Old McKendree Chapel near Cape Girardeau, Missouri
Cover:

Old McKendree Chapel, near Cape Girardeau, Missouri. It is considered the oldest Methodist church building, and possibly the oldest Protestant building, west of the Mississippi River. It was built in 1819 and was named for Bishop William McKendree who was an episcopal leader when the building was begun. It is an official shrine of United Methodism.
METHODOIST HISTORY
Charles Yrigoyen, Jr., Editor
Louise L. Queen, Managing Editor

VOLUME XXII  OCTOBER 1983  NUMBER 1

CONTENTS

Mercersburg's Quarrel with Methodism, by Charles Yrigoyen, Jr. ............................... 3

Evolving Patterns of Methodist Ministry,
  by Russell E. Richey ................................ 20

The Catholic Wesley: A Revisionist Prolegomenon
  by Mark S. Massa .................................... 38

They Championed the Cherokees,
  by Walter N. Vernon ............................... 54

DISCOVERY, edited by Frederick E. Maser ............. 67

Methodist History is included in Religion Index One: Periodicals,
Religious and Theological Abstracts,
Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life

Manuscripts submitted for publication and all other correspondence should be addressed to Editor, METHODIST HISTORY, P.O. Box 127, Madison, NJ 07940.
CONTRIBUTORS

CHARLES YRIGOYEN, JR. is General Secretary of the General Commission on Archives and History of The United Methodist Church and Editor of Methodist History. He is a member of the Eastern Pennsylvania Annual Conference. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania (B.S. in Economics), Lancaster Theological Seminary (B.D.), Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary (Th.M.) and Temple University (Ph.D.). He is one of the authors of Proclaiming Grace and Freedom: The Story of United Methodism in America published by Abingdon Press.

RUSSELL E. RICHEY is Associate Professor of Church History in the Theological and Graduate Schools of Drew University. He is a graduate of Wesleyan University (B.A.), Union Theological Seminary (B.D.) and Princeton University (M.A., Ph.D.). He has published a large number of articles on church history and has edited or co-edited two volumes, American Civil Religion and Denominationalism.

MARK S. MASSA, S.J. is studying for his doctorate in church history at Harvard University. His major area of interest is American religious history. His interest in John Wesley stems from the importance of Methodism in American religion. This paper is a revision of work done in a seminar on the Evangelical Revival.

WALTER N. VERNON has distinguished himself as one of the premier historians of American Methodism. For many years he has been a member of the editorial staff of The United Methodist Publishing House. A graduate of Paris (Texas) Junior College and Southern Methodist University (B.A., M.A., B.D.), he has written extensively for periodicals and journals and has published several books including Methodism Moves Across North Texas.