EDITORIAL BOARD

Ondina S. Gonzalez, Class of 1990
Ralph H. Jones, Class of 1988
John G. McEllhenney, Class of 1990
Annette F. Nall, Class of 1988
Kenneth E. Rowe, Class of 1988
Stephen E. Yale, Class of 1990

Cover: 1988 marks the 100th anniversary of the deaconess movement in Methodism.
CONTENTS

Contributors ................................................................. 2

The Southern Accent of American Methodism
  by Russell E. Richey .................................................... 3

Maintaining the Tradition: Women Elders and the Ordination of Women in the Evangelical United Brethren Church
  by Jonathan Cooney ................................................... 25

The North in the South: The Holiness Methodism of John Lakin Brasher, 1868-1971
  by J. Lawrence Brasher .............................................. 36

John Wesley Takes a Wife
  by Samuel J. Rogal .................................................... 48

DISCOVERY edited by Frederick E. Maser ............................... 56

Book Reviews ....................................................................... 58

Methodist History is included in Religion Index One: Periodicals,
Religious and Theological Abstracts,
Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life

Manuscripts submitted for publication and all other correspondence should be addressed to Editor, METHODIST HISTORY, P. O. Box 127, Madison, NJ 07940.
CONTRIBUTORS

RUSSELL E. RICHEY is Associate Dean for Academic Programs and Research Professor of Church History at The Divinity School, Duke University. He is co-author (with Kenneth E. Rowe) of Rethinking Methodist History, Kingswood Press, United Methodist Publishing House, a volume of essays on Methodist history. His article in this issue is a version of the paper he presented to the 1987 Oxford Institute of Methodist Theological Studies.

JONATHAN COONEY is a pastor of the Mansfield-Hartville charge of the Missouri West Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. He is a graduate of Southwest Missouri State University (M.A.) and United Theological Seminary (M.Div.). His article is an abridged version of a paper which was awarded one of the prizes in the 1987 John H. Ness Memorial competition sponsored by the General Commission on Archives and History.

J. LAWRENCE BRASHER is an ordained elder in the Northern New Jersey Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. He is currently Coordinator for the Program in the Humanities and Adjunct Assistant Professor of Religious Studies at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. He is a graduate of Duke University (A.B., Ph.D.) and Yale University (M. Div.).

SAMUEL J. ROGAL chairs the Division of Humanities and Fine Arts at Illinois Valley Community College, Oglesby, IL. He is a graduate of Clarion State College, PA (B.S.) and the University of Pittsburgh (M.A.). He has published fourteen books and monographs and more than a hundred essays and articles in a variety of periodicals including Methodist History.
CORRECTION

The contributor of "Charles Wesley's Greatest Poem" in the April 1988 issue wishes to acknowledge full responsibility and to express regret for an error in the last paragraph. The four stanzas mentioned there were indeed recommended for inclusion as a hymn, between the staves of music, in the forthcoming United Methodist Hymnal. However, in addition, it was proposed that the entire fourteen-stanza poem be printed as poetry. The last paragraph of the article should have been revised before publication. The footnote referring to Mrs. Marjorie Tuell is incorrect.

Glenn Clark
Mayfield, KY