CONTRIBUTORS

CYNTHIA M. ROGERS recently received her Master of Theological Studies degree summa cum laude from Drew Theological School. Her capstone project, an exhibit entitled “Instructing Children & Families: Sunday School Books of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1827-1880” at the United Methodist Archives & History Center at Drew, was the basis for the article in this issue. Rogers holds a Masters of Education degree in Social Studies Education from the University of Virginia and received her B.A., summa cum laude, from Baylor University.

DARIN A. TUCK is a doctoral student in the department of history at the University of Missouri.

CHRISTOPHER D. RODKEY earned the Ph.D. degree from Drew University and now serves as pastor of Zion “Goshert’s” United Church of Christ, Lebanon, Pennsylvania, and teaches at Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania. He is author of the forthcoming book, The Synaptic Gospel.

HELMUT NAUSNER received the Distinguished Service Award from the General Commission on Archives and History in August, 2010. He studied at the University of Vienna and the Methodist Theological Seminary in Frankfurt, Germany. Now retired, he served churches in Austria and was appointed to serve as conference superintendent in Austria. He has been active in ecumenical work and served on the General Board of Higher Education and Ministry and the Ministry Study Commission (1984-1992).
