Cover: Cokesbury College, Abingdon, MD, from an artist's sketch. The school was authorized in 1784 and opened in 1787. Fire destroyed it in 1795.
METHODOIST HISTORY
Charles Yrigoyen, Jr., Editor

VOLUME XXVII    JULY 1989    NUMBER 4

CONTENTS

Contributors ................................. 196

Bishop William Taylor and Methodist Mission: A Study in Nineteenth Century Social History (Part 1)
by David Bundy ............................... 197

The Lord's Supper and the United Brethren in Christ
by Daryl M. Elliott ............................ 211

Southern Methodist Women and Interracial Relations in the 1930s
by Alice G. Knotts ............................ 230

Thomas Osmond Summers: Methodist Liturgist of the Nineteenth Century by L. Edward Phillips ........................... 241

DISCOVERY edited by Frederick E. Maser ..................... 254

Book Reviews .................................. 257

Index to Volume XXVII .......................... 260

Copyright: 1989, General Commission on Archives and History,
The United Methodist Church
Methodist History is included in Religion Index One: Periodicals,
Religious and Theological Abstracts,
Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life

Manuscripts submitted for publication and all other correspondence should be addressed to Editor, METHODIST HISTORY, P. O. Box 127, Madison, NJ 07940.
CONTRIBUTORS

DAVID BUNDY is Assistant Professor of Christian Origins at Asbury Theological Seminary. He is a graduate of Seattle Pacific University (B.A.), Asbury Theological Seminary (M.Div., Th.M.) and the Université Catholique de Louvain (Ph.D.). Dr. Bundy is the author of various articles and reviews. He was a participant in the Oxford Institute of Methodist Theological Studies in 1987.

DARYL M. ELLIOTT is an ordained pastor in the Church of the United Brethren in Christ (Old Constitution). He holds degrees from the American University (B.A.) and the Evangelical School of Theology (M.Div.). He also attended the Dickinson School of Law. Mr. Elliott is presently enrolled in the Graduate School of Drew University.

ALICE G. KNOTTS is a doctoral candidate in the joint Ph.D. program in religion and theology in the area of American religion and culture at the University of Denver and the Iliff School of Theology. She is a graduate of Drew University (B.D.) and the University of Oregon (M.S.). The title of her dissertation is “Bound by the Spirit, Found on the Journey: The Methodist Women’s Campaign for Southern Civil Rights, 1940-1968.”

L. EDWARD PHILLIPS is a clergy member of the Memphis Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church. From 1981 to 1984 he was Assistant Dean at Lambuth College. Presently, Mr. Phillips is enrolled in the graduate program of the University of Notre Dame.