be assigned to the churches in one sum. The Executive Director for Finance and Administration shall divide all funds received from the churches and designated for a particular budget on a percentage basis among the items included in the budget.

After the World Service and Conference Benevolence Budget has been adopted by the Annual Conference the Council shall assign the total amount to the churches.

(d) The World Service and Conference Benevolence Budget shall consist of two sections. These are:

(i) World Service (a General Church apportionment) and Conference Benevolence apportionment representing the operating, capital and program requirements of designated Conference agencies.
(ii) District Societies and Unions.

The Executive Director for Finance and Administration shall prorate all receipts on all items on the basis of the relationship of each item to the total budget.

(e) Each local church shall pay 5/12 of its annual apportionments by May 31 of each year.

VIII. DISTRICT STRUCTURES

A. District Conferences: District Conferences shall be composed and held as provided in ¶653-654, The Discipline.

B. District Leadership Teams: The District Leadership Teams may be organized by the District Conference according to ¶656, The Discipline.

C. District Planning and Strategy Committee
1. There shall be in each district a Planning and Strategy Committee elected by the District Conference. One member shall be selected by the Committee and elected by the District Conference as the representative to the Board of Congregational Development.
2. This Committee shall coordinate with the District Leadership Team, the District Union/Society and the District Board of Church Location and Building in complying with the functions as outlined in The Discipline.
3. This Committee shall serve as a vital link between the District structures, the District Superintendent and the Board of Congregational Development. They shall evaluate, strategize and prioritize the needs of the district, including changing neighborhoods, mergers, unions, relocations and discontinuances and submit comprehensive recommendations to the Conference Board of Congregational Development.

D. Other District Structures: Each District shall form a structure that best reflects the needs of the District, taking into account the representational needs of the District to the Conference structure and taking care to follow The Discipline and the Conference Rules.

IX. FISCAL RULES

A. Financial Procedures
1. Any authorized Conference Council, Board, Commission or Committee that finds it necessary to incur any indebtedness not provided for in its regular sources of income shall submit a proposal to the Council on Finance and Administration (CFA) and obtain its permission before incurring the indebtedness.

2. Every Clergy member of the Annual Conference shall file, annually with the Executive Director for Finance and Administration, a statement of the items of income paid to him/her by his/her employer including allowances for expenses. Such information shall be supplemented by a record of payments made from any Conference or General Board source. The entire schedule shall be printed in the Conference Journal.
3. The salary figure reported by the local church to the Annual Conference shown in Financial Reports shall include:
   a. Cash salary payments to the minister including all variants and allowances,
   b. Dollar amount of all employee benefits paid by the Church for the account of the minister, and
   c. The only items not to be included as compensation shall be housing allowance, utility costs, and direct expense reimbursements for costs incurred by the minister in performance of his/her professional duties.
4. The District Superintendents shall provide the Conference Secretary with the estimated salary, travel, utilities, employee benefits, equitable salary variants, if any, and housing allowance (if house is not provided) for each pastoral charge for the appointment year beginning July first; this information shall be printed in separate parallel columns following the pastoral appointments in the Conference Journal.
5. The salary and allowances, if any, for all Conference Exempt Staff shall be printed annually in the Journal.

B. Hawaii District Travel to Conference Sessions

1. The Conference shall annually cover the cost of economy class travel to the mainland for clergy and lay members of the Conference who reside in the Hawaii District.
2. The Sessions Committee (or equivalent) shall include in their budget an estimated amount sufficient to cover the cost of economy class travel to the mainland for clergy and lay members of the Conference who reside in the Hawaii District, but the amount reimbursed to the Hawaii District shall be the actual cost of economy class airfare for those lay and clergy members.
3. This rule shall continue in effect until modified or deleted by an action of the Annual Conference.

C. Conference Boards and Committees Travel Expenses

1. Travel expense, for members of Boards, Councils, Commissions and Committees elected by the Annual Conference to meetings of those bodies, for volunteer workers doing program or field work approved by such agencies, and for official representatives elected and/or designated by the agency to attend other than United Methodist meetings within the bounds of the Annual Conference, may be reimbursed on a basis to be determined at least annually by the CFA.
2. All claims for expense shall be made on forms provided by the Executive Director for Finance and Administration and shall be approved by a person authorized by each agency before payment of the claim is made.
3. The method of travel used shall represent the lowest expense to the Conference without being unduly inconvenient for the volunteer.

D. Grade Figure Formula

The Grade Figure Formula, used to calculate each church's apportioned share of the Conference budget, shall be based on the following factors:

1. One-fifth of the apportionment shall be in proportion to the membership of the church as compared to the total Conference church membership.
2. Four-fifths of the apportionment shall be in proportion to the total church expenditure reported in lines 11, 12 and 15-50 on the current Table II.
3. Prior to the determination of the decimal the following deduction shall be applied to the total of the expenses indicated therein:
   a. An amount equal to 80% of the average cash salary of the ministers of the Conference as computed in the Conference Journal plus 80% of the estimated Pension Plan Contribution paid by each church for the senior pastor.
   b. The maximum deduction (80% of the average cash salary) shall be applied only to the extent the church paid at least 100% of the average cash salary figure to its pastor. In the event a church pays a lesser amount than the average cash salary the deduction would be prorated in relation to the normal payments.
   c. 80% of the amount paid by the local church for health plan coverage for the senior pastor and family.
   d. Actual housing allowance paid by the local church for all pastors up to $18,000 per pastor.

e. The above deductions and conditions will also be applied for one second language pastor for each segment of the congregation which worships and carries out its ministry in a language different from the primary language of the local church as identified by the District Superintendent.

5. In special cases, where inequities may occur, the Executive Committee of the Council may make certain adjustments in the Grade Figure of the churches (upon recommendation) as follows:
   a. Any District Superintendent may recommend that certain adjustments be made provided that 1) the total amount apportioned to the District shall remain the same and 2) the churches, whose Grade Figure may thus be changed, have been notified in advance by letters from the Superintendent to the pastor and to the chairperson of the Committee on Finance of the church.
   b. When unusual inequities exist the Grade Figure Committee may recommend to the Council that certain adjustments be made without reference to the District apportionment totals.

E. District Superintendents' Expense Account Policies

1. District Superintendents' Compensation
   a. The formula for determining the salaries of the District Superintendents shall be as follows: 1.7 times the average cash salary of the Annual Conference as of December of the year preceding the Conference budget preparation. Average cash salary is defined as the total cash salary reported on the General Board of Pensions Clergy Compensation Report, plus any housing allowance paid in excess of $15,000 per year, divided by the total number of reporting clergy. As defined in ¶140 of the 2000 Book of Discipline, Clergy in the United Methodist Church are individuals who serve as commissioned ministers, deacons, elders, and local pastors under appointment of a bishop (full and part-time), who hold membership in an annual conference, and who are commissioned, ordained, or licensed. Those persons employed less than full time, will have salaries annualized for the calculation. Conference staff personnel eligible for housing will have salary reflected as the difference between actual cash salary and declared housing. Salaries for District Superintendents will not be included in the calculation.
   b. The CFA shall designate, upon the recommendation of the District Superintendents Committee, a portion of the cash salary, which can be considered a "parsonage appurtenance allowance" for the day-to-day expenses related to the parsonage.
   c. Utilities for the parsonage - water, electricity, gas (fuel), sewer fee, trash collection - shall be paid (or reimbursed) upon submission of the bills to the Executive Director for Finance and Administration. Office utilities should be included in Office Expense reimbursement. Both home and office telephone expenses shall be reported in the "Telephone" category (personal calls to be excluded).
   d. Health insurance plan payments, and the "employer share" of the pension payments, shall be paid directly by the Executive Director for Finance and Administration even though they are included in the District Superintendent's budget. The personal share of pension payments may be paid by the Treasurer's office and deducted from salary payments.

2. Travel and Other Expense Reimbursement

   Travel and other expenses shall be reimbursed as follows (receipts shall be submitted for airfare, public transportation, car rental, hotel, meals, and other expenses):
   a. actual miles driven at a rate determined annually by the CFA; a log shall be maintained giving date, mileage, and destination; travel between home and office is not included;
   b. air fare and other necessary public transportation or car rental at lowest rate available;
   c. hotels, to be used only if further than 50 miles from home; and
   d. meals and tips when incurred in carrying out professional responsibilities.
   e. When expenses are incurred in connection with another Conference board or agency it is expected that the District Superintendent will charge said expenses to the appropriate agency at its rate of reimbursement. When attending more than one meeting the expenses should be charged to the major time-use body.
   f. With the exception of one round-trip air fare to Annual Conference provided for the spouse of the Hawaii District Superintendent all other expenses for spouses are the responsibility of the District Superintendent.
   g. Annual Conference room and board will be paid for by the District Superintendent and spouse. Personal expenses incurred are the responsibility of the District Superintendent.

h. An amount shall be included in the District Superintendent's Budgets for Continuing Education to be paid upon request for reimbursement.

3. Budget Restrictions
   a. Monthly statements comparing actual expenses to budgeted figures will be provided to each District Superintendent by the Executive Director for Finance and Administration. Care shall be taken to keep actual expense at or below the budgeted amounts. Vouchers and backup documentation shall reach the Executive Director for Finance and Administration's Office by the end of the month in order to be included on that month's statement.
   b. In the event a request for payment exceeds the annual budgeted account the Executive Director for Finance and Administration is directed not to advance payment except for salary-related items. An appeal for payment beyond the budgeted figure may be submitted to the District Superintendents' Committee of the CFA for negotiation.
   c. In the event the District Superintendents' Fund is overdrawn at the end of the year, provisions shall be made by the District Superintendents for the repayment of the deficit no later than the second year following deficit.
   d. In years when there is a change of District Superintendents care should be taken to spend only 50% of budgeted amounts during the first six months of the year.
4. Petty Cash
   Each Superintendent shall be given an initial sum of $1,000.00 as a revolving petty cash account to begin his/her term on the district. This advance is to be returned to the Executive Director for Finance and Administration at the end of the District Superintendent's term.
5. District Office Expense
   a. Rent and Utilities for District office space shall be paid by the District Superintendents' Budget of the Annual Conference.
   b. Office expenses to be budgeted as part of the Annual Conference expense shall include: Office Supplies, Printing and Copying, Postage, Equipment Rental and Maintenance.
   c. Needed office equipment shall be purchased through the Plant Fund with the approval of the Executive Director for Finance and Administration and the District Superintendents' Committee of the CFA. Additional equipment purchases shall be arranged between the District Union and the District Superintendents' Committee of the CFA.
   d. The Annual Conference will pay salary and benefits for up to one full-time support person. This staff person is an employee of the Annual Conference and subject to the Conference Personnel Policies. The Committee of District Superintendency or other appropriate district body may be utilized by the District Superintendent as the local group responsible for the employment of support staff.
6. District Parsonage
   a. Each District shall provide to the District Superintendent a parsonage and receive $9,000 per year from the Conference to assist with parsonage expenses or contribute to the Conference housing allowance support of $15,000 per year. Each District Superintendent, not in a parsonage, shall receive a $24,000 annual housing allowance from the Conference paid in equal monthly installments. Any sale and/or purchase of a district parsonage shall comply with appropriate disciplinary guidelines and be approved by the Conference CFA and the Conference Board of Trustees because of the financial impact on the Conference budget.
   b. The utilities and property taxes on the district parsonage are to be paid by the Annual Conference. This shall be included in the annual budget prepared by each District Superintendent separate from the mortgage payments.
   c. Parsonage maintenance and insurance are the responsibility of the District Union/Society. It is strongly recommended that funds be regularly set aside in preparation for major maintenance needs that follow a depreciation schedule developed and maintained by the District Union/Society.
   d. In the event the District owned parsonage does not meet the needs of the current District Superintendent, the District parsonage will be sold and the proceeds retained by the District Union/Society. Provisions should be made for adequate supervision of a rented/leased parsonage to ensure its maintenance in good condition. Any agreement for rental, leasing or sale should be reviewed by the Conference Council on Finance and Administration and the Conference Trustees at the time of inception.

F. General Fiscal Rules (See The Discipline)

1. All matters pertaining to apportionments or quotas to churches, or to allocations from funds held by the Conference CFA, shall be submitted to the Council for its consideration and recommendation before action by the Conference.
2. All matters requiring an increase in the cost of publishing the Journal shall be referred to the CFA for their consideration prior to action by the Annual Conference.
3. Special Appeals (See The Discipline)
   a. No Annual Conference board or interest, such as a school, college, university, or hospital, shall make a special Conference-wide appeal to the local churches for funds without the approval of the Annual Conference except in case of extreme emergency; emergency approval is granted when two-thirds of the District Superintendents and the Council acting jointly vote in support.
   b. When application is made to the Conference for the privilege of a special Conference-wide financial appeal, whether by special collections, campaigns, or otherwise, the application shall be referred to the Council before final action is taken thereon. The Council shall investigate the application and its possible relation to other obligations of the Conference and, considering the known facts, make recommendations to the Conference for its action and determination. Such application for privilege of a special appeal may be made directly to the Council for recommendation to the Annual Conference.
4. The Conference CFA shall approve any increase in the annual operating budget of any Conference Board, Council or Commission, which participates in the Conference Benevolence budget. In addition, any Board or Commission related to the Conference Ministry Areas shall obtain the consent of the Leadership Team before making a request to the CFA for an increase in their operating budget. Budget adjustment plans that involve the transfer of funds between accounts within the total budget of a Board, Council or Commission shall not be implemented until after the CFA has been consulted.
5. No Conference Board or Agency, which participates in the Conference Benevolence budget shall be permitted to carry a balance in its account beyond the end of the fiscal year in excess of 10% of its income from the Conference Benevolence budget for that fiscal year. All boards, committees, or agencies related to the Conference Ministry Areas shall, for the purposes of this rule, be considered part of a total Ministry Area budget with up to 10% of the total carried over and allocated by Conference Leadership Team. In the event such an excess balance exists the Executive Director for Finance and Administration shall transfer it to an account under the direction of the CFA. Such funds shall be used to meet financial emergencies of the Annual Conference or to reduce the amount to be apportioned to the churches for the support of the Benevolence budget. Capital Reserves held by a Conference Board or Agency shall not be subject to this provision. Congregational development funds of the Conference Board of Global Ministries shall not be subject to the 10% provision.
6. It is expected that the budgets submitted by each Conference Board or Agency to the CFA, for the purpose of supporting a request for participation in the Conference Benevolence budget, shall include every item of income for the board or agency for the ensuing year. In the event a board or agency appeals for, or receives, funds from the churches during the year in addition to the funds authorized by the Annual Conference, the amount of such receipts shall be deducted by the Council from the distributable Benevolence receipts by readjusting the percentage of the Benevolence funds.
7. The CFA is authorized and empowered, in the event of a change, during the Conference year, in the commitment from any of the General Boards of the Church to a Conference project, to adjust the percentage of Benevolence receipts between World Service and Conference Benevolence so that the amount to be paid to the project, from the general Benevolence, shall be neither more nor less (for the Conference year) than the amount approved at the beginning of the year.
8. The Conference CFA is authorized to advance funds to any agency represented in the Conference Benevolence budget in order that salaries of employees of said agencies may be paid, providing that the agency may be charged 3% interest on the amounts advanced and providing that the advances are repaid during the next fiscal year.
9. All Boards and Agencies appearing as line items in the World Service and Conference Benevolence Budget, and receiving funds through said budget, shall submit annually, to the CFA, an audited report concerning the receipts and disbursements of their operations.
10. The Conference CFA, in consultation with the appropriate Conference agencies, is hereby empowered to exercise authority, when absolutely necessary, to restrict spending in such a manner as to avoid continued deficits when disbursements by a Council, Board, agency, or Committee are projected to exceed anticipated income. These adjustments shall be reported to the next Annual Conference Session.

11. The Conference CFA is hereby given approval to borrow sufficient funds from outside sources to enable adequate funding of budgets approved for the fiscal year. Such indebtedness shall not exceed $1,000,000. Amounts borrowed, interest costs, and fund sources shall be reported to the next Session of the Annual Conference.

G. Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP) and Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP)

The Ministerial Pension Plan (MPP) and the Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP) shall be administered in conformity with the Plan Documents for the MPP and CPP and the Addendum to the MPP and CPP applicable to the California-Pacific Annual Conference, as adopted from time to time by the Annual Conference and printed in the Conference Journal as a part of the Report of the Conference Board of Pensions.

H. Past Service Obligation

The responsibility for all past service benefits payable in accordance with Supplement One of the MPP shall rest with the Annual Conference and shall be the budget obligation of the Board of Pensions provided that, in funding the past service contribution, the Board shall use first the income from the Conference Endowment Fund and from the Frank and Georgia Lynch Trust Fund; the balance of needed funding shall be placed in the Ministerial Support Budget.

I. Endowment and Trust Funds

The Board of Pensions is the recipient of the income from the Conference Endowment Fund and the Frank and Georgia Lynch Trust Fund. The funds received by the Board from these sources shall be used for the benefit of Conference Claimants and/or Annuitants upon the recommendation of the Conference Board of Pensions and the approval of the Annual Conference.

J. Frank and Georgia Lynch Fund

1. The Conference Endowment Fund is named beneficiary in trust provisions contained in the wills of Frank Lynch and Georgia Lynch, both of whom were members of the First United Methodist Church, San Diego, California. At the present time the trusts are administered by named trustees and the annual income is paid over to the Board or Agency administering the Conference Endowment Fund for payment in full to the Board of Pensions.
2. Any and all expenses incurred in connection with the administration of this trust shall be a first charge to income from the trust.
3. The net income from said trust shall be paid annually to the Conference Board of Pensions and shall be distributed by the Board of Pensions in coordination with the payments to the Ministerial Pension Plan.

K. The Minimum Equitable Compensation Schedule

1. All clergy members of the Annual Conference (including full, associate and probationary) who are appointed to a local church of the Annual Conference shall be entitled to receive a minimum compensation according to the Schedule of Minimum Equitable Compensation adopted by the Annual Conference. Local Pastors approved by the Board of Ordained Ministry and serving under pastoral appointment are also to be included.

   Unless otherwise eligible under rules governing the distribution of the Equitable Compensation Fund the pastoral charge or agency shall be responsible for paying at least the minimum compensation established by the Schedule for each minister appointed to such charge or agency provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as limiting the maximum compensation and benefits which may be paid by a pastoral charge or agency to a clergy.
2. The data source for evaluating the Minimum Equitable Compensation Schedule for the ensuing year shall be based upon the Conference Average Compensation (CAC) as computed by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits using data from the end of the year preceding the year in which the Schedule is set by the Annual Conference. The CAC as computed by the General Board of Pensions for use by the Annual Conference shall consist of cash salary (including tax-deferred annuity income) paid to all clergy under an appointment for which a local church in this Annual Conference or the Annual Conference holds pension responsibility according to the rules established by the General Board of Pensions. For purposes of Equitable Compensation the CAC shall NOT include any actual housing allowance paid to clergy furnished with a parsonage. However, for purposes of calculating the Conference Average Compensation any amount of housing allowance paid to a pastor in excess of $15,000 shall be considered as additional cash salary. The entire Schedule of Minimum Equitable Compensation shall be recommended annually by the Commission and, after adoption by the Annual Conference, be printed in the Journal in answer to question #9 of the Business of the Conference.

3. Each clergy entitled, according to (1) above, to receive minimum compensation shall be paid at least a cash compensation as determined at each Annual Conference session for the ensuing calendar year. The Commission shall recommend the Schedule of Minimum Equitable Compensation to each Annual Conference session taking into consideration factors such as general economic conditions within society and perceived economic realities within the local churches of the Annual Conference. However, no amount shall be recommended by the Commission or adopted by the Annual Conference, which would result in a decrease of the cash salary compensation to any clergy entitled to receive minimum salary.

   The Minimum Equitable Compensation Schedule shall be composed of two portions: Schedule PL, consisting of twenty steps, and Schedule F, consisting of twenty-five steps.

   a. Schedule PL shall apply to Probationary Members of the Annual Conference serving under pastoral appointment, and to approved Full-time Local Pastors serving under pastoral appointment. Each year of pastoral service on Schedule PL shall entitle the Probationary Member or approved Local Pastor under pastoral appointment to advance one step, to a maximum of step twenty. Probationary Members serving under less than full time appointments shall be entitled to 25%, 50% or 75% of the salary of Minimum Equitable Compensation Schedule PL (Ref: Appointment percentage in The Discipline ¶329.2). Part-time Local Pastors serving under pastoral appointment shall be entitled to receive a pro-rata portion of the Minimum Equitable Compensation which matches the amount of time for which the Part-Time Local Pastor is appointed to serve. In no case shall an approved Local Pastor appointed to serve in a pastoral appointment be allowed to advance beyond step twenty of Schedule PL while serving at a church that is receiving funding from the Commission on Equitable Compensation.

   b. Schedule F shall apply to members of the Annual Conference in Full Connection. Upon being accepted into membership in Full Connection, a member serving under full-time pastoral appointment shall receive a salary no less than the amount of step one of Schedule F. Each year of service following acceptance into membership in Full Connection shall entitle the Member to advance one step, to a maximum of step 25. (Note: step one is for the first year the member is a member in Full Connection, not for the first year under appointment.) In no case shall a Full Member under a pastoral appointment be allowed to advance beyond step twenty five of Schedule F while serving at a church that is receiving funding from the Commission on Equitable Compensation. Full Members, serving under less than full time appointments, shall be entitled to the percent of minimum salary that is associated with the percent of their appointment; 25%, 50% or 75% of the Minimum Equitable Compensation Schedule F. (Ref: Appointment percentage in The Discipline ¶333). Compensation is interpreted to mean salary, geographical variance, health insurance, pension, housing, utilities, and any cash allowance.

4. In determining the number of clergy service years to be counted as the basis of the equitable compensation, only those years which are credited with pension claim upon a local church, an Annual Conference, a General Board of the Church or an autonomous Methodist Church/Conference shall be counted except that years appointed to attend school shall not be counted.

5. In addition to the equitable compensation (including the factor related to tenure), Health Insurance Plan (HIP), housing allowance or parsonage, utilities, car allowance, variants for children, location, and other factors shall be paid in accordance with the full schedule as adopted by the Annual Conference. Where appropriate, professional reimbursable business expense may be used to reimburse for the use of the pastor's personal automobile.

L. Debt Limit for Capital Expenditures

Before any District Board of Church Location and Building may approve any building program or property purchase by an established church, (other than the purchase of a parsonage, which can be included in the current budget of the local church) it shall determine that the congregation meets the capitalization and debt servicing guidelines established by the Congregational Loan Committee. The Congregational Loan Committee shall review, adopt and document annually such guidelines as are prudent of the capitalization and debt servicing of local United Methodist Churches within the bounds of this Annual Conference. Copies of the current guidelines shall be available to any local church upon request.

M. Moving Expense Plan

Clergy members of the Annual Conference and full-time local pastors who are appointed to charges within the Annual Conference or to conference staff positions, including campus ministers, and lay professional employees of the Annual Conference shall be entitled to receive reimbursement for moving expenses in accordance with the policies and procedures set forth below:

1. In the case of clergy members and full-time local pastors reimbursements by the Annual Conference for costs incurred as the result of a change in appointment shall relate only to the actual transportation costs of household goods and personal property unless otherwise authorized by the Moving Expense Committee of the CFA.
2. The provisions of this plan shall apply to all persons eligible under the plan notwithstanding the geographic point of origin of the move.
3. Except as provided in ¶4 following, the Annual Conference shall be responsible for 70% of the applicable moving costs. The remaining 30% shall be paid by the Church (or agency) receiving the clergy. The actual transportation costs of household goods and personal property and one office stop will be allowed up to a maximum of 14 hours (generally, in moves less than 50 miles) or 14,000 pounds. Minimum insurance, packing or packing materials up to $600, and other standard incidental costs are recoverable expenses. Moves involving hours or weights in excess of the maximum allowances stated above, and any other expenses not authorized in these rules, are to be negotiated between the District Superintendent, the pastor, and the local church; and, the resultant agreement, in writing, is to be forwarded to the Executive Director for Finance and Administration's Office before the move.
4. Reimbursement for moves to and from the mainland and the Hawaii District and intra-state Hawaii District moves shall be based on the following formula: the Annual Conference shall be responsible for 80% of the costs related to the move not to exceed 12,000 pounds, costs of travel, including one-way airfare for the clergy member and his/her dependents, shipment of one automobile, and minimum insurance; the remaining 20% shall be paid by the church (or agency) receiving the clergy.
5. Clergy members and full-time local pastors entering retirement who are currently appointed to, and serving, charges within the bounds of this Annual Conference or who are appointed to Conference staff positions, including campus ministers, - provided that this rule shall not include clergy who retire under the twenty-year rule [¶356.2.a, The Discipline] - and spouses and/or surviving minor children of clergy under appointment for which a local church in this Annual Conference or the Annual Conference holds pension responsibility at the time of death, shall be entitled to a reimbursement for moving expenses. The Annual Conference shall be responsible for 100% of the applicable moving costs of household goods and personal property within the bounds of the Annual Conference (or the former Pacific and Southwest Annual Conference) as set forth in paragraphs 1-4 above regarding clergy moves. It is understood that in order to qualify for this reimbursement the prospective recipient shall be eligible for Pension Benefits in the year in which he/she retires.
6. Clergy appointed to Incapacity Leave shall be entitled to participate in the Moving Expense Plan. A person's eligibility shall be determined, jointly, by the respective District Superintendents, the Chairperson of the Joint Committee on Incapacity, or designee, and the Executive Director for Finance and Administration. The Annual Conference shall be responsible for 100% of the applicable moving costs of household goods and personal property within the bounds of the Annual Conference as set forth in the applicable provisions of ¶1, 2 and 3 above. These provisions shall be in effect for any initial move within one year of the appointment to Incapacity Leave.
7. Those clergy who are completing basic seminary education necessary for ordination, and who are returning from school outside the Conference, are entitled to moving expenses in accordance with the applicable provisions of these rules.
8. A clergy or full-time local pastor coming to an appointment in the Conference from outside its bounds will have 100% of the appropriate costs to the bounds of the Conference paid by the Conference. Prorated costs within the bounds of the Conference will be handled like other moves. Travel expenses for the clergy and immediate family may be reimbursed by the Conference upon the request of the receiving District Superintendent who shall plan with the family, prior to moving, as to what constitutes reasonable and reimbursable expense. Such charges are subject to review by the Executive Director for Finance and Administration.
9. Clergy who are Conference members returning from sabbatical leave, or from additional continuing education, from outside the Conference will have their costs paid to their new charge from the bounds of the Conference on a prorated basis as with other moves.

10. To calculate the relative cost outside the Conference boundaries for each move covered in paragraphs (5), (6), (7), (8), and (9), the Executive Director for Finance and Administration will obtain a quotation from the moving company for a similar move to the closest border point on the route and compare it to the actual freight bill.
11. Persons employed on the Exempt Staff of the Annual Conference shall be reimbursed for moving costs relating to their relocation at the time of their employment or appointment (clergy) in our Conference. The 30% portion of their reimbursement shall be charged to the employing agency budget. Travel expenses for the staff person and immediate family may be reimbursed by the Conference upon the request of the employing agency which shall plan with the family, prior to moving, as to what constitutes reasonable and reimbursable expense. Such charges are subject to review by the Executive Director for Finance and Administration.
12. Moving expenses related to appointments beyond the local churches not covered in ¶1. above, shall be paid by the employer/agency.
13. All moves are to be coordinated through the Executive Director for Finance and Administration's office. For convenience and control a corporate central billing procedure will be provided.
14. Exceptions to the provisions of this policy shall be subject to an approval by a two-thirds vote of the Cabinet and that approval shall be ratified by the Moving Expense Committee Chairperson and/or the Executive Director for Finance and Administration in advance of the move.
15. When two clergy members in the same family are transferred to a new location (or locations), the move will be interpreted as if only one clergy member is being moved, except an additional 1,000 pounds and one extra stop will be allowed for a second office.

N. Insurance Requirements for United Methodist Institutions

All churches, related social service agencies, and other organizations using "United Methodist" in their name are required to carry the following minimum insurance:

1. Property Coverage - Buildings and Contents - special form fire - replacement cost.
2. Comprehensive General Liability Coverage - commercial form bodily injuries and property damage, $1,000,000 occurrence; $1,000,000 general aggregate; personal and advertising injury, $1,000,000 per claim; products liability coverage, $1,000,000 aggregate; fire liability sub-limit, $50,000 per claim; all such coverage to include independent contractors, blanket contractual, broad form property damage, incidental medical malpractice, and employees as insured.
3. Pastors' professional liability - $1,000,000 aggregate.
4. Officers and Directors' liability - $1,000,000 aggregate.
5. Professional liability - all other counseling, medical services, or other services rendered, $1,000,000 aggregate.
6. Non-owned and hired vehicles liability - $1,000,000 per occurrence (if no owned autos).
7. Vehicles liability (for all church-owned vehicles): Bodily injury and property damage, single limit, $1,000,000; vehicle medical payments, per person, $5,000; uninsured motorists, per person, $1,000,000; non-owned and hired vehicles liability, $1,000,000 occurrence; comprehensive and collision damages to owned vehicle (optional).
8. Workers' Compensation and Employers Liability Insurance, as required by state laws.

O. Future Use of Local Church Assets

1. The future use, ownership, or disposal of local church facilities available as a result of congregational merger, transfer, dechartering, or abandonment shall be the subject of a study by the District Board of Church Location and Building, representatives of the local church, and the District Superintendent. The study will recommend the best future use of the facilities in the accomplishment of the District's missional and outreach objectives. The study shall recognize a priority to maximize local church outreach ministries in the District, and shall include consultation with the appropriate District and Conference strategy and planning organizations.
2. Transfer of title for United Methodist local church facilities to another United Methodist congregation shall not involve price, costs or contributions except for cost directly related to the title transfer.

P. The Health Insurance Plan of the Conference

1. Philosophy

   It is the intent of the California-Pacific Annual Conference (Conference) to provide access to cost effective medical insurance for active clergy, and retired clergy members who served at least 10 of the last 15 years prior to retirement as a member under Episcopal appointment in this Conference, consistent with sound fiscal policies followed by the Conference and local churches responsible for funding the HIP. Conference and local church lay employees may participate in the HIP subject to the rules of their respective employers.

2. Health Insurance Plans
   a. Active clergy Health Management Organization (HMO)
   b. Active clergy out of HMO area Preferred Provider Organization (PPO)
   c. Retired clergy HMO
   d. Retired Medicare Supplement PPO (out of HMO area)

3. Active Clergy Eligibility and Participation
   a. Clergy - Every eligible active clergy member under Episcopal Appointment in this Conference, including full, probationary, associate, local pastors and members of another denomination or conference, must be enrolled in the active clergy HIP, except where equivalent coverage is available under a spouse's group plan, or an individual plan (allowable only if the clergy's language needs could not be met under the HIP-Res. #38, 1994). The premium for active clergy HIP is the responsibility of the local church or salary paying unit.
      i. Incapacity Leave - Clergy appointed to incapacity leave are eligible and must be enrolled in the HIP. The premium for clergy appointed to incapacity leave is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.
      ii. Family Leave, Leave of Absence, Sabbatical Leave, Appointed to School - Clergy appointed to any of these categories are eligible and may participate in the HIP. The premium is at the participant's sole cost.
   b. Clergy Spouse and Dependent Children - Clergy spouse and unmarried dependent children under the age of 18, to age 24 if a full time student (12 or more units), or disabled, providing such disabled person(s) are not eligible for Medicare, Medi-Cal or other government sponsored healthcare programs are eligible to participate in the HIP. The premium for active clergy spouse and unmarried dependent children is the responsibility of the local church or salary paying unit.
   c. Surviving Spouse and Dependent Children - If an active clergy covered under the HIP dies, the surviving spouse and dependent children of that clergy person are eligible and may choose to participate in the HIP.
      i. The subsidy for the surviving spouse and dependent children is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions and will be 100% for 24 months from July 1, 2003, if a surviving spouse as of June 30, 2003, or from the first month after the date of clergy person's death if after June 30, 2003.
      ii. Beginning the 25th month after clergy person's death, surviving spouse and dependent children coverage may be continued through the HIP with a subsidy from the Board of Pensions at the same amount as is applicable to retired clergy described in paragraphs P.4.c and P.6 below.
      iii. If Surviving Spouse Remarries - If the surviving spouse remarries, he/she and the dependent children are no longer eligible for health insurance benefits through the HIP.
   d. Divorced Spouse - The divorced spouse of an active clergy is no longer eligible for HIP subsidy. (See exception in paragraph P.6.e below.) The divorced spouse of an active clergy may participate in the HIP at the participant's sole cost.

4. Retired Clergy Eligibility and Participation
   a. Clergy - A retired clergy member who retires with 35 years of service in the United Methodist Church or at age 62 or later, and who has served at least 10 years of the last 15 years prior to retirement as a member of this Conference under Episcopal Appointment is eligible to participate in the HIP. (See exception in paragraph P.6.e below.) The subsidy for the retired clergy HIP is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.
      i. Medicare Eligible - All retiree HIP subsidies are calculated based on Medicare eligibility and participation in Medicare Part B.
      ii. Not Medicare Eligible - Retirees who are not Medicare eligible may participate in the active clergy HIP, but may receive a lesser subsidy than the retirees who are Medicare eligible, as described in paragraph P.6.c below.
   b. Spouse - The spouse of an eligible clergy must have been married to the retired clergy at the date of retirement to be eligible to participate in the HIP. The subsidy for the retired clergy spouse who is participating in the HIP is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.

i. Medicare Eligible - Spouse HIP subsidies are calculated based on Medicare eligibility and participation in Medicare Part B.
ii. Not Medicare Eligible - spouses who are not Medicare eligible may participate in the active clergy HIP, but may receive a lesser dollar subsidy than the spouses who are Medicare eligible, as described in paragraph P.6.c below.

c. Surviving Spouse - The eligible surviving spouse may participate in the HIP. The subsidy for the retired clergy surviving spouse participating in the HIP is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.
i. Medicare Eligible - Surviving spouse HIP subsidies are calculated based on Medicare eligibility and participation in Medicare Part B.
ii. Not Medicare Eligible - Surviving spouse who are not Medicare eligible may participate in the active clergy HIP, but may receive a lesser dollar subsidy than the surviving spouses who are Medicare eligible, as described in the Financial section below.
iii. Surviving Spouse Remarries - If a surviving spouse remarries, he/she is no longer eligible for HIP subsidy.

d. Divorced Spouse - The divorced spouse of a retired clergy is no longer eligible for HIP subsidy. (See exception in paragraph P.6.e below.) The divorced spouse of a retired clergy may participate in the HIP at the participant's sole cost.

e. Dependent Children - Dependent children of an eligible clergy must be dependent at the date of clergy's retirement and unmarried, under the age of 18, to age 24 if a full time student (12 units or more), or disabled and not eligible for Medicare, Medi-Cal or other government sponsored healthcare programs are eligible to participate in the HIP and receive subsidy. If the retired clergy's dependent children are disabled and Medicare or Medi-Cal eligible, the dependent children may participate in the HIP at the participant's sole cost.

5. Financial

The Board of Pensions is responsible for selecting the insurance company(s) and all of the terms and benefit coverage for the active clergy HIP and the retired clergy HIP.

a. Active Clergy
The local church or salary paying unit is responsible for payment of the health insurance premium for the active and retired clergy and family that is appointed to that local church or salary paying unit.

b. Incapacity Leave
Clergy appointed to incapacity leave must be enrolled in the HIP. The premium for clergy appointed to incapacity leave is the responsibility of the Board of Pensions.

c. Family Leave, Leave of Absence, Sabbatical Leave, Appointed to School
Clergy appointed to any of these categories may participate in the HIP. The premium is the participant's sole cost.

d. Retirees
i. The Board of Pensions is responsible for subsidizing a portion of the health insurance premiums of the HIP for retirees as described in paragraph P.6 below.
ii. The Board of Pensions subsidy of the retiree's health insurance premium will depend upon the extent of coverage, age, location of the retiree's residence, dependents, Medicare eligibility and any other factors deemed reasonable and fair by the Board of Pensions.
iii. The retiree is responsible for paying the unsubsidized portion of the health insurance premiums of the HIP.
iv. The Board of Pensions is under no obligation to subsidize any health insurance premiums for retirees unless specifically provided for below and reserves the right to recommend changes in the level of subsidization (see Changes and Amendments in paragraph P.8 below).

6. Subsidies Beginning July 1, 2003

a. For retired clergy, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children who are on the HIP at June 30, 2003, and who retired prior to 1982, the Board of Pensions will subsidize 100% of the HIP health insurance premium.

b. For eligible retired clergy, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children, as defined in paragraphs P.4.a-e above, and who retired after 1981, the Board of Pensions will subsidize a portion of the HIP health insurance premium, with the insured responsible for paying the unsubsidized portion as follows:

i. For those eligible persons who live within the California clergy HMO area, the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium in an amount equal to the California HMO premium rate, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150. (The participant pays $50 per person with a family maximum of $150. If the participant lives in the HMO area and is in the PPO plan, the additional cost per person of the difference between the HMO and the PPO will be added.)

ii. For those eligible persons who live in Hawaii, the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount not greater than the actual premium rate, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150. (The participant pays $50 per person with a family maximum of $150.)

iii. For those eligible persons who live outside of the Conference HMO area, the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount equal to the actual premium rate, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150. (The participant pays $50 per person with a family maximum of $150.)

c. Not Medicare Eligible: If the retiree, spouse or surviving spouse is not eligible to receive Medicare or does not participate in Medicare Part B, the subsidy will be reduced by the amount of the Medicare Part B premium that is required to be paid by those eligible participants who are on Medicare and described in paragraph P.6.b immediately above. (The 2003 rate is $58.70. The 2004 rate will change if and when the Medicare Part B rate changes.)

d. Less than 10 years of service or not otherwise eligible: Retirees, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children of clergy who either have or will retire prior to July 1, 2003 and have not been members of the Conference under Episcopal Appointment for at least 10 years of the last 15 years before retirement, or who are currently in the HIP, but will no longer be eligible for continued coverage under the rules described above, may participate in the HIP of the Conference as described below. (See exception in paragraph P.6.e below.) The Board of Pensions will subsidize the cost, consistent with the rules described in paragraph P.6.a-c above, as follows:

i. Beginning July 1, 2003 the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount equal to the actual premium, less $50 per person, with a family maximum of $150.

ii. Beginning January 1, 2004 the Board of Pensions will subsidize the HIP insurance premium at an amount equal to the actual premium, less $100 per person, with a family maximum of $300.

iii. Retirees, spouses, surviving spouses and dependent children of clergy who retire on or after July 1, 2003, and have not been a member of this Conference under Episcopal Appointment for at least 10 years of the last 15 years before retirement, may choose to participate in the HIP at their sole cost. (See exception in paragraph P.6.e below.)

e. The Bishop and the Cabinet may recommend exceptions in the paragraphs noted above to the Board of Pensions for greater effectiveness in the general itinerancy and recruitment in the Conference, either in the past, present or future and with other reasonable justification.

7. Delinquencies

When a participant or salary paying unit is three (3) months in arrears of payment for the premiums required under their HIP, the participant and if appropriate, the salary paying unit and the District Superintendent shall be notified. The participant's HIP will be canceled at the beginning of the fifth (5th) month if all billed premiums have not been paid or otherwise satisfied.

8. Changes and Amendments to the HIP

The Board of Pensions shall be authorized to recommend changes and amendments to the above as it deems reasonable and fair, subject to ratification of the Annual Conference at its next regularly scheduled meeting.

POLICIES

CLERGY SEXUAL ETHICS POLICY

I. FOREWORD

A. "Elders in full connection with an annual conference by virtue of their election and ordination are bound in special covenant with all the ordained elders of the annual conference. In the keeping of this covenant they perform the ministerial duties and maintain the ministerial standards established by those in the covenant. . . ." ¶ 324 The Discipline

B. "Ordination and membership in an annual conference in the United Methodist Church is a sacred trust. The qualifications and duties of local pastors, associate members, probationary members, and full members are set forth in The Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church, and we believe they flow from the gospel as taught by Jesus the Christ and proclaimed by his apostles. Whenever a person in any of the above categories, including leaves of all types, honorable or administrative location, or retirement, is accused of violating this trust, the membership of his or her ministerial office will be subject to review. This review shall have as its purpose a just resolution of any violations of this sacred trust, in the hope that God's work of justice, reconciliation and healing may be realized in the Body of Christ." ¶359 The Discipline

C. Ordination, commissioning, licensing, and consecration are not about mere employment. These vows imply there are standards to which we expect clergy to adhere, regardless of whether any allegations could be made. When one commits to participation within any aspect of the United Methodist Church's clergy, the Christian community and the public at large are entitled to assume that each clergyperson seeks to live according to these high standards. This assumption creates trust, power and responsibility. It is wise, therefore, for clergy to reflect about their actions, and how such actions might be interpreted by others. It is necessary that we be clear in our own minds about what is appropriate and what is not; and dialogue with others of both genders to test our assumptions.

II. GENERAL PROVISIONS

A. This is a policy, it is not a set of rules. Reference is made, for the guidance of those who are aggrieved, those who are accused, and those who process complaints, to the provisions of ¶359 and ¶ 2701-2719 of The Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church , 2000.

B. This policy applies to all Full, Associate and Probationary ministerial members of the Annual Conference in both the effective and retired relationships (¶602.1); to Local Pastors who are under appointment (¶343); to retired Local Pastors (¶346.5); to Diaconal Ministers (¶366, 2000 Book of Discipline and ¶305-306, 1992 Book of Discipline) in both effective and retired relationships; to persons serving under appointment in this Annual Conference while keeping their membership in another annual conference (¶337.1) or in another denomination (¶337.2); and to persons holding orders issued or recognized by this Annual Conference while on Honorable or Administrative Location (¶357.2, and ¶359.3). The Discipline

III. PROCEDURES

A. Complaints may be filed as follows: (¶359) The Discipline

STATUS OF THE ACCUSED	PERSON TO RECEIVE COMPLAINT
Ordained or Probationary Ministerial Members of the Annual Conference, Local Pastors under appointment, Diaconal Ministers	District Superintendent or Bishop
Persons holding orders while on Honorable or Administrative Location	Superintendent of the District where the person's Charge Conference membership is held
Clergy serving under appointment while members of other Conferences/Denominations	Bishop

B. The provisions of ¶ 359.2 and ¶ 2701-2719 The Discipline shall determine the Procedure. Two elements worthy of particular note are the requirements for "Fair Process", both for the accused and for the aggrieved, detailed, in ¶359.2 and¶ 2701, and the description of "Supervisory Response" in ¶359.1.b, which reminds us that the goal in any of these procedures is just resolution and reconciliation.

C. The Bishop may initiate a personal support network, as part of the ministry of his/her office. This network provides support to those who have been accused of some form of sexual misconduct, to those who have made accusations of some form of misconduct by a clergyperson, and to the local church where the accused clergyperson is appointed.

IV. RESOURCES

A. "Strategies for Prevention of Sexual Misconduct" may be found in the 1999 Journal of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church on Page O-6ff. This document is recommended for all clergy, and Staff-Parish Relations Committees. Copies are also available through the Board of Ordained Ministry and the Bishop's Office.

B. "Guidelines for Consideration regarding "Dating" by Consecrated or Ordained Clergy" is also recommended reading. These "Guidelines" are also found in the 1999 Journal of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church on Page O-9.

C. The Media Center of the Annual Conference provides several valuable resources. Included are: "Ask Before you Hug;" "Not in My Church;" Broken Vows - Religious Perspective on Domestic Violence;" "Beyond the News: Sexual Abuse" and; "No Means No."

D. The Bishop's Office has established a personal support network to be initiated in cases of alleged sexual misconduct. This network also can be a valuable resource to provide general information in this field to local churches.

E. "Living the Sacred Trust" a resource for Cabinet and Boards of Ordained Ministry provided by the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry.

CLERGY HOUSING POLICIES AND STANDARDS

I. QUALITY OF HOUSING

A. Availability and Scope

1. Clergy supported by the Annual Conference and/or a local church shall be provided adequate housing: a parsonage or a housing allowance. (¶251.4.e, The Discipline). The UMC considers housing or housing allowances as the means that enable local church ministry and the itinerant ministry of the Annual Conferences.
2. Our Conference policy states that the parsonage standard for the pastor will be a three bedroom, two bath home. In today's environment, it may very well be that a pastor who has a spouse and no children, would prefer an apartment. In another situation, the pastor may prefer a smaller home than the 'standard.' Or, the pastor may need a larger home. We should fit the housing for each church based on the needs of the pastor and not assume everyone needs the same thing.

   It is not realistic to have a minimum housing allowance the same for the entire Annual Conference. There is a tremendous variance in costs among the District, and even within a District. Therefore, the amount of the housing allowance, for churches which do not provide a parsonage, will be determined by the local church, using the following process:

   Through contact with realtors who deal with multiple listings for rentals and leases, property management companies, and/or 'For Rent' sections of local newspaper classified ads, the church shall determine the average cost of rent or lease for the housing that fits the needs of their pastor, within a three (3) mile radius from the church. The housing allowance shall be one hundred ten percent (110%) of this amount, but in no case less than $800 per month, as the minimum housing cost.

   Local churches which provide a parsonage shall use this process to determine the Fair Rental Value of the parsonage for determining the amount the pastor will need to report for computation of his/her Self-Employment Tax with IRS.

   Local churches which are supported from the Equitable Compensation Fund shall have the pastor's housing cost approved by the superintendent before application is submitted to the Commission on Equitable Compensation.
3. Arrangements with the church(es) regarding adequate housing or housing allowance(s) shall be established as the result of consultation among the District Superintendent(s), the pastor(s) and the church's PPRC(s) during the appointment process and, as necessary, during the appointment tenure. It is understood that it is the final responsibility of the local church Administrative Board/Council to determine how adequate housing will be provided.

4. In the case of clergy couples, where no parsonage is provided, both congregations shall share in the payment of an adequate housing allowance. If there is a parsonage provided to one member of a clergy couple the other church shall provide funds to the church providing the parsonage, or to the clergy involved, to ensure adequate housing. In some situations distance or other factors may require housing in two locations; arrangements shall be agreed upon by all parties involved and shall be approved by the District Superintendent(s). Ref. Judicial Council Decision 588.

B. Responsibility for Clergy Housing *(an * indicates for a Church-owned parsonage)*

1. The Administrative Board/Council has the responsibility to review the recommendation of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee regarding the provision of adequate housing for the pastor, with attention to Annual Conference Clergy Housing Policies and Standards, and report the same to the Charge Conference for approval. It is the responsibility of the Administrative Board/Council to provide for adequate housing for the clergy family.
2. The Administrative Board/Council may delegate administrative responsibility for clergy housing to the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee or to a Parsonage Committee.* In the absence of a Parsonage Committee, the duties and functions described in these Housing Policies and Standards shall be the responsibility of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee.
3. If a housing allowance is provided it should be reviewed annually by the Committee with appropriate adjustments made for the upcoming year.
4. If a Parsonage Committee * is established membership may be:
   a. appointed by the Administrative Board /Council or;
   b. nominated by the Nominating Committee for election by a Charge Conference. Rotation of members is advised; with maximum of three terms.
5. If a Parsonage Committee* is established it is recommended that its membership be — one trustee (selected by the Board of Trustees)
   — one member from the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee (selected by the Committee)
   — three members at large — the Pastor's spouse
   — the Pastor
6. This Parsonage Committee * should meet at least twice a year and shall report to the Charge Conference.
7. Responsibilities of the Parsonage Committee* shall include:
   a. Assist the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, in concert with the Trustees, in providing adequate pastoral family housing, in optimum agreement with these Policies and Standards.
   b. Assist the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee to develop an understanding within the congregation that, while the parsonage may be church-owned property, it is the private home for the pastoral family and must be respected as such. (¶251.4.e, The Discipline).
   c. Develop a congregational understanding that the quality and maintenance of the parsonage reflects the congregation's care and concern for the pastoral family.
   d. Implement jointly with the Trustees the Parsonage Maintenance Guidelines Yearly Checklist (Reference II.A. below). - for a church-owned parsonage.
   e. Accomplish jointly with the trustees the Parsonage Maintenance Guidelines “When There Is a Change in Clergy” (Ref. II.B. below).*
   f. Ensure that all budget requests pertaining to the parsonage are submitted to the Finance Committee for recommendation to the Administrative Board/Council.
8. The Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, with the approval of the Administrative Board/Council, shall report to the District Superintendent at each annual Charge Conference, by written report on a form provided by the Cabinet, the willingness of the local church to provide adequate housing by their choice of one of the following options:
   a. Only a parsonage adhering to Conference Guidelines.
   b. Only a housing allowance with an indication of the proposed amount.
   c. Willingness to provide either a parsonage or a housing allowance.

C. Minimum Parsonage Standards

If a parsonage is provided, it should be an adequate and comfortable home for the pastor and family. A parsonage consistent with these goals, and which conserves energy resources, should be provided.

1. Recommendations Relating to Parsonage Planning:
   a. Location - Items to be considered:

(1) Is, or will, the location be conducive to good living on the part of the parsonage family?
(2) Is, or will, the location be in convenient relationship to shopping areas, schools and the church?
(3) Location should not be such as to conceivably be a hindrance to future growth of the church plant.
(4) While some parsonages are located next door to the church, the goal of the church should be to insure the privacy of the parsonage family. If there is to be a change in the parsonage location, it ought not to be next to the church.

b. Size
The recommended basic parsonage should include either four bedrooms or three bedrooms with adequate space for a pastor's study. It would be difficult to specify a specific square footage that would always meet the Policies and Standards requirements for adequate housing; however, 1,800 square feet should be considered a minimum.

c. House Arrangement
(1) Bedrooms:
(a) There should be a minimum of three bedrooms each of adequate size and allowing for privacy.
(b) Adequate closet space should be provided (See item (6) below).
(c) One full-length mirror permanently installed is helpful.
(2) Bathrooms:
One and three fourths or two bathrooms are to be preferred.
(3) Study:
(a) A pastor's study (in addition to the three bedrooms) is desirable, even when an office-study is provided in the church.
(b) It is desirable that the study be located so that it can be reached without going into or through the living quarters of the home and that it be protected from family and kitchen noises.
(4) Kitchen and Laundry Space:
(a) There should be adequate kitchen and laundry space.
(b) There should be adequate electrical outlets.
(5) Living Area:
(a) Aside from the pastor's study, the parsonage must be considered as really being the home for the pastor and his or her family.
(b) A living room should be large enough so that entertaining or dining is possible. An area of 320 square feet is considered desirable.
(c) Where possible, there should be an area where the family can "be at ease"; that might be a kitchen-family room, a den, or a recreation room.
(6) Closets and Storage:
Considering that pastors acquire equipment and personal possessions not always usable in their present appointment and possess equipment not normally found in the average home; more than average closet and storage space is recommended.
(7) Heating and Air Conditioning
Adequate provision for these should be made in relationship to the area and its climate. A central system with automatic control is recommended.

d. Home Grounds (for church-owned parsonage)
(1) All permanent planting should be the responsibility of the church.
(2) Landscaping and exterior care of the parsonage should be such as to be a credit to the church in the community (Ref. II.A.8. below).
(3) An outdoor patio area and recreational space are useful additions.

e. Miscellaneous
(1) Adequate shelter for the pastor's car, sufficient to house two cars should be provided.
(2) Because the need for a type of TV antenna varies with location, it is suggested that the church provide an adequate antenna or basic cable TV connection for the area.

2. Basic Parsonage Furnishings and Equipment (for church-owned parsonage).
It shall be the responsibility of the local church to furnish the parsonage* with good quality items of basic furnishings, as listed below, to maintain them in good condition, and to replace them when appropriate. It is recommended that all items provided by the local church for the parsonage* be purchased new.

a. Bedrooms
Rugs or carpets and draperies or curtains.
b. Study
If there is no office at the church it is recommended that the church provide for a study in the parsonage to include the following: desk, comfortable chair, other chairs, file cabinet, telephone, bookshelves, computer/printer (preferred) or typewriter, carpets and drapes and adequate light and storage.
c. Kitchen and Laundry
Range and oven, refrigerator, automatic washing machine and dryer, dishwasher, fire extinguisher and garbage disposal.
d. Living and Dining Area
Draperies and/or curtains and floor coverings
e. Furniture for the parsonage should be the responsibility of the parsonage family.

3. Regarding Desired Duplication of Furnishings and Equipment
When the church provides mutually acceptable furnishings as outlined above, but the pastor prefers to use his or her own, the parsonage committee shall arrange for the storage of the parsonage furnishings at local church expense.

D. Joint Responsibility

It should be remembered that a home expresses character and that the condition of the parsonage affects the relationship between the clergy family and the church. Happy is the pastor who can be proud of the church for the kind of parsonage provided for the parsonage family. Happy is the church whose parsonage family cares for the home provided for them as good stewards. The church whose parsonage quality engenders community recognition of the congregation's care and concern for its pastoral family will be rewarded in many ways. The church is encouraged to consider the tastes of the parsonage family in choosing colors, furnishings and appliances. Clergy and families living in a church-owned parsonage are expected to maintain the parsonage in conditions of reasonable cleanliness and to avoid the necessity of extensive cleaning or repair.

E. Options

These parsonage guidelines may need modification or adjustment in specific situations as mutually agreed upon by the District Superintendent, the Pastor, and the Parsonage Committee. Reference I.A.2. and 3. above.

II. PARSONAGE MAINTENANCE GUIDELINES

A. Yearly Check-List for the Parsonage Committee (For church owned parsonages)

1. The chairperson of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee or Parsonage Committee, the chairperson of Trustees, and the pastor shall make an annual review of the church owned parsonage to assure proper maintenance and condition. (¶2532.4, The Discipline).
2. The Parsonage Committee should initiate the replacement of church-owned furniture, appliances, curtains, carpets, etc., when they observe that it is needed rather than waiting for the family to ask. However, the family should ask if this is not accomplished. When items are to be replaced the parsonage family should make selections in consultation with the Parsonage Committee. An inventory of the parsonage and furnishings, with note taken of the condition of each item, should be accomplished yearly. Ref.II.A.1.
3. An inventory of church-owned furniture, furnishings and appliances, with original cost and expected life-span, should be maintained. An item in the church budget should provide funds each year, on an accumulating basis, to replace items as they are worn out.
4. Emergency maintenance and repairs: the pastoral family should be authorized to incur an obligation up to $250 without consultation with the Committee or Chairperson when required to resolve an emergency situation.
5. The exterior of the house should be inspected to see that it is properly maintained (paint, roof, etc.) in order to avoid costly repairs. Exterior painting, repairs, and roof maintenance should be the responsibility of the church.
6. The parsonage should have a termite and pest control inspection at two year intervals. Corrective measures, as determined by the inspection, should be taken without delay.
7. The church should have the heating and cooling systems checked seasonally.
8. Major renovation, repair, and replacements should be done by the church as they are needed, taking into consideration the church’s financial ability to do these things. The pastor, not the church, should be responsible for correcting extreme or unusual damage, beyond normal wear and tear, to the parsonage and furnishings. Changes of interior decoration should be done with the mutual consent of the church and the family.
9. It is recommended that basic lawn maintenance (including mowing, edging, fertilizing, and sprinkler system) be taken care of by the church. If this is not possible, the church should provide, maintain, and repair a power lawn-mower and other tools required to maintain the grounds with ease.

10. When a church-owned parsonage is equipped with unusual appurtenances, such as a swimming pool, the church should be responsible for its maintenance.
11. The church should carefully evaluate the overall security of the building and grounds. Attention should be paid to screens, secure windows, window and door locks, gates, and alarm systems. This should also include fire prevention measures, such as smoke alarms, fire extinguishers, escape ladders, and a fire escape plan. When possible, an annual inspection should be made by the fire department and utility companies.

B. When There Is A Change In Clergy

1. The parsonage should be thoroughly cleaned on the occasion of a change in clergy for the church. The exterior of the parsonage and the grounds should be clean and present a good appearance. Walls, carpets, draperies, and floors should be clean and in good repair. Refrigerator, cook-top, oven, disposal, dishwasher, washer, dryer, air conditioner, heater, water-heater (50 gallon minimum), smoke-alarms, fire-extinguishers, TV antenna or cable, garden hoses, ladder, and waste disposal/recycling provisions should all be in proper order.

   It is also recommended that a thorough inspection of plumbing and electrical wiring (including light bulbs) be made, and appropriate repairs and replacements be taken care of. If requested by the new pastor, locks should be changed, and new keys issued.

   The local church(es) shall plan and coordinate the implementation of cleaning, refurbishing and modifications in conjunction with the moving schedule(s) in order to minimize disruption to both incoming and outgoing pastoral families.

   Cleaning activities need to be accomplished prior to the move-in. Experience has shown that refurbishing, painting, carpet replacement and other major work is best accomplished after the move-in but before unpacking and settling-in.

   The church has final responsibility to see that these things are adequately accomplished in consultation with both pastoral families.
2. The following suggestions are for creating a "Guide" to be completed by the Parsonage Committee and given to the parsonage family when it moves into its new home. (Church owned parsonage)
   a. An up-to-date inventory of all church-owned parsonage furnishings including, if possible, the date purchased, cost, and present condition of each item, and a projected replacement time. Reference II.A.3.
   b. For each appliance:
      (1) Operating instructions or manuals, etc.
      (2) Repair instructions — service personnel to call
         — which, if any, parsonage committee member to call — it is understood that service calls and repairs of major appliances owned by the church should be paid for by the church
   c. Where to find:
      (1) Sprinkler systems
      (2) Turn-off valve for gas
      (3) Turn-off valves for outside and inside water
      (4) Meters
      (5) Fuse or switch boxes, circuit-breakers, and main-switch - all properly labeled
      (6) Size and change intervals for heating and cooling filters
      (7) Various permanent plants which are seasonal
      (8) Any unusual appliances, equipment, or household peculiarities (such as hidden attic door)
      (9) Sewer clean outs
   d. Phone numbers to call in case of emergencies: police, fire, ambulance, insurance company, utilities, other services, etc.
   e. The church is to establish the desired policy for periodic cleaning of carpets and draperies.
3. It may be helpful, upon arrival of a new parsonage family, for a member of the committee to conduct a tour of the parsonage and to point out that the Committee is aware of certain needs (e.g., furnishings that are wearing out, painting that is needed etc.) and also to point out the good maintenance that has been done in the past..

4. When it is possible, the parsonage should be open for visitation by the newly appointed pastoral family prior to the effective date of appointment. If this is not possible, pictures of the parsonage (outside and inside) and scale drawings or sketches with dimensions should be provided to the new family ahead of moving time, - thus providing added rapport between the church and the new parsonage family.

C. Energy Conservation

1. The church and parsonage family should cooperate in making every effort possible to conserve energy. This should include:
   a. Inviting utility companies (gas, electric, and water) to inspect, provide an energy audit, and make recommendations
   b. More efficient, lower wattage lighting
   c. Insulation in attic and walls
   d. Weather-stripping
   e. Investigating possible uses of solar energy or other energy saving devices
   f. Water-saving devices

III. PARSONAGE UTILITIES

A. The local church shall provide all utilities: water, electricity, gas, basic telephone (not including personal toll calls), TV antenna or basic cable service, sewage fee, and trash and garbage collection.

B. This policy should be the same for both church-owned and clergy- owned or rented parsonages.

C. Parsonage families should be conscious of the high cost of utilities, and should practice cost and energy-saving measures at all times. This should include regular self-monitoring, analysis, and comparing against previous usage.

IV. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR PARSONAGE INSURANCE

A. Insurance on real and personal property is the responsibility of the owner of that property.

B. Insurance should be reviewed annually and when there is a change of clergy.

V. DISTRICT COMMITTEE ON CLERGY HOUSING

A. A District Committee on Clergy Housing shall be established and maintained by each District to be nominated by the District Nominating Committee and elected by the District Conference or the District Union/Society. Its minimum membership should be a pastor, a pastor's spouse, a layman, a laywoman, a member of the District Union/Society, and the District Superintendent and his/her spouse.

B. The purpose of the Committee is to assist the District Superintendent and the local church Parsonage and/or Pastor-Parish Relations committees in providing adequate clergy housing, in which function its role is consultative. It shall have a special responsibility to assist those churches whose parsonages are sub-standard in providing housing that is in accordance with Conference standards (Ref. I.C. Minimum Parsonage Standards). It may also have responsibility, within the District structure, for the District owned parsonage.

C. At least once a quadrennium a district wide “How-To Workshop” shall be held that includes a session on ‘Clergy Housing Policies and Standards' in order to help local churches become familiar with the requirements of, and their responsibilities for, providing adequate housing.

VI. REVIEW OF CLERGY HOUSING POLICIES AND STANDARDS

In the last year of each Quadrennium the Conference CFA and the Conference Rules Committee shall jointly convene a study group to review these Policies and Standards and shall recommend appropriate additions, changes and deletions for Annual Conference action. The study group shall include representation from the Cabinet, Commission on Equitable Compensation, clergy, clergy spouses, laity, CFA, Rules, and Executive Director for Finance and Administration.

PERSONNEL POLICIES

I. INTRODUCTION -- FUNCTIONS OF THESE PERSONNEL POLICIES

These Personnel Policies are an outline of the basic personnel policies, practices and procedures of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. They contain general statements of Conference policy, which should not be read as including the fine details of each policy and do not constitute an expressed or implied contract or promise that the policies discussed will be applied in all cases. The Personnel Policies are not intended to alter the employment-at-will relationship in any way. The Conference may add to the Personnel Policies, revoke or modify them from time to time.

A. The Personnel Policies will be printed in the Conference Journal at least once during each quadrennium. They are designed to inform all Conference staff members of approved Personnel Policies. Additional printed copies may be distributed from time to time as necessary or desirable.

Each employee will be provided a copy of the Personnel Policies, requested to read and become familiar with them, and to acknowledge receiving them.

B. Because of the importance of the Personnel Policies the Conference Personnel Policy Committee will review and recommend policy changes to the Annual Conference as may be required from time to time. Between sessions of the Annual Conference the Conference Personnel Policy Committee is charged with general oversight of the personnel practices of the Annual Conference. The Conference Personnel Policy Committee may apply or revise policy as necessary to comply with the intention of the Annual Conference or with such state and/or federal laws as may be, or become, applicable. Any such application or revision of the Personnel Policies will be reported to the next session of the Annual Conference with the appropriate recommendation(s).

C. The Annual Conference reserves the right to modify, rescind, delete or add to the provisions of these policies from time to time in its sole and absolute discretion. The Conference or its representative will provide notification of such changes, when they occur, within a reasonable period of time.

D. These Personnel Policies shall apply to all staff members of boards and agencies of the California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

II. EMPLOYMENT REGULATIONS

A. Code of Employer-Staff Member Relations

The Annual Conference shall adopt and implement fair and effective personnel policies, practices and procedures, and is an Equal Opportunity Employer adhering to all applicable equal opportunity laws. However, nothing in these policies should be construed as altering the employment-at-will relationship or as creating an express or implied contract or promise concerning the policies or practices that the Conference has implemented or will implement in the future.

1. The Conference employment goals include:
   a. provision of equal employment opportunity and treatment regardless of race, color, sex, age, marital status, national origin, disability or medical condition;
   b. provision of competitive salaries and staff member benefits;
   c. establishment of reasonable hours of work based on the Conference's service needs;
   d. monitoring of, and compliance with, applicable federal and state laws and regulations concerning staff member safety;
   e. provision of training consistent with the Conference's requirements for those whose needs, capabilities, and desires warrant such training;
   f. acceptance of constructive suggestions which relate methods, procedures, working conditions, and nature of work performed; and
   g. establishment of appropriate procedures for staff members to discuss matters of interest or concern with immediate supervisors or department heads.
2. The conference expects all staff members to:
   a. give a productive day's work;
   b. arrive and begin work on time;
   c. demonstrate a considerate, friendly, and constructive attitude toward fellow staff members; and to
   d. adhere to policies adopted by the Conference.
3. The Conference, along with Boards and Agencies and certain Exempt staff, retain the sole right to exercise all managerial functions including, but not limited to, the rights to:
   a. dismiss, assign, supervise, and discipline staff members;
   b. determine and change starting and/or quitting times and to assign overtime as necessary;
   c. transfer staff members to other locations on a temporary or regular basis at will and as it seems fit;
   d. determine the number of staff and the qualifications for each staff position;
   e. establish, change, and abolish policies, practices, rules and regulations at will and as it sees fit;
   f. determine and change methods by which its operations are to be carried out;
   g. determine and change the location and services rendered; and to
   h. assign duties to staff members in accordance with the Conference's needs and requirements, and to carry out all ordinary administrative and management functions.

B. Staff Members' Qualifications:

1. They shall be persons who are sympathetic with the Christian faith and purposes of The United Methodist Church.
2. They shall possess the special aptitudes, skills and capacities which are required in their respective fields of work.
3. They shall be persons who can win and hold the cooperation and goodwill of the people they serve as well as their associates.

4. They shall be persons who can demonstrate the capacity to learn and to improve their abilities.

C. Equal Employment Opportunity:

The Conference shall provide equal employment opportunity to all staff members and applicants for employment. No person shall be discriminated against in employment because of race, color, sex, age, marital status, national origin, disability or medical condition..

1. This policy applies to all terms, conditions, and privileges of employment including hiring, training, placement and staff member development, promotion, transfer, compensation, benefits, educational assistance, layoff and recall, social and recreational programs, employee facilities, termination and retirement.
2. Any communication from any applicant for employment to a staff member, a government agency, or an attorney concerning any equal employment opportunity matter shall be referred to the Personnel Coordinator.

D. Employment-at-Will

Staff members are not employed for a specific period of time. Staff members may resign from Conference employment at any time and for any reason and may be terminated, with or without notice, at any time and for any reason.

1. No Conference representative is authorized to modify this policy for any staff member or to enter into any agreement, oral or written, contrary to this policy. Supervisory and management personnel shall not make any representation to staff members or applicants concerning the terms or conditions of employment which are not consistent with Conference policies.
2. This policy shall not be modified by any statement contained in this or any other employee handbooks, employment applications, Conference recruiting materials, Conference memoranda, or other materials provided to staff members in connection with their employment. None of those documents, either singly or combined, shall create an express or implied contract of employment for a definite period, nor an express or implied contract concerning any terms or conditions of employment.
3. Completion of a introductory period or conferral of regular status shall not change a staff member's status as an employee-at-will, restrict in any way the Conference's right to terminate such a staff member nor change his/her terms or conditions of employment.
4. Nothing contained in these policies, staff member handbooks, employment applications, Conference memoranda, or other materials provided to staff members in connection with their employment shall require the Conference to have “just cause” to terminate that staff member or shall otherwise restrict the Conference's right to terminate a staff member at any time and for any reason. Statements of specific grounds for termination set forth in these policies or elsewhere are not inclusive and are not intended to restrict the Conference's right to terminate at-will.
5. Exempt staff who are clergy or Diaconal Ministers have certain Disciplinary rights; therefore, their termination must be in accordance with the current Discipline.

E. Hiring

1. A job description shall be provided by the supervisor (or the employing Board or Agency) to each staff members so that the duties and reporting assignments may be fully understood, a proper basis is established for setting wage/salary scales and provision is made for performance reviews.
2. All position openings, with the qualifications required, shall, when appropriate, be advertised as widely as possible to provide the maximum exposure to all possible applicants. The following steps are suggested:
    a. Advise the Bishop's Cabinet of the opening and request suggestions of both laity and clergy.
    b. Publicize in such a way that the entire Conference will have the opportunity to suggest candidates.
    c. Advertise through national church publications, local press, etc.
    d. Request desired applicants to apply. In the case of clergy and Diaconal Ministers the agency must submit the proposed name to the Bishop and the Cabinet for approval.
3. Background checks including but not limited to fingerprinting, police, credit and/or criminal record may be required as a condition of employment.

F. Introductory Period

New staff members shall be subject to an initial introductory period of 90 calendar days. During this time the staff member's supervisor will periodically evaluate his/her compatibility, ability, and interest in the job. The introductory period may be extended to a maximum of 180 calendar days if the supervisor determines that additional time is necessary to evaluate the staff member's job performance. Following the successful completion of the introductory period a staff member will be notified, in writing, that he/she is being placed on "regular" status; the staff member will then become eligible for employee benefits once he/she satisfies the terms and conditions of the various benefit programs. Staff members will earn and accrue benefits during their introductory period as indicated in these policies.

G. Job Reclassification

When a change in job description necessitates raising the job level of a position, the staff member filling said position will be given the opportunity for reclassification. Reclassification means that, after a careful interview process, the person filling the position is deemed qualified to fill the requirements of the expanded job description. If, after the interview process, it is determined this person is not qualified for reclassification then the process for the filling of a vacant position will be followed.

H. Employment Categories

1. Introductory Staff Members

Staff members are hired by the Conference on a trial basis for a period of 90 calendar days for the purpose of assessing their ability to perform assigned tasks. Such employment may be terminated at any time, with or without cause, during the 90 day period if such action is deemed appropriate by the Conference. The 90 day period may be extended by the staff member's supervisor if it is determined that such an extension is desirable or appropriate for any reason.

2. Regular Full Time Staff Members

A staff member who works a minimum of 35 hours a week on a continuing basis, and who is retained after completing the introductory period, is considered a regular full time staff member.

3. Regular Part Time Staff Members

A staff member who regularly works less than 35, but more than 20, hours per week, and who is retained after completing the introductory period is considered a regular part-time staff member.

4. Temporary Staff Members

Temporary staff members are those whose jobs exist for a limited duration because of the requirements of special projects, abnormal work loads or emergencies, and/or who work less than 20 hours per week. A staff member's temporary status will not be changed to some other status without the staff member having been specifically informed of such a change, in writing, by an appropriate supervisor. Temporary staff members are ineligible for Conference sponsored benefits.

5. Seasonal Staff Members

Seasonal staff members are those whose jobs exist for the summer camping period only. Seasonal staff members are not eligible for conference sponsored benefits (vacation, holiday, sick leave, health insurance and pension).

I. Termination And Resignation

1. The non-exempt staff member's supervisor, as a general practice, shall give advance notice of termination of no less than two weeks (or its equivalent in compensation in lieu thereof) plus accrued vacation. Termination involving misconduct can be implemented immediately and two weeks pay may be granted in lieu of the two weeks notice.
2. Exempt staff members can be terminated at any time by the employing body and, in the case of clergy, with the concurrence of the Bishop and the Cabinet. Advance notice of at least one month plus accrued vacation shall be given (or its equivalent in compensation in lieu thereof). Termination involving misconduct can be implemented immediately and one month's pay in lieu of one month's notice may be granted.
3. Non-exempt staff members are requested to give at least two weeks notice in advance of termination of employment and exempt staff members are requested to give at least one months notice.
4. Earned vacation shall continue to accrue through the date of termination.
5. Accumulated sick leave shall not be compensated at the time of termination and/or resignation.

J. Severance Pay

Severance pay may be granted to terminated lay employees under certain circumstances.

1. Lay staff members are eligible for severance pay if they are terminated after one year of regular full-time continuous service because of:
   a. a reduction in the Conference's work force;

b. elimination of the job or position; or
c. an insufficient aptitude for continued employment with the Conference not attributable to any willful misconduct.

2. Lay staff members are not eligible for severance pay if they:
   a. leave Conference employment voluntarily;
   b. are terminated for misconduct;
   c. are laid off for a period of short duration; or
   d. retire from Conference employment under conditions not involving elimination or termination of the job.
3. The amount of severance pay will be one week's regular straight time pay for each full year of continuous service not to exceed ten weeks pay. Severance allowances will, unless paid in a lump sum, be paid on regular paydays during the period the terminated staff member is eligible to receive severance pay. Severance pay is subject to federal and state deductions and withholding.
4. Severance pay will be granted to eligible staff members in addition to pay for any unused accrued vacation for which the staff member may be eligible.

III. OPERATIONAL PROCEDURES

A. United Methodist Center Hours

The Director of Professional and Administrative Support Services, in consultation with the Joint Council for Coordination, shall determine the hours the United Methodist Center shall be open.

B. Work Schedule

The regular work schedule for all full time non-exempt staff members shall consist of 35 hours, Monday through Friday. The work week for the Conference begins on Monday and ends on Sunday. Each work day begins and ends at 12 midnight. The staff members supervisor shall establish the work schedule for part-time staff members.

C. Holidays

1. The United Methodist Center and all eligible full-time and part-time Conference staff members will observe eleven paid holidays each year. These holidays are: 1) New Years Day, 2) Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, 3) Presidents Day, 4) Good Friday, 5) Memorial Day, 6) Independence Day (July 4), 7) Labor Day, 8) Thanksgiving Day, 9) day following Thanksgiving, 10) Christmas Eve Day and 11) Christmas.
2. In the event a holiday falls on a Saturday, the preceding Friday shall be taken instead; in the event a holiday falls on a Sunday, the following Monday shall be taken instead.
3. If work is required on a holiday, and approval has been given by the supervisor in advance, in lieu of a holiday off, the rate of pay for working the holiday shall be double the hourly rate of pay for the staff member. (Except for camp staff covered by III.C.2.)
4. If a holiday falls during a period of sick leave or approved vacation, the holiday shall not be charged against the sick leave or accrued vacation.
5. Part-time staff members shall receive holiday pay only for holidays on which they would normally be scheduled to work and only for their regular scheduled number of hours. (Except for camp staff covered by III.C.2.)
6. In order to be eligible for holiday payment a staff member must work a full day the working day before and the working day after the holiday. If the absence is due to illness, or with prior approval of the supervisor, eligibility for holiday payment will be maintained.
7. Temporary staff members are ineligible for holiday benefits.

D. Payroll Advances

The employer will not provide payroll advances or extend credit to staff members.

E. Nepotism

A person shall not become a regular full-time or regular part-time staff member of agencies of the Conference for any position that would require that person to directly supervise, or be directly supervised by, a member of that person's family (spouse, parent, children, in-laws, etc.) who is already employed by a Conference agency. Any exceptions to this policy must be authorized by the Conference Personnel Policy Committee prior to employment. Spouses and children of camp managers who are employed on the site shall be under the evaluation supervision of the Director of Operations.

IV. PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A. Personnel Coordinator

There shall be a Personnel Coordinator who shall be selected by the Director of Professional and Administrative Support Services, the Executive Director for Finance and Administration and the Director of the Conference Council on Ministries, with the concurrence of the Personnel Policy Committee; he/she shall be responsible to the Personnel Policy Committee and the Annual Conference. The Personnel Coordinator shall act as a consultant to Chairpersons and Exempt staff of the Commissions, Boards, and Agencies of the Conference by providing professional expertise in the planning and application of the Conference's Personnel Policies and by providing any necessary assistance in carrying out those policies. The Personnel Coordinator is not a staff supervisor except for staff assigned to the Personnel Coordinator.

1. The Personnel Coordinator shall interpret and provide general oversight of the Conference Personnel Policies, assure consistent application of the policies and be responsible for their overall coordination.
2. The responsibilities of the Personnel Coordinator shall include, but not be limited to, the following:
   a. recommending and interpreting general personnel policies;
   b. implementing, coordinating, and monitoring all efforts in the area of equal employment opportunity including, but not limited to, the following:
      (1) assisting Exempt staff and/or Boards and Agencies in collecting and analyzing employment data;
      (2) developing policy statements, affirmative action programs, if required, and recruitment techniques designed to comply with equal employment policies of the Conference;
      (3) complying with various statutory record keeping and notice requirements in order to ensure full compliance with all employment-related statutes and regulations; and
      (4) assisting supervisory personnel in arriving at solutions to specific personnel problems;
   c. providing staff support and assistance, when requested by the Senior Administrator involved, in the recruitment, testing, selection, placement, and orientation of new staff members;
   d. advising in the transfer, promotion, layoff, recall, demotion, and termination of staff members;
   e. administration of wage and salary programs for staff members;
   f. implementing appropriate disciplinary and grievance procedures, taking care that such policies and procedures do not alter the employment-at-will relationship or form a contract or promise, expressed or implied;
   g. monitoring and administering compliance with applicable federal and state laws and regulations regarding staff member safety;
   h. coordinating the maintenance of personnel records; and
   i. reviewing and making recommendations to the Personnel Committee concerning Conference Personnel Policies.

B. Supervision and Evaluation

1. Supervision
   a. Exempt staff
      (1) Supervision of Level I Exempt staff members shall be the responsibility of the employing agency and/or the Bishop. Together, the employing agency and the Bishop shall establish a procedure by which supervision and evaluation of Level I staff members will be provided The employing agency shall submit the stated procedure to the Conference Personnel Policy Committee which shall ensure that the procedure is consistent with Conference Personnel Policies.
      (2) The supervision of a Level II, III, and V staff member shall be the responsibility of the Level I Exempt staff member employed by the respective Council/Board in accordance with the Conference Personnel Policies.
      (3) The supervision of Level III and IV camp staff members shall be the responsibility of the Director of Operations, Board of Camping, Outdoor and Retreat Ministries.
   b. Non-exempt staff
      The designation of supervisors for Non-exempt staff members shall be the responsibility of the Level I Exempt staff member, or the BCORM Operations Director employed by the respective Council/Board, in accordance with the Conference Personnel Policies. Such designation shall be conveyed in writing.
2. Evaluations
   a. Performance review: a written evaluation for each staff member (Exempt staff Levels II, III, IV, and V and Non-exempt staff) shall be prepared annually by the immediate supervisor or, in certain cases, by the employing agency. The purpose of the review is to measure the staff member's performance to provide guidance for possible reclassification or salary adjustment. Prior to submitting the report the supervisor (or the person or persons making the evaluation) shall review its contents with the staff member and shall include, as part of the report, any comments on its contents the staff member may request to be included. Where appropriate the next higher level of supervision should review the completed evaluation and sign it as evidence of the review.

b. Level I staff members shall be evaluated yearly by the employing agency and/or by the Bishop according to specific objectives agreed upon at the beginning of each year. The objectives shall be put into writing by the staff member and become the basis for a year-end evaluation made jointly by the staff member and the employing agency as provided in the approved procedure. In addition an informal six month evaluation is recommended.

C. Personnel Records

1. All personnel records shall be kept in a centralized place under the authority of the Personnel Coordinator. There is no authority for subsidiary files other than information kept in the Accounting Department for payroll purposes.
2. Personnel files shall include job application, resume, and/or such other material as is pertinent to employment; confirmation of employment; performance evaluation records and reviews; payroll information; and such records as may be required to comply with federal law, state law and/or Conference Personnel Policies.
3. Personnel files are confidential. Staff members shall have supervised access to their own personnel files when requested through their supervisor. Supervisors shall have access to their subordinates' personnel files. The Director of the Conference Council on Ministries, the Executive Director for Finance and Administration and the Director of Professional and Administrative Support Services, as chief administrators of their respective agencies, shall have access at any time to personnel files of all persons within their agencies.

V. SALARY ADMINISTRATION

A. Job Classification and Salary Ranges

The Conference Personnel Policy Committee shall establish staff position levels and salary ranges, which shall be approved by the Annual Conference.

1. Salary Schedule

a. The salary schedule shall be comprised of both exempt and non-exempt positions, and shall apply to staff working in the United Methodist Center, in district offices, and exempt staff working in camps.

b. A separate salary schedule for non-exempt staff working in camps shall be established by the Board of Camping, Outdoor, and Retreat Ministries, in accordance with applicable state and/or federal laws, and with the concurrence of the Conference Personnel Policy Committee. The Director of Operations shall manage the camping salary schedule including beginning salary and merit increases.

2. Level I Salary Schedule

The total compensation of Level I staff members shall be equivalent to that of District Superintendents.

3. Classification

The Conference Personnel Policy Committee shall approve the classification of each position in consultation with the appropriate board, agency, or supervisor.

4. Eligibility

All positions, except that of District Superintendent, are open to both laity and clergy. In the rare exception to this policy, the requirement shall be clearly stated in the position description. The Conference Personnel Policy Committee shall agree to this requirement, which shall be reported to the next session of the Conference.

5. Beginning Salary

Newly hired personnel may have a beginning salary anywhere within the appropriate range, subject to confirmation by a majority of the Level I staff meeting together.

6. Housing Declaration

Clergy staff members shall annually file with the Executive Director for Finance and Administration a request for designation of housing allowance (for Internal Revenue tax purposes). The Executive Director for Finance and Administration will make the necessary notations.

7. Increases In Salary

Increases in salary, for all staff members below Level 1 – both cost of living and merit – may be granted up to the percentage set by the Annual Conference upon recommendation of the Personnel Policy Committee. Merit increases are granted only after a performance evaluation, and are subject to confirmation by a majority of the Level I staff meeting together.

8. Disclosure of Salaries

The salaries of all clergy staff members, and the salaries of lay staff members in exempt positions, shall be printed annually in the Conference Journal. The salaries of non-exempt staff members are both private and confidential information, and are available only to the respective employee, their supervisors, and those who need to know for administrative purposes.

B. Honoraria for Outside Service

Services to a local church or agency of the Annual Conference which are within the responsibilities of a Exempt staff member shall not be compensated by the local church or agency.

C. Pay Day

Payment shall be made twice a month, once on the last business day on or prior to the 15th and the other on the last business day of the month. Checks will be hand-delivered to Conference Center's personnel prior to noon on payday. If checks cannot be delivered on time, they can be obtained in the Controller's office. All other paychecks will be mailed in time for arrival on the 15th or last business day of the month.

D. Overtime Pay

1. Overtime Approval: advance approval by the staff member's immediate supervisor is required for overtime work and shall be granted only when necessary to accomplish the work.
2. Overtime Compensation: payment for overtime shall be at one and one half (1.5) times the regular rate of pay for work performed in excess of :
   - Eight (8) hours in one work day.
   - Forty (40) hours in one work week.

   Double time will be paid for hours worked in excess of:
   - Twelve (12) hours in any one work day.
   - Eight (8) hours on the seventh consecutive day worked in the work week.
3. Exempt staff members are exempt from payment for overtime.

E. Travel

The Conference shall reimburse staff members for the expenses of travel, including the cost of transportation, meals, and lodging, when such travel is approved and performed in the course of conducting Conference business.

1. Staff members (when traveling on Conference business) are expected to travel in coach or economy class when traveling by air and to stay and eat in moderately priced establishments.
2. A cash advance for expenses of approved travel may be obtained by submitting a written request to the Controller. Upon completion of travel the staff member must submit an expense claim, with supporting receipts, and either return any unused cash advance or request payment for additional expenses as appropriate.
3. All expense reimbursement must be approved by a supervisor before submission to the Controller's Office for payment.
4. The Conference may provide credit cards to those staff members who are required to travel extensively on Conference business. These credit cards are to be used only for payment of transportation, meals, lodging, gasoline, and other legitimate business travel expenses. All charges must be accounted for, and approved by, the staff member's supervisor. The credit cards are the property of the Annual Conference and may not be used for personal charges. Any improper personal charges are the staff member's personal financial obligation and may subject the staff member to discipline up to, and including, termination. All cards must be returned upon the staff member's termination of employment, appointment to a non-Conference staff position or upon request of the Controller's Office.

F. Automobile Usage

The Annual Conference may maintain vehicles for the use by specific staff members while they are engaged in Conference business. Staff members are generally expected to use their own cars for Conference business in accordance with guidelines below. When appropriate, rental cars may be used in accordance with the guidelines below.

1. Vehicles may be assigned to those who drive in excess of 15,000 reimbursable miles per year.
2. Each staff member who drives a vehicle on Conference business must possess a valid driver's license and maintain at least the minimum amount of insurance required by law. Each staff member is personally responsible for any fines incurred as a result of driving or parking violations. In addition, no staff member is permitted under any circumstances, to operate a Conference vehicle, or a personal vehicle on Conference business, when that staff member has any physical or mental impairment that might endanger the public safety in any way.

3. Staff members are not permitted to use Conference vehicles for non-business purposes under normal circumstances. Exceptions to this rule must be approved in advance by the staff member's supervisor and violations will subject the staff member to discipline. Personal use will be reported monthly to the Controller; the Conference will be reimbursed for such personal use according to a plan acceptable to the IRS.
4. Staff members who use their personal cars for business purposes will receive a mileage allowance as established from time to time by the Conference CFA. This allowance is to cover the cost of gasoline, oil, depreciation, maintenance, and insurance. Staff members driving on Conference business may claim reimbursement for parking fees and tolls actually incurred. Staff members driving Conference vehicles may claim reimbursement for gasoline and other expenses directly incurred. Claims for mileage allowance and reimbursement must be approved by the staff member's supervisor and submitted to the Controller's Office for payment.
5. Staff members must report, to their supervisor and to the staff member assigned to the Conference Board of Trustees, any accident while on Conference business in a Conference owned vehicle. Such reports must be made as soon as possible but no later than forty-eight hours after the accident. Staff members are expected to cooperate fully with the authorities in the event of an accident. However, staff members should make no voluntary statements other than to reply to the questions of investigating officers. Oral reports of accidents should be supplemented by written reports as soon as possible.

G. Meal Reimbursement

The Conference shall reimburse staff members for the cost of meals under certain circumstances.

1. Staff members required to travel away from home overnight on Conference business are eligible to be reimbursed for the cost of all meals during their travel.
2. Staff members are eligible to be reimbursed for meals paid in connection with professional responsibilities or meetings of a professional nature. Where possible these expenses shall be approved in advance by supervisors. When advance approval cannot be secured, staff members are cautioned to avoid any appearance of impropriety. All such expenses shall be carefully reviewed by the Controller's office and any apparent misuse shall be reported to the appropriate supervisor and/or the Conference CFA for action.

VI. EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

A. Continuing Formation and Spiritual Growth and Sabbatical Leave

1. All Exempt staff will continue their formation and spiritual ministry and servant leadership on the staff of the Annual Conference.
2. Agencies of the Annual Conference may review annually a plan for continuing formation and spiritual growth, and study on the part of all Exempt staff.
3. As a general rule leave for Exempt staff should follow the provisions in the current The Discipline for clergy. Eligibility, compensation, and reporting for persons not covered under The Discipline shall be consistent with those provisions.
4. Exempt staff not under appointment who are granted leave with pay shall continue their employment with this Annual Conference for a period of at least one year following the end of such leave or reimburse the Annual Conference for the compensation received during such leave.

B. Membership In Professional Groups and Associations

Staff members are encouraged to participate in professional groups and associations that promote professional development and enhancement and which also promote the goals of the Annual Conference.

Reimbursement of expenses for participation in such professional groups and associations shall be approved in advance by the staff member's supervisor or employing board or agency.

Agency budgets shall contain appropriate amounts for participation in professional groups and associations.

C. Vacation

The Annual Conference shall grant annual vacations with pay to full-time and part-time employees in accordance with the guidelines established below.

1. Accrual Rates for Non-exempt staff:

Years of Service	Rate of Accrual (days per month of service)
zero through third year	.833
fourth through eighth year	1.25
nine or more years	1.67

Non-exempt staff members shall be eligible to take vacation days which have been accrued after 90 days of employment or as of July 1st of each calendar year, whichever occurs last.

a. Full time staff members shall accrue paid vacation beginning on the date of employment.
b. Part-time employees who work 20 or more hours per week are entitled to paid vacation beginning on the date of employment on a pro-rata basis.
c. Part-time employees who work less than 20 hours per week, seasonal employees and all temporary employees shall not earn paid vacation time.

2. Accrual Rates for Exempt Staff
Exempt Staff shall receive 4 weeks vacation per year beginning at the date of employment pro-rated to July 1, and on July 1 each year following.
3. Employees are eligible to take accrued vacation after 90 days from hire date and as it is accrued thereafter.
4. Vacation requests shall be submitted to the immediate supervisor for approval. Vacation leave shall be determined with due regard for the needs of the employing agency.
5. Vacation hours may not be accrued in excess of 280 hours. (8 weeks @ 35 hours per week.) When any employee reaches the vacation cap of 280 hours, the employee's supervisor may not cancel any vacation once approved.
6. A staff member may not receive vacation pay in lieu of time off. Therefore, it is necessary for the employee, and his/her supervisor, to plan vacation time in order to continue accruing benefits.
7. On separation from employment with the Conference, a staff member shall receive vacation pay for any accrued and unused vacation. If death occurs during a staff member's employment, the accrued and unused vacation will be paid in a lump sum to the staff member's next of kin, or estate, according to applicable law.
8. If a holiday falls within a staff members vacation period, the holiday will be paid on that day and accrued vacation time will not be used for that day.
9. A staff member who retires shall be entitled to accrued vacation benefits up to the effective date of retirement.

D. Health Insurance

1. A staff member, if regularly employed for 30 hours or more per week, is eligible to be enrolled, at the employing agency's expense, in one of the medical insurance plans offered through the Conference Board of Pensions. The staff member may also enroll eligible dependent(s) in the same medical plan at the employing agency's expense. The staff member has the right to choose which plan best suits his or her needs. Eligible staff members will be enrolled in accordance with the provisions of the plan chosen. In the event a staff member chooses to be included in his or her spouse's health plan the Conference shall reimburse, upon documentation of the expense, the staff member's out-of-pocket premium cost, excluding deductibles, up to, but not exceeding, the individual rate for a comparable Conference insurance plan. Coverage under the applicable health plan shall begin on a date prescribed by the plan.
2. Retired lay staff members who are receiving a pension under plans provided by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits shall be eligible to receive health insurance coverage during their retirement. If the retired lay staff member is less than 65 and receiving a pension, the subsidy for the premium of the retired lay staff member, plus the dependent's premium, shall be equivalent to the amount paid a clergy retiree who retires prior to age 65 and is receiving a pension, as provided by the Conference Board of Pensions. When the lay staff member reaches age 65 and is under Medicare, the lay staff member's premium, plus the dependent's premium, shall be fully subsidized.

E. Pension

All pensions shall be provided under plans administered by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits of The United Methodist Church. Staff members should contact the Conference Board of Pensions office concerning enrollment procedures.

1. Eligible lay staff members employed by Conference boards and agencies are urged to participate in the Cumulative Pension and Benefit Fund (CPBF). CPBF provides that:
a. Participation is available to any lay staff member upon completion and return of the enrollment forms following the employment introductory period if employed for at least 20 hours per week or 1,000 hours per year. The eligibility requirement related to completion of the employment introductory period shall be waived when a newly employed staff member has been a participant in the CPBF immediately preceding employment by the Annual Conference. The employing agency shall contribute the equivalent of 9% of the compensation base (salary). The staff member may elect to contribute to the Personal Investment Plan.

b. A lay staff member, who qualifies for the CPBF, is fully vested from time of enrollment for both personal and employer contributions and will be eligible for payments under the provisions of the Plan Document.

c. Persons enrolled in the CPBF are covered by death and disability insurance in accordance with the Plan Document.

d. Any staff member may participate in the Personal Investment Plan (PIP) in accordance with the Plan Document.

e. Participants in CPBF may retire at any time after the attainment of age 60 in accordance with the Plan Document.

2. Clergy members of the California-Pacific Annual Conference, who are appointed to the Conference staff, shall participate in the Ministerial Pension Plan.

F. Occupational Injury or Illness

Any injury during employment or occupational illness, no matter how trivial, must be reported at once by the staff member to his/her immediate supervisor. The supervisor should see that proper medical treatment is obtained. Forms on which to report accidents, injuries, or occupational illness can be obtained from the Personnel Coordinator's Office. They must be completed and returned within forty-eight hours after the accident or illness.

G. Sick Leave

1. Sick leave is not considered a matter of right but one of privilege. It is to be allowed on a paid basis only in a case of necessity because of sickness or injury of a regular full-time staff member or his/her immediate family member (which reasonably compels such staff member to be absent from work) and provided that the staff member notifies his/her supervisor by 9:30 a.m. of the first and subsequent days of such absence away from the job because of illness.
2. Medical appointments and visits to a doctor by a staff member or when a staff member accompanies an immediate family member shall be charged to sick leave for the number of hours away from the work place.
3. Sick leave with pay for regular full-time staff members shall be at the rate of one work day for each month of continuous service during a calendar year. Staff members shall be eligible for sick leave and pay after completion of the introductory period. Sick leave with pay shall be cumulative to a maximum total of sixty (60) working days. Because sick leave is designed only to assist an employee who misses work due to illness, injury, or doctor visits/medical appointments, no sick leave benefits are paid upon termination of employment or upon retirement nor can sick leave be applied as additional vacation.
4. Payment for sick leave may be contingent on a doctor's certification or other proof.
5. Any staff member whose job requires a temporary replacement during any period of sick leave shall provide satisfactory orientation to the replacement as the circumstances permit.
6. Regular part-time staff members are entitled to sick leave benefits in accordance with the above provision on a pro-rata basis.
7. Introductory staff members, temporary staff members and seasonal staff members are ineligible for sick leave benefits.

H. Maternity/Paternity Leave

This benefit shall be available to clergy and diaconal staff members according to provisions of The Discipline. This benefit shall be available to lay staff members as provided as a part of the Medical Leave policy (VI.I.2) following.

I. Leaves of Absence

1. Bereavement Leave.

In the case of a death in the immediate family of a staff member or their spouse (for purposes of this policy immediate family consists of mother, father, children, grandchildren, grandparents, brothers and sisters) no deduction of pay shall be made for absence from work for up to three days. Exceptions to the amount of paid absence must be approved by the supervisor.

2. Medical Leave

Any full-time or part-time staff member who is temporarily disabled and unable to work due to a medical condition will, upon request, or at the option of the Conference, be granted a medical leave of absence without pay for the period of his or her disability, provided such period shall not exceed four months. The term medical condition as used herein encompasses all temporary medical disabilities including, but not limited to, pregnancy, childbirth, and related medical conditions.

A staff member who is granted a medical leave of absence shall utilize any accrued sick leave benefits and thereafter vested vacation benefits during the period of his or her leave. Any portion of a medical leave that occurs after all sick and vacation benefits have been exhausted shall be without pay. The total period of all absences related to the same medical condition shall be considered part of the same leave and may not exceed four months. For purposes of this four month limitation, any paid and unpaid portions of the leave shall be added together. Staff members, who are otherwise eligible, shall continue to accrue vacation benefits while on medical leave. Staff members shall not accrue sick leave benefits, nor receive holiday benefits while on medical leave.

Health, pension and accrual of vacation benefits ordinarily provided by the Conference, for which the staff member is otherwise eligible, will be continued during the period of medical leave for up to 120 days.

A staff member who requires a leave of absence for medical reasons must notify in writing the Personnel Coordinator through the immediate supervisor and Level I Administrator of the employing agency. The written request for medical leave shall be submitted as soon as the employee learns that he or she is, or will become, temporarily disabled and unable to work due to a medical condition. Such written request must specify the reason for the leave, the date the leave will begin and the expected duration of the disability. Approval of the medical leave of absence will be made by the Personnel Coordinator and the Level I Administrator. The Conference may initiate a medical leave in conjunction with a leave granted under provisions of the Federal and state Medical Leave Acts. A staff member who requests such a leave, may be required to provide initially and from time to time proof of disability in the form of a physician's statement. A staff member who is on medical leave of absence in excess of two months must notify the Conference by the end of each month thereafter both of the status of the disability and of his or her continued intent to return to work with the employing agency once he or she recovers from the disability. A staff member returning from a medical leave of absence shall be required to provide a physician's statement that indicates he or she is medically fit to return to work.

Although the Conference is unable to guarantee reinstatement in all cases, a staff member who returns to work at the end of his or her medical leave of absence will be returned to his or her former position, if available, or will be offered the first available opening in a comparable position for which he or she is qualified. Such a staff member will be credited with all service prior to the commencement of his or her disability, as well as during the period of disability up to a period of 120 days.

A request for an extension of a medical leave of absence will be considered if a written request is received by the Personnel Coordinator before the expiration of the approved medical leave and it is supported by proof of continued disability in the form of a physician's statement. Approval of the extension will be made by the Personnel Coordinator and the Level I Administrator. A staff member who fails to report for work at the end of the approved medical leave or extensions thereof will be deemed to have voluntarily resigned.

3. Personal Leaves

Full-time or part-time staff members who have been continuously employed with the Conference for at least one year may request a personal leave of absence without pay for a reasonable period of time up to thirty days. The leave may be extended for a reasonable period of time up to thirty days due to special circumstances, as determined on an individual basis by the Personnel Coordinator and the Level I Administrator. Requests for personal leaves of absence will be considered on the basis of the staff member's length of service, performance, responsibility level, the reason for the request, whether other individuals are already out on leave, and the expected impact of the leave on the Conference.

Requests must be submitted in writing to the Personnel Coordinator through the immediate supervisor and the Level I Administrator of the employing agency. Approval of the personal leave of absence will be made in writing by the Personnel Coordinator and the Level I Administrator before the leave begins. A request for extension of personal leaves must be submitted in writing and be approved in writing by the Personnel Coordinator and the Level I Administrator before the extended period of leave begins. It is the staff member's responsibility to report to work at the end of the approved leave. A staff member who fails to report to work on the day after the leave expires will be considered to have voluntarily resigned.

Staff members shall not be eligible to accrue or receive vacation benefits, sick leave benefits or holiday benefits while on personal leave of absence.

The Conference does not pay for group health insurance premiums during any portion of a personal leave of absence. Accordingly, the premiums for such coverage are the complete responsibility of the staff member. In order to keep the insurance in force, premiums for the period of the leave must be paid in advance or by an authorized payroll deduction. Eligible staff members will continue participation in the pension plan; however, the employing agency will not make any contribution on the staff member's behalf during the period of the approved leave.

When a staff member is placed on a personal leave of absence, an effort will be made to hold the staff member's position open for the period of the approved leave. However, due to business needs, there will be times when positions cannot be held open. Accordingly, it is not possible to guarantee reinstatement.

If a staff member's former position is unavailable when the staff member is ready to return in a timely manner from an approved personal leave, every effort will be made to place the staff member in a comparable position for which the staff member is qualified. If such a position is not available, the staff member will be offered the next suitable position for which the staff member is qualified that becomes available. A staff member who does not accept a position offered by the Conference will be considered to have voluntarily terminated employment, effective on the day such refusal is made.

J. Jury Duty

If a staff member is called to jury duty the staff member is required to notify his/her supervisor immediately. All regular full-time staff members will be paid their regular wages while on jury duty up to a maximum of 10 working days each calendar year.

VII. OTHER POLICIES

A. Disciplinary Procedure

All staff members are expected to comply with the Conference's work-related standards of conduct and performance; any noncompliance with these standards shall be remedied and subjected to progressive discipline

1. If a staff member is not meeting Conference standards of conduct or performance, the staff member's supervisor shall take the following actions:
   a. meet with the staff member to discuss the matter;
   b. inform the staff member of the nature of the problem and the action necessary to correct it; and
   c. prepare a memorandum for the supervisor's own record indicating the meeting has taken place.
2. If there is a second occurrence, the supervisor should hold another meeting with the staff member and take the following actions:
   a. issue a written reprimand to the staff member;
   b. warn the staff member that a third incident may result in more severe disciplinary action; and
   c. prepare and forward to the next level of supervision, and the Personnel Coordinator, a written report describing the first and second incidents and summarizing the action taken during the meeting with the staff member.
3. If there are additional occurrences, the supervisor should take the following actions:
   a. issue a written reprimand or warning of possible termination; and
   b. prepare and forward to the next level of supervision, and the Personnel Coordinator, another written report describing the occurrences, indicating the timing between occurrences, summarizing the action taken or recommended and explaining the reasons for the action taken or recommended.
4. The progressive disciplinary procedure described in 1, 2, and 3, above may be applied to a staff member who is experiencing a series of unrelated problems involving job performance and/or behavior.
5. In cases involving misconduct including, but not limited to, gross misconduct the procedure contained in 1, 2, and 3, above may be discarded. The supervisor should suspend the staff member, with pay, immediately and, if appropriate, recommend termination. A final determination regarding possible termination of the staff member should be made within 30 days.
6. If the supervisor recommends that a staff member be terminated, an investigation of the situation should ordinarily be conducted by the next level of supervision and the Personnel Coordinator. The employee should ordinarily be allowed an opportunity to be heard before a decision is reached. Should termination be deemed necessary, two supervisors, or a supervisor and a member of the Conference Personnel Policy Committee, must be present at the time of termination.
7. Prior to any investigatory interview conducted for the purpose of determining the facts involved in any suspected violation of Conference rules, policies, and regulations, the staff member involved must be told in general terms what the interview is about.

8. A period of one year during which the staff member experiences no disciplinary problems will nullify any previous violations or incidents for purposes of implementing the disciplinary procedures contained in this policy.

B. Harassment

The Conference will not tolerate verbal or physical conduct by any staff members which harasses, disrupts, interferes with another's work performance or which creates an intimidating, offensive or hostile environment.

1. While all forms of harassment are prohibited, sexual harassment is specifically prohibited. Each supervisor has a responsibility to maintain the work place free of any form of sexual harassment. No supervisor is to threaten or insinuate, either explicitly or implicitly, that a staff member's refusal to submit to sexual advances will adversely affect the staff member's employment, evaluation, wages, advancement, assigned duties, or any other condition of employment or career development. In addition, no supervisor is to favor, in any way, any applicant or staff member because that person has performed, or has shown a willingness to perform, sexual favors for the supervisor.
2. Other sexually harassing conduct in the work place, whether committed by supervisors or non-supervisory personnel, is also prohibited. Such conduct includes:
   a. sexual flirtation, touching, advances, or proposition;
   b. verbal abuse of a sexual nature;
   c. graphic or suggestive comments about an individual's dress or body;
   d. sexually degrading words to describe an individual; and
   e. the display in the work place of sexually suggestive objects or pictures.
3. Any staff member, who believes that the actions or words of a supervisor or fellow staff member constitutes unwelcome harassment, has a responsibility to report or complain, as soon as possible, to the appropriate supervisor (or the Personnel Coordinator if the complaint involves the supervisor).
4. All complaints of harassment must be investigated promptly, in as impartial and confidential a manner as possible, by the supervisor or the Personnel Coordinator. If a staff member is not satisfied with the handling of the complaint, or the action(s) taken by the supervisor or the Personnel Coordinator, then the staff member should bring the complaint to the attention of the Personnel Policy Committee. In all cases the staff member is to be advised of the supervisor's or Personnel Coordinator's findings and conclusions.
5. Any staff member, supervisor, or manager who is found, after appropriate investigation, to have engaged in harassment of another staff member will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, depending upon the circumstances, up to, and including, termination.

C. Grievance Procedure

All staff members may bring questions and grievances to their immediate supervisor, either verbally or in writing. If the staff member is not satisfied with the response(s) of the immediate supervisor, the staff member may make progressive written appeals to the next level of supervision, up to the department head. If the staff member is still not satisfied with the outcome of this appeal process, a written appeal may be made to the Conference Personnel Policy Committee. Decisions by the Conference Personnel Policy Committee shall be final.

In order that a grievance may be resolved in a timely manner, a staff member must present his/her grievance verbally or in writing to his/her immediate supervisor within ten working days of the event giving rise to the grievance. The immediate supervisor must respond to a grievance in writing if it is presented in writing, but may respond verbally if the grievance is presented verbally. Further, any appeals must be made in writing within ten working days of an unsatisfactory response. Responses by a supervisor to a written grievance or appeal shall be made in writing and within ten working days of the presentation of the grievance or appeal.

CONFERENCE EXPENSES (ROOM AND BOARD) OF MEMBERS

Each local church is requested to include in its budget the amount required to provide the cost of room and board during the Conference session for its ministerial and lay members of the Conference.

CLERGY VACATION POLICY

Each clergy under appointment shall be allowed at least four weeks per appointment year for vacation, not counting continuing education, Annual Conference, or camp attendance, etc. Exceptions shall be negotiated with the local PPRC and the District Superintendent.

POLICIES REGARDING NOMINATIONS TO CONFERENCE AND DISTRICT ORGANIZATIONS

These policies will apply to the Annual Conference Nominating Committee, the District Nominating Committees, and to other entities with regard to the nominations for which each is responsible.

1. For each Annual Conference and District Board or Agency, for which there is a recommendation that one third of the membership be ethnic minority, youth and young adults, it is recommended that a balance of ethnic minorities, youth and young adults be nominated. It is further recommended that the membership not be comprised of any single ethnic minority heritage.
2. Except for the Adult and Family Ministry Council there will be a policy to have no more than one person from an immediate family serving as voting members on the same Board or Agency.
3. Unless otherwise provided by Conference Rules, no person serving as a liaison or representative from a Conference Board or Agency on which he/she has primary membership, to a second Conference Board or Agency, may serve as a liaison or representative from that second group to a third Conference Board or Agency.
4. Unless required by The Discipline or Conference Rules, persons serving as members of the Conference Exempt staff, levels I, II, III, and IV, will not be nominated to serve as voting members of Annual Conference Boards and Agencies.
5. No direct employee of the Annual Conference (other than a District Superintendent serving as a Cabinet representative), nor any immediate family member of a direct employee of the Annual Conference, will be nominated to serve as a voting member on the Conference CFA or on the Conference Personnel Committee.
6. It is recommended that membership on the Commission on Ethnic Ministries be apportioned according to the following formula: four Black, three White, three Hispanic, two Pacific Islander, one Native American, one Vietnamese, one Filipino, one Chinese, one Japanese, and two Koreans.
7. Persons having expertise, knowledge, abilities, interests, and willingness to serve on District and Annual Conference Boards, Agencies, and Committees shall be sought by reference to:
   (a) Chairpersons of, and staff members assigned to serve the related agencies.
   (b) Talent Bank forms provided by the Annual Conference Nominating Committee or District equivalent;
   (c) the Bishop;
   (d) the District Superintendents;
   (e) other leaders within the Annual Conference or District who may be aware of suitable candidates; and,
   (f) members of the Nominating Committee or appropriate nominating entity who are aware of eligible persons.

STANDARDS

STANDARDS FOR CONFERENCE COMPENSATION ASSISTANCE FUNDING FOR LOCAL CHURCHES AND MINISTRIES OF THE CALIFORNIA-PACIFIC ANNUAL CONFERENCE

[A policy of both the Conference Commission on Equitable Compensation (CCEC) and the Conference Board of Congregational Development (CBCD)]

In very specific situations, there may be some funding available from the California-Pacific Annual Conference to help provide compensation for certain pastors for a short time. Only one of these options is available in any given situation; and each has its own qualifications and limitations. Please use this guide to find out if any particular situation might be eligible for such funding.

The CCEC and CBCD shall work in consultation with the Cabinet and one another in developing their funding application forms.

Local churches and districts are urged to work with this document in their envisioning, planning, evangelism and stewardship efforts, prior to making application for funding. Briefly stated, these options are:

Start-up Ministries, for help in establishing new churches expected to become self-supporting within a reasonable period of time.

New Ministries within existing churches may need start-up assistance for a period of time, in addition to the support of the established church. This often includes ethnic, language, or other special ministries, and may include the appointment of an associate or assistant pastor.

Mission Churches, requiring Equitable Compensation assistance:

(1) Presence Churches, congregations where the continuation of the Church's presence in a community is essential, due to a unique situation or possible future ministry.

(2) Redeveloping Churches (congregations in transformation), in areas undergoing significant demographic or environmental changes which have resulted in the temporary loss of the ability for self-support (including severe natural disasters.)

(3) New churches may qualify for some further limited assistance after their initial period as a "Start-up Church."

A. Standards for Start-up Ministry Assistance:

Start-up ministries are those new ministries that are expected to become self-supporting within five years. They must begin in cooperation with the District Superintendent and District Planning and Strategy Committee, with the intention of beginning a completely new ministry.

Start-up ministries may begin as:

(1) a language or special ministry within an established local church, which sees the need for such a ministry, and is willing to support it as part of the existing church's mission until it becomes self-sufficient. This should never be seen as a way for a declining church to get more funding; it should always be an expression of mission on the part of the existing church. It may begin as a part-time ministry, and develop into a full-time ministry with start-up ministry assistance for a maximum of five years, after which time it is expected that the sponsoring and new churches together will be able to fully support it, including payment of all conference apportionments.

(2) a brand-new planned ministry begun in a totally new area of the Conference (separate from any existing church), that will need a full-time pastor from the beginning, with decreasing assistance over a maximum of five years, after which time it is expected to be self-supporting (including proportionate Apportionment payments during that time).

(3) other specialized ministries that may not include weekly worship services, but are needed for a particular mission of the church in an area, as deemed by the District Superintendent and the District Planning and Strategy Committee. These may or may not be eligible for start-up ministry support, and will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

B. Standards for Equitable Compensation Assistance

Equitable Compensation funds are available to assist local churches in the following situations: presence, redeveloping, and longer-term new churches or ministries.

To quality for equitable compensation support, a church must be in one of the following circumstances:

(1) Presence Churches - Churches in communities or serving constituencies where no other church or ministry exists, even if this church has little or no chance of becoming self-supporting. This determination is made annually, on recommendation of the District Superintendent and the District Planning and Strategy Committee.

(2) Redeveloping Churches - may be under-going transformation due to demographic changes, economic, environmental or other major shifts in the focus of their ministries, that affect their ability for self-support for a period of no more than 5 years. Such churches must develop a workable plan for making the needed changes, and discuss that plan with the District Superintendent and District Planning and Strategy Committee, in order to qualify for assistance. Such a plan must include careful demographic studies, relationships with other groups and services within the community, and the existing congregation's needs and resources.

(3) Start-up churches which have not been able within the first five years to become completely self-supporting, may qualify for some equitable compensation assistance, if they can show reasons for failure to meet their earlier goals, and plans to reach them within an identifiable time. Such additional assistance is on a year-to-year basis, up to a maximum of five years.

C. Assistance at the District Level

As a way of assisting churches and ministries to be in mission, the District Planning and Strategy Committees (or the local equivalent) shall be available for the following kinds of assistance, as requested by the local church and the District Superintendent:

(1) Review of all applications for compensation assistance funding, as presented to them by the District Superintendent.

(2) Verification of accountability toward plans submitted, in preparation for subsequent assistance funding.

(3) Consultation on demographic studies, locations and buildings, other kinds of resourcing available, development of growth plans, and other possible assistance requested by the local church/ministry.

(4) Development of plans for new ministries needed in the district.

(5) Such other assistance as the District Superintendent requests.

In addition, the District Planning and Strategy Committee, working with the District Board of Church Location and Building, shall provide regular updates to the Conference Board of Congregational Development, the Conference Commission on Equitable Compensation, and the District Superintendents, on all churches receiving any compensation assistance funding, to assist them in their on-going decisions.

Churches anticipating requests for compensation support now or in the future should be in continual communication with the District Planning and Strategy Committee, as their link and advocate for any such funding from any Annual Conference sources.

COMPENSATION ARREARAGE POLICY AND SUGGESTED PROCEDURE FOR LOCAL CHURCHES AND CLERGY

I. Conference set minimum full time pastor compensation packages that Commission on Equitable Compensation (CEC) will consider in providing, evaluating, and granting funding requests from local churches. The Local Church is responsible for setting, and paying the total compensation package for the appointed clergy. The CEC of the Annual Conference may grant salary subsidy to local churches from Equitable Compensation Funds to help meet the minimum compensation standards established by the Annual Conference. The following paragraphs from the Book of Discipline, 1996 apply:

A. ¶333 Support for Elders in Full Connection Appointed to Pastoral Charges – Assumption of the obligations of the itinerant ministry required upon admission to the traveling connection places upon the Church a counter obligation to provide adequate support for the entire ministry of the Church (¶ 618). The Church shall provide, and the ordained minister is entitled to receive, not less than the equitable compensation established by the annual conference for clergy members according to provisions of ¶623.3.

B. Further, it is incumbent upon the church to set the salary and compensation package for the appointed clergy. ¶246.12 and ¶621. The charge conference shall in consultation with the district superintendent set the compensation of the pastor and other staff appointed by the bishop.

C. Each clergy appointed to the Pastoral Charge has a right to receive the minimum salary and compensation package determined by the Annual Conference.

D. ¶333.1 Support for Elders in Full Connection Appointed to Pastoral Charges Who Render Full-Time Service – Each elder in full connection of an annual conference who is in good standing and who is appointed to full-time service under the provision of ¶329.1 shall have a claim upon the conference Equitable Compensation Fund and a right to receive not less than base compensation established by the annual conference for persons in full-time service.

E. ¶622. Consistent with the provisions of this paragraph, the primary responsibility for the payment of pastoral base compensation remains with individual pastoral charges.

F. ¶333.2 Support for Ordained Elders Appointed to Pastoral Charges Who Render Less than Full-Time Service – Each elder in full connection who is in good standing and who is appointed by the bishop to less than full-time service under the provisions of ¶329.2 shall have a claim upon the conference Equitable Compensation Fund in one-quarter increments according to the guidelines established by the annual conference commission on equitable compensation.

G. The PPRC/SPRC Committee is to consult with the pastor on matters pertaining to compensation ¶251.4e To consult on matters pertaining to pulpit supply, proposals for compensation, travel expense, vacation, health and life insurance, pension, housing (which may be a church-owned parsonage or housing allowance in lieu of parsonage if in compliance with the policy of the annual conference), and other practical matters affecting the work and families of the pastor and staff, and to make annual recommendations regarding such matters to the church council, reporting budget items to the committee on finance. The parsonage is to be mutually respected by the pastor's family as the property of the church and by the church as a place of privacy for the pastor's family. The chairperson of the committee on pastor-parish relations, the chairperson of the board of trustees, and the pastor shall make an annual review of the church-owned parsonage to assure proper maintenance.

H. ¶258.2.f.(6) To consult with the pastor and staff concerning continuing education and spiritual renewal, to arrange with the church council for the necessary time and financial assistance for the attendance of the pastor and/or staff at such continuing education and spiritual renewal events as may serve their professional and spiritual growth, and to encourage staff members to seek professional certification in their fields of specialization.

II. All churches must consider the Conference minimum compensation package when establishing their compensation package(s), which they are legally committing to fund for the next appointment year.
   A. The church, pastor, and District Superintendent are responsible to take every precaution to avoid an arrearage in pastor's salary or compensation funding. It is recommended that the Local Church consider the following guidelines at each Charge Conference meeting between the District Superintendent and the PPRC/SPRC that:
      1. The PPRC/SPRC shall carefully examine the proposed budget and income before recommending a compensation package to the Charge Conference. Is the proposed package financially feasible?
      2. Churches which cannot pay the Ministerial Support Apportionment in full should not plan to pay their pastor more than the conference minimum compensation requirement.
         a. (¶636.4.a) When the apportionment to the pastoral charges for the pension and benefit program of the annual conference has been determined, payments made thereon by each pastoral charge shall be exactly proportionate to payments made on the salary or salaries of the ordained minister or clergy serving it.
         b. (¶636.4.d) It shall not be permissible for a pastor to receive a bonus or other supplementary compensation tending to defeat proportional payment.
      3. PPRC/SPRC and pastor must determine with the District Superintendent, if the church can meet conference minimum compensation requirements, and if not, then the church must submit an application to the CEC for the funding to meet the minimum standards.
   B. The District Superintendent and the Local PPRC/SPRC may determine that only a part time clergy is needed, and if the church cannot fund that position completely, the church may apply for funding.

III. Each clergy must submit an annual signed statement that they have been paid their total salary compensation package in full, or specifically stipulate any arrearages.
   A. Each clergy is to submit an annual statement of full payment to the District Superintendent, the Commission on Equitable Compensation and the PPRC/SPRC.
   B. The PPRC/SPRC Chairperson, and Church Council Chairperson, and Trustee Chairperson, the Finance Chairperson, and the Local Church Treasurer must sign that statement.

IV. Local churches receiving subsidy grants from the Conference (CEC) must submit a detailed annual accounting of how all subsidy funding was spent.
   A. Each local church receiving subsidy grants must submit all applications and documentation on annual budgets, and expenditure and audit forms before any funds are released by the Conference.
   B. In the Event of an Arrearage:
      1. In the event that the local church is unable to provide a full monthly, or bimonthly check to its pastor, then the pastor and/or the chairperson of the PPRC/SPRC must notify the District Superintendent within 5 days.
      2. The Chairperson of the PPRC/SPRC is to call a meeting to discuss the financial situation with the pastor, the Church Council Chair, and the Finance Chair. An immediate plan is to be formed and implemented to repay the pastor what is past due.
         a. Such a plan might include seeking emergency one time funding from the congregation, or the district, to maintain minimum compensation.
         c. If the pastor receives more than minimum compensation, it may mean holding a special charge conference to reduce the pastor's remaining annual compensation package to minimum conference standards.
         d. If it is obvious that the local church may face a long-term financial crisis, then the PPRC/SPRC must advise the District Superintendent and the Church Council.

V. CEC may conduct annual audit of how each subsidy-funding grant was spent, and may conduct an annual audit of all church funds.
   A. If the local church becomes severely delinquent in the pastor's compensation package, the CEC may become involved on its own motion, including, but not limited to:
      1. Mediate a payment plan between the local church and the pastor, so that the pastor receives the conference minimum compensation in full.
      2. Require an outside audit of all church funding.
      3. Send representative from CEC to meet with local church and pastor to resolve the issue.
   B. Church property may not be sold or mortgaged to pay such a debt. ¶2542.1 No real property on which a church building or parsonage is located shall be mortgaged to provide for the current (or budget) expense of a local church, nor shall the principal proceeds of a sale of any such property be so used. This provision shall apply alike to unincorporated and incorporated local churches.

C. Cabinet action may change the status of the appointment to less than full-time.

D. In extreme and unresolved circumstance, the local church and/or pastor may petition a session of the annual conference through the Cabinet and the CEC for the payment of the arrearage not to exceed to the minimum conference compensation standards. However, it is the responsibility of the local church to provide a minimum compensation for its appointed clergy. (See ¶333 under I. above.)

GUIDELINES

DISTRICT UNION/DISTRICT SOCIETY USE OF FUNDS

It is contemplated that the district society or union funds (received from the Conference Benevolence Budget) shall be used as far as possible for purposes which do not qualify for support from regular budgets of Conference or General boards such as:

(1) payments on delinquent National Division loans within the District;
(2) taxes and other property expenses for new churches;
(3) assisting social service centers and similar work on the District;
(4) maintenance and furnishing for District parsonages;
(5) financial emergencies in parsonage homes;
(6) responsibilities assigned to a District society or union by the Annual Conference.

No expenditure of District society or union funds shall be made without approval by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee of the society or union. None of its funds shall be used by a society or union to pay benevolence apportionments of churches.

GUIDELINES ON SHARED FACILITIES

I. OVERVIEW

Many churches in this Annual Conference already share their facilities with other congregations and groups (both United Methodist and others). They do this for a number of reasons: to survive, to grow and to better serve the needs of the community.

The relationship between congregations sharing a facility is an important area of concern for both the mission of the Annual Conference and the participating congregations; it will enhance the ministry and witness of both congregations.

Shared facilities is an area of growing concern throughout the country and especially here in our own Annual Conference. Patterns of immigration provide an unparalleled opportunity for cooperative Christian mission as more churches become involved in a covenant relationship between congregations that share the same facility.

II. STATEMENT OF INTENT

These guidelines are for use by churches involved in (or considering) sharing a church facility between two or more congregations or groups. The sharing of facilities presents special opportunities for ministry as well as special challenges. Many of the issues raised are greater in scope and complexity than will be addressed in this document. These guidelines, therefore, point up areas of special concern and indicate resources which may be helpful.

III. MAJOR AREAS OF CONCERN

The following list of areas of concern is not exhaustive, but it does represent the most frequently raised issues by churches who share facilities.

Except for a few items from The Discipline there is no legislation which governs the relationship between churches sharing their facilities. Therefore, each congregation or group is free to use whatever guidelines seem appropriate to the parties involved.

Care should be taken during the negotiation process to cover as many of these areas as possible so that the agreement developed is as complete and thorough as possible (which may minimize the potential for misunderstandings).

Materials Available

The above topics are covered in the following guidelines prepared by the Conference Board of Global Ministries and are available upon request.

IV. GROWTH OF COVENANT RELATIONSHIP

The relationship between congregations or groups sharing a church facility requires constant work and attention in order to grow and develop. Many problems are simply the result of inattention or lack of communication. There are several models of relationship in practice. Some of them foster growth while others inhibit it. The landlord-tenant relationship is one of the most widely practiced and least helpful models.

While a few congregations may want to consider the eventual transfer of property from one group to another, many shared situations would do well to focus their efforts on more contact with each other and better understanding. Whatever the goals of the relationship they should be intentionally thought out and mutually agreed upon.

V. SOURCES FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The Conference Board of Congregational Development has gathered materials which may be of assistance to local churches involved in sharing their church facilities. In order to obtain some or all of these materials please contact Conference Board of Congregational Development at United Methodist Center; P.O. Box 6006; Pasadena, CA 91102 Telephone: 626-568-7300 or 800-244-8622. The National Program Division of the General Board of Global Ministries also has materials available relating to Shared Facilities. Their address is: 475 Riverside Dr.; New York, NY 10115 Telephone: 212-870-3600.

VI. SHARED FACILITIES GUIDELINES DOCUMENT

A. Introduction

1. Joint Mission

The church of Jesus Christ exists in and for the world. It is the function of the local church to minister to the needs of persons in the communities where the church is located and to provide appropriate training and nurture to all age groups, cultural groups, racial groups, ethnic groups, and groups with handicapping conditions (¶202, The Discipline). In order to enhance this ministry two congregations may share the use of a given church building.

Since both churches' purpose is mission, ministry and worship of the living God, the joint mission and affirmation of each other's ministry needs to be valued over the limitations of the "tenant/landlord" relationship.

Creative ventures in sharing buildings can be an opportunity for growth for both congregations. It is a rare privilege to experience ethnic, cultural, and language diversity in such intimacy over a long period of time. For both congregations this can be an opportunity to grow in understanding and in an appreciation of pluralism.

2. Facility Ownership

Sharing of local church facilities is a desirable approach that maximizes the use of United Methodism's facility resources while minimizing the funds locked up in real estate and buildings; this, in turn, frees significant funds for dynamic outreach and ministry. In sharing, the legal ownership of the facility is not, and should not be made, an issue or concern. The local church holding the grant deed is the legal owner.

In United Methodism, all properties are held with an agreement that they will be used for United Methodist activities and purposes. United Methodism urges the maximum accomplishment of its missional priorities, theological concepts, and social principles. Therefore, the fullest and best use of all properties is fully supported and essential. The primary emphasis, in a sharing relationship must be the establishment and continuation of a cooperative relationship that supports the missional accomplishments of both congregations, not ownership.

3. Written versus Verbal

We recommend written agreements among churches for several reasons (although there may be some situations where they are not necessary). These reasons are as follows:

a. Verbal understandings are not usually as clear and verifiable as written agreements. Verbal agreements tend to become vague as time passes.
b. For persons whose native language is not English it is sometimes easier to understand written English than spoken English.
c. If the clergy and/or lay leadership changes, written agreements assure more continuity. (In other words, the agreement does not leave or alter when the pastor does!)
d. A written agreement may be translated into another language.
e. A written agreement can be changed as circumstances change.

4. A Word About Language

We recommend the use of clear, direct statements rather than excessively legalistic language. Simple, direct terms that say clearly what is intended often invite further dialogue.

5. A Biblical Basis - Stewardship of Resources

The basis for all our conversations about shared building use is the concept of stewardship. A steward is one who takes care of something that belongs to another. Everything we have, as individuals and as a church, is a gift from God and belongs to God. That's a difficult concept to grasp because we work for what we have so we think we deserve it and own it; we are actually stewards, not owners.

Especially when it comes to church property it is clear that we are called to take care of and use, that property for God's purposes. What is your understanding of stewardship? How is God calling your congregation to use your resources - physical and financial - to further God's purposes? How is God enabling your congregation to grow in its stewardship and mission through the use of the church building?

The following are some Biblical passages that might be used by one or both congregations, separately or together, to lay a foundation for sharing facilities:

Genesis 1:26-31	"be fruitful and multiply"
Matt. 25:14-29	Parable of Talents
II Cor. 8:1-9	"this is not an order"
II Cor. 9:6-15	Cheerful Giver
Matt. 25:31-46	"I was a stranger and you welcomed me"
Luke 6:37-42	Law of Giving and Receiving
I Peter 4:8-11	Practice Hospitality
Phil. 2:5-8	Servanthood
Romans 12:1-8	One Body
Acts 2:1-12	Language of the Spirit
Acts 2:43-47	Hold all in Common
Acts 11:28-30	Salvation for All

B. GUIDELINES FOR CHURCHES SHARING FACILITIES

1. Preliminary Concerns

a. In the early stages of consideration of the sharing of a building there should be a meeting of the leadership, lay and clergy, of both congregations:
   (1) to share their vision, mission, purpose, and ministry;
   (2) to examine their purpose, both short and long range, for desiring to share facilities; and
   (3) to consider how this can enhance the ministry of both congregations.

b. Both congregations should develop future long range facilities' goals. Some of the questions that should be considered are:
   (1) Are we sharing facilities with the hope and possibility that the two congregations will merge?
   (2) Does the sharing of facilities provide the guest congregation an opportunity to save enough money to Implement their plan to purchase their own facilities?
   (3) Are both churches interested in a long-term sharing relationship while maintaining separate identities?
   (4) Will the sharing of a building enable the development of new ministries by one or both congregations?

c. Any agreement must be made in consultation with the District Superintendent. If the guest congregation is an ethnic non-UM church, consideration should be given as to whether or not a new United Methodist Church could be started instead. The host pastor should contact appropriate ethnic UMC leadership and nearby ethnic UMC churches about the appropriateness of hosting such a church and the possibility of developing a new UMC instead.

d. Both churches should develop a written policy for the use of church facilities. Both congregations should:
   (1) be prepared to suffer some inconveniences; but
   (2) not to enter into the venture primarily for financial reasons.

e. No United Methodist Church should pay rent to another UMC. However, the guest congregation should be expected to pay its fair share of the building expenses. The suggested fees would depend upon the nature and extent of the joint venture. The fees should be mutually agreed upon.

f. No United Methodist Church should support its own budget except utility and building expenses, including long-term maintenance, from contributions from another congregation.

g. It is recommended that a liaison committee be established and meet regularly. It should consist of the two pastors and key elected lay leadership from both congregations. This committee would have responsibility for the following items:
   (1) a mutually agreed upon schedule;
   (2) joint bilingual services; and
   (3) programs to enhance understanding and appreciation of each other's culture.

h. There may also be a joint Building and Maintenance Committee established to ensure proper care, clean-up, and maintenance of facilities.

i. Each congregation needs to assume responsibility for clean- up of their own activities.

j. Every United Methodist Church should be able to have a church sign in its own language on the outside of the church building. Each are to be mutually agreed upon. Also, bilingual interior signs should be used.

k. Each congregation should be able to use decor appropriate to its own culture and its own choosing in consultation with each other.

2. Statement of Intent

Some churches may wish to create a mutual statement of intent about their sharing of church facilities. This may include both short and/or long range goals.

It is recommended that the form of the statement be a "faith covenant." In the case of two Christian churches a mutual profession of faith in Christ would be appropriate. In the case of an inter-faith arrangement a mutual faith in God might be affirmed. The purpose of such a statement is to highlight the common bonds of faith, mission and responsibility in order to distinguish the arrangement from a secular "lease" or rental situation.

In addition to sharing facilities the parties of the covenant may want to engage in planned activities that enhance understanding and appreciation of each other's traditions, rituals and/or culture.

Creativity and mutuality are encouraged in the development of a Statement of Intent. Some sample statements are available upon request.

The following questions may be helpful as a guide in developing a Statement of Intent:

a. How long will the arrangement last? (i.e. indefinitely, until a new building is completed, until the congregations merge?)
b. How does this relationship reflect your understanding of a shared ministry?
c. How does your relationship reflect a shared faith?
d. What is your commitment to working together in a covenant relationship and to developing participation and cooperation between the members of both congregations and/or groups?

3. Structure or Models for Communication

Many different structural relationships between congregations sharing the same facility are possible. The choice of the relationship depends on the goals and circumstances of both congregations. Also, the relationship may change as time progresses; those following are suggestive; most of these are options for UMCs sharing with other UMCs.

a. Multiple Congregation Church: Two or more congregations are developed within the same incorporated church. The groups may worship and do other programming separately, but all persons are members of one incorporated church. Administrative structures may be together or separate with a liaison committee or joint trustees board. This structure affirms the diversity of the different communities, yet it also has the unity of one church membership. This means there is no "host" and "guest" congregation; since all persons are members of the one church, all share in the ownership of the building.
b. Cooperative Parish: Two or more separately chartered churches may form a Cooperative Parish according to guidelines established in ¶206, The Discipline. This introduces the possibility of a Cooperative Parish Trustees to hold title to and be responsible for Cooperative Parish properties. The goal here is a long-term cooperative relationship between congregations in the same facility. (This is not the only meaning of ¶206.)
c. Established UMC sponsors the development of a new UMC: "When the communities where the church is located experience transition especially identified as economic and or ethnic, the local church shall engage in deliberate analysis of the neighborhood change and alter its program to meet the needs and cultural patterns of the new residents" (¶212.1, The Discipline). One way to accomplish this is to develop new ministries and new constituency groups within the church program. With the permission of the District Superintendent and District Board of Church Location and Building a local church may sponsor and accept responsibility for developing a new United Methodist Church. It is suggested that this be done in cooperation with the particular ethnic caucus or an ethnic church. This may begin as a Bible study, Sunday School, or worship group.
d. Merger: Two chartered UMCs may decide to merge and become one congregation. The new church may still have special ministries for the different constituencies it serves.
e. Federated Merger: similar to option 4. but with a church from another denomination (¶2546, The Discipline).
f. Short-Term Relationship: A new developing congregation may wish to use another UMC's facilities in a shared capacity for a short time until it has developed the capacity to own its own facility.

In every shared building situation it is recommended that there be some organized structure for communication to coordinate calendar, develop joint programs, handle disagreements and complaints, and oversee use of the building. Some options for this include:

(1) a joint board of trustees from each congregation;
(2) a joint building use committee representing each congregation;
(3) a joint Administrative Board or Council on Ministries or representatives that officially sit on the other congregation's board or council;
(4) a liaison committee organized to meet the needs of this local situation; and
(5) joint staff meetings.

Some questions to guide your thinking:

(1) Which of the above relationships, if any, most closely resembles your style of interaction?

(2) Which committee(s) from each church shall be held jointly?
(3) Which persons from each congregation shall constitute the membership of joint committees?
(4) Shall any new committees be established which oversee the relationship between the churches? Which members of the churches shall be members of this committee?
(5) What plans do the staff members of each congregation have for regular communication?
(6) Other plans for administrative relationships:

4. Use of Facilities

This section is designed to clarify the use of facilities in four areas of concern over which conflict can easily develop:

A. scheduling - Who uses which room and when?
B. equipment - Who uses what equipment and supplies, and what are the methods for maintaining the equipment in usable order? "Equipment" might include office machines, telephones, kitchen utensils, outside facilities, storage space, education supplies, cleaning supplies, etc.;
C. signs and decor; and
D. supervision of children and noise/distraction levels.
E. security/accessibility
F. maintenance/clean-up

A. SCHEDULING

It is recommended that the scheduling of, and scheduling priorities for, building use be by mutual agreement. A master calendar of building use time that is available to all for consultation is helpful.

WORKSHEET

— The following room(s) will be shared by the congregations.
If there is to be a regular time of use, please note it here:
— The master calendar shall be located at:
— The people or committee responsible for the scheduling of rooms are:
— The following activities have building use priority for (in the order indicated):

	ROOM	WEEKDAY	TIME
1.
2.
3.
4

B. EQUIPMENT/SUPPLIES

WORKSHEET

The following equipment or supplies shall be shared (when indicated). Conditions for their use and maintenance should be indicated here:

— Storage space:
— Kitchen facilities, utensils (including ovens, refrigerators, dishes, etc.):
Clean-up Procedures:
Who will provide cleaning supplies such as soap, towels, scrubbers, etc.?
How shall food be stored (if at all)?
— Office machines:
Who shall operate the machines?
Who will provide paper supplies, stamps, etc.?
— Telephone use
under what conditions shall the phone(s) be used, especially for long distance calls?
— The following items in the educational room(s) shall be shared:
What curriculum or supplies will be shared, and how shall it be provided?
— Outdoor facilities: (i.e., parking spaces, play yards, gardens, etc.)

C. SIGNS AND DECOR

We recommend that each congregation using the buildings have an outside sign indicating their presence. This may be in English or in another language when appropriate. The placement, size and wording of the signs should be mutually agreed upon. Internal signs indicating bathrooms, classrooms, coming events, and offices in English and other language(s) are also important.

Symbols for worship (banners, icons, crosses, candles) and other decor (pictures, flags, etc.) in the sanctuary or building are important artifacts to each group. It is recommended that decor be as movable as possible, so that each group may alter the worship environment to suit its identity and needs.

WORKSHEET

— The following outdoor signs shall be erected:
The content and location of the signs shall be:
The following indoor signs shall be:
Their content and location shall be:

— In the event of an emergency involving building access who shall be notified?

F. MAINTENANCE/CLEAN-UP

This section is designed to clarify the procedures for maintaining the church property in good condition and what janitorial work shall be done.

WORKSHEET

— Which committee shall oversee the standards and procedures for church building maintenance?
— If there are to be printed standards for the cleaning and maintenance of a given room, Where shall it be located? (For example, where are the "standards for cleaning the kitchen?")
Who shall create the standards?
— Is there to be a paid janitorial staff person?
Will one or both congregations act as employer?
Who will pay wages?
— Where shall cleaning supplies be located?
Who will buy and maintain supplies?
— Which committee shall oversee the maintenance of church grounds?
— If there is to be a church "work day?"
Who shall participate and when?

5. Financial/Legal Arrangements

A. Church Budgets

There are several possibilities for the interrelationship of church budgets for those who share a building.

1. Totally separate budgets: Each congregation maintains a separate budget, and financial records. It is expected that each congregation would make its budgets and records accessible to the other. In this situation the "host" congregation has the major budgetary responsibility for the church buildings.

2. Joint Budget: The congregations maintain the same budget.
3. Joint Building Budget: Both congregations contribute to a joint budget for all items relating to church building and maintenance, and both are involved in decisions regarding expenditure of funds. This option can be helpful in enabling a guest congregation to have a sense of ownership in the building.
4. Joint Program Budget: A special budget for a specific joint program such as Vacation Church School or a mission outreach program may be developed.

B. Financial Arrangements

When a UM church shares its facility with a non-UM church, a formal cost-sharing agreement may be entered into with a specific charge based on verifiable costs.

When a UM church hosts another UM church, a tenant/landlord relationship is not appropriate. Rent cannot be charged since we cannot rent to "ourselves". This situation should be considered as a missional project designed to enhance the ministry of both congregations. The "host" congregation should not enter into such an agreement with the intent of making money or enabling itself to continue to survive. Both congregations should expect to have some inconveniences and some limitation on space and time of building use. The "guest" congregation should expect to contribute its share of the costs of building maintenance and upkeep. This contribution should not be understood as rent and should be mutually agreed upon depending upon the strength and situation of both congregations.

— What are the total budgets of the two congregations?
— What is the membership and worship attendance of both congregations?
— What is the total cost of operating the building?
— How many hours is each congregation expected to use the building?
— Based on this information, what portion of the building cost should each congregation agree to pay?
— What program costs shall be shared?
— How should budget decisions be made? How is each congregation involved in budgetary decisions?

C. Legal

It is important that churches are aware of their responsibilities for insurance coverage. We recommend a careful investigation of liabilities and responsibilities, including possibly co-signing insurance policies.

Care should be taken to be sure all employees are covered under Workers' Compensation and that IRS and Social Security regulations are followed.

6. Special Circumstances

Perhaps there are special circumstances not anticipated by this workbook which deserve consideration. This may be especially true when churches of differing denominations or faiths are involved. This section is designed to invite further thinking on areas of special concern among churches sharing a building.

A. Are there special matters of church polity which need to be addressed?
B. Are there unique circumstances which will affect the way your churches interact?
C. What special gifts or opportunities for service, mission, or worship present themselves because of the sharing of buildings?

7. Evaluation/Re-Negotiation/Termination

The relationship between the churches/congregations which share a building should be reviewed annually in order to reflect on the blessings and the problems which arise. Both congregations should understand how changes in the covenant may be made. These questions are designed to guide this process.

A. Will there be a regular, designated time when both churches may review and reflect upon their relationship? When shall that be?
B. When may the covenant be changed? What process shall be used?
C. Which person/committees shall be involved in discussions and decisions regarding a change in the covenant?
D. When shall a change in the covenant take place?

Some provision should be made for the termination of the relationship between the congregations. At least three (3) months advance notice should be given by either congregation wishing to terminate the sharing. The District Superintendent must be notified.

In the event of the closing or moving of the host congregation details for the transfer of ownership from one congregation to the other must be worked out in accord with The Discipline and in consultation with the District Superintendent and the District Committee on Church Building and Location.

DESIGNATION of UMC-OWNED PROPERTY AS CULTURAL, HISTORICAL OR ARCHITECTURAL LANDMARKS

The following policy has been established with regard to properties held in trust for the benefit of The United Methodist Church under the provision of ¶2503 of The Discipline by the Annual Conference Board of Trustees; by any District Board of Trustees within the California-Pacific Annual Conference; and by any Local Church or Church-Related Agency Board of Trustees located within the California-Pacific Annual Conference:

1. This shall be a standing policy of the Annual Conference and shall remain in effect until amended or deleted by a future Session of the Annual Conference and/or its legal successors in interest.
2. Governmental designation of Church-owned real property can cause a reduction in the market value of said property. When such property is designated as a Cultural, Historical or Architectural Landmark, the rights of the Church (at all levels) as a property owner and as a religious institution are severely restricted.

   Typically, the exterior facade of a building may not be altered without governmental permission. In some instances, alterations of the interior are forbidden without specific governmental permission. Improvements (such as buildings) on the property are either forbidden to be demolished, or can only be demolished after extensive and expensive applications and hearings. Sale of landmarked property, when it is no longer required for church purposes, becomes almost impossible: a buyer is not given the freedom to demolish the structures on the property or to use it as he/she sees fit. Such limitations would render Church-owned property virtually unsalable in the future. This could prevent the church from transforming the donations given in the past to establish real property for United Methodist use into new establishments for United Methodist Church use; a promise made to the donors at the time their donations were originally solicited.

   In exchange for such limitations on the use of property, governmental bodies typically will compensate the property owner for such reduction in property value and limitations on development and use by allowing federal and state income tax credits against actual expenditures made for future rehabilitation work done to the property. Such income tax credits are worthless to a church since a church does not pay income taxes.

   In general, such governmental designation should be discouraged. However, there are instances when allowing such a landmarking to take place is in the best interests of both the public and the church. Therefore, the following principles are established as the policy of the Annual Conference:
3. Any Board of Trustees which voluntarily wishes to cooperate with a governmental body in having that property landmarked which said Board of Trustees holds in trust for The United Methodist Church must do the following:
   (a) Comply with the provisions of ¶2515, 2517.2, 2539, 2540, 2541, and/or 2543 (as appropriate) of The Discipline, just as if such landmarking were a sale of the property.
   (b) Obtain a majority vote of the Bishop and the Cabinet, combined, approving such a voluntary landmarking of Church-owned property.
4. On behalf of the Annual Conference, the Annual Conference Board of Trustees, as the designated successor in interest to church-owned property held in trust for The United Methodist Church under ¶2548.5, The Discipline; and as the designated agency to intervene and take any necessary legal steps to safeguard and protect the interests and rights of the Annual Conference anywhere and in all matters relating to property and rights to property of any of its agencies, organizations or local churches under ¶2512.4, The Discipline; is directed to intervene, at the request of the Superintendent of the District in which the affected property is located, to oppose any governmental effort to involuntarily designate any such property as a Cultural, Historical or Architectural Landmark. This intervention may include engaging whatever legal or professional counsel is needed. Such intervention may include opposing such landmarking designation in any or all state or federal courts, if necessary and appropriate. The Annual Conference Board of Trustees may, at its discretion, undertake such intervention by financial assistance to the affected Board of Trustees. Said funding shall come first from any positive balance in the fund listed in (5) below. Additional funding, if necessary, may be requested from the CFA.
5. The Annual Conference Board of Trustees shall establish a designated trust fund under its supervision, to be used to help defray the costs of opposing governmental efforts at involuntary landmarking of Church-owned property, as designated in 4 above. Funds contributed to this fund may only be used for the designated purpose. Income from the investment of the corpus of this trust fund may be used by the CFA, or its successor organization, for any purpose it shall designate. The Board of Trustees is directed to solicit voluntary contributions to this fund. Such contributions are to be considered designated contributions to the Annual Conference and are not to be included in the expenses, which are a part of the Grade Figure calculation.

   The Conference Board of Trustees is directed to request monies from the apportioned budget of the Annual Conference, as reasonably available, to put into this fund to hold in reserve for use for the designated purpose. Solicitation of monies for the fund shall cease when the corpus amount attained totals $100,000. When funds are expended for the designated purpose, the Conference Board of Trustees shall be authorized to again solicit funds to replenish this fund until the corpus amount again attains the sum of $100,000.

Conference Comprehensive Plan

Conference Board of Congregational Development Special Report
To the California-Pacific Annual Conference – June 2002

At the request of the Bishop and Cabinet, the Conference Board of Congregational Development has been working in careful consultation with the District Committees on Planning and Strategy (or equivalent groups), and many others, to develop and bring the first segment of a Conference Comprehensive Plan before this session of the Annual Conference. We propose the following as the Congregational Development segment ("Plant New Ministries") of such a plan, which also presupposes that there will be "Build Bridges to Draw Strength from One Another" and "Nurture Fruitful and Prophetic Leadership" segments, to complete the plan.

The United Methodist Church
California-Pacific Annual Conference Comprehensive Plan: Congregational Development Component

The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church, 2000, ¶601 gives us the purpose for the annual conference: "to make disciples for Jesus Christ by equipping its local churches for ministry and by providing a connection for ministry beyond the local church, all to the glory of God." In ¶630.5.h), the group from which our Conference Board of Congregational Development arises is called to " . . develop(ing) a comprehensive related missional strategy for the mission of the annual conference, the districts, and the local churches and reporting the Plan to the annual conference for consideration . . . "

Our Calling as an Annual Conference, developed at the 1998 session, says it well:

Following the example of Jesus Christ, bridging the barriers that divide us,
Drawing strength from one another through the power of the Holy Spirit,
We, the California-Pacific Annual Conference, covenant with God
To cultivate, in partnership with local churches, new ministries and New disciples, new leadership and new life, for such a time as this.

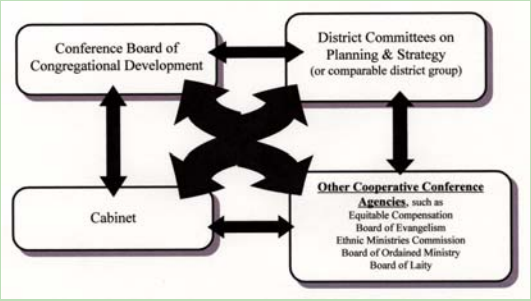
The 2000 Session determined that the primary tasks of the Annual Conference are to:

- Build Bridges and Draw Strength from One Another
- Nurture Fruitful and Prophetic Leadership
- Plan New Ministries

The purpose of this segment of the Conference Comprehensive Plan (the Plan) is to provide guidelines for assessing and prioritizing the efforts of the Conference for funding, appointments, and support for new and revitalizing ministries throughout the Annual Conference for the years ahead; developing the leadership necessary, and finding the connectional resources to best accomplish these goals. The Plan is intended to be dynamic, always subject to updating.

The groups primarily responsible for congregational development are the Conference Board and the District Committees of that same name (or comparable district groups). However, the plan offers the hope, and calls upon all conference agencies, districts, churches and personnel to continually find ways to work in cooperation and coordination to fulfill the purpose, the primary tasks and the calling of this annual conference. May the Grace of God revealed in Jesus Christ be seen in the very nature and results of their work.



Oversight of the Conference Comprehensive Plan

As the above chart indicates, the Conference Comprehensive Plan, Congregational Development section, shall be administrated primarily by the Conference Board of Congregational Development, in communication and cooperation with the Cabinet, the district committees on planning and strategy (or their equivalents), and the many other groups whose expertise or advice may be helpful.

In implementing the Plan, each congregation's strength and needs shall be reviewed by 1) the local congregations, separate from the pastor; 2) the local pastor; and 3) the district committee on planning and strategy. The reconciliation of these reviews shall become the basic assessment of the placement in the life-cycle of that congregation. (See the graphic local life-cycle glossary chart.)

The Board will receive these assessments, along with any requests for new churches or ministries, as prioritized by each district committee. The Board will then prioritize them Conference-wide for purposes of allocation of available help and resources, based on readiness for growth, local church plans of action, and the likelihood for success to maximize the benefit of the limited resources available.

These priorities will be made available to the appropriate agencies, and used to assist in finding the many kinds of resources that might be available through local, district, conference, general church, and private or public sources, as appropriate.

The assessments and prioritization process shall be reviewed at all levels at least annually, and the prioritizations shall be reported to the Annual Conference each year.

Understanding the Master Plan Glossary

The attached chart is a graphic representation of the "life-cycle" of local churches. This cycle provides the local church with a means to understand its own place in the process of inception, growth, vitality, mission and transition. The governing tenant of the plan, upon a cursory examination, is that churches are categorically placed in one of the boxes displayed based on a variety of criterion. This placement is done cooperatively at, primarily, the local church level along with District input. The intent of the chart is to help churches actualize where they are in their "life-cycle", as it relates to their connection with themselves and the surrounding community.

The Benefits of Master Planning

This process of identification yields some of the following synergistic benefits:

1. Creates a concrete and specific means of communicating local church needs.
2. Training and assistance for ongoing congregational development for churches at any place on chart, but specifically focused upon their placement.
3. Transformation of Connectional Resources (at the General and Annual Conference Level) to match the needs of local churches to increase their ministry and mission in communities.
4. Motivation of churches toward the common goal of vital service and ministry both, within and outside the church walls.
5. Referral to appropriate agencies and ministries that can be of direct benefit to churches at any place on the Life-Cycle graphic chart.
6. Appropriate allotment of funds for churches seeking a greater sense of vitality in their community.
7. A means for early detection of patterns that might indicate decline which can be remedied prior to a congregation losing its forward momentum in ministry.
8. Resource for the Board and Agencies of the General Church and the Annual Conference seeking to be in connectional partnerships with local churches.

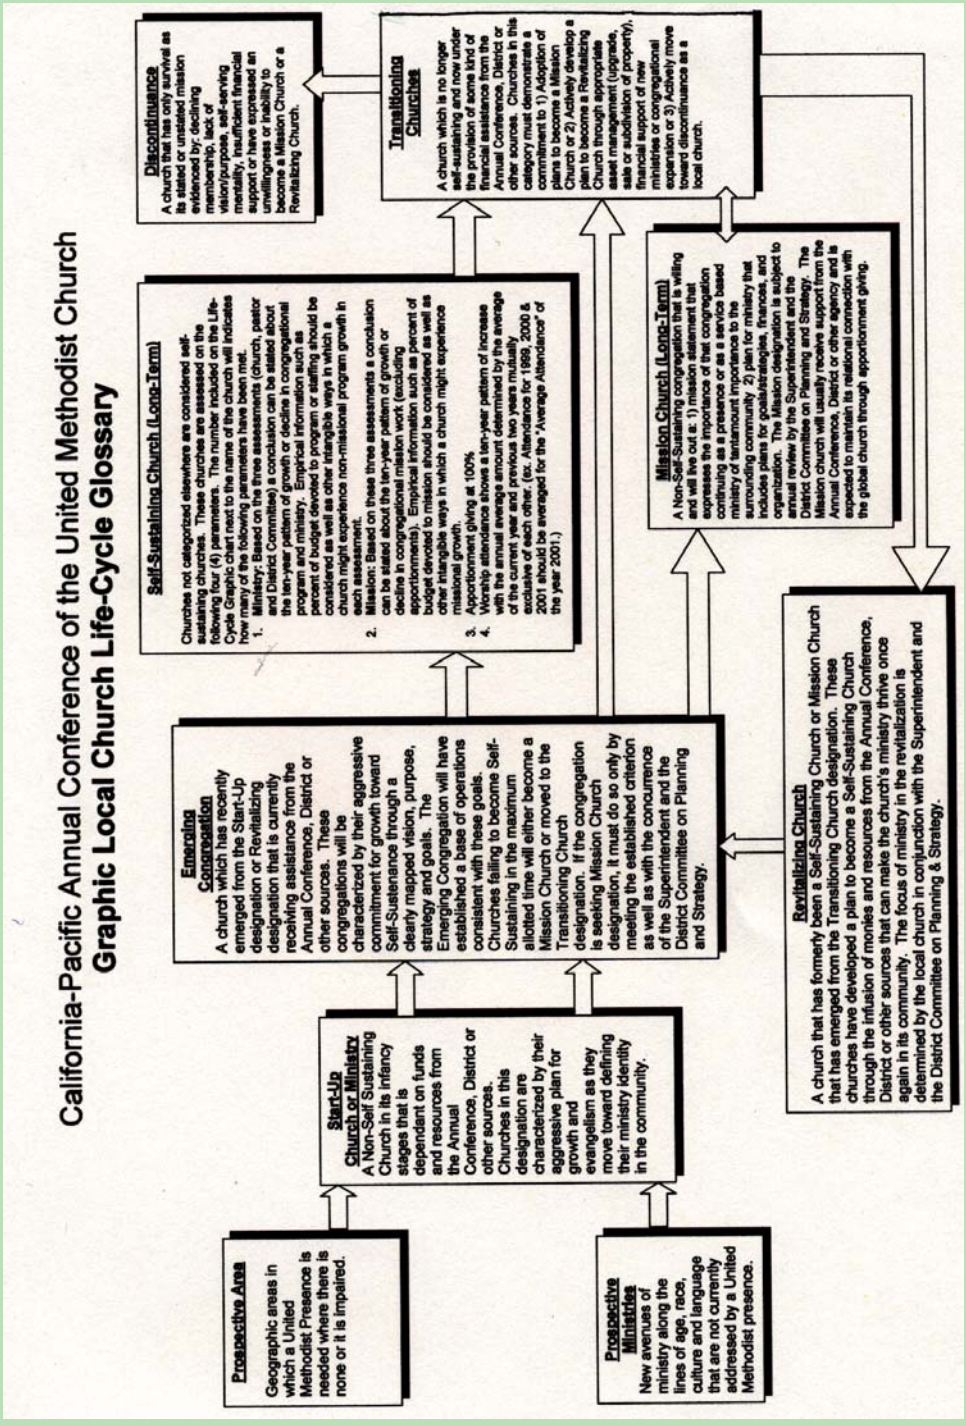
The Process of Congregational Profiling

Churches are placed on the life-cycle graphic chart by virtue of "assessment". This evaluation is the convergence of several different sources of input. Although there are criterion built into the life-cycle chart glossary, churches will have an opportunity to be in dialogue as to what category best states where a congregation actually is in this life-cycle.

1. Local Church Assessment – Local church leadership, exclusive of appointed ministers, would create a summary of their church's mission and ministry and a statement of which category they believe they would most be described as.

2. Local Church Pastor Assessment – Each appointed clergy would create a statement about their analysis of how his/her church might be placed on the life-cycle graphic chart. Again, this process invites a serious self-appraisal of congregational life, which in and of itself, is meaningful.

3. District Planning & Strategy Assessment – The only group outside the local church to participate in the assessment process is the District Planning and Strategy Committee. The Committee is charged with looking at the broader context of local church ministry in the surrounding geographic area. They should address issues of community transition and the church's broader connection to the surrounding region.



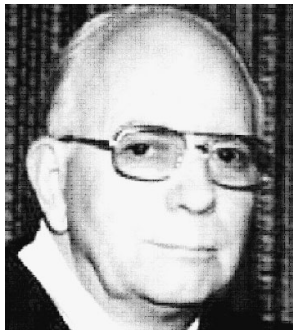
California-Pacific Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church
Graphic Local Church Life-Cycle Glossary
Prospective Area
Geographic areas in which a United Methodist Presence is needed where there is none or it is impaired.
Prospective Ministries
New avenues of ministry along the lines of age, race, culture and language that are not currently addressed by a United Methodist presence.
Start-Up Church or Ministry
A Non-Self Sustaining Church in its infancy stages that is dependant on funds and resources from the Annual Conference, District or other sources. Churches in this designation are characterized by their aggressive plan for growth and evangelism as they move toward defining their ministry identity in the community.
Emerging Congregation
A church which has recently emerged from the Start-Up designation or Revitalizing designation that is currently receiving assistance from the Annual Conference, District or other sources. These congregations will be characterized by their aggressive commitment for growth toward Self-Sustenance through a clearly mapped vision, purpose, strategy and goals. The Emerging Congregation will have established a base of operations consistent with these goals. Churches failing to become Self-Sustaining in the maximum allotted time will either become a Mission Church or moved to the Transitioning Church designation. If the congregation is seeking Mission Church designation, it must do so only by meeting the established criterion as well as with the concurrence of the Superintendent and the District Committee on Planning and Strategy.
Revitalizing Church
A church that has formerly been a Self-Sustaining Church or Mission Church that has emerged from the Transitioning Church designation. These churches have developed a plan to become a Self-Sustaining Church through the infusion of monies and resources from the Annual Conference, District or other sources that can make the church's ministry thrive once again in its community. The focus of ministry in the revitalization is determined by the local church in conjunction with the Superintendent and the District Committee on Planning & Strategy.
Self-Sustaining Church (Long-Term)
Churches not categorized elsewhere are considered self-sustaining churches. These churches are assessed on the following four (4) parameters. The number included on the Life-Cycle Graphic chart next to the name of the church will indicate how many of the following parameters have been met.
1. Ministry: Based on the three assessments (church, pastor and District Committee) a conclusion can be stated about the ten-year pattern of growth or decline in congregational program and ministry. Empirical information such as percent of budget devoted to program or staffing should be considered as well as other intangible ways in which a church might experience non-missional program growth in each assessment.
2. Mission: Based on these three assessments a conclusion can be stated about the ten-year pattern of growth or decline in congregational mission work (excluding apportionments). Empirical information such as percent of budget devoted to mission should be considered as well as other intangible ways in which a church might experience missional growth.
3. Apportionment giving at 100%
4. Worship attendance shows a ten-year pattern of increase with the annual average amount determined by the average of the current year and previous two years mutually exclusive of each other. (ex. Attendance for 1998, 2000 & 2001 should be averaged for the "Average Attendance" of the year 2001.)
Mission Church (Long-Term)
A Non-Self-Sustaining congregation that is willing and will live out a: 1) mission statement that expresses the importance of that congregation continuing as a presence or as a service based ministry of tantamount importance to the surrounding community 2) plan for ministry that includes plans for goals/strategies, finances, and organization. The Mission designation is subject to annual review by the Superintendent and the District Committee on Planning and Strategy. The Mission church will usually receive support from the Annual Conference, District or other agency and is expected to maintain its relational connection with the global church through apportionment giving.
Transitioning Churches
A church which is no longer self-sustaining and now under the provision of some kind of financial assistance from the Annual Conference, District or other sources. Churches in this category must demonstrate a commitment to: 1) Adoption of plans to become a Mission Church or 2) Actively develop a plan to become a Revitalizing Church through appropriate asset management (upgrade, sale or subdivision of property), financial support of new ministries or congregational expansion or 3) Actively move toward discontinuance as a local church.
Discontinuance
A church that has only survival as its stated or unstated mission evidenced by: declining membership, lack of vision/purpose, self-serving mentality, insufficient financial support or have expressed an unwillingness or inability to become a Mission Church or a Revitalizing Church.

In Memoriam

HAROLD SAMUEL BAKER

August 2, 1908 - December 6, 2002

BAKER, Dr. Harold Samuel, (Nebraska; FL, 1937) Neb; 37 Valley Elk City, 41 Mullen Whitman, 43 Mullen, 46 Bassett Newport, 51 Cal-Nev; Five Points, 53 Lakeport, 53 NRA, C-P; 55 Bellflower, 64 NRA, 72, Disc., 74 retired



Born in Fairview, KN, Harold spent his early years as a farm boy at the Fairview Baptist Church. His early education was a one-room school a mile from their home, graduating with honors from Hiawatha High School. He excelled in public speaking and won a medal as a member of the debating team. Harold never completed college or seminary, but received his Ph.D. in Psychology from California Western University at the age of 62. His most recent accomplishment, at the age of 93, assisted by his granddaughter, Carrie Washburn, was the publishing of his memoirs, "Just A Man In Preacher's Clothing. One Man's Journey To Share His Faith."

In 1929, Harold was employed with the Weeping Water (NE) Republican Newspaper, writing many articles for the paper as well as freelance work for the Omaha World Herald, Lincoln Star Journal and special work for the Associated & United Presses. Harold met and married Mary Gertrude Wright Miller on June 19, 1930. Often paid with chickens, eggs and produce, one Thanksgiving in Valley, NE, all they had to eat was stewed tomatoes.

Dr. Baker became involved with the Methodist Episcopal Church, becoming Sunday School Superintendent. Mary was a Mennonite so he became a lay preacher of that denomination. In November, 1936, Harold returned to the Methodist church, preaching his first sermon on January 4, 1937. He went to Mullen, NE for 5 wonderful years also becoming County Assistance Director and Child Welfare worker for Hooker and Grant counties. Using his car, he became ambulance driver whenever necessary and they instigated a Sunday School by mail program which received publicity and notoriety. God's Herd Calf Sale program is still in use as well.

In 1946, Harold built a new sanctuary in Hasset, NE and several "country children" made their home with the Bakers during the school year. He became county Relief Chairman during the blizzard of 1949 and assisted with rescues. Dr. Baker was the founding pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Bellflower, which he and Mary established in June '55 at the former site of the Chapel of the Wedding Bells. They built the current church in '57, pastoring for 11 years. Dr. Baker established the former Community Church in Bellflower, closed in '68. As Chaplain at Dominguez Valley Hospital, he was appointed as Head of the Pastoral Care Department, where he stayed until 1973.

His first high school interview was with William Jennings Bryant. He photographed Presidents Roosevelt & Eisenhower & Reps. Doyle & Del Claussen of CA. Dr. Baker was in the Kiwanis Club; Lions Club; Masonic Fraternity for over 50 years; Al Malaikah Shrine holding the Degree of the Royal; Bellflower Chamber of Commerce; Board of Directors of the YMCA; dedication minister of the Los Cerritos Municipal Court; installing minister for the first City Council, Bellflower; Chaplain of Bellflower City Hospital.

In 1979, Harold married Harriet Carling, serving as Assoc. Pastor of the Mt. Olivet Lutheran Church. Upon Harriet's death in 2000, Dr. Baker moved to the Newport Beach Plaza Retirement Community, serving as Chaplain. Harold & Mary had 3 children: Hal, Jean Gardner and Cliff; a stepson, Dick Carling; 16 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren & 2 great-great-grandchildren. He was a loving, supportive father, putting up with lots of distractions when writing but always supportive, win or lose and singing praises.

Harold loved to tell jokes, never shy about doing so. He witnessed to thousands, didn't have to be the star, didn't care about financial success, becoming a very rich man spiritually by following his dreams.

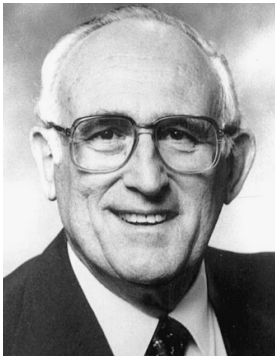
JOHN R. DUVALL

August 20, 1921 - February 16, 2003

Duvall, John R.: C-P 86 READMITTED(¶457.459) R'D. (¶ 453.2C)



John R. Duvall was born on August 20, 1921 to Phillip and Elizabeth Duvall. John accepted Jesus Christ as his personal Savior as a boy of eight. He was baptized, joined and faithfully attended Immanuel Baptist Church in Pasadena, CA. While still in high school, he felt the call of God to Christian ministry and, at graduation, enrolled at the Bible Theological Seminary of Los Angeles (also known as BIOLA).

In 1941, Immanuel Baptist Church granted him a license to preach and he became pastor of the First Baptist Church of Port Hueneme, CA. In 1943, at the recommendation of his home church, the Foothill Assn. Of the American Baptist Churches ordained Pastor Duvall who was only 21. In September 1943, John married his first wife, Ruth Vernon.

After serving the Port Hueneme Church for 4 years, Pastor John moved to Spokane, WA to attend Whitworth College. While there, he was invited by the Evangelical United Brethren Church to be an interim pastor of the Lloyd Memorial Church. What he had expected to be a temporary ministry turned out to be a total of 23 years of service. During this time, he served 3 other EUB churches: one in Walla Walla, WA, then the Palms Church of LA, CA, where he served 11 years and, under his leadership, a new sanctuary and complete educational unit were built; and, the Covenant Church of Pomona, CA, where he served for 7 years.

In 1967, when EUB merged with the Methodist Church to form the United Methodist Church, Pastor Duvall accepted a call from his home church, where he served for the next 7 years. During this time, he lost his wife Ruth to cancer in 1970, after about 26 years of marriage. But, it was also there in Pasadena that he met Shirley Carnell, who had lost her first husband, Dr. Edward John Carnell in 1968. John and Shirley were married on January 31, 1971.

John then served pastorates at the Memorial Conservative Baptist Church in Fresno, CA and at Bethel Baptist Church of Novato, CA. Even after retiring in 1986, he served as an interim pastor at a total of 8 churches from 1987-1996, also ministering to missionaries in India, Pakistan and Egypt in September and October, 1988.

At his retirement service at age 65, Pastor John shared the following testimony:

'Throughout my entire ministry, I have sought to exalt Jesus Christ rather than myself. I have purposed to be a strong Biblical preacher, and a faithful teacher of the Bible as the inspired Word of God. It has also been a special joy in my life to lead people to a personal knowledge of Christ in a one-to-one ministry. In every step of my life, I have prayerfully sought to find the will of God in each decision and the marvel of God's leading in my life is very evident.'

In his over 45 years of ministry, Pastor John led more than 200 people to a personal saving knowledge of Jesus Christ by personal witness, he baptized several hundred people and he influenced and blessed thousands by preaching and teaching every Sunday for over 45 years. He performed 215 weddings and conducted 282 funerals.

His life was Philippians 1:20 - "I eagerly expect and hope that I will in no way be ashamed, but will have sufficient courage so that now as always Christ will be exalted in my body, whether by life or by death."

John loved the High Sierras of CA, especially June Lake, where he vacationed and hiked and fished for over 40 years. He instilled a love for the beauty of God's creation and for the Lord in his family and friends. John is survived by his wife, Shirley; two sons by his first marriage: John Bruce Duvall (and wife Jeanine) and Mark Vernon Duvall (and wife Sue); two step-children: Jean Carnell Becker (and husband Warren) and John Paul Carnell (and wife Carol); seven grandchildren: Joanna Duvall, John Duvall, Paul Duvall, Timothy Becker, Janice Becker, Sarah Carnell Kerley and David Carnell; and two great- grandchildren: Joshua Kerley and Caleb Kerly.

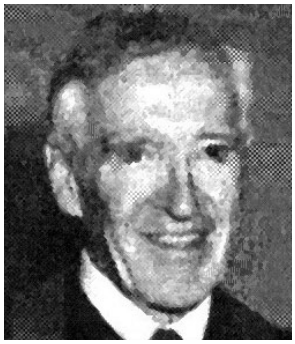
K. MORGAN EDWARDS

December 6, 1912 – May 12, 2003

EDWARDS, KENNETH MORGAN: (T.38; F.40) PHIL.; SC 39 (JAN 1) WILLIAMS; SCA 39; 41 (MAR) ROSEMEAD; 46 GLENDALE, FIRST; 51 (MAY 1) PASADENA: FIRST; 61 PROF. OF HOMILETICS, SO. CAL. SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY, CLAREMONT; PSW 77; 78 R'D (¶ 434.3); C-P 85 R'D.



K. Morgan Edwards was born to be a preacher. The seed was planted early when he was sent to live with his grandfather at the age of three, after his mother died. His grandfather was a Welsh Congregational Minister in Edwardsville, Pennsylvania. Morgan was the third of four sons born to Morgan O. and Helen Edwards. Subsequently his father married Della Ulsh.

K. Morgan graduated from Lebonan Valley College and earned his Master of Divinity at Drew Theological Seminary. He pastored his first church at the age of 19 and paid for his own education by preaching. He met his wife, Evelyn Sheetz, in Halifax, Pennsylvania. Morgan and Evelyn spent their honeymoon traveling west to their first parish in Williams, Arizona. When they pulled up in front of the parsonage, they found that it had not been painted in 60 years and every other board was missing in the boardwalk leading to the front door. Their first son, Ken, was born in 1940. In Rosemead, Morgan did graduate study and later taught part-time at the University of Southern California School of Religion. His second son, Lynn Harold, was born in 1941.

During World War 11, Morgan opposed the Japanese internment in America with such fervor that he was offered a one-way trip to Japan by a parishioner. While in Glendale, he received an honorary doctorate from USC in 1947. Consistent with what he had done in his previous pastorates, he developed a very active sports program in Glendale, comprised of 17 softball and volleyball teams. Third son, Bruce, was born in Glendale. Consistent with their habit of having one baby boy in each church they served, Morgan and Evelyn's youngest son, David, was born in Pasadena. Morgan received his second honorary doctorate degree from the California College of Medicine in 1955.

When coming west, Morgan brought with him a dream to establish a Methodist Seminary on the west coast. He worked with Bishop James C. Baker in an effort to actualize the dream. While pastoring in Pasadena, he also served as the President of the School of Theology Corporation. Fired with enthusiasm, Morgan raised the first million dollars to establish the seminary.

During the civil rights movement, he introduced legislation at the General Conference to rally around southern ministers who were being persecuted for supporting African Americans. To him, the highlight of his preaching career was realized when he was invited to preach at the 1964 General Conference in Pittsburgh. Dan Thrapp, former religion editor of the Los Angeles Times, said Morgan was "…generally recognized as one of the nation's foremost pulpit figures." That notwithstanding, at Dr. Colwell's persuasion, Morgan left the pastorate to become the first Professor of Preaching. He served at the School of Theology in Claremont until his retirement in 1978. He continued his ministry in his retirement, preaching until his voice was silenced by Parkinson's disease. He endured his "aloneness" caused by the disease with an unbelievably gracious spirit. It was truly a testimony to his deep-seated faith.

During his prestigious career he was invited to conduct numerous lectureships, published two books – Hoping to Be Somebody and More Than Survival, collaborated on others, wrote many articles for religious journals and periodicals and dabbled in poetry. The K. Morgan Edwards Chair of Preaching was established in his honor. In his final sermon, Morgan closed emphasizing, "…if you remember nothing more from my ministry, know that God loves you!"

Morgan is survived by his wife Evelyn, four sons and their wives, seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

CLIFFORD F. FUGATE

September 23, 1908 - January 4, 2003

FUGATE, CLIFF F. , (T.37; F.39) TROY; SCA 49 HOLTVILLE; 53 ALHAMBRA: MARENGO AVE.; 57 COSTA MESA, FIRST; 64 HUNTINGTON PARK; 67 S.D.: TRINITY; 73 BLYTHE; 75 R'D; PSW 77; C-P 85 R'D

Cliff Fugate was born in Ohio City, Ohio on September 23, 1908. Primary schooling was received in a one-room school house in the country and a diploma from a high school nearby. Transportation to high school was a horse and buggy.

In 1925, he entered the Methodist-sponsored Ohio Northern University. The following summer, his father was suddenly stricken and died. For the next three years, he operated the farm, making a home for his mother and younger brother, Howard. He re-entered Ohio Northern University in the spring of 1930, receiving his A.B. in 1932 and then entered Boston University School of Theology. Pauline Remagen and he were married in 1933, taking up their residence in Boston. Together, they strug gled through the Great Depression to maintain a home and further their education. Cliff received his Bachelor of Sacred Theology in 1935 and a Masters in 1936.

Cliff served many churches in the Adirondack Mountains and Green Mountains of Vermont. During these years, they were blessed with three children: Paul, Linda and Phyllis. In 1949, they moved to Southern California and served both rural and urban churches until his retirement in 1975.

Cliff and Polly chose to retire in San Diego. Even after retirement, Cliff was very active in the Christian Ecumenical Movement, serving on the board. Also for a number of years, Cliff broadcast the religious news for the radio station of KFMB in San Diego. Additionally, he served on the board of Senior Adult Services in San Diego and was instrumental in the Meals on Wheels Program in San Diego. After 56 years of marriage, including more than eight years as a victim of Alzheimers, Polly was received in the church triumphant in 1989.

In 1995, Cliff had a chance of second love and married Magee Lang, They had 2-1/2 years together before she passed away in 1998.

Upon the insistence of his two daughters, Cliff left San Diego in 2000 and moved into Quaker Gardens, which allowed him to join with his family in celebrations and holidays and still be able to maintain his own independence. At Quaker Gardens, Cliff was able to participate in the book club by reading to others and giving reviews on books he read.

The day before his 94th birthday in September of 2002, Cliff preached his last sermon at Quaker Gardens. This was a terrific achievement as he had not preached for over 20 years. His voice was strong and his sermon touched the hearts of many. This was very special for Cliff because all of his family was there to hear him preach.

Cliff passed away January 4, 2003 and joined His Lord who he served all his life. He is survived by three children, five grandchildren and five great grandchildren. His kind and gentle passage through life affected all those who knew and loved him.

DORTHEA "DOT" MAE GRAHAM

May 21, 1920 - February 26, 2003

GRAHAM, DORTHEA MAE, 81 GLENDALE FIRST; 82 FIRST GLENDALE; 86 CHATSWORTH; C-P 90 R'TD

Dot was born on May 21, 1920 in her grandparent's living room in Spur, Texas. She had many sweet memories of growing up in and around Spur. She finished high school in three years, attended college for two years and received a teacher's certificate. Her first job was a one-teacher school with seven students.

She was married to Denton by the Methodist preacher on September 2, 1941. Their first home cost $8200 with her parents sending the down payment of $135 as they hadn't been able to save that much. Denton died in March of 1968. "A Carol Changes Tune" was about her first Christmas without him.

Her life included a sense of self-reliance and life-long concerns for justice and for the poor. She had many friends and kept them close. Dot's personal expectations were modest, yet her Christian pilmgrimage had lofty aims. She was fond of saying, "I've walked thru many doors others have opened for me." She taught Sunday School in her youth, held every office in the Women's Society of Christian Service, helped form the UMW and served as Conference President. The Rev. Ken Watson and Mildred Hutchinson were her mentors and will welcome her into her new home!

In 1977, Dot served on the staff of Glendale First United Methodist Church. No task was too small nor was anything too difficult. She helped shape the Ministry of Friendship Days which took mostly Seniors to theatre, concerts and travel opportunities. Everyone benefitted from her personal ministry.

In 1986, she served as Administrative Secretary to Rev. Dr. Don Locher, then the Superin- tendent of the Santa Barbara District. During this time, Dot experienced the call to further ministry and qualified as a Certified Local Pastor. She then served as Associate Pastor of North Hollywood United Methodist Church. Her movie reviews in the Church newsletter were widely read and highly valued. These churches and ministries were special beneficiaries of her pilgrimage and faith.

Through all of this busy life, Dot loved her family and took such delight in their activities and each one's accomplishments! Her pride in them made her a wonderful and loving mother, grandmother & great grandmother. Dot & Denton were blessed with two children: Barbara (married to Bill Harris, children Ron & Anne and great granddaughter, Elisha) and Denny (married to Sue, children Rex & Ashley).

In 1994, Dot retired and moved to Talent, Oregon where she became a loved and valuable part of Ashland United Methodist Church as well as being active in PEO and the Hospital Auxiliary.

Dot proved that goodness is never out of style! She was a true friend and lived with a unique gift of the real "joy of living!"

There was only one Dot! How we will miss her. Thank you, and 'well done, thou good and faithful servant' and special friend.'

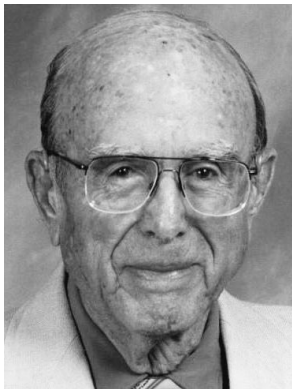
DAVID RICHARD HOUGHTON

September 22, 1913 - November 25, 2002

HOUGHTON, DAVID R. (T.45; F.51) SCA 45 SAN PEDRO: GRAND VIEW; 48 SCHOOL; 51 PROTESTANT CHAPLAIN, CAMARILLO STATE HOSP.; 73 S'Y; 74 R'D; C-P 85 R'D



David R. Houghton decided for the ministry after graduation from Jr. College in 1934.

David went to Anderson College in Anderson, in 1936 to pursue his college career and in preparation for the Ministry of the Church of God. He found himself restive with the doctrines and churchmanship of the Church of God and, when nearly through with his Seminary training, was challenged by Dr. Harold Case to consider ministry in the Methodist Church. He did decide to become a Methodist and was licensed as a Local Preacher in the Spring of 1944. He became an assistant pastor at the El Centro Methodist Church under Hayden Sears.

In 1945, he was elected and ordained a Deacon in the Southern California/Arizona Annual Conference. His first assign ment was to the Grandview Methodist Church in San Pedro.

After three years at the San Pedro Church, David felt the need for further training. He embarked on a program of Clinical Training with the Council of Clinical Training, Inc. His training included time spent at Norristown State Hospital in Pennsylvania, at the Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia and concluded at the St. Elizabeths Hospital in Washington, D. C.

In 1951, he was offered the new position of Protestant Chaplain at Camarillo State Hospital in Camarillo, CA. He spent nearly 22 years there as Chaplain to the mentally ill in what, for most of the time, was the largest CA hospital with 7100 patients, at one time.

In his time at the Hospital, he never lost sight of being part of the Methodist Church. He served on the Conference Relations Committee for two terms and then became a part of the Board of Ordained Ministry where he served until just a year before his early retirement.

In 1961, he was chosen, with his wife, to lead the Youth Work Team to Peru and they went with 15 young people to the jungles of Peru to build a school/church for the Campo Indians.

After retirement from both the Chaplaincy and the Active Ministry, David became a licensed Marriage and Family Counselor and worked with the American Institute of Family Relations until his final retirement and move to the Desert in 1983.

His final time of ministry was from 1988 to 1992 when he became assistant minister at the United Methodist Church in Palm Springs - a most rewarding part of his life. Upon retiring from that position in December 1992, David went on with his hobby of publishing the church newsletter.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters; a son; 2 step-sons; 9 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.

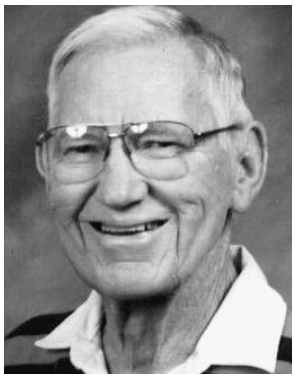
WENDELL W. JONES

Nov. 6, 1924 - Nov. 17, 2002

JONES, WENDELL W. , (T.57; F.62) EUB CAL.; SCA 69 LB: EVANGELICAL; 75 ANAHEIM: TRINITY; PSW 77; 79 PEARBLOSSOM; C-P 85; 90 R'D (¶451.2C)



Wendell was born in Lomita, California on November 6, 1924. His dad was a carpenter, and his mom a homemaker. He had 5 siblings in the home and was brought up in the Presbyterian church.

He was in World War II from 1945-1947, serving two years overseas in the Philippines and Japan. Wendell came home and married Virginia Stanton. They were married for 55 years.

Rev. Jones went to U.C.L.A. and graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in Speech-English. He then entered Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, graduat ing with a Bachelor of Divinity. Wendell also attended the Graduate School of Theology in Glendale. During these years of study, he was a Youth Director and also Camp Leader at several summer church camps at Tahquitz Pines, CA. The kids and Wendell had great times together.

Wendell was licensed to preach in 1957 with the Evangelical United Brethren and was given his certificate of Ordination from the E.U.B.s in 1962. He served two E.U.B. churches as an Active Probationer, two E.U.B. churches as Itinerant Elder and three United Methodist churches - altogether, he was in the ministry for 33 years.

Two years before he retired in 1990, he went on dialysis and was on the machine for 14 years. The last two years, he had pain most of the time. During this time, he read the scriptures night and day, had some Bible studies; and, despite all his health problems, Wendell kept plugging right along. He knew the Bible from front to back and shared his faith to all and always had time for a funny story, joke or song.

As of November 17, 2002, Wendell went to his heavenly home without sickness and pain. The Bible says, "... to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord."

Rev. Jones is survived by his loving wife, Virginia of Bodfish, CA; a son Stan of Bodfish; a son Tim and wife Laurie and 2 grandsons (Dylan and Dustin) of Fresno, CA; a daughter Wendy of Santa Barbara; one brother, Robert of Manhattan Beach, CA; and several nieces and nephews.

VIRGINIA JONES

Always there for everyone,
With prayers and care and love.
He always knew just what to say
With guidance from above.

He knew his Bible, front to back
And in a voice rich and loud
He spoke of his faith to everyone
Whether small group or large crowd.

Despite all his health problems
He kept plugging right along.
He always did have time for
A funny story, joke or song.

Wendell we will miss you,
In our hearts you will remain.
You've gone on to heaven
Without sickness and pain.

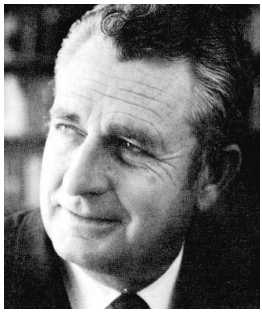
CHARLES A. McCLAIN

May 20, 1923 -June 30, 2002

MCCLAIN, CHARLES A., 55 INDIO FIRST; 59 BURBANK FIRST; 65 SAN DIEGO FIRST; 76 BORREGO SPRINGS COMM; 78 LAS VEGAS FIRST; 80 LV AB; 82 SAN CLEMNT ST ANDREWS; C-P 89 RTD



C.A. (as many liked to call him) was born on May 20, 1923 in Honeypath, South Carolina. He was the twelfth of thirteen children; five of the six boys became preachers. He received his seminary education at USC School of Religion (now Claremont School of Theology). He served three Nazarene churches and seven United Methodist churches as diverse as Borrego Springs and San Diego First.

He was chaplain to the San Diego Chargers for many years, wrote "Daily Prayer" section for the San Diego Union- Tribune, and authored two books. Golf was one of C.A.'s true loves; at one time he had a handicap of four. He was picketed by the John Birch Society, spoke against the Vietnam War, defended the rights of gays and lesbians.

The center of C.A.'s career was the years at San Diego's First United Methodist Church. The Church has just relocated from the downtown and had a tremendous debt – the largest per capita of any United Methodist church in the nation. By 1971 the Church had become the largest in Sunday morning attendance of any United Methodist Church on the West Coast. He promoted the church as a cultural center inviting Duke Ellington, E. Power Biggs, and Randall Thompson to be a part of the ministry there.

In January of 2002 he moved to Mesa, Arizona from his home at Casa de Mañana in La Jolla to reunite with his first wife of 26 years, Nadine Huston. He was in remarkably good health until suffering a major stroke on June 25 and died June 30.

He loved to use humor and wit in sermons and daily conversations. Just a few weeks before his death he told his daughter-in-law to pray while playing golf. With a pause of perfect timing he continued, "Praying will help you keep your head down!"

He continued to learn throughout his life. When his parishioners in Coronado told him they wanted a healing service, he asked a neighbor pastor to come and teach him and other members about this ministry.

He communicated because he wanted Christians to participate in the elimination of discrimination, complacency, and oppression. He wanted results not only in terms of numbers; but, in terms of changed lives.

The world is different because of his life. No one can ask for more!

YASUHARU OSUGA

January 8, 1894 - August 22, 2002

OSUGA, YASUHARU, (T.32; F.36) PJ MISSION, 39 PJ ORE; R'D; 64 SCA R'D; PSW 77; C-P 85 R'D

Yasuharu Osuga was born on January 8, 1894 in Yamanashiken, Japan, the fourth of seven children born to Sleizo and Teruyo Osuga.

In 1911, Yasuharu came to the United States at age 17 to join his brothers who were in the laundry business in Sacra mento, CA. The Osuga brothers worked hard to purchase a dry- cleaning business, and Yasuharu went to Chicago in 1923 to attend a dry-cleaning and dyeing school, returning to train his brothers in the trade.

After listening to local street evangelists, such as Wesley and Yamaka's father, the Reverend Yamaka, and Mr. Rikimaru of San Mateo, CA, Yasuharu became a Christian and was inspired to attend the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. He went on to Brothers College and Divinity School at Drew University in New Jersey from 1928 to 1932. His first church was the San Jose Japanese Methodist in San Jose, CA, where he served from September 1931 to March 1932. He returned to Japan to attend Aoyama Gakuin before returning to the ministry in San Jose in 1933.

On March 1, 1934, Yasuharu married Tamayo Ashikaga and they had two daughters, Jean and Ruth.

At the outset of World War II in 1941, he was relocated with his congregation to Santa Anita and later to Heart Mountain, Wyoming. In May 1945, he returned to San Jose to serve the Palto and Mountain View churches. In 1953, he was appointed to the Epworth Methodist Church in Portland, Oregon and also the Hood River church, where he served until his retirement in 1961.

After retirement, Yasuharu and Tamayo moved with Jean to Long Beach, CA. When Sam and Jean relocated to Simi Valley in 1971, Yasuharu and Tamayo moved with them. In retirement, Yasuharu enjoyed his bonsai trees, the Los Angeles Dodgers, his grandchildren and his great-grandchildren.

One story exemplifies the full and happy life Yasuharu lived. While in the internment camp, there was an emergency need for blood. Because there were not enough volunteers, Yasuharu gave more than one pint, but his circulatory system collapsed and he had a near-death experience. He always told his family that he had been told to go back because he had more work to accomplish in this world. He could not have been more right.

He was predeceased by his wife, Tamayo, in 1987. He is survived by his daughters, Jean Dote and Ruth Inatomi, five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

TEVITA SIAOSI

February 12, 1942 - August 29, 2002

SIAOSI, TEVITA, 2 PL) 82 KILOHANA, 88 PEARL CITY, 98 HILO, 01 EWA BEACH

Tevita Siaosi was the 4th son of Lupipepa Ngaue and Siaosi Fele'unga, born February 12, 1942 in Vaotu'u Tonga. He had 4 brothers: Makelani, Semisi, Tinitale, Tanuhala and 2 sisters: Seluvaia Tupou and Siokapesi Maka'afi.

On August 29th, Rev. Siaosi went home to be with his Lord, leaving behind his wife, Kelemeni Feleunga and 2 sons, Sepuloni and Siaosi and 2 beautiful daughters, Luisa Nisa and Munakivaha Fonua and 6 wonderful grandchildren.

He started in Vaotu'u primary school, then to Nuku'alofa middle school, continuing on to Kolisi ko Tupou in 1960-1964. From there, he got accepted to Siatoutai ministry school of Tonga 1965-1968.

From 1969-1974, he was teaching in Nukunuku school. On September 25, 1976, he moved his family from Tonga, searching for a better education for the children in Hawaii.

He started his ministry at Kilohana United Methodist Church in 1978-1982 being a clergy, when Rev. Siaosi decided to give his life to God as a servant. He then became the Minister there to 1989..

From 1989-1994, he relocated to Trinity UMC, moving to Lihue UMC from 1994-1998. Also in 1994, he became the Co-Ordinator for the Hawaii District. From 1998-2001, he was reappointed to Hilo UMC, then to Ewa UMC where God decided it was time for him to come home.

Rev. Siaosi was a compassionate minister, loving husband and a wonderful father. He had a mission in life which was to serve God and he loved it! He took his job to heart. When it became conference time, it didn't matter to him if he was reappointed to another church because he knew God's people are needed everywhere. He was a very understanding minister and cared a great deal about the people of the church. In fact, every time he had to relocate, members of the congregation followed him. This was hard on him because he had to make them go back. But the friendship and love carried on. Everyone who worked with him, or just knew him, loved him. He was a man with power, honor, dignity and a happy, gentle, funny, kind, yet very simple type of a pastor whom everybody loved and adored.

My father had a dream. A dream where one day, before retiring, he would be given the chance to return "home" to Tonga and serve God and its people. It was a vision he had and it was to become reality in June 2003. Instead, in August, 2002, God had a bigger dream and that was for Rev. Siaosi to return "home" which is "Heaven" to be with Him.

We truly miss the presence of Rev. Siaosi, our father. As a father, he was the best dad any child could have. He was tough with discipline, yet very loving and understanding. No matter how busy he was with church. He always had time for the children. This wasn't easy, but that was just the kind of father he was. We are so proud of our father.

As a husband, he was very compassionate. He went everywhere with his wife, Kelemeni. She was the backbone of his life. They were a match from Heaven. When she was sad or disappointed, he used laughter as a way to get her laughing. This is what she misses the most now: his humor and love.

Rev. Tevita Siaosi will be deeply missed, but those who survive him remain grateful for his life. He will also be remembered for his dedication in spreading of Christ's message and love he had to so many people. He was a true shepherd of God. May his heart rest at peace.

HELEN MAY SMITH

March 13, 1921 - January 9, 2003

SMITH, HELEN MAY - COMMISSIONED 1946; APPOINTED DEACONESS 1956; CONSECRATED DIACONAL MINISTER 1977

Helen May Smith was born March 13, 1921 in Los Angeles, CA. She was raised in San Pedro, CA. Her parents, John and Zelda Smith, took her to the First Methodist Church of San Pedro where she became a member at age 8. She attended the local schools, graduating from San Pedro High School in 1939 and then graduating from Compton Jr. College.

During the World War II years, Helen worked for the U. S. Government as a "censor" of mail to and from U. S. Military personnel. At this time, she was active in the San Pedro Methodist Church, serving as a volunteer Director of Youth. It was during the latter experience that she made her decision to become a deaconess.

Helen May received an AA from Compton Jr. College, a BA Degree at U.C.L.A. in Los Angeles, CA, going on to Scarritt College in Nashville, TN and graduating in 1947 with a MA Degree. She majored in Christian Education and minored in social group work, later returning for courses in gerontology.

She was commissioned a deaconess by the Methodist Board of Missions in December, 1946.

In June 1977, she was consecrated a Diaconal Minister of the United Methodist Church. In 1978, the National Federation of Settlements and Centers awarded her their "Outstanding Achievement Award" for her work at Toberman.

At each of her assignments, she motivated people to become self-reliant. Recognizing their talents, she encouraged them to use their talents to help others.

Helen May's love of life, devotion to God and her energetic personality were great assets as she served in the following appointments: Seattle, WA; Denver, CO, Japanese Methodist churches; Wesley House, Meridian, MS; Methodist churches in Ventura and Gardena, CA; Wesley Community Center, Phoenix, AZ; All Nation Foundation's Neighborhood Center, Los Angeles, CA; and Toberman Settlement House, San Pedro, CA.

At these appointments, she wore many hats. She was an organizer, gaining support for settlement homes from local churches. Helen May was a Director of Christian Education. She was an Executive Director, establishing a Board of Directors in a community center with an active core of volunteers. She also directed and supervised programs for all ages.

Retiring from Toberman in 1986, she moved to Kingsley Manor Retirement Home in Los Angeles. She served as President of the Resident Council for several years, prepared the bulletin for the weekly chapel and assisted with their Memorial Day service. She had just celebrated 56 years of being a deaconess in December, 2002.

She will be especially remembered by relatives and friends for never forgetting to send birthday and anniversary greetings. Every year, she faithfully marked her calendar. It was just too important to her. When she sent her nephew a birthday card, his daughter Kelly said, 'That card can't be from Great Aunt Helen May because it doesn't have a dollar in it!' We will always remember her because she always remembered us.

Helen May is survived by her sister, Phyllis Averill, two nieces, one nephew, their families, many cousins and friends.

"Let your way of life be free from the love of money, being content with what you have: for He Himself has said, 'I WILL NEVER DESERT YOU, NOR WILL I EVER FORSAKE YOU.'" Hebrews 13:5

CHARLES ENNIS WASHINGTON

May 12, 1947 - July 15, 2002

WASHINGTON, CHARLES E., (P. F.) NO. W. TEXAS; C-P 91 (JAN 1) PERRIS MINISTRY; 93 COMPTON: FIRST; 96 GARDENA: HOLLYPARK

Affectionately known as Pastor, Charles Ennis Washington was born May 12, 1947, the only child of Willard Ennis and Mildred Louise Washington in Jefferson, TX. Charles was raised in Dallas, TX and accepted Christ into his life at an early age. He and his parents joined St. Luke UMC, later transferring to St. Paul UMC.

Charles attended public schools and graduated from Lincoln High School in 1965, when he was given a football scholarship to Hampton University in Virginia. After leaving Hampton, Charles returned to Dallas and worked for Collins Radio, Sears Catalog and Uniroyal.

As Charles continued his membership at St. Paul, he realized that he was being called to do the Lord's work and he began his ministry career studying under his mentor, Rev. I. B. Loud. Deter mined, he completed his Ministerial Course of Study at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in 1978. Shortly thereafter, he was given his first full-time position as senior pastor at Bracks UMC in Waco, TX. While pastoring at Bracks, Rev. Washington attended Paul Quinn College, completing a Bachelor of Sciences Degree, with a major in History and minor in Sociology, finishing in the top ten per cent of his class.

In 1981, fate and the Lord led him to his soul mate, Janice Hall. They were united in marriage on September 3, 1983 in Waco, TX where he successfully continued to further his career and walk with Christ on his side.

Charles served his internship as Assistant Campus Minister for the Baylor Wesley Foundation in order to complete his Master of Divinity; and, in 1985, he graduated from the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University. Rev. Washington and his family lived in Waco until 1987, when he was appointed Senior Pastor at Camp Wisdom UMC in Dallas, TX. Over the next couple of years, Charles and his family remained in Dallas, continuing to build up his membership and mentor to his faithful members.

In 1991, they were relocated to California, where Charles served as founding pastor at Perris Valley Ministries of the UMC in Moreno Valley, CA. Pastor Washington was later appointed as senior pastor at First UMC of Compton in Compton, CA. In 1996, Rev. Washington was appointed to Hollypark UMC in Gardena, CA, where he served as senior pastor until the time of his passing.

Charles served on various committees during his 25 years of ministry, receiving numerous awards, plaques and certificates. Charles possessed an aura that made anyone in his presence have the feeling of greatness. He was sweet, kind, honest, forgiving, generous, understanding and humble, no matter what the circumstance and he never complained.

Even with such a busy schedule, between preaching sermons and counseling church members, he still found time for his family. He was always there to offer an ear and words of encouragement to all. Charles can also be remembered for his love of cooking and working on cars. He kept up with the latest technology and preferred to do it his way.

A husband, father, nephew, uncle and friend leaves to bless his life and mourn his loss, a loving and devoted wife of 18 years, Janice Washington; two daughters, Anitra Washington of San Bernardino, CA and Cecily Washington of Gardena, CA; one son, Benjamin Washington of Gardena, CA; two aunts, Thelma (Rodgers) Garmon of Inglewood, CA and Jessie B. Stiggers of Dallas, TX; a special mother-in-law, Mozelle McCrimmon of Waco, TX; and, a very devoted niece, Latoria McCrimmon of Waco, TX; eight sisters-in- law and five brothers-in-law; his Hollypark family and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, relatives and friends who are grateful for the life he lived and commend him to God as a faithful and obedient servant.

KENNETH WATSON

January 10, 1913 - October 19, 2002

WATSON, KENNETH, (T.47; F.49) E.OKLA.; SCA 63 HAWTHORNE; 74 HOLLYWOOD, FIRST; PSW 77; C-P 85 R'D.

The Reverend Kenneth Watson was born in Sepulpa, Oklahoma, the second of three children. He became orphaned as a teenager and lived on the streets, supporting himself in part by delivering newspapers for The Tulsa Tribune. He would devote most of his adult life to helping others, including homeless and hungry families of Los Angeles, make a better life for themselves through his tireless, impassioned and inspiring work in the religious, labor and political sectors.

Ken worked as an electrician and minister while putting himself through college and supporting his beloved wife of 50 years, Marie (who preceded him in death in 1986) and their daughter Mary Ann. He graduated from The University of Tulsa in 1948 and Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas in 1952, receiving his Doctor of Theology degree in Social Ethics at The School of Theology at Claremont, CA in 1960.

Ken served as a supply pastor and minister at small Methodist churches in Oklahoma and Texas in the late 1940's and early 1950's. In 1952, he moved to California and ministered at The Garvanza Methodist Church in Los Angeles.

At the invitation of Bishop James C. Baker, Ken served as a liaison between the church and organized labor. He continued to hold this position while serving as a minister for two churches in the Pacific Southwest Conference of the United Methodist Church. His doctoral dissertation, "The Religious Affiliation, Motivation and Opinions of Business and Labor Leaders," led to his appointment in 1960- 1963 as Executive Director of the Religion and Labor Council of America in Washington, D.C., where Ken and Marie lived during those years. Ken and Marie returned to California in 1963. For the next nine years, Ken served as minister of the First United Methodist Church of Hawthorne. During this time, he wrote and published a book of prayers. "If such use of these prayers can help those who are worshiping to move toward a Quickening of the spirit, then they have served their purpose" he wrote, "then perhaps one is justified for taking the time to write them." A consummate and often humorous storyteller in his sermon writing, Ken also wrote articles for Methodist publications Together, Concern and Christian Advocate as well as Religion and Labor, Christian Century and Pulpit Digest.

From 1974-1985, Ken served as minister of the First United Methodist Church of Hollywood. During his tenure there, in 1984, he co-founded The Family Assistance Program of Hollywood, which provided homes, shelter, food, education and counseling to more than 3,000 underprivileged families in its seventeen years of serving the community.

Ken's retirement from the ministry in 1985 did not slow him down. He was asked by then- California Senator Pro-Tem David Roberti to work as a field representative in the senator's Los Angeles office. For the next seven years, Ken used his political influence, determined spirit and generous heart to help Los Angeles' disenfranchised cut through bureaucratic red tape and improve their communities, as well as their personal well-being. Ken remained active in charitable work until his death.

Ken is loved, missed and survived by his daughter, Mary Ann Owen of North Hollywood; sister, Imogene Watson of Denver; grandson Ken Owen of North Hollywood; grandson Michael Owen and his wife Jodi of So. Lake Tahoe; great-grandchildren Aaron, Micah, David and Beckah Owen of So. Lake Tahoe; niece, Herbetta Mann; and great-nephew Chris Mann of Venice.

Rev. Ennis was born April 16, 1910 in Hannibal, Missouri. Rev. Ennis' father was a Methodist minister and his mother was a school teacher. Ministry and music were equal forces in his life. At age thirteen, Rev. Whaley played the trumpet in his high school band. He was a quarterback and linebacker on his high school and college teams.

During the years 1928 through 1936, Rev. Ennis played with jazz orchestras and toured with his own band. He joined the ministry in 1936 and retired from the ministry in 1979.

On September 16, 1931, Rev. Ennis married Ruth Elizabeth and enjoyed that loving relationship for seventy-one years.

They have one boy (Ennis McClanahan Whaley) and four daughters (Constance Williams, Marilyn Winters, Patricia Hooks and Charlene Smith Kraft).

They have fourteen grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

Rev. Whaley continued to be involved with music and the church until he died.

"I am the resurrection and the life." John 11:25

GEORGINA FERNANDEZ ALFARO

August 13, 1918 - March 12, 2003

ALFARO, PAULINO, (F) PERU; C-P 85 HAWTHORNE, ASSOC; 87 PICO RIVERA; 88 SA: EL GETSEMANI; 90 R'D ¶ 451.2C)

Georgina was born in Concepcion, Huancayo, Peru. Her mother, Herminia de la Puente, got married to Gamaniel Fernandez when Georgina was 1-1/2 years old. At that time, Mr. Fernandez converted to Evangelist Faith and later became a preacher to the Methodist Church, until his death.

At the age of 8, Georgina was baptized in the Mantaro River with other believers. Since then, she has given her heart and life to Jesus Christ, dedicating her services to the church until her death.

Georgina had the chance to meet her biological father when she was 14, but she never accepted him as her father - only Gamaniel was her real father. She acquired a grant for her high school and later on she continued her education in nursing at the British American Hospital with funds from the American Missionaries, which she admired all her life.

She was one of 9 brothers and sisters - to be exact, she was the elder of them. She helped to educate them after her stepfather passed away. One is a pastor, three are teachers, one is a dentist and another is a nurse. They were very active members of the church.

In 1945, Georgina became the first deaconess of the Methodist Church in Peru. On December 19, 1946, she married Paulino Alfaro and, while her husband was studying theology in Buenos Aires, Argentina, Georgina was sent to Chile to work with the native "Mapuches." Later in her life, she had different pastoral positions in Peru until she came to the United States in 1983.

In California, they went to the Methodist Church in Hawthorne and were welcomed with open arms by the Pastor Brian Sanderson and the rest of the congregation, even though they had language barriers. They felt at home. They were assigned to work for the Spanish Community, of which they share the hope in God. They also worked with the Gardena, Pico Rivera Churches. In 1988, they were transferred to the Gethsemane United Methodist Church of Santa Ana.

Georgina and Paulino were retired in 1990. Even though they retired, they were still active with the Gethsemane Methodist Church, until Georgina's death on March 12, 2003.

They have four children: Abel, David, Anna Maria and Paul, as well as eleven grandchildren.

MARY ELEANORE JAMES-DOUGHERTY

December 30, 1916 - August 19, 2002

DOUGHERTY, VICKREY,

Mary Eleanore Padrick was born in San Diego, CA on December 30, 1916, the youngest of three children born to Arthur Lindsey and Mary Elizabeth Sturgis Padrick. She was educated in Alhambra and Inglewood schools, attended Sawyer Business College and graduated from Chapman College in 1939 with a B.A. degree.

While at Chapman, Eleanore met her future husband, Gordon Hunter James. She traveled to Boston where Gordon was a student at Boston University School of Theology and married on September 10, 1939.

Mom was a devoted helpmate to dad in his ministry, serving as secretary, choir & bell director, Sunday School teacher, camp counselor, UMW officer and even camp nurse. She worked tirelessly at his side in later years serving with the Joint Commis sion on Church Extension in Mexico. After we children were grown, mom worked outside the home as a secretary, clerk and bookkeeper. She could also hold her own singing and playing the piano and violin.

Eleanore had many hobbies including sewing, crocheting, embroidery, block printing, leather work, Indian bead work, flower arranging, 'contesting' and lots of writing. Her writing has included church programs, installations and devotionals, poetry, meditations for Upper Room, greeting card verses and, at her death, she was actively engaged in writing her first novel. She has also worked extensively as our Padrick family genealogist, publishing the Padrick family story and her own autobiography.

Following dad's death on September 20, 1992, mom moved to Claremont Manor where she and Rev. Dougherty renewed a 50–year friendship. They were married December 30, 1995 with the complete support of both families. Vic's earthly life was finished on January 1, 2001, two days after their 5th anniversary.

Mom found herself 'the last one' upon the death of her brother James on June 30, 2002. As she was joyfully planning for a family memorial service for James, she suffered a fall, rendering her unable to attend the service, with her arm broken in several places and injuries to her legs and back. She left her earthly home and the pain & suffering there to be with the Angels gone before on August 19, 2002. We lovingly released her.

Eleanore leaves behind daughter Esther Sampson-Graham and husband George; son William James and wife Evelyn; daughter Carol Falde; 5 grandchildren; 5 great-grandchildren; and, sister-in-law Hazel James Monoghan.

"Weep Not Dear Friends" by Mary Eleanor Padrick, 1937

Weep not dear friends, because I now take leave.
Of this the mortal world, nay, do not grieve
Be glad that I remembered to the end
The face and friendship of each one, And send Me on my way to greater peace and joy
Hearing happy songs your tongues employ.
Tis but one short step now, 'tween here and there
And then I will be free of worldly care -
Free to fulfill the greater newer task
Which now the Lord of Love and Life doth ask.

Martha Mifflin was born in West Frankfort, IL on July 10, 1916. She was one of ten children, five of whom died in infancy. In 1925, the tri-state tornado ripped through West Frankfort, perma nently injuring one of her brothers; Martha suffered a concussion and bore the scars from that experience her entire life. Never one to shy away from a challenge, in 1932, Martha, one of her brothers, a sister and her husband, drove from IL to Tucson in a Model T Ford. They began their trip with a total of about $3.00 between them. Along the way, they were able to get handouts in towns they passed through and their Model T suffered 62 flat tires during the journey.

In Tucson, Martha met Powell Green, who was working for the Civilian Conservation Corps and in 1936, they married and moved shortly afterward to Conway, AR where Powell went to college and Martha ran a cooperative dormitory for about 17 students. Their daughter, Lynda, was born there in 1939. In 1944, they moved to IL where Powell attended Garrett Biblical Institute and their son John was born in 1947. When he was six weeks old, Martha took both children (Lynda now eight) and made the journey by train back to Tucson, then Phoenix where Powell was appointed associate at Central Methodist Church. After 3 years, they moved to Scottsdale, then to several locations in Los Angeles and then to Winslow, AZ. Finally, in 1971, Powell retired and they located in Redlands, CA After Powell became ill, they moved back to Tucson, AZ where he died in 1976.

Martha was never the "typical" minister's wife. While in Scottsdale, she began working in retail sales to help the family make ends meet. Later, she found her profession and proceeded to work as a dental assistant for the next 20 years. At one point, Martha served as an executive officer for the Arizona Dental Assistants Association. Even while working full time, she more than fulfilled her obligations to the church: she attended meetings, cooked for large groups of ministers and their wives on retreats to Mingus Mountain (among other places), was the unofficial assistant in Powell's ministry and she was the glue that held their family together.

In 1984, Martha moved to San Diego to be nearer her daughter and she located in University City Village, where she became active in the residents' organizations, serving as President of The Women's Club several times. Her health began to deteriorate and, after struggling with osteoporosis and macular degeneration for some time, in 1999 Martha finally moved to Fredericka Manor in Chula Vista. Even with her sight and mobility severely limited, she got to know most of her neighbors and many of the staff - while she couldn't see them, she recognized them by their outlines. Eventually, she was able to walk even short distances and she moved into the Care Center at the facility.

On October 8, 2002, Martha died with her family all around her. To the end, her indomitable spirit moved everyone who came to know her. She is survived by her daughter, Lynda Green Corbin, and her son, John Green; grandchildren John, Andy and Amy, and adopted granddaughter, Candace.

Ruth Lowe was born in Sac City, Iowa on April 18, 1916. She had a brother, Bill, who was two years younger than her. Her parents moved to Pasadena, California in 1923. Ruth often said she spent most of her life moving. Her father was a fixer- upper: buy a house, fix it up and then sell it so he could buy another one. Although she lived in Pasadena, Ruth attended six different elementary schools before going to Junior High in the 7th grade.

Ruth lived in Pasadena until she married Vernon Isaiah Lowe on October 30, 1938 and moved to Los Angeles. They had two children: Jerrie and Roger. When Jerrie was 9, and Roger was 2, they moved to Baldwin Park. In 1955, Vernon started to study for the ministry. Ruth started to work as a Floral Designer to earn extra money for Vernon's studies, books, etc. In 1965, Vernon was ordained as a minister. Then the moving started again, moving six times until 1974, when Vernon retired from the ministry because of bad health. In 1983, they moved to Baker Homes where they lived together until Vernon's death in May, 1985. Ruth continued to live there until August 8, 2002, when she passed away, joining Vernon.

Ruth Lowe's legacy: 2 children: Jerrie (John) Ellis and Roger (Jan) Lowe; 4 grandchildren: Allen (Terry) Holley, Terri (Rick) Northcutt, Sue (Steve) Ernst and Steve (Eileen) Lowe; 3 step grandchildren: John, Dan and Steve Ellis; 10 great grandchildren: Nick, Sarah, David, Christopher, Kevin, Jacob, Mellissa, Cody, Tyler and Sarina; 7 step great grandchildren: Courtney, Joseph, Anastasia, Timothy, Samantha, Kasandra and Nicolas; 4 nephews and nieces: Jerry Rebendall, Bob Lowe, Doug Lowe and Virginia McDermott; and sister-in-law, Virginia Robendall.

"Her love as a mother
Her love as a wife
Nothing ever was a bother
No matter what went wrong in life
Life without her might seem a burden
But just remember she's in heave with Vernon." by Steven Lowe

Printed by request of Ruth Lowe:

God saw she was getting tired
And a cure was not to be
So he put His arms around her
And whispered, "come with me."
With tearful eyes we watch you suffer
And saw you fade away.
Although we love you dearly
We could not make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest,
God broke our hearts to prove,
He only takes the best.

It's lonesome here without her,
We miss her more each day,
Life doesn't seem the same
Since she has gone away.
When days are sad and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
We seem to hear her whisper
"Cheer up and carry on,"
Each time we see her picture,
She seems to smile and say,
"Don't cry, I'm in God's hands, We'll meet again someday."

MARY de GUZMAN MAKAPAGAL

March 9, 1908 - March 31, 2003

MAKAPAGAL, BRAULIO T. "MAC" , C-P, DIED 61

On March 31, 2003, at the age of 95 years and 23 days, Mary de Guzman Makapagal, a faithful servant of the Lord Jesus, passed from this life into Eternal Rest after a brief illness. Surrounded by her three children, Mary made that final crossing and was no doubt met on the other side by her husband, the late Reverend Braulio T. Makapagal, who passed away in 1961.

Mary de Guzman Makapagal was born in Malolos, Bulacan, Philippines, on March 9, 1908, the second child of Maria dela Fuente de Guzman and Vicente de Guzman. In 1912, the family moved to Hawaii under contract to the Hawaii Sugar Planter's Association and were sent first to Kauai, then the Big Island of Hawaii and finally to Maui. As a child, Mary attended Sunday School, where she first heard the story of Jesus. From childhood, she knew she wanted to serve the Lord.

Mary met her future husband first in 1923, when she was in Honolulu for the summer and again in 1927 at the annual conference of the Hawaiian Association of Evangelical Churches. At the time, Mary was a member of the Filipino Evangelical Church at Pu'unene Maui. The Reverend Braulio T. Makapagal, "Mac" as he was known to his friends, convinced Mary to become a Methodist and she did. In 1928, the couple was engaged and were married on December 9, 1929 at the Filipino United Church in Honolulu (now Aldersgate UMC).

The Makapagals served the church at Waimanalo from 1930 until they were called to Lahaina, Maui in 1933 to serve the Filipino community in what was then a sugar plantation town. It was at Lahaina where Mary's concern for the plight of the Filipino immigrant laborers and their families grew from a tiny flame to become her lifelong passion. In a note scribbled on the back of an envelope, which was found among Mary's possessions after she died, she wrote, "I hope you will understand the urgency with which I lived my life. All I wanted to do was to help better the lives of Filipinos in Hawaii."

Mary understood the poverty in which the Filipino laborers lived, She had experienced it first-hand. She wanted the children of those laborers to have a good and bright future so she formulated her plan of action. It was simple. Evangelize and Educate. She worked tirelessly to reach families and to bring them into the church. She taught Sunday School and established two preschools: the first at Lahaina, the second at Aldersgate United Methodist Church.

Mary was a member of Aldersgate UMC from 1960 until her death.

In 1973, she completed a three-part manuscript, "Who's Who Among Hawaii's Filipinos," in which she chronicled the accomplishments of Filipino professionals. It was placed in libraries throughout Hawaii.

A strong proponent of social and economic justice, Mary was a frequent contributor to Honolulu's daily newspapers' editorial sections. She was energetic and outspoken, her diminutive stature certainly not a hindrance in her taking on anyone who stood in her way of achieving justice.

Mary is survived by her three children: Braulio T. "Buddy" Makapagal of Keneohe, Hawaii, Francis de Guzman Makapagal of Honolulu, Hawaii and Willyn Lee Makapagal of Sonoma, California. There are nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

OUTGOING CARING LOVING

Doris was born April 26, 1918 to Wiona and Cecil Riggs in Dallas, Oregon, graduated from Willamette University in 1940 with an A.B. and taught school for one year in a small town in central Oregon. She married Rev. Myron Pogue August 24, 1941 and returned with him as he went back to Boston University School of Theology. They attended a church in Mystic, Connecticut and their first son, Earl, was born in Rhode Island.

Doris' brother, Richard, died during World War II as a pilot in the Air Force.

Music filled their house as Doris played the piano a lot and often accompanied others. She also played the pipe organ, sometimes for church. Her favorite music was the classics.

Doris was always helping others, both individually and through many organizations. She was the head of Meals on Wheels in Boulder, Colorado and, during her life, active in various others, such as Women's Society and PEO.

Doris enjoyed gardening and loved to travel. She liked just about everything in the food categories and was always interested in people. Rev. Pogue retired in 1988 and they eventually moved into a retirement home, where Doris was always the hostess for their Center. She got along beautifully with people and always made everyone feel right at home.

Doris is survived by her loving husband of 61+ years, Myron, and three sons: Earl (now living in San Francisco, California), Richard (now living in Park City, Utah) and David (now living at Lake Oswego, Oregon). Her sister, Margaret Riggs, resides in Salem, Oregon and her brother, Dr. Thomas Riggs, resides in Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he is heavily involved in cancer research. Dr. Riggs' wife died one week before Doris.

MYRON POGUE

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures.
He leadeth me beside still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
For Thou are with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will Dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

MARY LOUISE ROGERS

March 8, 1921 - March 1, 2003

ROGERS, HERBERT F., CAL-PAC 42, ASHFORK-SELIGMAN; 43 SB; 44 DOMINGUEZ; 47 NORTHRIDGE; 53 REDLANDS UNIV.; 56 CLARK COLLEGE; 81 R'D; DIED 2-13-96.

Mary Louise Rogers was born Mary Louise Rhoton in New Mexico on March 8, 1921 to James Clarence Rhoton and Agnes Ruth Rhoton. She was named after her maternal grandmother, Mary Louise Eddins (who they called Molly). Mary Louise had one brother, Robert Kenneth, who was one year younger. Kenneth passed away in 1989 from cancer.

Mary Louise loved school and loved reading. She completed over three years of college at the University of Redlands, Redlands, Ca. Mary Louise worked for Fern Trucking Company before she married Herbert Francis Rogers. She met Herbert Rogers at a mutual friend's wedding (he was the Best Man and she was the Maid of Honor) and it was love at first sight.

On March 1, 1945, Herb Rogers and Mary Louise Rhoton were married in Phoenix, Arizona by Dr. Charles S. Kendall and they began their ministry at Dominguez. Herb was a student minister and, while there, completed his B.A. degree from U.S.C. Herb and Mary Louise were transferred to the Northridge Church and Herb was the pastor there for six years. In 1949, Herb and Mary Louise lost their son at birth. In 1950, Karen Michele arrived on the scene. In 1953, Herb was appointed to the University Methodist Church, Redlands, CA. In 1954, Janine Adele joined her big sister, Karen. In September 1955, he accepted a position to teach religion and philosophy at Clark Atlanta University, Atlanta, Georgia. Mary Louise began a 31-year career at First Federal Savings & Loan Association, Atlanta, Ga. Upon her retirement, she was once again called to share her talents working in the library of Conyers Middle School, Conyers, Ga.

Herb passed away February 13, 1996 and Mary Louise missed him greatly. When her daughter, Janine, and her family were transferred to San Antonio, TX., Mary Louise decided to move to Redlands to be near her daughter, Karen, and her family. She purchased a lovely home in Redlands in a very nice neighborhood with many wonderful neighbors. Mary Louise was enjoying her stay in California, when Karen was diagnosed with malignant brain tumors. Karen passed away on December 28, 2002 from this deadly disease. Mary Louise was devastated, along with the rest of the family. By that time, she was living in Braswell's Colonial Care in Redlands, having been unable to care for herself for almost a year. Mary Louise had a massive stroke, and died from complications on March 1, 2003 which would have been Mary Louise and Herb's 57th wedding anniversary. Mary Louise loved her two daughters and 5 grandchildren very much, and was very excited about her first great granddaughter due in June of 2003. Her family misses her very much.

WYLDA GWYNN SCHARER

October 13, 1907 - September 6, 2002

SCHARER, FLETCHER H., (T.31; F.33) SC 31 RIVERSIDE, FIRST,ASST.; 32 KINGMAN; 35 SCHOOL; 36 SCHOOL; SCA 39FILLMORE; 43 LA: SANTA BARBARA AVE.; 48 SOUTH PAS; 53 SUP'T., S.BDINO. DIST.; 55 SUP'T., TRI-STATE DIST.; 59 PHOENIX: FIRST; 68 SUP'T., PS DIST.; 74 GREEN VALLEY; PSW 77; 80 R'D; 80 (FALLBROOK, ASSOC.); C-P 85 R'D

Wylda was born in Ottawa, KN as the only daughter of Arthur E. and Lola Randel Johnson. In an account she wrote about her early life, she showed the great sense of humor that she displayed throughout her life. She wrote, "Columbus discovered America on October 12th, just in time for me to be born on Sunday, October 13th! Well, there were quite a few years in between, but it was nice to have a school holiday along with my birthday!" The family moved to Ontario, CA. She graduated from Chaffey High School and then went to Pasadena College, where she graduated with her BA in 1930. There, she met Fletcher Scharer and they were married June 9, 1931 after Fletcher earned his Master of Divinity at USC School of Religion on June 3, 1931. In July at age 21, Fletcher joined the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church and they began a lifetime team ministry, serving their Lord in many churches and locations in the Conference.

At Conference in 1932, they were appointed to Kingman, AZ. When they got there, every door was locked. One of the members, walking by, saw them and asked who they were. Fletcher said, "I'm your new pastor." The man responded in surprise, "But we sent a telegram to the D.S. telling him that with the Depression, we couldn't afford to pay for a pastor, so DON'T send one!" Fletcher remembers the three of them talking and credits Wylda's charm and smile when she said, "I'm sure we can work something out." The man smiled and said, "I'll go get the key to the parsonage." And it did work out.

In 1953, Fletcher was the first D.S. chosen by newly arrived Bishop Kennedy and Kingman was in his district! Wylda accompanied Fletcher nearly every Sunday to his preaching engagement. Numerous pastors and wives have let her family know how she had helped them, praising her encouragement, support and wise counsel. Fletcher and Wylda were great working together; in fact, she was his secretary when the district office was in their home. (This was before D.S.'s had budgets to have 'regular' offices.) After that term as D.S., they served First Church, Phoenix, which grew to 3600 members. In 1968, Fletcher was appointed as D.S. of the Pasadena District and Wylda again accompanied him each Sunday. In 1970, Fletcher broke both arms playing volleyball at the district pastor's retreat and, for several months, he had casts on both arms and Wylda was his official dresser, feeder and chauffeur!

Wylda and Fletcher enjoyed travel and hosted many trips and cruises together. They took each of their grandchildren on a special trip (including the Holy Land, a Caribbean cruise, a cruise down the St. Lawrence Seaway and the East Coast of the USA and a cruise down the Amazon, concluding in the Caribbean).

Wylda had her own special talents. She kept herself young with healthy food, a good attitude and exercise. At a Cabinet retreat, they were discussing exercise. Bishop Kennedy took long walks but Wylda demonstrated how she could stand on her head! She was always up-to-date in her styles, but very old-fashioned in her faith and values, which she has passed on to many; but, most especially, to her son and grandchildren. She was a very talented organist, studying with some of the best teachers. She was a gracious hostess with a creative mind and artistic eye. She is remembered as a wonderful and loving wife, mother and grandmother, a great encourager, a special friend, filled with joy and giving of herself.

Wylda is survived by her husband of 71 years, Dr. Fletcher H. Scharer, and by her son and wife, Rev. Paul and Dorothy Scharer and three grandchildren: Philip, Stephen and Elyse Scharer. Her oldest son, Randel Scharer, preceded her in death in 1967.

ESTELLE AUGUSTA SMITH ROBINSON

February 23, 1924 - April 6, 2003

SNITH, LAWRENCE E., SR., C-P; DIED 11-2-71

"We shall steer safely through every storm, so long as our heart is right, our intention fervent, our courage steadfast, and our trust fixed on God." (DeSales)

Estelle Augusta Holsey (Smith) Robinson found rest on Sunday, April 6, 2003, ending a four month illness. Her courageous acceptance of difficult medical experiences was made possible by her trust in God. She was an illustrious educator, influential churchwoman, and a devoted wife, mother and sister.

Augusta was born on February 23, 1924, in Baltimore city, the third of five daughters of Estelle Peaker Holsey and Augustus Johnson Holsey. Named thusly for her parents, she was both lovable and spoiled. She had her parents' initiative, her mother's wit and conventional talents, her father's alertness and demand for accuracy. "Gussie", the spirited! "Gussie", the free spirit! Augusta attended Garnett Elementary School, Booker T. Washington Jr. High and Frederick Douglass Sr. High , receiving her professional training as an elementary school teacher at Coppin Teachers College in 1945 and obtaining a Master of Arts, with specialty in drama, from New York University in 1951. While at Coppin, she and some friends collaborated on the writing of a smash hit, "Let's Say Seven." Augusta was a member of Sharp Street UMC in Baltimore. She developed her career in Prince Georges County, in the Bronx and in the suburbs of Los Angeles. Augusta taught at Turbman Elementary, Banneker Elementary and James Mosher Elementary in Baltimore, retiring in 1986.

As a capable churchwoman through her first marriage on June 16, 1951 to the Reverend Lawrence B. Smith, she was first lady of churches in the Washington, New York and California-Arizona Methodist Conferences from 1951-1971. Four sons were born of that union: Jonathan, Lawrence II, Kevin and Timothy. Following the death of Rev. Smith in 1971, Augusta and her sons relocated from Pacoima, CA to Baltimore County. "Mom" was "always there," following their progress every step of the way. According to one son, she was "all you could hope for in a mother."

Through the Douglass Class of 1941, she and Andrew Myles Robinson were wed July 1, 1978. The two had been classmates in junior and senior high school and she was "First Mate" to Andrew while both were members of the Neptune Yacht Club. They spent many weekends cruising the Chesapeake Bay. Myles was attracted "by her honest face" and many respected her judgment of character. Blessed with style and grace, Augusta also possessed a quiet strength, responding to events and people around her in a helpful way. Overall, she was a virtuous, classy lady. Over the years, many new teachers regarded her as their mentor, observing her fine-tuned skills and frequently drew praise from former students. Augusta was a talented leader of Boy Scout Camps, at missionary leadership training school, and a speaker and dramatist, known for her poetry, her classroom skits and graduation plays. She excelled in depicting and analyzing events poetically and could turn a dull, historical event into an action-packed play for students.

These and other memories will be shared by her family and friends. She is survived by her caring and faithful husband, Andrew Myles Robinson, her four sons, a stepdaughter Sharon R. Dow; sisters Charlotte, Juanita and Marian; stepsisters Gwendolyn, Gloria, Frances, Nancy, Ruth and Joyce; daughters-in-law Kathy and Sondra; brother-in-law Alexander; grandchildren Jacqueline, Lawrence III, Lauren, Jordan, Kevin II, Kristopher, Stephen, Stanford; nieces Cheryl, Sharon, Muriel, Sheridan; nephew Dallas, first cousin Dr. William F. Holsey of Tucson, AZ.

ADELAIDE SNEED

January 15, 1908 - March 27, 2003

SNEED, J. RICHARD, (NEW ENGLAND; 34 P, 36 F) 34 BRYANTVL W. DUXBURY, IOWA; 36 RICHLAND, SHENANDOAH, N. ILL; 42 ROCKFORD COURT, C-P; 48 LA FIRST, 63 WHITTIER FIRST, DSW; 68 SAB, C-P 68 SAB, 69 RETIRED, DIED JUNE 28, 1977.

CARING HUMOROUS PATIENT LOVING

Back in the 1930's, Adelaide's mother always invited any 'guest Pastor' of their little Searsboro, Iowa church to dinner. J. Richard Sneed came to dinner and he and Adelaide fell in love and their life was of service to our Lord. There were so many ways to serve at the Los Angeles Methodist Church and she was often helping in the church office and in the many volunteer projects going on.

She would often invite the Young Adult Group for homemade vegetable soup and an evening of playing games. She established a Visitor's Tea to welcome and get to know the new people visiting our church.

Two young girls, in our Adult Young Group, were trying to get established and find work and get on their feet. So, on two separate occasions, Adelaide took these young girls into our home and helped them get established. She would visit with the sick. She always had a smile to give others. Her love for our Lord shined brightly through her.

Adelaide loved the hymns, especially "In the Garden" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." She also loved the passages of John:3-16 and the 23rd Psalm.

Some of her favorite foods consisted of creamed eggs on toast, homemade vegetable soup and homemade applesauce cake.

Adelaide played violin and piano. In her earlier years, she taught music as a school teacher.

She was always interested in Chapel and Church symbolism. She acquired a large and varied collection of church symbols as part of her Fine Arts and Music courses at Boston University. Several times a year, new members were given a special period of instruction by her in our church symbols and she would present the symbolism to older church members as well.

When she was at Court Street Methodist Church in Rockford, IL, she wrote a little booklet called 'Our Symbolism" describing the Triangle, Circle, Latin Cross, Greek Cross, Trefoil, Quatrefoil, etc. She made patterns of the symbols and was often asked to speak about them.

Adelaide is survived by two daughters: Barbara Hernandez and Carol Hinds; two granddaughters: Linda Moca and Laurie Schuyler; and two great-granddaughters: Catherine Moca and Victoria Moca.

KATHLEEN ELEANOR WOODWORTH

May 21, 1933 - May 26, 2002

WOODWORTH, CHARLES E., (P.68; F.71) SCA 68 HEMET, ASSOC.; 69 ALHAMBRA, FIRST, ASSOC.; 71 WALNUT; 72 SAN PEDRO: GRANDVIEW; 76 NO. LAS VEGAS: WESLEY; PSW 77; 78 ALHAMBRA: GRANADA PARK; 81 L/A; 83 GLENDALE: WESLEY(LFT); 84 TEMPLE CITY; C-P 85; 90 GARDENA: ALONDRA PARK; 93 R'D. (¶ 452.2C).

Services were held at Trinity United Methodist Church for Kathleen Woodworth, 69, who passed away May 26, 2002, in a local hospital. In lieu of flowers, donations were requested for the United Methodist Children's Fund, Heifer Project International or the American Cancer Society.

Kathleen Eleanor Woodworth, nee McDonnell, was born May 21, 1933 in Couer d'Alene, Idaho, to James Patrick and Gladys McDonnell. She and her sister, Esther Ann McDonnell, were raised in Portland, OR. She married Charles Howard Cortright in April, 1952, who was born in Oneida, KN on June 9, 1930. Charles was raised in Baldwin City, KN with his brother, Donald, and sister, Rosalie. The marriage ended in 1965.

Kathleen met Rev. Chuck Woodworth at a Parents Without Partners dance in 1981. They were married Oct. 1, 1982 with Sidney Morse, CEO of the Mart, giving her away. Chuck and Kathleen served churches in Pasadena, Temple City and Gardena before retirement in 1994. They moved to Bakersfield that year and set up housekeeping on a 1/3 acre lot in Southwest Bakersfield where they enjoyed their gardening.

Several years later, Rev. Chuck accepted a call to be pulpit supply for St. Andrew's UMC and Kathleen became the church organist. Most recently, husband and wife, with help from the youth of 1st UMC, provided a Lenten V.D.B.S. for the neighborhood children.

Kathy Woodworth was an outstanding associate at the California Mart Executive Offices for 17 years. She was a champion of our tenants and management alike, respected and admired by those who worked with her. She was so straight forward and was relied upon for her sense of fairness and integrity - a warm and kind friend to all who worked with her - a kind and caring person whose sense of humor was well known as was her diligent follow-up to her tasks at hand. Self-directed, self-starting and sincere. She will always be in our minds.

Kathleen was employed for six-and-a-half years by Trinity United Methodist Church as their Administrative Assistant until September 2001. She was greatly loved by the people of the church for her pleasant manner and efficient management. Her hobbies were reading, cooking, playing the piano and organ, bird watching, photography, and - when she was able - jogging and then, walking. Pastor Kuyper would echo the remarks of Sidney Morse, CEO of the California Mart.

During their life together, the Woodworths traveled extensively, visiting Hong Kong and China, Hawaii, Israel, Rome, Niagara Falls, Mt. Rushmore, Nashville, The St. Lawrence Waterway and, most recently, the Panama Canal. These years together would come to be called "The Best Years of Our Lives."

Kathleen is survived by her husband, Charles Woodworth; three children, Nancy K. Rafter, Steven D. Cortright and Sandra J. Turner; sister, Esther A. Cardakll; two grandchildren; stepchildren, Charles Woodworth, Jr., Allyn L. Woodworth, David E. Woodworth and Matthew W. Woodworth; four step- grandchildren; two step-great grandchildren; cousins Beth and Dave Leehy and Christopher Cardall; and numerous other relatives and friends.

"In every heart she touched, in every life she changed, in every thought she inspired,
her love lives on."

CHARLES E. WOODWORTH

ROLL OF THE HONORED DEAD

The Honor Roll of those of our Conference who have been called from our midst to hear their Master's "well done." Memories of their beautiful and fruitful lives are cherished in the hearts of those who knew and loved them. They have passed through the Valley of the Shadow and entered into the Glory of Those Mansions Prepared for Them.

(1) FLASHBACKS OF OUR HISTORY

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL STORY

In 1847, the General Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church appointed William Roberts as Superintendent of the Oregon Mission. This expanded to California, and when William Taylor and Isaac Owen arrived as missionaries to California in 1849, Methodism began in California. The California Conference was organized in San Francisco in 1851. Few missionaries visited Southern California until, in 1853, Adam Bland was appointed missionary to Los Angeles. He arrived in a city with no Methodists and leased the El Dorado saloon near the town plaza. This was used as a chapel, parsonage and school for girls, taught by Mrs. Bland. It was some time before there were funds for a permanent structure, and, although other ministers arrived and there was some growth, there was disillusionment about the hope of establishing a mission in Los Angeles and work was abandoned.

After the Civil War in 1866, Adam Bland, who had gone to Santa Clara, returned and reestablished the church in Los Angeles, where in 1867, three people attended quarterly conference. This was the beginning of the continuous existence of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Southern California. At the fall Conference, the only appointments were ministers to Los Angeles, San Luis Obispo, San Bernardino, and Santa Barbara, but pastors spread through the area and by 1869, five churches were established. In 1875, the California Conference divided and established the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at which time there were 13 church buildings, 1,257 members, 24 ministers in full relationship, and 3 men on trial.

One of the major continuing interests was missionary effort and growth. In 1883 a Home Missionary Society was organized under the leadership of Robert W. C. Farnsworth, which became strategic in the establishment of new churches. Lack of funds meant that it was difficult for the group to function, until in 1904 the Los Angeles City Missionary Society was organized, which was responsible for continuing church extension. The first black church, Wesley Chapel, the "Mother Church" was organized in 1888. One of its pastors, Alexander P. Shaw, was elected to the Episcopacy in 1936. Another continuing concern was education, and after a number of false starts, in 1876 the Los Angeles Academy was established. While the Conference supported the Academy, a committee led by Robert Maclay Widney and the Reverend A. M. Hough actively sought land for an institution of higher learning. This was established in 1879 as the University of Southern California. The Conference relationship with USC continued until 1952, when it became financially necessary to terminate the relationship. By 1885, the Conference felt the necessity of educating for ministry. Missionary and State Senator Charles Maclay gave land for the Maclay School of Theology to be built in the San Fernando Valley. His brother, Robert S. Maclay, who had been a founding missionary in China, Japan, and Korea, succeeded Mr. Farnsworth as Dean. After years of financial crisis, the School of Theology found it necessary to become the School of Religion at the University of Southern California. This relationship continued until 1956 when the School was moved to a new campus in Claremont.

Another early and continuing concern through the years was for temperance. Later, conferences dealt with issues of war and peace, civil liberties, and injustices in the economic order.

By 1900 there were 153 Conference Members and 18 Probationers. The Church had 14,755 members with 132 church buildings and 71 parsonages. By 1939, at the time of union with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South and the Methodist Protestant churches, the Methodist Episcopal Church had 106,522 active members and 15,031 inactive members and 280 churches in the Southern California Conference, which then became the Southern California-Arizona Conference.

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH

The Methodist Episcopal Church, while by far our single largest source of membership here in Southern California, is but one of many of our roots here. Mission churches were organized by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South in San Francisco in May 1850, in Sacramento in August 1850, and also in Stockton and Sonora in 1850, and in San Jose, in 1851. On April 15, 1852, what was then the California Mission, was organized as the Pacific Annual Conference.

The first Southern Methodist Church in Southern California was organized at Los Nietos in 1854. The first work in Los Angeles was organized in 1869 by Abram Adams, a transfer to the Pacific Conference from Alabama. On October 26, 1870, the Los Angeles Conference was organized, including Southern California and Arizona. By 1900 there were 30 Methodist Episcopal South churches and more than 2000 members in Southern California and Arizona.

In 1922, the churches in Southern California were reunited with the Pacific Conference. This Conference now had 104 pastoral charges, and 13,838 members. The denomination in California remained small, except for the very large Trinity Church in Los Angeles. At unification in 1939, there were 43 churches with 44 conference members, 2 deacons and 4 probationers that became part of the Southern California-Arizona Conference of The Methodist Church.

THE EVANGELICAL UNITED BRETHREN

As did so many others, ministers and laity associated with the United Brethren in Christ and Evangelical Association churches came to California during the Gold Rush days. In 1858, the Home Frontier and Missionary Societies of the United Brethren in Christ sent Israel Sloan, previously a missionary to Canada, to California. Guided by his organizing abilities and nearly limitless energy, by 1862 they were ready to organize into an annual conference with six pastors and 99 members of the various churches.

In 1864, two missionaries were appointed to California. Primarily because they restricted themselves to the German language, the Evangelical work progressed very slowly. By 1884, the California Conference, with five itinerant pastors, two local pastors and 257 members of local churches, was organized.

Evangelicals organized churches in the cities, where German speaking people were concentrated, but the United Brethren were in rural areas, which restricted their growth. By 1900, US had 839 members in 18 organized local churches with itinerant elders. Evangelicals had 546 members in 10 local churches with 8 itinerant elders and 3 local preachers.

Both denominations had concerns for temperance, the Sunday School, the Sabbath and missions. In 1946, the two denominations united, although conference union did not take place until 1951. By the time of Union with The Methodist Church in 1968, there were 42 organized local churches with 9140 members, 55 active itinerant elders, and 7 local preachers. 24 of these churches became a part the United Methodist annual conference.

HISPANIC WORK

Both Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal Church, South had missions in Arizona by 1880. Work in Mexico had begun in 1872 and there were many Mexican immigrants. In 1880, under the direction of the Reverend Antonio Diaz, work began in California, primarily in the areas of Los Angeles, Pasadena, and Santa Ana. In 1889, Frances DePauw Home was established for young Spanish girls. 1913 saw the establishment of the Spanish American Institute for helping Hispanic boys. In 1915, Plaza Community Center was established to serve the community. In 1921, the Los Angeles Mission was organized with its president, Bishop Adna W. Leonard, and Superintendent Dr. Vernon McCombs. At the time of organization, there were 45 churches. The mission then extended work to Arizona. In 1931, the plan of joining with the Southwest Spanish Mission was accepted and by now covered an area ranging from along the west coast to the Mississippi.

By 1939, there were discussions about ending the era of mission and thinking in terms of a conference. The Latin American Provisional Conference was organized in 1941 with a designation that three Hispanics would be district superintendents and Hispanics would hold the positions of Director of Christian Education and Executive Secretary of the Epworth League. Hispanics would hold memberships on committees and there would be wide participation of lay people.

The use of Spanish language to conduct conference business was denied. Hispanic pastors, formerly members of the Southern California-Arizona Conference, now became members of the new Conference and Hispanics could exercise self determination. There was a gain between 1945 and 1955 with 41 churches by 1955 and 3,238 members. Unfortunately, the poor economic situation made it impossible to continue. Instead of the concept of two uniting groups, the idea of integration was introduced and voted upon affirmatively. That year, the Latin American Provisional Conference met for the last time. There were now 29 established churches and 23 full time pastors.

There were efforts to assimilate Hispanics into Anglo churches, but this often became a denial of Hispanic culture. There was membership loss and anxiety about the future of the Hispanic Church. The ones who benefitted most were the ministers, whose salary and pensions increased, but there was also frustration here. Now the era of the caucus began and long hidden frustrations could be voiced. This was done through the organizing of the Latin American Methodist Action Group or LAMAG which was to serve as a link between the local church and the Conference, promote educational opportunities among the ministers, and fellowship among Hispanics. The membership continued to decline between 1957 and 1978 as it has for the total church. In 1988 a special position of Superintendent of the Hispanic Mission was created to encourage growth in this portion of population.

HAWAII MISSION

The first Methodist missionary pastor to Hawaii was appointed in 1855 by the Bishop of the California Conference. His work became First Church, Honolulu. All Methodist Hawaii missionaries were named by the California Conference Bishop until the Methodist Episcopal General Conference of 1904 assigned oversight to Board of Home Missions. The Hawaii Mission held its first annual meeting at First Church, Honolulu, December 28, 1906, although many of its members were to come from the two California Methodist Episcopal Conferences. The work prospered, and in 1967, by vote of the Mission, the National Division of the Board of Missions, and the Southern California-Arizona Conference, Hawaii became a full district of what is now the California-Pacific Annual Conference.

JAPANESE PROVISIONAL CONFERENCE

In 1877, Kanishchi Myana was baptized and became the first Japanese Christian in America. He was later the first ordained minister and served 8 years in Pine Church, San Francisco, the Mother Japanese Church. He then went to Hawaii to begin evangelistic work there. By 1896, there were 8 churches in the Pacific Coast and Hawaii, with 630 members. In 1905, the Hawaiian District became independent. By 1939, the Japanese mainland churches had grown and in that year, the mission became a Provisional Conference with new independence. Less than three years later, the work was destroyed by World War II and the Japanese people were scattered as they suffered the bitter experience of evacuation and relocation. Dr. Frank Huron Smith, Dr. John B. Cobb and Tara Goto helped to rebuild the program of churches in the west.

In 1962, churches saw the emergence of English speaking leadership and expressed the desire to integrate with annual conferences, which occurred in 1964 and the Provisional Conference disbanded.

CALIFORNIA GERMAN CONFERENCE

Work among German speaking people in Southern California began in 1875. When the California German Conference was organized in 1891 there were six congregations in Southern California with a membership of 250. World War I and its aftermath, with the German language in disfavor and German immigration restricted, placed tremendous pressure and limitations on them. However, in 1927 at the time of merger they were welcomed with open arms by the Southern California Conference. The Germans brought with them ten churches totaling about 750 members, plus the Pacific Old People's Home which was to develop into the impressive Pacific Homes.

PACIFIC SWEDISH CONFERENCE (METHODIST EPISCOPAL)

The largest number of immigrants of any Scandinavian country came to the United States from Sweden (1,228,113) in the period 1820 - 1950. Religious freedom was a compelling motive, as large numbers settled in North Central States where Methodism was strong.

The West Coast, particularly San Francisco, attracted immigrants directly from Sweden, particularly during and after 1849, as well as the earlier settlers from the Midwest and East, many of whom had become active Methodists.

On September 27, 1875, Bishop Peck organized a "Scandinavian" church of 70 members who bought property and built a church on Harrison Street. Most of this group were Swedish, though historical records usually say Scandinavian. This church became the mother church of Swedish Methodism in California.

In 1892 a Swedish District was authorized by action of the General Conference, to include the entire State of California. The General Conference of 1908 authorized the formation of the Swedish Mission Conference and it included, among others, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Kingsburg and Pasadena. The Pasadena Swedish church started as a Bible Study group in 1906 and built a church on Villa Street and Summit Avenue in 1909.

Because Bilingual ministers were in short supply, the General Conference in 1928 voted to authorize non-English Conferences to dissolve and merge with English Speaking conferences. That year the Pacific Swedish Mission Conference voted to merge with the Southern California Conference.

CALIFORNIA ORIENTAL PROVISIONAL CONFERENCE

It was in 1887 members of First Church, Los Angeles, organized a Chinese mission, principally a Sunday School. A few years later they licensed the first Chinese local preacher in the United States, Chan Kin Lung, who later became the pastor of the Chinese Methodist Church. The Pacific Chinese Mission was organized in 1904, later becoming the California Chinese Provisional Conference. Merged with the California conferences in 1952, it brought into our Conference the Los Angeles Chinese and Korean congregations.

Thomas Roy Pendell

WESTERN NORWEGIAN DANISH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE

The Western Norwegian Danish Conference was founded in 1888 when many Scandinavians migrated to the United States and settled on the Pacific Coast. There were nine churches from San Pedro in the south to Bellingham, Washington in the north. The Annual Conference met in different location each year. Members of the host congregations would provide housing and meals. The summer family camps for the California churches were held at Mt. Herman, near Santa Cruz.

The Los Angeles Church was at Olympic Boulevard and Bixel Avenue and had a church building, parsonage, and a Girls Home, which provided a home away from home for the many single women who had found employment in the Los Angeles area.

In 1939, the church joined the Southern California Conference and changed its name to Bethany. A decade later when there was no further need for services in the Scandinavian language, the property was sold and members joined First Church, Trinity or Wilshire.

(5) CLERGY APPOINTMENT HISTORY

Clergy in Full Connection
Associate Members
Probationary Members

This section is designed to list the complete chronological record of appointments for all clergy members of this Annual Conference, including appointments in other Annual Conferences (whenever that information is available). No attempt is made to indicate whether or not the appointment was with or without pension claim or credit upon an Annual Conference, as all such matters are the responsibility of either the General or Conference Board of Pensions. Requests for changes or corrections (names, dates, places, etc.) should be sent to:

Keith Andrew Hwang, Conference Secretary
P. O. Box 6006, Pasadena, CA 91102-6006

NOTES

1. Number preceding the name of the Charge refers to the year when the appointment became effective. July 1 unless otherwise indicated.
2. Appointments or Charges listed in parentheses ( ) indicate:
   a. Service was rendered as a Supply, Student or Local Pastor,
   b. Before reception into Conference Membership, or,
   c. After retirement.
3. Bold print indicates Annual Conference Membership.
4. Appointments made in one Conference year are continued in successor Conference years unless otherwise designated.
5. Numbers in parentheses, (¶ 362.1), following the granting of the Retired relationship, refer to the Disciplinary paragraphs under which the action was taken.

(9) BOARD OF ORDAINED MINISTRY
CANDIDACY & PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSESSMENT PROCESS

1. CANDIDATES WORK WITH GUIDES AT START
At the start of the process of candidacy which is called the Inquiring Stage, a person interested in ministry is to work with a Guide through the initial materials: The Christian as Minister and The Ministerial Inquiry Process. The Candidate's Guide is the pastor of his or her local church.

2. DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT ASSIGNS MENTORS
After the Candidate has completed the initial materials above and has decided to proceed forward in candidacy, the Candidate enters the Exploring Stage and is assigned a Mentor by the District Superintendent. Mentors are assigned from an approved list of clergy who have been trained in the new candidacy procedure. With the Mentor's assistance, the Candidate will study and complete all the remaining requirements for candidacy.

3. PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING IN STAGES
Testing is in three stages (tier): first, as part of exploring candidacy, using the Division of Ordained Ministry (DOM) materials, and interpreted by the regional Ministerial Assessment Specialist (MAS). In the second stage it is part of the preparation for the District Committee on Ordained Ministry (DCOOM) interview for recommendation for commissioning, and it is administered and interpreted by our MAS. The third stage of testing is part of the preparation for the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry (BOOM) interview and recommendation for ordination; again it is administered and interpreted by our MAS. There is an MAS in Hawaii as well as one in California for your convenience.

4. CANDIDACY AND ASSESSMENT COSTS
DCOOM Registration /Administration Fee: Candidate pays $50.00
Tier I: Candidate pays $125.00
Tier II: Candidate pays $50.00; Local Church pays $100.00; BOOM pays $50.00
Tier III: Candidate (with possible Local Church assistance) pays $100.00

5. MINISTERIAL ASSESSMENT SPECIALISTS

In California, the MAS is Dr. Scott Sullender, Samaritan Counseling Center, 869 N. Euclid Ave., Upland, CA 91786, (909) 985-0513.

For the Hawaii District, the MAS is Dr. Gary Augustin, Samaritan Counseling Center, 1020 S. Beretania St., Honolulu, HI 96814, (808) 545-2740.

They interpret Psych Assessment Tier I, and they administer and interpret Tiers II & III. Contact them with any questions.

6. MENTORS SEND FOR AND PROCTOR TIER I ASSESSMENT

The materials for the Tier I assessment are solicited from the Division of Ordained Ministry by the Candidate and Mentor using a form supplied to all Mentors (Extra forms are in stock at Walt Dilg's office). The Tier I assessment materials are to be completed by the Candidate under the supervision of the Mentor. This proctoring should happen in an adequate and private space for test-taking, with plenty of time allowed for thoughtful responses by the Candidate. The Candidate is to complete the assessment materials without assistance of family or friends.

7. AVOIDING TIER I ASSESSMENT DELAYS

The Division of Ordained Ministry (DOM) processes the assessment materials of Tier I and then mails data to our local MAS for interpreting with the Candidate. This processing by the DOM takes a couple months. If it is taking longer, the delay is usually due to some reference forms not being submitted to the DOM in a timely fashion. You can help solve this problem by reminding the people providing the references to complete the forms and get them mailed to the DOM promptly.

8. ASSESSMENT TIMING IS ESSENTIAL FOR TIER II

The second assessment occurs in preparation for the DCOOM interview in which the Candidate hopes to be recommended to go before the BOOM for the commissioning interview. The DCOOM needs to see that the Candidate completes this assessment and receives the assessment report prior to their interview. Give at least a three month lead time for this. If your DCOOM interview is in the fall, plan to have the Candidate complete this Tier II assessment in the spring or early summer months.

(10) CLERGY COUNSELING AND GUIDANCE BENEFITS

The Annual Conference through the Conference Boards of Ordained Ministry, and Pensions makes available counseling and guidance benefits for clergy, Diaconal Ministers, and their immediate families.

For those clergy, Diaconal Ministers and covered dependents enrolled in the PacifiCare and Secure Horizons health plans, PacifiCare Behavioral Health provides psychiatric, psychological and counseling services. Various treatment plans are available through a low cost system of assessment and referral for inpatient, outpatient, residential and urgent care programs. Please consult your Plan handbook or contact the Heath Benefits Coordinator at the Conference Board of Pensions Office for details of coverage. (626-568-7319 or 800-244-8622.)

The Board of Ordained Ministry also provides financial assistance to clergy and Diaconal Ministers and their immediate families. The Board is prepared to assist with up to 50% of out-of-pocket expenses up to a limit of $500 per year, per family member with the amount provided for assistance not to exceed $1,000 per family, per year. Because these funds are limited and come from the Apportionments paid by local churches of the Annual Conference, the Board recommends that requests for assistance be made after benefits from their personal or group insurance plans have been exhausted. Also if persons are financially able to meet their respective counseling expenses without assistance from the Conference, they are encouraged to do so. This will make funds available for those you do not have these resources.

Requests for funds through the Board of Ordained Ministry are handled in a strict confidential manner to respect the privacy of the applicant. A process is worked out with the providing counselor to bill the Board using a pre-arranged numbering system which is known only to the Chairperson of the Board's Counseling and Support Committee.

Information concerning the Board of Ordained Ministry's program may be obtained from:

(11) STRATEGIES FOR PREVENTION OF SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

A. INTRODUCTION: The importance of self care in the Christian ministry cannot be overstated. As professional caregivers we are subject to the stresses and strains of being out of balance in our outreach and love. Stress, burn out and exhaustion knock at our door on a regular basis, and we must look for ways to overcome the demands of our calling. When it comes to sexual ethics, self care remains one area of prevention. In fact, recognizing this connection between self care and prevention is the first step for all of us. If we are striving for a life in balance (physically, emotionally, spiritually, intellectually, etc.) we will be better able to maintain our professional boundaries and to live a whole and liberating life of Christian love.

As ministers we live a life in community. We are each part of different groups which supply some part of our need for fellowship, validation, enjoyment, study, etc., in both short-term and ongoing communal experiences. We lift this up as a vital and necessary part of our human experience. However, if our lives are out of balance, and certain needs are not being met, there can be a tendency to blur the boundary lines of professionalism. At that point, we are susceptible to moral indiscretions that violate our ministerial covenant. It can be as simple as spending more time than necessary in the pastoral care of a person whom we perceive might be able to meet our own needs. It can be as serious as violating the marital covenant by entering into a personal relationship with a parishioner. It can be a simple hug of affection from one of our congregation members when we are in need of emotional care. It can be as serious as misappropriating church funds out of a personal need. It can be as simple as ignoring a parishioner's phone call because we are angry with them for something they did to us at church. It can be as serious as being deceitful in our professional role and violating a trust.

It is no secret that we are most susceptible when our own needs are being ignored, and out of anger or frustration, we act on those needs in the confines of our professional role. As professionals, we must have a clearly defined role that remains separate from the personal roles that we must assume. This professional role defines a boundary that must not be crossed in the ministry--a boundary that has to be maintained and monitored by both the institutional church and ourselves. This professional role as ministerial members is undergirded by the covenant of trust. People trust us precisely because we are Christian ministers!

One of the problems arise from our lack of clarity concerning the integration of our professional and personal lives. We are called not only to a vocation, but a lifestyle. We are called on behalf of the community to tend to the spiritual needs of that community. Thank God it is not just a job, but a way of life. However, in the midst of this divine calling, we never cease to be human, with human needs, aspirations, joys and sorrows. Our dilemma is to remain being true to ourselves in the midst of our professional role. Our dilemma also surrounds how we maintain a clear separation between our personal and professional lives. Most other professions allow for the individual to clearly delineate between his/her professional role and personal life. It is not so easy with ministers. Those who know us will always relate to us as the "minister."

Our clerical role does not stop merely because we go home. This is precisely because we are called to a way of life as much as to a job or profession. Pastoral emergencies are real and necessary elements in our daily lives, and there will be occasions when we simply have to respond to a crisis in the ministry. However, such pastoral emergencies are not everyday occurrences, and it is to the day to day ministry with which we are concerned. To help us balance the ambiguity between the separation of our personal and professional lives, we must establish some clear boundaries that can remain intact. It is when we are exclusively responding to pastoral matters and neglecting our personal and family time that we remain out of balance and the most susceptible to violating ethical standards.

Following are some important and key areas that must be examined in our own lives to help us discover whether we are living a healthy, whole and liberating life in light of our professional role. All of them are suggestive of a holistic approach to self-care in the Christian ministry which is the first step in prevention. The list is certainly not exhaustive! All of us would be wise to add our own additions and private concerns when it comes to our own personal care. However, these following areas can help us frame a checklist to take inventory on our own lives.

B. MY SPIRITUAL WELL BEING: As a Christian minister, a basic question is, "What is my personal and communal relationship with God in Jesus Christ?" One of the classical ministerial roles that we assume is that of "priest," but often we manifest this role in the performing of priestly duties, rather than the ownership of a priestly being. Often we do not give adequate or concentrated periods of time for the development of our own spiritual resources. Here are some questions we might ask ourselves:

—Am I growing spiritually? Is there a sense of spiritual direction in my life?
—Am I working on some specific spiritual disciplines? Do I set time for my own personal spiritual life on a daily basis? Do I set time for strengthening my covenant relationship with other ministers?
—Am I in touch with the Holy Spirit? Is there a true connection between myself and the Triune God?
—Do I have a worshipping life of my own? Can I also worship while leading the congregation in worship? Do I need to supplement my worship life?

C. MY EMOTIONAL WELL BEING: A basic question is, "Am I in touch with my real feelings in the here and now of my life?" We must attend to our emotional needs and concerns and be willing to take an emotional inventory. So many of us have worked at developing our intellectual capacities far beyond our emotional ones. We pay more attention to what we think than how we feel. We must be reminded of the Hebrew concept that the heart is the center of our rational side as well as of our emotional side. It lifts before us an example of a holistic integration of ourselves as human beings. Our essence is formed by the balance of our head, heart, body and spirit. Some questions we might ask ourselves are:

—How is our self-esteem? How are we feeling about ourselves?
—Do we have a theology of being or just doing? Are we living this theology of being?
—Are we in touch with our positive emotions: joy, laughter, elation, etc.?
—Are we in touch with our negative emotions: anger, frustration, hatred, envy, jealousy?
—How are we dealing with conflict? Do we have a healthy conflict resolution style?

D. MY INTELLECTUAL WELL BEING: A basic question is, "Am I growing intellectually, cognitively, rationally?" Many ministers fail to keep up on the different fields connected to the Christian ministry. We are called to be generalists, but all of us need to work in a more conscious way toward our continued intellectual growth. Some questions to explore are:

—Do I take time for regular study on a daily or weekly basis? Is it directed at personal growth rather than merely connected to functional duties I am required to perform?
—Am I engaged in a lifelong learning process that has a well thought out and comprehensive program?
—Am I challenging myself to grow in new areas? Am I moving toward deeper reflections and study?

E. MY RELATIONAL WELL BEING: A basic question is, "Do I give quality time for the different personal relations that I have in my life?" Since our entire professional lives are relational, we sometimes blur the lines between our personal and professional relations. Are we giving enough time to our family and friends in light of the demands and needs of our parishioners? Is there a healthy balance in our relational life? Some questions to reflect upon are:

—What is the quality of my relationships with my immediate family, my extended family, my friends, my parishioners, my colleagues, strangers, the earth?
—Am I aware of the clear cut relationship boundaries which exist between myself and those in my ministerial care? Do I monitor these boundaries and defend them at all costs?
—Am I aware of how I relate to members of the opposite and same sex? Is there a healthy sense of trust and respect that I have developed? Am I aware of any sexism in my personal or professional relationships?

F. MY PROFESSIONAL WELL BEING: A basic question in this area is, "Do I continue to grow and develop in my professional ministerial role?" There is much demanded of us in the ministry and we cannot possibly excel in all areas and roles. An important question is, "Are we intentional in our growth and maturing in the various areas of our ministry?" No matter how long we have served, there is always more to learn and more to experience. We need to develop a healthy sense of professional goals and objectives. We need to keep fresh challenges alive in our work; however, ambition in the ministry is something of a double-edged sword. On the one hand, it is important to keep challenging ourselves professionally, and yet we must always remember that our highest goal is to be servant of all. All of us must come to grips with our basic professional ambitions and how we want our ministry to develop. Some questions we can ask are:

—Am I on the fast track of the ecclesiastical ladder?
—What happens when I do not progress the way I think I should? Do I become angry or feel cheated when others "less qualified" are placed in positions I feel I deserved?
—Are there better professional models than simply moving to a "higher" ministerial order?

Another important part of our professional well being revolves around our healthy use of time. We need to be well versed in time management principles. The bottom line for many of us is the need to balance time between our professional and personal selves. We must be intentional in our self care and develop off time when we are not working or fulfilling the ministerial role. Time management can help us organize our lives to become more efficient. But we must recognize that this is not to make more time to work; it is to find more time to be a child of God. We must remember that God values our very being as much as how much we do. Some important questions on which to reflect are:

—Do I understand my gifts and the evidence of God's grace in my ministry?
—Do I have a firm grasp of the various ministerial roles, and do I take a regular assessment of how well I am fulfilling these roles?
—Do I have an understanding of where I am going in my professional ministry?
—Do I understand my own ambitions and am I content with them?
—Am I aware of the elements of time management and incorporating them into my ministry?
—Do I have a healthy sense of the balance of time in my life?

G. MY PERSONAL WELL BEING: One might well start with a basic question of, "Do I have a significant personal life to begin with?" We have already covered much of the ground in this section on our discussion of our "Relational Well Being", but we cannot overstate the concern to take quality time with personal friends, family members and loved ones. We must take personal time to become good friends with ourselves. Our profession by nature is relational, but quiet and solitude are good spiritual disciplines for us to consider also. We must consider making time for personal interests and hobbies that do not necessarily relate to the Christian ministry.

One of the major areas of concern as it relates to our personal well being and the ministry is the "Fishbowl" effect. We practice ministry in a public setting where all eyes can be trained on us for extended periods. It is not just our ministry that is under scrutiny — our personal and family lives are also exposed as fish in a fishbowl for all to see. We can lessen the effects of the fishbowl, but we can never remove ourselves from the scrutiny of our parishes. Here are some questions to reflect upon:

—Do I have significant friends both inside and outside the church?
—Do I have a healthy and affirming attitude about the formation of friends within the life of the church where I serve? Have I thought through the implications of friends in the parish, e.g. that some parishioners might feel slighted by the amount and quality of time spent with fellow parishioners who happen to be personal friends?
—Do I and my family have a healthy attitude toward the "fish bowl" effect of the church?
—Do I have a healthy set of hobbies and interests that round out and balance my personal life? Do I make time for such hobbies?
—Do I make time for myself?

H. MY PHYSICAL WELL BEING: We put a great deal of training into the development of our minds, and, hopefully, our spiritual selves. However, when it comes to our bodies, we often find excuses to not put in the necessary time to take care of our physical selves. We skip meals, we eat on the run, we don't have time for exercise, and we put ourselves through too many stressful situations. We must take the time to care for our bodies, for oftentimes the strength of our ministry will depend on physical health. Some guidelines might be:

—Do I take the time for regular exercise? Do I have a daily routine where I am getting the physical exercise necessary to maintain a healthy body?
—Do I have a rigorous exercise routine that enables my cardiovascular system to be worked a minimum of twenty minutes, at least three times a week?
—Do I receive regular check-ups from a physician? Do I follow medical advice well and attempt to improve my physical health?
—Do I eat balanced meals on a daily basis? Do I try to maintain good eating habits and avoid skipping meals? Do I attempt to eat healthy, low fat foods?
—Do I practice some form of stress management that enables me to deal with the great stress that comes in the Christian ministry?
—Am I aware of my current blood pressure, cholesterol count and triglyceride blood levels? Do I attempt to maintain an ideal body weight? Do I practice preventive medical care?

I. MY ETHICAL AND MORAL WELL BEING: Another area which is often neglected is the development of our ethical and moral self. It might be that we are so clearly associated with honesty and integrity that no one bothers to raise the ethical character issues with us as ministers. This however is a gross oversight. As human beings we are liable to all the frailties and weaknesses of others. We do not have a special market on character. We need to work intentionally on our ethical and moral lives, just like everyone else.

One of the key issues in this area is the question of the integrity of the ministry. We have to assume so many diverse roles in the Christian ministry. We often have to compromise our personal feelings in order to be more objective for our pastorates. An important question here is, "Can I be true to myself while assuming the role of the Christian minister?" Without personal integrity we cannot grow and develop in our own professional role as minister. We would be like a split personality, carrying on the public role of minister, while feeling something very different inside. Some additional issues to consider are:

—Do I feel a tension between my ministerial roles and the kind of person that I truly am? How do I deal with this tension? What are some positive ways to deal with the question of personal integrity in the ministry?
—Am I satisfied with my personal character? Are there areas of my ethical and moral self that need work? What positive steps can I take for self-improvement in the area of my character?
—What kind of model am I in my ministry? Do I realize that people look to me as a model? What kind of modeling would I like to project in my own ministry?
—How do I deal with power? How do I deal with my own personal sense of power? Am I aware of the power dynamics that I bring in my ministry?
—How do I deal with members of the opposite and same sex? Do I seek positive and healthy relationships with members of the opposite and same sex?

(12) GUIDELINES FOR CONSIDERATION REGARDING "DATING" BY CONSECRATED OR ORDAINED CLERGY

The United Methodist Church has no right or authority to dictate to any person, either lay or clergy, whom he/she may date and/or with whom he/she may develop a committed relationship. However, we lift up the following advisory caution both to laity and to clergy:

Experience has shown that an ongoing dating relationship between a clergyperson and a lay person in the congregation to which the clergyperson is related has a tendency to be fraught with difficulties. These difficulties arise because an ongoing dating relationship almost inevitably leads to problems with identifying and maintaining the boundary between the professional relationship of a clergyperson to a parishioner, and a personal relationship between two persons who are becoming close friends. If an ongoing dating relationship does not ultimately lead to a committed relationship, it leaves a feeling of confusion and hurt in the lives of the clergyperson, the person s/he was dating, and the congregation which had an awareness of the ongoing dating relationship. It is recognized that secrecy in a relationship can lead to a greater chance of abuse. In addition, clergy need to be aware of the possibility that the perception of the power of the clergyperson's office by another party could cause undue pressure in the development of a romantic relationship.

Therefore, we strongly suggest it to be prudent that if a clergyperson meets a lay person in the congregation or ministry to which s/he is appointed to serve, and wishes to engage in a dating relationship with that person, the clergyperson should first be in dialogue with his/her District Superintendent before the dating relationship commences. If the dating relationship is to proceed to being an ongoing dating relationship, either a) the clergyperson should request and subsequently be appointed to another church; or b) the clergyperson and/or the District Superintendent should assist that lay person, and sometimes that lay persons' family, in establishing a pastoral relationship and/or is/her/their church membership in a different congregation.
