CONTENTS

Contributors ........................................................................ 2

The Camp Meeting in Transition: The Character and Legacy of the Late Nineteenth Century by Charles H. Lippy ................................................... 3

An Uncertain Odysseus: The Spiritual Journey of Beverly Allen
by Garna L. Christian .................................................. 18

Cooperation for Social Betterment: The Intellectual and Theological Rationale of Southern Methodists Associated with the Southern Sociological Congress, 1912-1914
by Nancy Keever Andersen ........................................ 29

Why Did President Thomson Leave Ohio Wesleyan?
by Frederick A. Norwood ............................................. 42

A Reconsideration of the Frequency of the Eucharist in Early American Methodism by Lester Ruth ............................................................ 47

DISCOVERY edited by Frederick E. Maser .................... 59

Book Reviews ................................................................... 61
CONTRIBUTORS

CHARLES H. LIPPY is Leroy A. Martin Distinguished Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Tennessee, Chattanooga. He is a graduate of Princeton University (Ph.D.). Among his recent books are Being Religious, American Style: A History of Popular Religiosity in the United States and the coedited Popular Religious Magazines of the United States. He is currently completing an annotated bibliography of modern American popular religion.

GARNA L. CHRISTIAN is Professor of History at the University of Houston-Downtown. He is a graduate of Mexico City College (B.A.), Texas Western College (M.A.), and Texas Tech University (Ph.D.). He is the author of articles on Texas, military history, and music. He is Director of the Southern Conference on Afro-American Studies.

NANCY KEEVER ANDERSON is a graduate of Duke University (B.A.), Memphis Theological Seminary (M.A.), and is enrolled in the graduate program at Vanderbilt University where she has also been a teaching assistant. She has previously written on the history of Memphis Conference Methodism.

FREDERICK A. NORWOOD was Professor of Church History Emeritus at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, Evanston, IL. He was an exceptional church historian and leader in The United Methodist Church before his death on May 4, 1995. He was the recipient of the 1994 Distinguished Service Award of the General Commission on Archives and History of The United Methodist Church.

LESTER RUTH is a graduate student in the liturgics and homiletics program at the University of Notre Dame. He is an ordained elder in the Texas Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. His doctoral dissertation investigates Quarterly Meetings as a dynamic ritual setting in early American Methodism.