CONTRIBUTORS

RUSSELL E. RICHEY is Associate Professor of Church History in the Theological and Graduate Schools of Drew University. He is a graduate of Wesleyan University (B.A.), Union Theological Seminary, New York (B.D.) and Princeton University (M.A., Ph.D.). He has published a number of books, articles and book reviews including several in Methodist History.

MARY R. RYDER is a candidate for the Ph.D. in American Literature at the University of Illinois. She teaches English and Latin at Normal Community High School, Normal, Illinois. She also holds degrees from Monmouth College, Illinois (B.A.) and Illinois State University (M.A. in 18th Century British Literature). Her interest in Wesley stems from her Methodist background and graduate work.

STEPHEN PERRY is a member of the South Dakota Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church and serves churches in Wessington Springs and Lane, South Dakota. He has received degrees from Northwestern University, Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary and the University of Cambridge (Ph.D.).

G. CLINTON PRIM teaches in Statesville, North Carolina. He also serves as a swimming coach in the community. He received his Ph.D. from Florida State University. His dissertation dealt with religious revivals during the Civil War.
