GEETING MEETING HOUSE
EDITORIAL BOARD

Dennis C. Dickerson
Kenneth E. Rowe
Jean H. Traster
Robert J. Williams
Anne S. Wimberly

Cover: The Geeting Meeting House, Keedysville, MD, first building erected by the United Brethren for worship.

METHODOIST HISTORY (ISSN 0026-1238) is published quarterly for $20.00 per year by the General Commission on Archives and History of The United Methodist Church, 36 Madison Avenue, Madison, NJ 07940. Printed in the U.S.A. Back issues are available.

Second-class postage paid at Madison, NJ. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to METHODOIST HISTORY, P.O. Box 127, Madison, NJ 07940.
CONTENTS

Contributors ............................................................... 210

Unsectarian Preachers and Uncertain Beginnings: The First Annual Conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, September 25–26, 1800
by K. James Stein ..................................................... 211

The First and Most American Church: The Church of the United Brethren in Christ Comes to Illinois
by Richard A. Chrisman .............................................. 226

The Church of the United Brethren in Christ: A Reluctant Denomination
by K. James Stein ..................................................... 240

The Evangelical United Brethren Mission in Asia: Two Contrasting Ecumenical Scenarios
by J. Steven O’Malley ............................................... 256

DISCOVERY edited by Robert Drew Simpson ......................... 266

Book Reviews ................................................................ 269

Minutes of the 2000 Annual Meeting of the Historical Society of The United Methodist Church ............................................. 271

Copyright: 2001, General Commission on Archives and History,
The United Methodist Church

Methodist History is included in Religion Index One: Periodicals,
Religious and Theological Abstracts,
Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life
ATLA Religion Database

Manuscripts submitted for publication and all other correspondence should be addressed to Editor, METHODIST HISTORY, P.O. Box 127, Madison, NJ 07940. Prospective authors are advised to write for guidelines for publication.
K. JAMES STEIN is Jubilee Professor of Church History Emeritus at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary. He is a clergy member of the Dakotas Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. He holds a Ph.D. from Union Theological Seminary, New York. Among his published works are Philipp Jakob Spener: Pietist Patriarch (1986) and Spiritual Guides for the 21st Century (2000). His first essay in this issue was presented as a lecture on April 13, 2000 at the opening of an exhibit at the Archives and History Center of The United Methodist Church, Madison, New Jersey, to commemorate the bicentennial of the founding of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ. His second essay was presented as a keynote lecture to the annual meeting of the Historical Society of The United Methodist Church in Baltimore, Maryland, on September 26, 2000 at its bicentennial celebration of United Brethren history.

RICHARD A. CHRISMAN is a retired clergy member of the Illinois Great Rivers Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church. He is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University (A.B.), Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary (B.D.), and Northwestern University (M.A.). He was pastor of several churches in that Conference beginning in 1951. He has articles in The Lincoln Herald and in Transactions of the Illinois State Historical Society.

J. STEVEN O’MALLEY is John T. Seamands Professor of Methodist Holiness History at Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Kentucky. He is a graduate of Indiana Central University (B.A.), Yale University Divinity School (B.D.), and Drew University (Ph.D.). He is the author of Pilgrimage of Faith: The Legacy of the Otterbeins (1973) and Early German-American Evangelicalism (1995). His article is based on a keynote address delivered at the 2000 annual meeting of the Historical Society of The United Methodist Church on September 25, 2000 in Baltimore, Maryland.